The Charlevoix Kiwanis Club presented the Distinguished Service Award to John C. Lachman on Sept. 6 during a special ceremony at Boulder Park Terrace. The atmosphere was solemn but quickly turned festive as he was surrounded by his fellow members and his lovely wife Agnes. John was appreciative and gave a heartfelt speech afterwards. Denny Kiroff, Past Governor of the Michigan District presented the award. Kiroff is also the chairman of the Kiwanis of Michigan Foundation; an organization that John thoroughly supported during his two terms as president of the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club.

Lachman joined the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix on May 7, 1962 and has been an active member since that time. He has held office in all of the clubs positions.

Club officials said as a committee member Lachman pays close attention to details and noted that his written guidelines for the operation of the "Kielbasa Booth" were helpful.

Lachman was also instrumental in the remodel and refurbishing of the "Sugar Shack" now renamed the Carson Building. He spent many hours getting estimates and seeing that the job was done the way the club wanted it to be. Selling maple syrup is a major fundraiser for the club.

Club leaders noted that the organization thrived under Lachman's leadership during his two terms as president and noted that his attitude has always remained positive and looking to the future despite health problems that have slowed him down in recent years.

Lachman was a strong supporter of the Kiwanis IDD program and saw to it that the club gave its fair share and more. His focus is also on the Bergmann Center, which helps people with physical and mental disabilities. He was instrumental working closely with the center in getting the AKtion Club started. The AKtion Club was the second one chartered in the Michigan District.

Lachman also supports the efforts of the Marine Corps Toys for Tots program and made certain the club worked with them in providing and distributing the toys especially at Northern Michigan Hospital pediatric ward through the Kiwanis of Michigan Foundation.

Adopt-A-Highway crews headed out soon

Adopt-A-Highway volunteers are preparing for the year's final clean sweep of state highways from Saturday, Sept. 24, through Sunday, Oct 2. Approximately 3,100 groups will be out during the nine-day pickup period, Michigan Department of Transportation officials said, and they will clean more than 7,000 miles of highways.

"Adopt-A-Highway volunteers help us stretch our limited resources while helping with an important task — keeping Michigan highways clean," state transportation director Kirk T. Steudle said. "It takes thousands of volunteers and we are grateful for their help. Please slow down and watch out for them as they pick up trash. Drive carefully through the pickup areas, just as carefully as you would through a construction work zone."

State officials said annually, the Adopt-A-Highway program saves the transportation department about $1.5 million. The statewide beautification program is supported by groups who pick up litter three times a year, in April, July and September. Volunteer groups include members of businesses, families, churches and civic organizations.

Groups of three or more people interested in adopting a section of available highway are encouraged to visit www.michigan.gov/adoptahighway for more details, and to view a video about the program. Just contact your local MDOT coordinator to discuss options and sign up (names and phone numbers are listed on the Web site.)

Why do we need to have public notices?

Public notices tell you, as a citizen, what is being done by your government. State law requires actions of interest to you be published in these notifications.

It keeps you up to date about what's happening with your city, county and school board, as well as other governmental bodies.

Nearly two-thirds of active Michigan voters think legal notices should continue to be placed in your local newspaper.*

Reading public notices helps you become a more informed citizen.

LOOKING BACK…

After years of debate among the citizens and pleading by the local newspaper, the Sentinel, the town's first fire department was formed in 1883. It was called the Charlevoix Rough and Ready Fire Company Number 1. The following year the town hall, future fire engine room, and small attached jail went up at the northwest corner of Antrim and State streets. It also housed the town library. The building cost $5,865. The town's first fire engine, called "Little Silsby" and seen here, arrived in 1886. The tall dark upward extension in the middle was the tower used to suspend hoses to dry after a fire. This building became the county court house when Charlevoix was named county seat in 1897. It was severely damaged in a Christmas Eve fire in 1907 when the roof caved in. That was replaced but the three towers were not. On Sept. 1, 1921 Ernest Hemingway walked in here to obtain his affadavit and license to marry his first wife, Hadley Richardson, narrator of the current bestselling novel "The Paris Wife." These documents are on display at the Harsha House Museum. The old courthouse was torn down and replaced by the current county building in 1959.

This image is one of 850 in the Charlevoix Historical Society's new DVD titled "Charlevoix, Michigan--A Pictorial Journey through 16 Decades." It is available at the society's Harsha House Museum, 103 State St., Tuesday through Saturday from 1-4 p.m. Call (231) 547-0373 for more information and membership opportunities.

Indonesian invitation

Charlevoix's Maggie Hamilton invited to dinner at Indonesian Embassy

STEVE ZUCKER
CHARLEVOIX COURIER EDITOR

Like many of her fellow Charlevoix High School students Maggie Hamilton has a lot on her "to do" list this week.

There's classes, homework, volleyball practice, and attend a state dinner at the Indonesian Embassy in Washington, D.C.

STEVE ZUCKER/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

Charlevoix High School sophomore Maggie Hamilton, pictured above standing outside the school's entryway Monday, is traveling to Washington, D.C. this week to be a guest at a reception at the Indonesian Embassy.

On Wednesday, Sept. 21, Indonesian government officials called to invite Maggie, a 15-year-old Charlevoix High School sophomore and her parents Jim and Barb Hamilton to attend the reception at the embassy on Wednesday, Sept. 28.

Maggie said the last-minute invitation was unexpected — but it's far from at random.

You see, Maggie has a special place in the hearts of the people of Indonesia, and one Indonesian girl in particular.

The story goes back to the tsunami that devastated portions of Indonesia and other countries in that area on Dec. 26, 2004.

Maggie and her classmates were in third grade at the time. When they saw the suffering caused by the disaster on TV, the students were moved to raise money to help the victims by collecting change, hosting bake sales and making and selling friendship bracelets. In all they collected $700 which was donated to the American Red Cross. As part of the project the students wrote letters of support to the people of Indonesia and sent a bracelet with each letter.

Somehow Maggie's letter made its way to Indonesian President Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono, who was so touched by the letter that he quoted from it in a speech he gave in May 2005 before then-President George W. Bush. The letter was also passed on to Nada Lutfiah, an Indonesian girl about the same age who lost her parents and all her siblings in the tsunami.

In June of 2005 Indonesia's ambassador to the United States Soemadi D.M. Brotodin-

Surgery success

Recipient, donor doing well following transplant

It was a different type of birthday celebration this month for Christian "Buff" Vrondran.

The Charlevoix resident celebrated more than just another birthday — he celebrated a second chance at life.

Vrondran has struggled with high blood pressure and diabetes for the last two years. That led to several medical complications, including kidney failure.

He was put on the donor list, hoping to find a match quickly. He found that match, from an unlikely source — a long-time friend from high school and someone he works with at Wojan Window and Door.

"I told Christian that I would go get tested and I was a match," said David Wilks, 34. "I didn't expect to be a match, but I figured I would try. I never thought twice about it, and have absolutely no regrets."

Earlier this month, the two friends traveled to Ann Arbor to undergo the transplant surgery. The surgery was scheduled for Sept. 9, Vrondran's 32nd birthday.

Sheriff warns of phone scam

Charlevoix County Sheriff Don Schneider is warning citizens and business owners of a telephone scam currently under way.

According to a sheriff's office news release, a company called Hometown Publishing is contacting people over the phone with a high-pressure sales pitch for advertisement space on a local map that would feature Boyne City, East Jordan and the entire county. The call recipients are told that payment for the ads must be made immediately by credit card according to sheriff's office officials.

Schneider advises people not to give out their credit card or any financial information to an unknown or untrustworthy company.

Schneider also said any claims by Hometown Publishing that they are endorsed by Schneider's office are false.

Contact the sheriff's office at (231) 547-4461 to report any such criminal activity.

DC DINNER

ingrat came to Charlevoix Elementary School to personally thank Maggie and bring Nada's response to her letter.

After that, Maggie and Nada became pen pals. A few months later, Maggie was invited to come to the Indonesian embassy in Washington to speak with Nada over a satellite video feed.

So what was it about her letter that made it stand out from the thousands of others that were sent to the country as it faced disaster?

Maggie said she thinks a big factor was the fact that she wrote in her letter that she — a Catholic thousands of miles away in Northern Michigan — was praying in earnest for the people in a mostly-Muslim country.

Indeed, in his speech before President Bush, the Indonesian president said: "These two letters are extraordinary, both in the words they conveyed, and in the fact that two youngsters from entirely different backgrounds made a connection: An American girl who prays at church, collects loose change and makes bracelets for tsunami kids two oceans away; an Indonesian Muslim girl who lost all her family, and wants to kill the pain and is eager just to be a kid again, just like Maggie. I think the world will be a better place if all of us start to have connections and conversations the way Maggie and Nada did."

Three years later, in August 2008, Maggie was invited to travel to Indonesia with her parents to view the recovery efforts and to meet Nada in person.

When she arrived, Maggie was treated like a celebrity.

"As soon as we got off the plane, there were cameras everywhere," she said.

While in Indonesia, Maggie visited and spoke at schools, visited areas devastated by the tsunami, attended a lunch with the president and was interviewed on several television programs and national magazines.

Maggie said all the attention was a little overwhelming.

"We were at a mosque and people would just come up to us and say, 'Hey, you're Maggie Hamilton!'" Maggie said. "We would go places and people would say to me 'Thank you so much for everything you did for us.'"

Reflecting on the experience, Maggie said she thinks it wasn't the $700 she and her classmate raised for the tsunami relief effort that struck a chord with the Indonesian people, it was the hope that the students' actions gave them.

"I think it was just very reassuring to them to know that people a long way away were thinking about them and wanted to help them," Maggie said.

Fast forward to the present day, as they prepared for their trip Monday Maggie and her parents weren't even clear on all the details of the reception that they would be attending or why now, after another three years, Indonesian officials are reaching out to her again.

"I really thought that part of my life was in the past," Maggie said.

"They told me that they were going to call me up to the stage and introduce me, but that I don't have to give a speech," she said.

One thing she's hoping might take place while she's in Washington is a reunion with Nada.

Although Maggie has stayed in contact over the internet with several students she met while in Indonesia in 2008, Maggie lost contact with Nada shortly after her visit.

Maggie explains the Nada now lives with a family member who lives in a remote village with no internet access.

Looking back Maggie said her experience with the Indonesian people has had a huge impact on her life.

"It's really shown me how something so small — like what we did in third grade — can really make a big difference in someone's life."

She said she knows now that whether it's in her career or in her free time, she wants to make helping people a big part of her future.

"It's just such an amazing feeling to know you made a difference in someone's life."

Woman injured in crash

EAST JORDAN — A 21-year-old East Jordan woman was injured early Saturday after the vehicle she was driving left the road and struck multiple trees, according to a Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office news release.

Authorities said Breanna Beth Combest was eastbound on Ellsworth Road, near Addis Road in South Arm Township shortly before 5 a.m. "when she lost control of her vehicle negotiating a corner," according to the release. Her vehicle left the road, struck multiple smaller trees, then stopped after striking a large tree. She was alone in the vehicle.

East Jordan Ambulance transported Combest to Charlevoix Area Hospital, according to the release.

It was raining at the time of the crash and alcohol may have been a factor, according to the release. The crash remains under investigation.

Chamber to host decorating contest

The Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce is encouraging its members to dress up their storefronts in celebration of the fall season and participate in the second annual Fall Decorating Contest.

Judging will take place from 5-6 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 14 during Apple Festival weekend. Judges will select first, second and third place winners based on the following criteria: fall spirit, creativity, originality, overall theme and eye-catching design. Chamber members may register by contacting the Chamber office at (231) 547.2101 or via email at chamber@charlevoix.org

Alzheimer's Association board member to speak

Morris Rochlin, a seasonal Charlevoix resident knows first-hand how challenging it can be to care for a loved one suffering from Alzhiemer's Disease and he hopes the information he will provide from his experiences at an upcoming talk he will give at the Charlevoix Public Library will help others whose lives are affected by the disease.

Rochlin, whose full-time residence is in Franklin, is a retired entrepreneur and a board member with the Southfield-based Greater Michigan Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association.

Rochlin's wife Renée developed the Alzheimer's Disease in 2003 and is now bedridden.

"She has an amazing attitude, singing with members of our family and also with friends that stop by to see her," Rochlin said of his wife.

He said his experiences at Cass Tech High School in Detroit, earning a degree in engineering from the University of Michigan and establishing a manufacturing business that lasted 62 years and served him well in caring for his wife.

Rochlin's talk is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 5 at room A at the Charlevoix Public Library. A meet the speaker time will take place from 6:30-7 p.m. and the meeting will take place starting at 7 p.m.

He said will be aimed especially at those who are caregivers for, who have a loved one who suffers from Alzhiemer's Disease. His talk will include tips on how to reduce stress, ways to better communicate with patients, ways to may simple, low-cost changes to accommodate the patient, and "above all, to create a calm environment."

"The stress involved with caring for someone with Alzheimer's is great," Rochlin said. "People need to know that help is available and it's OK to ask for help."

Also on hand for the event will be Lisa Teglas, the program director for the Traverse City office of the Alzheimer's Association. She will speak about what services are available at the Traverse City office.

Charlevoix resident Patty Sitzma, who is helping organize the event said she became interested in providing the informational forum after she cared for an Alzheimer's patient for a time. For more information on the upcoming event, call Sitzma at (231) 547-5190 for more information.

OPINIONS yours & ours

EAR TO THE GROUND

Roger Knutson

I generally am willing to allow political candidates considerable leeway on what they say or promise during a campaign. We all know something about the value of political promises. Nonetheless there must be limits on what candidates can be allowed to pronounce. I believe Michele Bachmann has dangerously exceeded those limits.

During a recent debate by the potential Republican candidates, she suggested that the vaccine against human papilloma virus, which causes cervical cancer in infected women, was dangerous. She later cited for reporters the story told her by an anonymous woman in her audience, that the vaccine had caused mental retardation in the woman's daughter. When challenged, she said that she was not a doctor or a scientist, but did not repudiate her earlier claims.

A prominent public figure casting doubt on a vaccine can, according to medical authorities, set back the use of such a vaccine for three or four years. A case in point is the myth that there is a connection between inoculation against measles and autism in children. There is no support for such an idea, but the pronouncement of that possibility by a physician citing fraudulent research, set back measles inoculations in small children. Many parents became fearful and did not inoculate their children. The outcome was a minor epidemic of measles last year, many more cases than in previous years.

The cervical cancer caused by human papilloma virus (HPV) may not appear until 20 years after infection. And the vaccine is only effective if given BEFORE exposure to the virus. HPV is sexually transmitted and thus the vaccine must be given before the initiation of sexual activity by the young woman.

It could, in fact, be given to much younger children with equal success. The association of the virus infection with sexual activity seems to be one of the reasons that Mrs. Bachmann and others find it easy to suggest problems. Our society is often less than comfortable with the idea of humans as sexual beings.

Representative Bachmann has most probably set back the use of HPV vaccine by three or four years. In the U.S. there are 12,000 new cases of cervical cancer each year and 4,000 deaths annually. It is possible to make the case that Mrs. Backmann's irresponsible language will have caused thousands of cervical cancer deaths 20 years down the road.

Free speech is not completely without limits. The U.S. Supreme Court has suggested that the freedom of speech does not include the right to shout ''fire'' in a crowded theater. I take that to mean that if one's exercise of free speech is likely to cause the death or injury of many other people, it is not constitutionally protected.

Pronouncing publicly that a potentially life saving vaccine is "dangerous" and "leads to mental retardation," is perilously close to shouting ''fire'' in the crowded theater that we all inhabit.

Mrs. Bachmann's statements in pursuit of a political advantage are at the very least irresponsible, and approach criminal. There really ought to be some sort of public consequences for the careless use of such weighty pronouncements. At the very least Bachmann should lose status as a presidential candidate. As should any other candidate or celebrity who uses their public position to pronounce truly dangerous notions. Irresponsible speech from a major public figure should not be tolerated.

Teacher grievance denied by board

SHERI MCWHIRTER

Vollbach

EAST JORDAN — Former elementary art teacher Paula Vollbach filed a grievance against her former employer, but school officials shut down her complaint.

Vollbach, 50, of East Jordan, lost her job in June in a round of layoffs made by East Jordan Public Schools. Her termination followed both a criminal and internal investigation into her alleged March 3 assault with a ruler against a 10-year-old boy in her classroom.

Vollbach filed a grievance against the district for what she contends is a violation of her employment contract. The situation revolves around how quickly district officials released to the Petoskey News-Review information from Vollbach's personnel file when the newspaper requested it under the Michigan Freedom of Information Act.

Vollbach contends the district released the information too soon, not that it shouldn't have been released at all.

The News-Review filed a FOIA request on June 21 for a copy of the tenure agreement between Vollbach and the district. The district mailed the information — including tenure charges generated by an internal investigation into Vollbach's behavior — eight days later on June 29, according to the U.S. Postal Service postmark.

The released documents revealed Vollbach's alleged pattern of verbal abuse and forceful physical contact with no fewer than 15 students in incidents that date back to 2003.

"She did file a grievance and it had to do with interpretations of the expired contract," said Susan Wooden, superintendent.

District school board members voted unanimously to deny Vollbach's grievance after a lengthy discussion at last week's regular meeting. The disagreement focused on the interpretation of a phrase in the teachers' contract that expired last year.

The contract reads: "In the event that a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request for information contained in a teacher's personnel file is received, the administration shall promptly inform the teacher of the request and shall take the maximum time allowed by law to respond to the request. The intent of this provision is to allow the teacher sufficient time as allowed by law to protect his/her interests and privacy through legal action of his/her initiation."

Michigan law allows for five days to respond to a FOIA request, though a 10-day extension may be invoked with a stated reason the additional time is required.

Wooden said Vollbach, along with her Michigan Education Association representative, argued the information in question should not have been released for a full 15 days. The district's interpretation is that the five-day time period is the maximum time allowed by law to respond to FOIA requests.

"I had it available and already prepared on my desk. There was no need to request a 10-day extension for further research," Wooden said.

Mary Lieberman, the state teachers' union Uniserv director for the region, represented Vollbach for the grievance filing. Lieberman was not reached for comment.

Mary Beth Kur, Vollbach's criminal defense attorney, said she is unaware of Vollbach's grievance filing.

Normally, the Michigan Education Association could serve a written demand to arbitrate the grievance case, but that isn't an option this time because the East Jordan teachers' contract expired last year and there remains no current contract, Wooden said.

Meanwhile, Vollbach's criminal bench trial for misdemeanor assault is set to begin at 9 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 20, in Charlevoix County's 90th District Court, court records show.

well and I'm feeling pretty good," Vrondran said. "I don't remember much of that day, it's pretty blurry. I was sore for awhile, but recovery is going well so far."

As part of his recovery, Vrondran travels to Ann Arbor most weeks for routine check-ups with his medical team. He will continue those check-ups for the next couple months.

"He really has his color back and looks really good, not as tired as he was before," said Vrondran's wife, Caytee. "He's still a bit weak because the dialysis took away a lot of his muscle mass, so it will take some time for him to build that back up, but he's doing great."

Vrondran, who has three young boys, hopes to be back at work within the next year.

Wilks, who has four children with his wife, Nicole, is also recovering. He currently isn't allowed to lift more than 10 pounds, but plans to return to work in November.

"I'm just really thankful," Vrondran said. "That's all I can really say. It was just an amazing thing (David) did."

"There are no regrets. There's no way I could have said no," Wilks added.

The Vrondran family is still seeking help to offset costs associated with Christian's recovery and help with transportation costs for his visits to Ann Arbor for check-ups.

Those looking to make a donation can do so at Charlevoix State Bank branches, in the care of Caytee Scott-Vrondran.

LOOKING BACK…

By the mid 1890s Bridge Street, shown here looking north from the Mason Street corner in late spring, was still an unpaved mess and would remain so until 1904. A few improvements helped, such as wooden sidewalks, some street lanterns and a scattering of newly planted trees. On dry, windy days, dust and grit blew into every store and home along the way. To control the dust, 300 barrels of water a day were needed. After a good rain or thaw, the street became a rutted and puddled obstacle course. Identifiable locations in the photo, from the left corner: the structure that was once the Ferguson House Hotel (now Charlevoix Wear), a building receiving a new foundation, the Steam Lapidary, and a blacksmith displaying his horseshoeing sign beside the alley. Across the alley: Mrs. Carr, the Fashionable Milliner (now J. Phillips), a photographic studio, and the Noble Hotel on the corner (now Central Drugs). n the far distance is the sign for Frank Woods' Bath Rooms facilities.

This image is one of 850 in the Charlevoix Historical Society's new fully-narrated DVD titled "Charlevoix, Michigan — A Pictorial Journey through 16 Decades" available at the Society's Harsha House Museum, 103 State St. beside the Congregational Church, Tuesday through Saturday from 1-4 p.m. It is also available at the Central Drug Store, Round Lake Books, Ell-Air Gallery, and Castle Farms. OBITUARIES

Erna Ann Barta: Sept. 20, 1916 - Sept. 21, 2011

Erna Ann Barta, of Charlevoix passed away peacefully surrounded by family the day after her 95th birthday on Sept. 21, 2011, at Charlevoix Area Hospital.

A visitation took place on Monday, Sept. 26, from 10-11 a.m. with the memorial service at 11 a.m., at Beautiful Savior Evangelical Lutheran Church in Petoskey with pastor Jonathan Arndt officiating.

Erna was born Sept. 20, 1916, in Manitowoc, Wis., the only daughter of Leland and Elsie Carstens Haupt. She grew up in Manitowoc and graduated from Manitowoc Lincoln High School. On May 4, 1938, she married Francis John Barta in Manitowoc. She managed Smith's Grocery Store in Silver Lake, Wis., before moving to Charlevoix in 1967. She then worked at Olesons Food Store in Charlevoix retiring in 1978. She loved flowers, gardening, cooking and baking goodies for her family and friends.

Erna is survived by son Leland (Susan) Barta and daughter Lois (Randall) Williams of Charlevoix; grandsons Keith (Felicia) Brinkley, Randall (Julie) Williams II, Trevor (Lori) Williams and Scott Barta; granddaughters Dana (Larry) Warren, Denise Barta, and Rachel Barta; great-grandchildren Cameron Harrington, Anna Grace Warren, Randall R. Williams III, Jillian Williams, Payden Williams, Tarryn Williams and Lincoln Williams. She was preceded in death by her husband Francis in 1999 and by her daughter and son-in-law LouAnn and Phillip Brinkley.

Family suggests memorials to Beautiful Savior Evangelical Lutheran Church, 1825 W. Sheridan Road, Petoskey, MI 49770, or Charlevoix County Humane Society, 614 Beardsley St., Boyne City, MI 49712.

Judith Lynn Jensen Vergon:
Dec. 5, 1957 - Sept. 21; 2011

Judith Lynn Jensen Vergon of Charlevoix died Sept. 21, 2011.

Judi was born in Grand Rapids on Dec. 5, 1957, to Billie and Paul Jensen. She was a long-time resident of Lansing, where she graduated from Hill High School, worked for Michigan State Representative Sal Rocca, and Dickerson, and for Wright & Moon as a legal secretary. She lived in Traverse City and later moved with her beloved husband, Gary Vergon, to Charlevoix in 1985.

She cherished her family and friends and enjoyed her community and life in the Michigan sunshine. Judi and her husband were avid boaters and she loved her life on and near the water. Judi enjoyed serving and interacting with her customers at Kmart and, prior to that, worked in Charlevoix for U.S. Coastal Development; Great Lakes Energy; and Charlevoix Agency. She also served Ducks Unlimited for many years as a volunteer.

Vergon

Judi's family is grateful for her life — lived fully and with great joy and love. She is survived by the love of her life and husband, Gary Vergon; father, Paul Jensen of Farwell; brother Marc Jensen and wife Maureen of Divide, Colo.; sister Jerri Jensen and partner, Antonia Rose, of San Carlos, Calif.; her beloved nephews and niece: Nicholas Jensen, of San Jose, Calif.; Gregory Jensen of Divide, Colo.; and Claire Jensenrose of San Carlos, Calif.; sisters-in-law, Sharon (Vergon) Costanza of Sodus; Patty (Vergon) Contreras of Benton Harbor; Charlene (Vergon) Matarese of Buffalo, N.Y.; Paulette (Vergon) Adams of Sodus. Judi will also be deeply missed by her cherished pets, Bentley Baby and Woofie (Wolfgang) the Weiner Dogs.

Please join us to honor Judi's immense love and life when we gather from 5-7 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 28, 2011 at Kelsey B's Lakeside, 230 Ferry Ave., Charlevoix.

Contributions may be made in Judi's honor to Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Rosemary A. (Allen) Mueller:
April 14, 1922 - Sept. 21, 2011

Rosemary A. (Allen) Mueller, 89, of Charlevoix, Michigan passed away Sept. 21, 2011 at her home with her children and grandchildren by her side. A visitation took place from 6-8 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 23 at First Congregational Church of Charlevoix . A memorial service took place at 3 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 24 at First Congregational Church with the Rev. Neil Wilson officiating.

Rosemary was born April 14, 1922 in Kalamazoo. She was the youngest of four children of Glenn Seven Allen Sr. and Annette Brenner Allen. She attended Kalamazoo College for two years before graduating with a bachelor's degree from Carleton College, Northfield, Minn. in 1943. On Sept. 14, 1945 she married Richard Palmer Mueller, MD. After a short time in New York they moved to Lakewood, Ohio and raised their family of six children. Rosemary was active at the Lakewood Congregational Church, the Lakewood school system booster organizations and the Lakewood Hospital Auxiliary.

Mueller

She summered at the Belvedere Club in Charlevoix all of her life until moving full-time to the Belvedere Club in 1994. At the Belvedere Club she became involved in various committees including the children's "Gang." She loved to swim, sail, and play tennis and was an original member of "Merry Mild Mothers." Rosemary was a third-generation Allen Belvedere Club member. Her grandfather, Oscar Allen from Kalamazoo, was one of the eight founding members of the Charlevoix Summer Home Association in 1878 which was later renamed the Belvedere Club.

In 2003 she moved to Sugar Bush Knoll with her pup, Casey. She remained a member emeritus of the Belvedere Club. She loved Charlevoix and recently showed her breathtaking garden as part of the Charlevoix Area Garden Club Annual Walk. She attended the First Congregational Church and the Christ Episcopal Church, both of Charlevoix. She was active on several Charlevoix committees including the Lighthouse Preservation Committee, Symphony on the Green Committee, Holly Daze and the Charlevoix Area Hospital Foundation.

Rosemary's Christian faith and love guided her life in all its stages. She was determined, self-reliant and put smiles on the faces of those around her. Her wit and charm encouraged many to be stronger and more positive. She provided a great example on raising a family, caring, being active, volunteering and giving back to others. Despite being legally blind for the past decade, she maintained and lived in her home until her passing. Her enthusiasm and energy will be missed.

Rosemary's brother, Glenn Allen Jr. and sister, Barbara Bock both predeceased her. Rosemary is survived by her brother Jollie (Sue) Allen of Kalamazoo, her six children Carol Whitworth of Tustin, Calif., Shirley Baas of Mitchell, S.D., Richard (Linda) Mueller of Long Beach, Miss. and Castle Farms, Phyllis (Glenn Warren) Mueller of Temecula, Calif., Glenn (Val) Mueller of Long Beach, Miss., Drs. Rudy (Diane) Mueller of Lakewood, N.Y., 19 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren, and her beloved poodle, Toby.

Rosemary and the family request that in lieu of flowers that friends and family consider her passions with gifts to the Charlevoix Area Hospital Foundation or the Belvedere Memorial Fund. The family is also grateful for the compassionate care provided by Barbara Lashmit, Nita Gerbracht, the nurses and staff of Charlevoix Area Hospital, Drs. Doskoch, Lame and Wendt, and Hospice of Northwest Michigan.

Senior programs focus of county committee meeting

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

SHERI MCWHIRTER/NEWS-REVIEW
Jack Messer, Charlevoix County Commission on Aging director, speaks to the county board's personnel committee on Wednesday about expected changes in senior services in coming years as the baby boomer generation continues to age.

Charlevoix County's future seniors may receive far different services from those provided to today's elder population.

Charlevoix County Commission on Aging Director Jack Messer discussed various issues at Wednesday's county board personnel committee meeting, including current deficit spending on senior programs and how those programs must change for the next wave of seniors. He requested a county board committee of the whole meeting to talk in greater detail about the results of a series of forums held this summer with seniors across the county.

County commissioner and personnel committee chairman Chris Christensen said the commissioners will discuss when to schedule that gathering during the next board meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 28.

Officials designed the forums to help gauge the needs of the next generation of seniors. County leaders agreed to pay $3,150 to NorthSky Nonprofit Network, of Traverse City, to conduct the forums and compile the results.

The final report will be available at the to-be-scheduled county board committee of the whole meeting, Messer said.

In the end, part of the senior programming problem is financial.

Messer said current levels of service have been supported by deficit spending that can't be sustained over time.

"We are spending beyond our means," he said.

The commission's annual $1.4 million budget is heavily subsidized by the agency's fund balance, or savings account. Taxes generate about $800,000 each year, which is combined with donations and any state or federal grant funding received. But still, savings are spent each year to make up the shortfall.

Now fundamental changes in how the county provides senior services must be made to remedy the financial predicament, Messer said.

That problem comes against a backdrop of an expected larger senior population that will require public services. Those "baby boomers" will cause an estimated 40 percent spike in service requests, Messer said.

County commissioner Joel Evans questioned whether those estimated service request figures represent people who actually need help, or those who simply fall into the senior age bracket. There is a difference, he said.

"Our society is an entitlement society," Evans said.

Messer said his department will focus on creating independent seniors, rather than seniors who are wholly dependent on public services.

Additionally, Messer discussed his plan to reduce county expenses by as much as $10,000 a year by taking over medication management and foot care programs now done by the regional health department. The commission on aging contracts with the health department for those services and that agreement will expire at year's end, he said.

This year the county budgeted $20,000 for those health department services, but the actual expense came in $12,000 higher, Messer said.

The personnel committee agreed to allow Messer to send two nurses on his staff to Wisconsin for special training to be qualified to operate those programs. The training will cost about $2,500 and the change could save the county up to $50,000 before updated training is required in five years.

Messer said that before the change is made, he will negotiate with the health department to see if the costs associated with the current contract can be reduced for future years. However, a new revenue stream could be created if the county takes over the medication management and foot care programs.

Other counties charge for those services and Charlevoix County could similarly develop a sliding pay scale based on clients' financial status, Messer said.

Christensen said it's unfortunate that these currently free services may not stay that way, but it seems that's the way of senior programs everywhere.

"We can't continue to give the services away," Christensen said.

OBITUARY

Eugene Russell Palmer: April 16, 1935 - Sept. 18, 2011

Eugene Russell Palmer, 76, of Traverse City, formerly of Beaver Island, died at home Sunday, Sept. 18, 2011, after a courageous battle with cancer. Find help and healing for the hurt of separation and divorce through Community Reformed Church's DivorceCare program

You don't have to go through it alone...

DivorceCare is a friendly, caring group of people who will walk alongside you through one of life's most difficult experiences. Don't go through separation or divorce alone.

Most people will tell you that separation and divorce are the most painful and stressful experiences they've ever faced. It's a confusing time when you feel isolated and have lots of questions about issues you've never faced before. Our DivorceCare group meets weekly to help you face these challenges and move toward rebuilding you life.

A Seminar with Experts

DivorceCare seminars and support groups are led by people who understand what you are going through and want to help. You'll gain access to valuable DivorceCare resources to help you deal with the pain of the past and look forward to rebuilding your life. DivorceCare is available for kids too!

During the first 30-40 minutes of the meeting, each DivorceCare group watches a video seminar featuring experts on divorce and recovery subjects. These videos are produced in an interesting way to watch television, a magazine format featuring expert interviews, real-life case studies and on-location video.

A Support Group with Focus

Community Reformed Church of Charlevoix offers DivorceCare recovery support group that meets on Thursday evenings, beginning October 6, from 7-9p.m. for 13 weeks (join anytime). 100 Oak Street (Community Reformed Church, one mile north of the bridge). A light dinner is provided. This is a FREE program!

231-675-1925

After viewing the video, DivorceCare group participants spend time as a support group, discussing what was presented in that week's video seminar and what is going on in the lives of group members.

As one of their first experiences in Leadership Charlevoix County's inaugural class, emerging leaders recently attended a retreat on Beaver Island.

The 14 participants in the class learned about the history of the island, as well as modern life and the many organizations that collaborate to provide important services to island residents. Participants visited the Beaver Island Community Center, Mormon Print Shop, Beaver Island Community School and Community Health Center. The Little Traverse Conservancy conducted a tour of Little Sand Bay and the group visited the Beaver Island fire station to see a chunk of steel beam that came from the rubble of the World Trade Center brought down by terrorists on Sept. 11, 2001.

Leadership Charlevoix County used the Central Michigan University Biological Station on Beaver Island as the setting for an overnight stay and team-building experience. Participants enjoyed a bonfire on the shores of Lake Michigan as they began to build their team and skills as leaders.

The participants will continue to meet on a monthly basis for another eight months to learn about and discuss topics including government, health and human services, economic development, education, arts and philanthropy, environmental and natural resources, and various leadership skills such as creativity, communications, business ethics and media relations.

A significant aspect of the program is a mentorship in which participants connect with current county leaders. Class participants will work together to create and carry out a community service project that addresses some needs in the county. There will be various homework assignments that include attending a governmental meeting and creating a personal leadership plan.

The leadership program's class of 2012 includes: Thomas Cannon, City of East Jordan; Cathy Dewey, Beaver Island Boat Co.; Darcie Dietrich-Buell, Boyne District Library; Jill Drury, Charlevoix County Transit; Christopher Faulknor, Boyne City Gazette; Betsy Granstra, Charlevoix Area Community Pool; Sue Hocquard, Charlevoix County Transit; Jennifer Kenney, Harbor Industries; Sara Kessler, Spanner, Solace Spa and Boyne Area Gymnastics and Dance; Sheri McWhirter, Petoskey News-Review; Erin Nickel, East Jordan Iron Works; Bethany Pearson, Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce; Laura Potter, Charlevoix Public Library; and Jennifer Sabsook, Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District.

The Boyne City, Charlevoix and East Jordan chambers of commerce are sponsoring Leadership Charlevoix County, with support from the Beaver Island chamber. A grant from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation is making the program possible.

For more information or questions regarding Leadership Charlevoix County, contact Mishelle Shooks at shooks@charlevoix.org or (231) 547.2101. Questions can also be directed to the Boyne City, East Jordan, Charlevoix and Beaver Island chambers of commerce.

Internist Dr. Krzewinski joins hospital staff

Krzewinski

Dr. Jay Krzewinski, MD, recently joined the staff of Charlevoix Area Hospital. He will be accepting patients at his new office starting Oct. 1. Krzewinski studied medicine at the University of Washington, and completed his residency in Internal Medicine at Virginia Mason Medical Center in Seattle. He practiced in Midland and Saginaw, and for the past three years as a hospitalist at Northern Michigan Regional Hospital in Petoskey. In his new role in Charlevoix, he will have more time to spend with patients before they are in a position where they need to be hospitalized.

"Preventative health care is under appreciated, but incredibly important," Krzewinski said. "I look forward to the challenge of keeping people out of the hospital, helping them manage risk-factors, and helping them see the importance of root causes of diseases. Smoking cessation and weight control are a start, and I look forward to counseling patients on ways to manage diet and exercise, which can help prevent diabetes, heart disease, and many other health challenges."

Internal medicine focuses on those and other non-surgical diseases of the internal organs. Some people may choose an internist as their primary care physician, others are referred to an internist from their family doctor. "Internal medicine differs from family practice in that we do not do pediatrics or O.B. Our training is more in-depth on internal diseases, but less breadth in other areas," Krzewinski said. Internists often focus on critical care or treat patients with multiple or complicated illnesses.

"I like the complexity of internal medicine, and the interrelatedness of multiple organs and managing complex problems," Krzewinski said. Although the medical terms may seem complicated, Krzewinski seeks to explain things clearly and simply to his patients.

"I try to be approachable," he says. "I'm a very average guy from Bay City. I don't have any airs about me. I just want to take the time people need to give them the information they want about their health."

While living in Saginaw, Krzewinski decided he wanted to be part of a smaller community where he could establish long-term relationships with patients and their families. Now at Charlevoix Area Hospital he said he hopes to do just that.

To make an appointment with Dr. Krzewinski, call his office at Physicians Clinic, 14709 West Upright St., (231) 547-6519. Appointments are available on Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

Villager Pub offers pints to toast cancer survivors

The "Pints for Prostates" campaign salutes survivors prostate cancer at events taking place across the country, including the Villager Pub in Charlevoix from noon to 10 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 30. For the third year, the Villager Pub will donate 50 percent of proceeds from draft beer sales to the Us TOO International Prostate Cancer Education & Support Network, a non-profit organization that works to support, educate and advocate for men with prostate cancer and their families.

"We're grateful to the Villager Pub for hosting Pints for Prostates. Events like this help us reach men in a friendly way when they may be willing to listen to messages about prostate health," said Dr. Joshua Meyerson, medical director for the Health Department of Northwest Michigan, which is sponsoring the local event.

Each week 4,000 men are diagnosed with prostate cancer.

"The key for these men is detecting the disease in the early stages when treatment is nearly 100 percent successful," said Meyerson.

"The idea of reaching mean about health issues through beer sounded a little strange at first, but it makes perfect sense," said Thomas Kirk, president and CEO of Us TOO International. "Our mission and program goal is to educate and empower men and their family members so men and their loved ones can take an active role in their health care. One in six men is at risk of developing prostate cancer during their life time and early detection through the monitoring of PSA levels is critical to getting the disease under control. Pints for Prostates will help us reach more men at a time when a growing number of men are at risk."

The American Cancer Society recommends that men make an informed decision with their doctor about whether to be tested for prostate cancer. Starting at age 50, the American Cancer Society urges men to talk to their doctor about whether to be tested for prostate cancer. Men who have a father or brother who had prostate cancer before age 65 should have this talk with their doctor starting at age 45.

The Health Department of Northwest Michigan is mandated by the Michigan Public Health Code to promote wellness, prevent disease, provide quality healthcare, address health problems of vulnerable populations, and protect the environment for the residents and visitors of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego counties. For more information about "Pints for Prostate", contact Erika VanDam, Supervisor for Family & Community Health at (231) 347-6014.

WATCH to host Lake-to-Lake Trail event

WATCH (Water and Air Team Charlevoix) is hosting a Lake to Lake Multi Use Trail event from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 1, with a rain date of Sunday, Oct. 2.

Parking is available at the North Country Community Mental Health Center on M-66 less than a mile south of U.S. 31, across the road from the WATCH trailhead tent, where a large map of the planned trail system, trail maps and tour guides will be available. Participants can walk, run, bike, or ride the trail from M-66 to U.S. 31 and back, a 2 mile round trip. Free rental bikes will be available along with golf carts for those who prefer to ride. Bring warm clothes, hiking boots or bikes, and folding chairs, if desired.

The comprehensive trail system was first conceived in 1992 and proposed to Charlevoix City Council by a group of organizations in 2001, with a vision of providing community health, recreation and outdoor activities. Since then, the Charlevoix Lake to Lake Multi use Trail Committee, spearheaded by WATCH, has made steady progress, with active support from St. Mary's Cement, the city of Charlevoix, Charlevoix Township, the Charlevoix and Jordan River snowmobile groups, and the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians, which provided a grant for preliminary engineering drawings.

The Lake to Lake Multi Use Trail will eventually connect Round Lake in downtown Charlevoix to Lake Charlevoix and Lake Michigan at Fisherman's Island State Park. The trail meanders from M-66 at Ferry Road, across streams and through woodlands, skirting the Belvedere Golf Course, across Marion Center Road at Stover Creek and then across U.S. 31, continuing onto Bells Bay Road. Another loop of the trail will connect the city's three beaches.

For more information about Tour the Trail, call Michelle Rick-Biddick, executive director of WATCH, at (231) 330-7946. For more information about the trail system and the work of the committee, see laketolaketrail.com.

Chamber to host first Business Seminar Series

The Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce will host its first-ever Business Seminar Series from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 8, at the Charlevoix Public Library. The series will be an intensive one-day event that will feature nine different speakers covering topics ranging from strategic advertising, to grant writing, to sustainable business practices.

Participants can sign up for the entire day of classes for a reduced rate or pick two or three single seminars that they are interested in attending. Members of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce can attend the full day for $100 (including lunch) or a single session for $25.

Speakers include Kathi Jo DeYoung, director of the Michigan BNI; Bill Quiseng, formerly of the Inn at Bay Harbor; Tiffany Dowling, president of Lansing based Motion, Media, and Marketing; Jodie Bissonette, vice president of Gaslight Media; Michelle Corteggiano, founder of ATI Marketing; Patty O"Donnell, regional planner for the Northwest Michigan Council of Governments; Julie Mann, CEO of Lansing based J Mann Consulting Group, plus many others. The nine speakers will be covering topics including customer service, grant writing, networking, human resources, strategic advertising, website development, employee productivity and motivation, social media, and sustainable business practices. To view an agenda for the day visit www.charlevoix.org.

Anyone interested in attending the event may contact Bethany at the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce by calling (231) 547-2101 or via e-mail at manager@charlevoix.org. Pre-registration is required by Friday, Nov. 4.

Space still available in upcoming teacher program

On Oct. 10, Water and Air Team Charlevoix, known as WATCH, will host the third of five modules of the Michigan Environmental Education Curriculum to area teachers. This program consists of lessons and classroom materials, supplemented in some cases by online exercises, to assist teachers in integrating environmental science into the classroom. The curriculum is aligned to the Michigan curriculum framework and has been teacher-tested in Michigan classrooms. It was designed by the CMU Science and Math Technological Center, Michigan's Department of Environmental Quality, and Michigan Technological University.

WATCH, with matching funding provided by grants from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation and the Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation, will bring the air quality workshop to teachers from Charlevoix County. WATCH provides participants and their schools at no cost:

— A certified workshop facilitator & workshop location

Lunch

—Classroom unit kits

SB-CEU credits if desired

$100 substitute teacher reimbursement for the first 15 teachers who sign up

Classroom unit kits include a binder of lesson plans, supplemental resources, videos, hands-on experiments, pre- and post-tests, MEAP-like assessments, posters and worksheets, and a copy of everything on CD.

There are a few openings remaining for the five-hour workshop, which will take place on Saturday, Oct. 10, at the Charlevoix Public Library. Interested teachers should call or email Michelle Rick-Biddick at (231) 547-5530 or watchcharlevoix@gmail.com.

WATCH is a nonprofit organization that has for nearly 30 years worked to protect the natural resources of Charlevoix County. For more information, visit watchinc.org.

United Way's Small Business Blitz is Thursday

A free cup of coffee will reward donors to Char-Em United Way's Small Business Blitz planned for Thursday, September 29.

Roast and Toast in Petoskey, [illegible] Charlevoix, Island Bean Coffee Co. in Harbor Springs and Local Flavor and the Boyne Country Provisions Wine Emporium in Boyne City will serve as "Donation Stations" for the event.

Small businesses or individuals dropping off a donation to United Way of $10 or more will receive a free cup of coffee in a "Live United" mug (while supplies of the mugs last).

The Small Business Blitz is an effort to engage support from small businesses in Emmet and Charlevoix counties for the United Way Campaign.

Volunteers will be on hand at donation sites in all four communities from 9:30 a.m.-3 p.m. Thursday, providing information about community needs and the programs supported by United Way.

In addition, all businesses donating during the Blitz will be entered in a drawing to win prizes, including ads in the Petoskey News-Review and on Lite 96.3 or 106 KHQ and a lunch for the office (up to 8 people) from the Grand Traverse Pie Company.

On Thursday, volunteers from United Way — many of them representatives of United Way's 26 partner agencies — will be visiting and calling on small businesses both in and out of the downtown areas of Petoskey, Charlevoix, Harbor Springs and Boyne City throughout the Blitz.

The volunteers will provide information about United Way and ask for a pledge or donation.

Char-Em United Way has set a campaign goal of $380,000 this year, and the Frey Foundation has offered an additional $20,000 challenge grant if the goal is reached. With economic conditions in Northern Michigan continuing to be challenging, United Way notes that the need for the services it supports is greater than ever. The campaign is currently at 20 percent of its goal.

Early bird pledges and online donations for the Small Business Blitz are also welcome. Information about community needs and programs supported by United Way is available at www.charemunitedway.org. Donations can be made from that secure website.

There is no minimum or maximum pledge. For additional information or to make a donation over the phone, call (231) 487-1006.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Rayders struggle against St. Francis

Traverse City St Francis is always a tough opponent, and this season proved no different as the Gladiators kept Charlevoix Rayder varsity football team's off the board Friday.

Traverse City St Francis' Byron Bullough scored a pair of touchdowns while the Gladiator defense limited Charlevoix to 79 total yards Friday as St Francis shut out the Raysders 19-0 in a Lake Michigan Conference contest at Kipke Field.

The Gladiators scored two TDs in the first half led 13-0 at the intermission Charlevoix's Andrew Robarge blocked the Gladiators point after kick attempt following the second TD. The Gladiators then tacked on a third touchddown in the second half.

With the win, St. Francis, ranked No. 4 in the Associated Press Division 7 state poll, improves to 4-1 overall, 3-0 league, while Charlevoix falls to 1-4, 1-2.

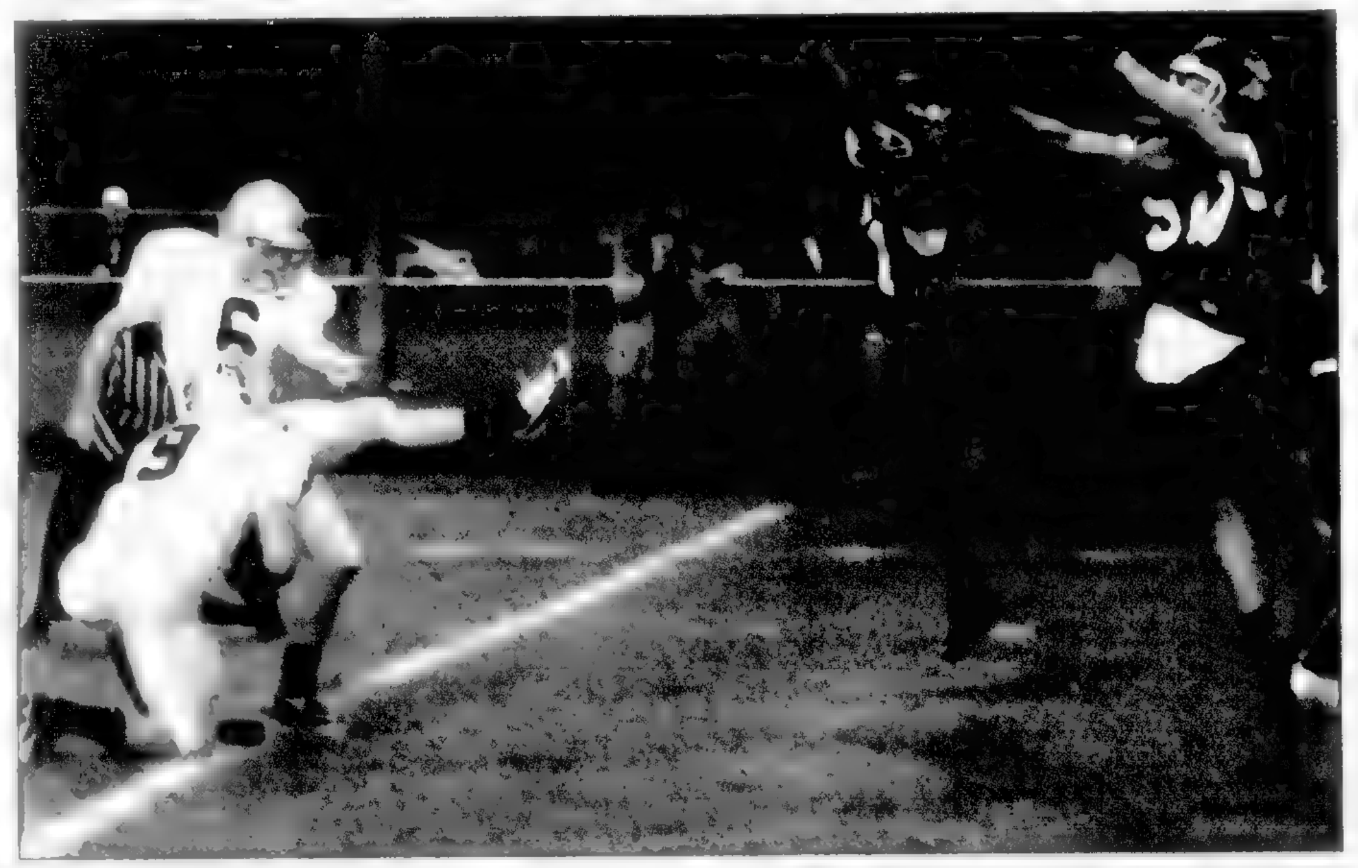
"Our offense struggled all night" Charlevoix coach Don Jess said. "We started the second half well with a drive, but it stalled out at the 13 yard line. St. Francis does a great job on their blitz and we had a couple of fumbles."

Jamael Kelly led the Rayders with 55 yards rushing on 10 carries, while quarterback Andrew Potter was 5-of-12 passing for 17 yards.

Defensively for Charlevoix, Andrew Robarge and Jake McLean had 12 tackles apiece, while Potter added 11, Myles Kerr and Marc Durkee each had interceptions, and Shane Sutherland recovered a fumble.

Charlevoix goes to East Jordan, 0-5, 0-3, for a league contest on Friday, Sept. 30.

"We just talked after the game about being proud and where we go from here," Jess said. "We go to East Jordan and that's always a big rivalry game for us. We've had some tough losses, but if we can win the rest of our games there's always the chance of reaching the playoffs. It's happened before for us."



STEVE ZUCKER/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

Charlevoix's Andrew Robarge (50) blocks a St. Francis point-after attempt in the Rayders' 19-0 loss to the Gladiators at Kipke Field Friday.

JV FOOTBALL

Just out of reach

Gladiators hold of last-minute Rayder scoring chances

The Charlevoix junior varsity football team lost a hard fought game at Traverse City St. Francis Thursday 22-14.

Charlevoix struck first when Will Telgenhof Intercepted a St. Francis pass and returned it 60 yards for a touchdown. Taylor Seese then ran in the 2-point conversion for a 8-0 lead. St. Francis came back and scored on two long pass plays to take a 16-8 lead at halftime. Charlevoix came out in the second half and scored on a Nate Moon 1-yard touchdown run to cut lead to 16-14. St Francis then marched down the field and scored to take a 22-14 into the 4th quarter. Charlevoix had the ball twice inside their own 5 yard line, the last with two minutes remaining in the game, but were not able to punch it in.

Taylor Seese led the Charlevoix offense with 14 carries and 92 yards rushing. Nate Moon connected with Luke Klinger for 4 receptions 42 yards. On defense, Jamie Kelly was all over the field and led the team with 20 tackles. Brian Noirot added 9 tackles, Andrew Mitchell had 8 tackles, and Will Telgenhof ended up with 7 tackles and the interception. Taylor Seese recovered a key fumble in the 4th quarter to keep Charlevoix's chances alive.

"I like how the team responded after our loss to Grayling last week" head junior varsity coach Doug Waha said. "Unfortunately, this is a game we could have won, but we just couldn't make the play we needed to make at the end of the game. I'm proud of the fact that our kids never quit and gave 100 percent until the end of the game. We're a young team and this game will help us get better."

The Charlevoix junior varsity, whose record falls to 3-2, are home at Kipke Field on Thursday, Sept. 29 against East Jordan. Kickoff is scheduled for 6 p.m.

CROSS COUNTRY

Rayder runners finish first

Boys and girls 9/10th graders champs at Petoskey Invitational

The Charlevoix Rayder cross country team had a strong showing at the Petoskey Invitational meet at Camp Petosega Saturday as both boys and girls 9/10th grade teams took first place in their respective races while in the 11/12th grade division the Rayder girls finished second and the boys finished fifth.

Leading the boys in the 9/10th grade division were Jackson Buday, who finished 5th with a time of 17:59, Nicholas Plude who finished 7th at 18:07 and Tristen Rudolf, 14th, 18:44.

The 9/10th grade Rayders finished first with 72 points, followed by South Lyon with 88, Alpena with 91 and Petoskey with 104 out of 16 boys teams.

"This group really had a great team effort. It is good to see the young guys work well together and show the depth they have," Rayder boys' team coach Ken Plude said.

Pacing the 11/12th grade boys for the Rayders were Kirk Acharya who finished 4th at 17:24 and Will Jeakle who finished 20th at 18:24. The Rayder 11/22th grade boys were 5th with 135 points. Alpena was 1st with 71, South Lyon 88 and Petoskey tied for second with 88 points.

Leading the Rayder girls 9/10 team to victory were Caroline Boss who finished 11th at 23:00 and Lexie Barnes who finished 15th at 23:15. The 9/10th grade Rayder girls finished first with 101 points, followed by Petoskey with 103 and Alpena with 112 in a field of 13 teams.

"This was a surprise win since we had our number one runner out sick," girls' coach Mary Plude said. "The squad really took up the challenge and carried their momentum into the race. Cora and Shelby had their best times of the season, and Pauline beat out the 5th runners of the other teams. All six made the win possible.

Leading the 11/12 grade Rayder girls were Olivia Certa who finished second at 20:29, and Molly Jeakle who finished 5th at 20:58. The Rayder 11/12th grade girls finished second with 86 points behind Alpena who had 31 points. Petoskey was third with 106.

Olivia and Molly ran very smart races. They stayed relaxed the first loop and then worked their way up to the front. Olivia really had a strong second half and looked relaxed as she closed the gap toward the front runner.

The Rayder's next meet is at the Carson City Crystal Invitational on Saturday, Oct 1.

GOLF

M. CHRIS LEESE/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

About half finished with his goal of playing 100 holes in a single day, Belvedere Golf Club head professional Marty Joy of Charlevoix smiles as he chooses a club from his authentic hickory shaft collection, Saturday during the "Hickory Hundred" (a fundraising event to support the Charlevoix County Junior Golf program) at the Belvedere Golf Club in Charlevoix.

Heart of the Hickory

Marty Joy completess Hickory Hundred fundraiser

The first two times he planned it this year, Marty Joy's heart just wasn't in his annual Hickory Hundred fundraiser.

It's not that Joy, the head golf professional at the Belvedere Golf Club wasn't in the mood to play the marathon 100 holes of golf in one day using old-school hickory shafted golf clubs.

Instead it was a heart arrhythmia that sent him to the hospital on Aug. 21, the night before he was scheduled to do this year's Hundred that prompted him to postpone the event. A few weeks later, when Joy had rescheduled the event, his doctor benched him saying he should wait a bit longer.

On Saturday, Joy was finally able to take to the links, delayed slightly by some lingering morning rain showers.

Joy teed of at 9:30 a.m. and finished at 5:20 p.m., averaging about 1 hour 20 minutes per round. His scores for his five and a half rounds on the par 72 course were: 76 - 72 - 74 -75 -74 and he was even par for the last 10 holes.

"I was a little sore Sunday, especially my hands," Joy said. "Those hickory clubs are much heavier and stronger than modern clubs. I couldn't do it again on Sunday but today I could have (Monday)."

The event is a fundraiser for the Charlevoix Junior Golf Program that takes place in the summer.

Although totals for how much Joy raised with this year's event were not available by press time, Joy said the event has typically brought in $10,000 - $14,000 in the last several years.

"I receive pledges in the amounts of 50 cents and $1 (the most popular number) up to $400, $500, $800 several $1,000 pledges this year, and even one $2,500 pledge from a Belvedere member."

Anyone who would like to contribute to the program, may contact Joy at the golf course at (231) 547-2611 or program director Dean Davenport at (231) 547-6433.

FLAG FOOTBALL

Children participating in the newly-formed Charlevoix flag football program play one of the program's first games on Kipke Field on Wednesday, Sept. 21.

Fledgling flag football program draws 50 players

The partnership between the Rayder Gridiron Club and the Charlevoix Recreation Department to offer a new youth football program in Charlevoix this fall has resulted in the participation of more than 50 area children.

On Wednesday, Sept. 21, the new program saw a total of five games played on Kipke Field.

"It was a perfect evening for football," Charlevoix head varsity football coach Don Jess said. "The kids had a great time and the parental participation and support was tremendous."

Organizers will offer a four-week season with first and second graders making up one league and third and fourth graders comprising the other. Teams include seven players with five players from each team on the field at one time.

"We're fortunate to enjoy strong support from parents and the involvement of a number of coaches who are very generous with their time," Jess added. "It really was a lot of fun watching the games and I'd encourage the community to attend the games and support our young athletes."

Games start at 6:15 p.m. on Wednesdays at Kipke Field and run through Oct. 12. No admission is charged.

TENNIS

Team improving despite losses

Elk Rapids won three singles matches and a pair of doubles matches en route to topping Charlevoix Wednesday, Sept. 21 in a Lake Michigan Conference dual match.

"There were a lot of very competitive matches and both teams had some nice tennis being played," Charlevoix coach Erik Lundteigen said.

Singles: 1-Donnie Fedrigon (ER) def. Sam Sell, 6-1, 6-0; 2-Josh Mosher (ER) def. Brandon Arp, 6-0, 6-1; 3-Kyle Hoover (ER) def. Jacob VanLiew, 6-0, 6-0.

Doubles: 1-Scott Hoch-Zane Gates (ER) def. Trent Bradley-Blake Schulman, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2; 2-Zach Hankins-Matt MacKenzie (C) def. Nick Ranger-Casey Plantenga, 6-7, 6-3, 6-3; 3-J.J. Wachler-Noah Certa (C) def. Garret Gosselin-Clay Gates, 6-0, 6-3; 4-Grant Gilreath-Andrew Cullison (ER) def. Brody Robarge-Jamey Eakes, 6-3, 6-7, 7-5.

On Thursday, the Rayder's traveled to Petoskey to and fell to the Northmen squad 7-0.

Singles: 1-singles Sam Sell lost 6-4,6-3; 2-Brandon Arp lost 6-1,6-1; 3-JJ Wachler lost 4-6,6-3,7-6; 4-Jacob VanLiew lost 6-1,6-0.

Doubles: 1-Blake Schulman/Trent Bradley lost 6-3,6-1; 2-Matt MacKenzie/Zach Hankins lost 7-6,6-1; 3-Jamey Eakes/Brody Robarge lost 6-0,6-1.

"We had some very well played matches. As we improve we are competing much better. Our younger players are starting to understand the game. I am very pleased with the progress," Lundteigen added.

The Rayders were slated to host Traverse City Central's junior varsity on Tuesday and the head to Petoskey for the conference championships on Thursday.

VOLLEYBALL

Rayders down Red Devils, place third in tournament

Jenna Way finished with seven kills, 12 digs and 21 assists on Tuesday Sept. 20 as Charlevoix remained unbeaten in the Lake Michigan Conference with a 25-10, 25-18, 25-11 volleyball victory over East Jordan.

Also for the Rayders, 27-1-3 overall, 4-0 league, Karley Pearsall had eight kills, two blocks; Kelsey Way added 10 digs, three kills; Maddie Boss, five kills; Megan Peters, four kills; Chelsea Hoffman, six digs; and Paige Poirier, five assists.

For East Jordan, Val Peters had five kills, seven digs; Kara LaVanway had 10 digs; and Jordan Bacchus added five assists, seven digs.

Charlevoix won the JV match, 25-18, 25-21, 15-13. For the Rayders, 12-4-1, Kelsey Pischner had seven kills, four aces; Jenna Holecheck had eight aces; and Allie Bayo added two aces.

On Saturday, Charlevoix fell to host Morley Stanwood, 25-20, 25-13, in a semifinal match at the Mohawk Invitational.

The Rayders, 29-2-5, opened by splitting with Mount Pleasant, 25-18, 20-25; then split with Shelby, 27-29, 25-16; topped Lake Odessa Lakewood, 26-24, 25-10; and downed Scottville Mason County Eastern, 25-9, 25-11.

Jenna Way led the Rayders with 21 kills, 34 digs, seven aces and 62 assists on the day, while Anna Way had 28 kills, 12 digs.

Also for Charlevoix, Karley Pearsall finished with 21 kills, seven blocks; Kelsey Way had 13 kills, 28 digs; Megan Peters added eight kills, five bocks; and Kelly Greyerbiehl had 45 digs, while Chelsie Hoffman added 24, and Maddie Zimmerman finished with 22.

Up next the Rayders were scheduled to host Grayling on Tuesday and travel to Traverse City St. Francis on Thursday. Both are conference matches.

POP WARNER FOOTBALL

Pop Warner teams win

The Charlevoix's Pop Warner teams continued their season with victories for all three both PeeWee division teams Saturday.

In the PeeWee division action in East Jordan, the Charlevoix Bucs moved to 3-0 with a 20-0 victory over East Jordan II. The offensive attack was keyed by big plays, with two touchdowns for Jeremy Chernauckus and one for Caleb Kenwabikise. Quarterback Colin Smith also connected on a touchdown pass with Michael Pearsall. On defense, the Bucs held East Jordan in check with outstanding tackles for loss from Tre Hart, Smith and Kenwabikise.

Also in the PeeWee division, the Charlevoix Pirates picked up their first victory of the season, beating East Jordan I, 6-0. Leading the offense for the Pirates were Tylan Fry, Dylan Starr, Carson Gauthier and Keon Taylor, who all had runs of 20 yards or more. Starr also scored the lone touchdown. On defense, Michael Mcquiston had an interception on a day where the coaching staff praised the entire defense on a quality team effort.

The season will continue Saturday, Oct. 1, with the Charlevoix Bucs facing the Traverse City Chippewas in Kalkaska at 4 p.m. The Pirates will play the Traverse City Raiders in Elk Rapids at 3 p.m.

In the Junior Midget division Charlevoix defeated Boyne 2, 20-0.

Malcolm Williams had two touchdowns and Matt Goode added one. Tyler Fuchs added a 2-point conversion.

Coach Boogie Carlson said the win was another great defensive effort.

"We saw a lot of positive play from the team as a whole," he said.

This Saturday Charlevoix takes on Traverse City in Kalkaska.

Proposed trail scores high for grant funding

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRTIER

BOYNE CITY — Chances look good for Charlevoix County to receive state grant funds for a proposed non-motorized recreational trail along Boyne City-Charlevoix Road.

By Oct. 3 county parks director Ross Maxwell will submit supplemental information requested by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. That could push the project's rating even higher, he said.

"I think it stands a good chance," Maxwell said.

The trail's first phase would stretch just over three miles from Boyne City, past Young State Park to the Bay and Evangeline township line. Nearly $1 million in funding is expected to be needed.

In March, commissioners voted to submit an application for a $300,000 Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund grant to help build the first portion of the trail. The application received 340 points out of a possible 520 points.

"I think we did fairly well," Maxwell said.

Michigan Department of Natural Resources grant manager Jon Mayes agrees.

"Anything in the mid- to high-300s is fairly competitive," he said. "Just by virtue of it being a trail, the project gets special consideration."

Boyne City officials agreed to contribute more than $11,000 and applied to the Michigan Department of Transportation for an additional $565,900 federal Transportation Enhancement Act grant, while Evangeline Township pledged more than $33,000. About $45,000 is needed in private donations.

Additional information the state wants for the trust fund grant application includes a commitment letter from MDOT for the second grant, as well as documentation for the nearly $45,000 needed in private cash donations. State officials also requested easements for portions of the trail outside the existing highway right-of-way.

Maxwell said those easements will not be necessary because the trail will be designed within the existing right-of-way that extends 33 feet in both directions from the highway's center line.

"It's not going outside the right-of-way. That's how I understand it," he said.

However, that design can be changed, should property owners along the route choose to allow the trail to stretch beyond the right-of-way, Maxwell said.

A decision about the grant application is expected in December when the trust fund's board makes recommendations, Mayes said.

Auction to benefit those in need

Fall Fiesta of Giving Auction coming to Community Reformed Church

Charlevoix Community Reformed Church is inviting the community to the Fall Fiesta of Giving Auction which will take place from 6-9 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 1, at the church, 100 Oak St. in Charlevoix.

Proceeds from the event will go to assist several families in need within the area communities.

The event will include a silent and live auction, desserts and beverages.

Those who attend the auction will have the opportunity to bid on the items such as a one-hour fall color flight, a chair massage party for six, American Girl Bitty Baby/starter collection, a bowling party up to eight people, including pizza and pop, a split quarter side of beef and gift certificates to local restaurants, motels, bed and breakfasts, spas, golf courses, and oil changes.

In all, about 250 items have been donated to the auction.

"Our community has been extremely generous in their donations, and we look forward to a wonderful evening of fun," Mary Ann Cox, one of the event's organizers, said.

For more information contact Cox at (231) 675-9913.

Two vie for school board seat

STEVE ZUCKER · COURIER EDITOR

Two men with a long history of involvement with the Charlevoix Public Schools will square off for a seat on the school district's board of education in the Nov. 8 General Election. The Courier asked both candidates to submit biographical information about themselves and answer some questions about their candidacy for the school board. Below is the information the candidates provided:

Bo Boss

Boss

Incumbent Bo Boss, 55, has served on the school board since 2007 and is currently the board's vice president. Boss is a Charlevoix High School graduate, and lifelong Charlevoix resident whose family ties to the area go back four generations. He is a master craftsman and owner of Bo Boss & Son Construction and has been a state licensed builder since 1978. Boss has also served as the general manager of the city's Mount McSauba Recreation Area since 1976. He has also managed various family owned businesses 1973 to present.

Boss has been married to wife Debbie (also a Charlevoix High School graduate) for 31 years.

Richard Joseph

Joseph

Challenger Richard Joseph, 54, is married and the father of two daughters. Alyssia graduated last year and is currently attending college and Savannah is a senior at Charlevoix High School this year.

He grew up in Grayling where his family has lived since 1835. After graduating from high school he earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and his law degree from the Detroit College of Law.

After graduating from law school, Joseph practiced in the Detroit area for two years when an opportunity to be an associate at a Charlevoix firm arose in 1988, fulfilling his goal to move back north.

Waves in the wind

Waves crash against the Pine River Channel north pier Friday drenching both the pier and the photographer. Sustained northerly winds around 30 mph with gusts occassionally over 40 mph buffeted the area for most of the day Friday, however there were few reports of damage or power outages.

New cable will keep Charlevoix current

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

City of Charlevoix electric customers on the south side of town might have to deal with their lights dimming occasionally for several weeks later this fall, but it's better than the alternative — several days with no power at all.

At Monday's Charlevoix City Council meeting, Consumer's Energy officials said it's not a matter of if, but when the aging underwater cables that connect the electric grids on north and south side of Charlevoix fails.

Consumer's Energy regional manager Tim Petrosky said recent testing shows the four 46 kilovolt cables are near the end of their life. The existing cables, which run for 4,300 feet under Lake Charlevoix from the area of the Chicago Club near U.S. Coast Guard Station Charlevoix to the Northwest Marine Yacht Club were installed in 1962 and are described as "paper insulated, oil filled, lead-covered cables."

Petrosky said the Consumer's officials want to do the work now in the "off season" to prevent a failure during a busy time of the year.

The work is expected to begin in November and will take aboat eight weeks to complete.

Following essentially the same route, the old cables will be replaced by "a three conductor bundled copper cable with modern insulation and a steel shield following essentially the same route as the old cables. Sections on either end will be buried in the lake bottom with the remainder placed on top of the lake bottom.

For two-to-four weeks of

CABLE

the project crews will use a barge stationed in Lake Charlevoix

The project will also include some aesthetic improvements on either end of the cable. On the north end, much of the above ground structures where the aboveground line meets the buried line will be removed and replaced with equipment that will be concealed in an underground vault. On the south end by Northwest Marine, the number of poles will drop from three to one.

While the work is taking place, the south side of town will be powered by a portable substation that will be set up at the St. Marys Cement Plant. Petrosky noted that, because of this set-up when St. Marys crews start large electric motors at the plant it will cause a momentary dip in voltage on the south side of town. He said the voltage drops will likely do little more than cause lights to dim for a few seconds.

Petrosky said the voltage drops, which could happen from zero to six times per day, should not pose a danger to other types of electrical equipment, such as computers.

Because the city electric grid is fed from the north, customers north of the Pine River/Round Lake will not be affected by the work.

The work will take place at no cost to the city, the Chicago Club or Northwest Marine. However, Consumer's officials did request an easement for the new cable from the city, which the council unanimously approved.

In other business, the council approved a bid from Ace Hardware for $3,719.79 for materials to be used to replace the water main in the cemetery. That price was $106 more than the lowest bid from Home Depot, but was within the 3 percent allowed in the city's local bidder preference policy

The council also gave its approval by consensus for city manager Rob Straebel to use some of his time to write a transportation enhancement grant to help pay for the Lake-to-Lake trail south of Charlevoix that has been in the works for many years now. Straebel said the application process will likely be lengthy and he expects it will take between 60 and 80 hours of his time. He said because the trail is partially in Charlevoix Township, he will work with township officials on the grant process. The deadline for the grant application is in mid-Novemeber, but any money that might be awarded to the project wouldn't be available until 2013.

Getting married is easy, staying married is hard

A LOOK AT LIFE

Gayle Gennett

When my parent's 45th wedding anniversary was approaching, they were asked to be part of a survey: "Married Bliss after Forty Years." This 20-something woman, looking smart in her black pantssuit and frilly white blouse settled in with pen in hand and notebook at the ready probably thinking, "What a cool job I have." I can still recall the first question this pretty blonde asked as she turned her attention to my dad

"What first attracted you to your wife?"

His answer is still ringing in my ears: "Why her intelligence of course."

A great answer for today's woman, but not so nice for my mom who never admitted she was a senior citizen even for the discounts. Mom rebuffed with, "You could have said I was pretty."

Oh boy! Time to leave the room.

Nah.

They talked about it, and that's really what kept my parents married for a half a century. They talked and it was then, the young, fair-haired woman began her education on what it takes to stay married.

So, let's talk about staying married rather than straying from marriage.

In my work I see couples who quickly want to end things by the time they reach their fifth wedding anniversary. The classic Marilyn Monroe film "Seven Year Itch" could easily be remade into "The Three Year Itch, Let's Switch."

Maybe you know this, maybe you don't, but women need communication as much as men need sex. Men tend to have sexual affairs because they feel they aren't getting what they want in their marriage and women have more emotional affairs because they want to be with someone who will listen to them.

When you see your marriage struggling it's time to renegotiate, sit down and talk.

Does your marriage need more "I love you's" and acts of kindness — such as opening a door, helping with a coat, packing a lunch or just being on time.

Some helpful ideas to affair-proof your marriage include: Turning toward your spouse before you head out the door and letting them know how great they look and give them a kiss on the lips — like you mean it. Taking walks and talking about the day's events or just sitting down and talking. We all need a bit more exercise, so walking and talking helps and you may feel less threatened by not having face to face contact if you tend not to share.

While you're at it schedule a date night in your appointment book.

Getting married is easy, staying married is the hard part. Everyone's marriage goes through its ups and downs. Look at what a typical couple goes through: child rearing, raising teenagers, illnesses and accidents, job changes and moves, financial loss, caring for an elderly parent, and raising grandkids. The list is endless. Sometimes challenges we go through are what brings a couple closer. And yes sometimes it feels like one partner is doing all the work to keep the marriage together.

Having a sense of humor is also important. Get over yourself if you think for one minute you are better or smarter than your spouse.

Remember why you were interested in him or her from the beginning and focus on that.

I understand reasons for divorce when it involves abuse, mental illness or addictions and you feel hopeless that no matter what you do it's not getting any better. But if you are saying your life has become routine and you are bored with each other or your wife spends too much time with the kids or your husband spends too much time with his friends, it's time to sit down a spell and talk.

Men have testosterone and women have estrogen and that's the key reason we are so different.

If a husband or wife feels their sex life is routine, then be certain to take time away from kids or grandkids and have weekend getaway. Candles, quiet and talking first about what you want in your relationship or sexual activity will bring you closer because you are sharing information which is what women want. If he is listening and responding which is what a woman wants this may lead to sex.

There you have it in a nutshell.

Women and men both like to feel appreciated so don't be afraid to compliment each other and thank each other for the smallest of gestures. We thank our friends with cards and calls but take our spouses for granted and expect them to do their usual lawn mowing, grocery shopping, dishwashing and car repairing, but a thank you goes a long way.

No quick-fixes, but you need to know you are not alone in your thoughts. As statistics tell us, we all think about throwing in the towel at least once a year. So, once a year negotiate your contract and talk out the issues that bother you. And if someone asks what first attracted you to your spouse, you might want to mention how good looking they are. Heck, the more you love someone the better looking they become and that's the truth.

LETTERS to the editor

Reader appreciates newspaper's efforts

Editor,

It's time someone acknowledged the Courier and the improvements we all have noticed over the past year or so. Even with personnel changes and staff cutbacks, the popular local paper's leaders have managed to make obvious improvements.

Your coverage of local sports is the absolute best in the 60 years we two locals have been reading about the community news.

Charlevoix has always been a very sports minded town. It has taken past editors a long time to realize that and now all the sports are covered. Keep trying to print the pictures and stories of our community youth. It does so much to promote community pride.

We appreciate your most recent coverage of our Junior Golf fundraiser that benefits well more than 100 8-17 year old youth in the Charlevoix area. Professional golf instructor, Marty Joy's remarkable feat of taking pledges for the 100 holes he plays in a single day using hickory clubs is amazing. Your publicity prior to and after his feat has been vital in making this a successful and crucial program fundraiser.

Congratulations! Please keep up the commitment to bring your readers the issues facing our community and the happenings and events that have kept Charlevoix the vibrant and exciting community it has always been

Golfer thankful for city course, staff

Now that the 2011 golf season is winding down, I would like to thank the citizens of the city of Charlevoix for making the Charlevoix Golf Club available to me and my golfing friends.

The Charlevoix Golf Club is indeed a hidden treasure. Tom Heid's ground crew does a great job of having the fairways and greens in resort course condition and they go out of their way to be golfer-friendly.

Tom Bennett's clubhouse staff are knowledgeable and customer-friendly and are truly goodwill ambassadors for Charlevoix.

Thanks.

BOSS

Together they have a son, Beau, who is working on a mechanical engineering degree from Michigan State University and a daughter, Sherry, who is working on a architectural and interior design degree from Northwestern Michigan College.

Besides serving on the school board, Boss' involvement in the community has been extensive.

He is currently the vice-president of Keep Charlevoix Beautiful — the organization which oversee the community's annual Operation Petunia. He has been involved with the organization since 1980 and previously served as its president.

Boss has also served as the chairman of the Charlevoix Sno Challenge at Mount McSauba for more than 20 years. Besides having two children who were students in the district, Boss' involvement at the schools includes many years of bringing a mobile tool shop to school, for on-site demonstrations of "Tool School" at the elementary school. He also brings his mobile tool shop to the high school and to assist with homecoming float building. He has also donated time for many years to provide a free day of skiing, sledding and skating for all Charlevoix middle school students at Mount McSauba.

"I have decided to run for reelection for the following reasons: Let's forget about the financial difficulties that we are facing at this time and talk about the positives. Our superintendent Chet Janik, who came to Charlevoix at the same time I joined the board, has done a terrific job throughout these challenging times. His tireless effort in presenting to the community the need for passing our current bond (for school improvements) has put Charlevoix schools on top in every category. Currently all three schools have received "A" report cards from the state. Our high school just received a rating of 85 — the highest score of all public schools north of Clare to the Mackinac Bridge. Every student has access to cutting-edge technology with "Smart Boards" in every classroom, (with just arriving interactive response clickers) fiber optic-wired buildings, mobile laptop carts and new desktops. The downsized teaching and support staff has been really pulling together to take up the slack. I really feel that we have the best staff and administrative team in the north. Along with the technology improvements we were able to purchase two new busses and plan to replace two more in the near future. All of the school buildings were able to go green with upgrades to lighting and heating controls, new efficient boilers, windows and insulation. The current savings in energy cost to the district is about $100,000 per year. The Ironton School has been re-opened and through a partnership with the ISD it will become a much needed alternative studies school. A new partnership has been formed with the Montessori school and it is already very successful.

"The current members of the board are what really inspire me to serve. John Mclean is our president and totally devotes himself to keep us all informed and up to date. I have filled in for him several times and found out real quick the time it takes to do the job right. Valerie Snyder, brings her legal expertise (always much appreciated) and the quick wit she has to ease the tension when needed. Kevin Pearsall brings his common sense approach along with the talent it takes in him being a successful local business man. He is never afraid to ask the right questions. The days of the 'good old boys' are gone. Mike Pearsall brings his expertise as an expert on maintenance for our buildings and grounds. His suggestions have saved the district thousands of tax dollars. Glen Catt is a very successful business man and has brought a whole new perspective to the board. Glen and Kevin worked tirelessly to complete the new contracts between the teachers and support staff. Great work during these challenging times. Nancy Allison brings her experience from 35 years of book keeping at North Central Michigan College and is now chairing our budget committee. She knows how to say 'we can't afford that.'

It is so important to have trust between all board members and that everyone is always equally informed. I really respect the leadership of Chet and appreciate his weekly updates. The board is made up of seven individual votes and a board member must respect the vote of the majority. Win or lose a decision, a good board member must compromise and move on. I am very proud to work with this current board and its good chemistry."

"The biggest challenges facing public education is declining enrollment and loss in revenue. At Charlevoix, I think we are turning the corner as we have already drastically trimmed our overhead and expenses. We have in place new affordable employee contracts. Our enrollment decline is actually starting to show signs of stabilizing. We are currently working on marketing what a great school system we have. It is time for us to look out for Charlevoix Public Schools' future at the local level, as looking to Lansing is not the answer. The current board is dedicated to maintain all core academic classes and keep class sizes small. It is very important to keep as many tax dollars in the classroom as possible. We are in the education business, and it is our goal to give every child the best education that we can."

I feel that I am a good candidate for the board. Charlevoix, and the school system has blessed my family and me. I feel this is a small sacrifice to pay for the great education my children received. I will fight for every child to get a great education, and to those who slip up, I will be there to give you a second chance. Pay it forward."

After moving to Charlevoix, Joseph became active in the community through the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce, serving on its board for six years, and as its president for three of those years. In the early 1990s he initiated the "Ambassador" arm of the Chamber and was the recipient of the Chamber's first "Ambassador of the Year Award."

Joseph also served on the board of the Charlevoix County Community Foundation for six years. In that time he established two funds designed primarily to support education.

Joseph has not held public office before, but he was directly involved with two notable elections involving the Charlevoix Public Schools. He served as the chairman of the committee to raise the millage for the construction of the current high school, and as the co-chairman of the committee opposed to the recall of the majority of the school board around the same time.

Speaking of those two efforts, which spanned about two years, Joseph said, " I am extremely proud to have been a part of the building of the high school and renovations to the middle school. I believe that it was a huge benefit to our community and I know that it has made a significant difference in the education of our community."

Joseph has practiced law in Charlevoix for 23 years and is the owner of Charlevoix Abstract and Title Co.

He has volunteered and served on numerous community and church committees over the years. He was a member of the Rotary Club, is currently a member of the Lions Club, coached 4-H soccer for six years and Little League for two.

Joseph said much of his inspiration to serve the community — especially on the school board — comes from his father who was the president of the school board in Grayling for more than 20 years.

"I was raised to believe that our public schools are the backbone of the community, especially in a small town," Joseph said. "Equally important, I was taught the importance of giving back to your community through donation of money (to the extent possible) and time. I have tried to do both since moving to Charlevoix."

"During my entire adult life, whether in Grayling before I went back to law school, or here in Charlevoix, I have always given something back to my community. I love Charlevoix and I am proud of both our school system and our business community. The next few years are going to be difficult for both. I want to be part of making sure that our schools remain at the top, as they are today, and that our children continue to receive the education they will need to be successful in their lives. It is very important to me to help our kids, our businesses and our community to be strong and vibrant. Our school system is the key to obtaining those goals."

Joseph noted that his decision to seek election to the school board had nothing to do with any problem he had with Boss or his performance on the board. Rather, he said, the timing is just right now for him.

"Charlevoix is fortunate to have more people who want to serve on the school board than seats available. It is too bad that only one person can serve," Joseph said.

He went on to explain that his philosophy is that school board members should generally be people who have children in the district. And with his youngest daughter about to graduate next spring, time on his self-imposed limitation is running out.

"Another reason I decided to run at this time has to do with the incredible amount of change in the whole education system that is coming and will continue to come from Lansing. From opening up the charter system to teacher compensation and benefit packages to talk of consolidating our 550 plus districts down to one per county, or just 83, big and significant changes are going to happen. Because I believe in our schools so much, I want to be a part of implementing those new ideas and regulations. I think I have the ability to understand the way Lansing will change the playing field and help our school to remain not only competitive, but also retain its level of excellence."

Joseph said the biggest challenge the schools face are limitations posed by constantly shrinking budgets.

"Charlevoix has been hard hit by the loss of business, starting with the closing of Big Rock, the housing crisis and an aging population (which isn't bad, they just don't have kids, so the school doesn't get the money). Our geography makes it tough for us to attract new business and new students. However, the business climate can change. The fact that we are not located near the interstate system doesn't need to be a detriment to bringing in new business or attracting families."

He said he thinks a big part of the solution is to use the business community as a partner, but not a model.

Joseph pointed to the district's high marks in statewide rankings for student achievement and said community leaders need to do a better job of marketing that success. He proposes that the district expand its existing marketing efforts to make them a true cooperative effort with the business community.

"Good schools are a major selling point in attracting new businesses to the community," Joseph said. "If the schools and the business community work together, both can benefit."

But, he said, schools should not model themselves after most businesses.

"Schools aren't for making a profit. They are for educating children," Joseph said.

He also said the school board should do all that it can to avoid cutting the variety of classes that it offers and extra-curricular activities. He said the board should continue to look at creative ways to address staffing to achieve this goal.

Library to host school board candidate forum

The Friends of the Charlevoix Public Library will be hosting a "Meet the Charlevoix School Board Candidates" forum, 6:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 27, in the community room of the Charlevoix Public Library at 220 W. Clinton St. The forum will include introductions and questions for the two candidates running for Charlevoix School Board, Bo Boss and Dick Joseph.

Attend the forum to find out more about the candidates and how they will serve the Charlevoix Public Schools. There will be time for the audience to ask questions. The forum will be moderated by Anne Marie Conway with assistance from her Charlevoix High School government students. For further information about the forum, contact Joan Robinson at (231) 237-9103.

Homecoming festivities on tap

Charlevoix High School will celebrate homecoming next week with a slate full of events including some changes and additions from previous years.

The events kick off on Sunday, Oct. 9, when Float Frenzy takes place at Kipke Field from noon-5 p.m. During this time students gather to design and build the floats that will be part of the homecoming parade on Friday, Oct. 14.

— A new event this year will be the "Powder Buff" boys volleyball game which is set to take place starting at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 10, at the high school gym.

— On Wednesday, Oct. 12, the "Powder Puff" girls football game will take place at Kipke Field starting at 7 p.m.

The busiest day of homecoming activities takes place on Friday, Oct. 14, starting with the homecoming assembly in the high school gym from 8:05-11:45 a.m.

The homecoming parade will see two changes this year. Not only has the time has been moved up to 1:30 p.m., but the parade route has been changed to include Bridge Street from Clinton to Hurlbut, then to May Street.

The Charlevoix High School Sports Boosters will host a pig roast starting at 5:30 p.m. at Kipke Field. Prices are $9 for adults and $5 for children.

The football game against Elk Rapids kicks off at 7 p.m. and the homecoming king and queen will be crowned at halftime.

The week full of activities will wrap up with the homecoming dance set for 8:30-11:30 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 15, at the Charlevoix Elementary School.

OBITUARIES

Harold J. Wilson: Nov. 29, 1924 - Sept. 25, 2011

Harold J. Wilson, 86, of Charlevoix, died Sunday, Sept. 25, 2011, at his home

He was born Nov. 29, 1924, in Fife Lake, to Harold L. and Ella (Wortman) Wilson. He grew up in Kingsley and graduated from Kingsley High School in 1942.

Harold served in the U.S. Army during World War II.

On June 25, 1950, he married Barbara Hayward in South Boardman. They lived in Mayfield, where Harold was employed by the Michigan Department of Conservation, (now Department of Natural Resources). In 1968, he was transferred to the Charlevoix Fisheries Research Station, from where he retired on April 12, 1980.

Harold was a member of the First Congregational United Church of Christ in Charlevoix, and served as a lay speaker, usher and greeter. He was a hobby farmer, with livestock and a garden, and enjoyed cooking what he raised. He participated in the Cherry Festival Parade with his buggy horses.

Harold is survived by his wife, Barbara, of Charlevoix; children, Linda J. (John Dursema) of Marquette, Harold J. "Jim" (Susie) Wilson of Marquette, Sara L. (Steven) Smith of Rapidan, Va., Dr. William L. (Leslie Ganick) Wilson of Oakland, Calif.; grandchildren, Sean McCracken, Jessica (Damian) Josefsberg, John Okonkowski III, Derek P. Okonkowski, Katherine Elizabeth "Katie" Wilson; great-granddaughter, Liliana Katherine Josefsberg; sisters, Wilma Wilson of Plainwell, Frances (Hayes Tomlinson) Llewellyn of Traverse City.

Visitation took place from 6-8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 30, at the Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix.

A memorial service took place at 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, at the First Congregational Church in Charlevoix, with the Rev. Neil Wilson officiating. Interment took place in the Kingsley Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to Hospice of Northwest Michigan, 220 West Garfield, Charlevoix, Mich. 49720.

Online condolences may be made at www.winchesterfuneralhome.com.

LOOKING BACK…

After years of rancorous debate between those who wished to modernize and those who didn't see the purpose, city council approved the badly needed paving of Bridge Street downtown in late 1903. Willard Smith, editor of the Sentinel newspaper, wrote "Bridge Street was a disgrace to the town. Farmers frequently remarked that it was the worst piece of road they traveled in getting to market." Work began in late 1903, then was finished over three weeks in May and June of 1904, done by the Central Bitulithic Paving Co. of Detroit using a finely calibrated mixture of crushed limestone and bitumen. Bridge Street is shown here (looking north from near Antrim Street) with curbing in just before the work commenced. Smith wrote after it was completed: "To the ears of the old settler (himself), who waded in the mud, the clack of the horses' feet upon the clean, smooth surface is music; and as he crosses the street wherever the notion strikes him, he is proud of himself, proud of his town, and proud that we had a council that could and did so successfully grapple with the vexing problem."

This image is one of 850 in the Charlevoix Historical Society's new DVD titled "Charlevoix, Michigan — A Pictorial Journey through 16 Decades." It is available from 1-4 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday at the society's Harsha House Museum, 103 State St. It is also available at the Central Drug Store, Round Lake Books, Ell-Air Gallery and Castle Farms. Find help and healing for the hurt of separation and divorce through

You don't have to go through it alone…

DivorceCare is a friendly, caring group of people who will walk alongside you through one of life's most difficult experiences. Don't go through separation or divorce alone.

Most people will tell you that separation and divorce are the most painful and stressful experiences they've ever faced. It's a confusing time when you feel isolated and have lots of questions about issues you've never faced before. Our DivorceCare group meets weekly to help you face these challenges and move toward rebuilding you life.

A Seminar with Experts

DivorceCare seminars and support groups are led by people who understand what you are going through and want to help. You'll gain access to valuable DivorceCare resources to help you deal with the pain of the past and look forward to rebuilding your life. DivorceCare is available for kids too!

During the first 30-40 minutes of the meeting, each DivorceCare group watches a video seminar featuring experts on divorce and recovery subjects. These videos are produced in an interesting way to watch television, a magazine format featuring expert interviews, real-life case studies and on-location video.

A Support Group with Focus

Community Reformed Church of Charlevoix offers DivorceCare recovery support group that meets on Thursday evenings, beginning October 6, from 7-9p.m. for 13 weeks (join anytime). 100 Oak Street (Community Reformed Church, one mile north of the bridge). A light dinner is provided. This is a FREE program!

231-675-1925

After viewing the video, DivorceCare group participants spend time as a support group, discussing what was presented in that week's video seminar and what is going on in the lives of group members.

Smoother sooner?

County officials hoping to rebuild entire remainder of Boyne City-Charlevoix Road next year

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

BOYNE CITY — In recent days Charlevoix County officials have been discussing how to pay for improvements to the full length of the remaining rough portions of Boyne City-Charlevoix Road next year.

Both county commissioner Chris Christensen, of Boyne City, and the county's road commission members said the remaining 10 miles of rough road between Boyne City and Charlevoix could be upgraded next construction season. County leaders may be asked to chip in some money to pay for the project now, though the voter-approved road millage could come into play, as well.

Originally, officials had planned to do the remaining working in two sections.

"We ought to take a hard look at finishing this road," Christensen said at last week's board meeting on Sept. 28.

Material costs continue to rise and savings could be realized with a contractor responsible for a single mobilization, rather than multiple setups for each section currently planned to be done individually, Christensen said.

Two days later, on Friday, road commissioners also hashed over the possibilities.

Federal funds are expected to pay for between 2.5 and 3 miles of the stretch and about three miles of the 13-mile road are already done for $900,000. Contracts for the federally-funded portion of the project will be let by the Michigan Department of Transportation this winter in time for next spring.

The idea is to bid out the county's seven miles, or so, at the same time.

"That's how I envision it going," said road commission manager Pat Harmon.

Road officials must match the federal government's portion at about 20 percent, or $200,000 from the county's road millage.

Boyne City-Charlevoix Road is the only project the road commission can't fund from a single year's road levy collection. That's why the county may subsidize the road commission's plan — a move that could be paid back with the millage's last collection year, officials said.

"We've got to do something to get the money to do the whole thing," said road commission chairman Doug Way, said. Ultimately, as much will be done with the available money, Harmon said.

"It's all going to hinge on when it goes to bid," he said.

County commissioner Ron Reinhardt, who serves as the board's liaison to the road commission, said he's confident a solution can be found.

"We've got some time to figure it out with the county, too — talk it out," Reinhardt said.

Additionally, the road's intersection at U.S. 31, just north of Charlevoix, is a dangerous spot that needs upgrades, Charlevoix County Sheriff Don Schneider said. The trouble there is when a northbound vehicle on U.S. 31 signals to turn right onto Boyne City-Charlevoix Road, some motorists on the county road who are waiting to turn left toward Charlevoix will pull out without seeing traffic that intends to continue north along U.S. 31. Numerous T-bone collisions have happened there, Schneider said.

Michigan Department of Transportation spokesman Bob Felt said the state intends to upgrade that intersection. He said both survey and design work is expected there yet this year. Construction is slated for 2013, he said.

The work will not include a new traffic light because it's not warranted, Felt said.

County tax rate drops, 2012 budget approved

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

Charlevoix County commissioners reduced taxpayers' millage rate and adopted the county's 2012 budget, though the latter didn't please all elected officials.

Christensen

Commissioner Chris Christensen, of Boyne City, said that after reviewing the county's 2010 audit, he learned the Grandvue Medical Care Facility bond could be paid off early after rising property values in the mid-2000s elevated the tax revenue stream from that millage rate. The proposed budget called for a continued 0.54 mills to be collected toward retiring that debt, but commissioners dropped the rate to 0.175 mills in order to collect just what's needed for remaining interest payments.

Charlevoix County has enough money in the account to pay off the remaining principal balance in May 2012, the earliest possible debt retirement date for the Grandvue expansion bond.

"We could actually provide a tax cut at this time," Christensen said.

Nearly $350,000 will be saved in future interest payments as a result.

Drebenstedt

"This is good. I'm of the same opinion," commissioner Bob Drebenstedt said.

Even those in the packed crowd spoke in favor of the move.

"If you can pay it off, that makes sense," said Eric Beishlag, an Eveline Township trustee.

The reduction in the Grandvue bond millage dropped the county's overall levy from the maximum allowed 7.79 mills to 7.425 mills. The county's allocated, or operational, millage will be 4.7 mills, as it has been for the last several years, county equalization director Betsy Mason said.

For a person with a home with a taxable value of $75,000, the millage reduction would save about $27 in taxes for next year.

However, approval of the county's $13.9 million budget came with a pair of dissenters.

Both Drebenstedt and commissioner Shirlene Tripp voted against the budget and cited raises for department heads as the reason. Both said it doesn't set a good example when certain department heads receive salary bumps, but not all county employees.

"So much of it we didn't look through," Tripp said.

Drebenstedt agreed.

"There were last minute changes and too many items we didn't have out on the table," he said.

Gillespie

This isn't the proper economic climate to hand out raises to department heads, Drebenstedt said.

Commissioner Rich Gillespie, of Beaver Island, voted in favor of the budget, but not without commenting that it's a "poor reflection on the public sector" to provide raises when private businesses struggle.

Also, county commissioners unanimously approved a brownfield plan for the long-empty Dilworth Hotel in Boyne City.

The plan is worth about $360,000 in future local tax-increment financing, though developers said they don't intend to use it. The brownfield plan is a requirement for the state's offer of a $250,000 brownfield tax credit developers want to cash in, said Mike Cain, Boyne City manager.

Commissioners took public comments before they made a decision.

"The Dilworth has been our No. 1 project in downtown for some time," said Hugh Conklin, Boyne City's Main Street program manager.

Finally, commissioners scheduled a committee of the whole meeting for 9 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 27 in the county administration building's basement-level Pine Lake Room. On the agenda is a discussion about the expected changes in senior programming needs through the county's Commission on Aging, as well as the assignment of roles for the county's planning commission.

Most Charlevoix County employees get pay raise

CHARLEVOIX — Every employee on the Charlevoix County payroll received a 25-cent raise per hour for the next fiscal year, save those under employment or labor contracts.

That amounts to $520 per year for everyone, whether it's the sheriff or an administrative assistant. The only exception is Cheryl Potter Browe, county clerk, who received a $4,221 per year salary bump.

Browe's pay increase came as a combination of both the hourly rate jump and a previously scheduled change, part of a 2010 pay study among other Michigan counties both just above and below Charlevoix County in both state equalized value and population. The county's register of deeds received a similar such increase last year and the treasurer will get one next year, too.

All other county department heads' salary rates are in relative line with the average salaries of their counterparts in the study, meaning no other managerial salaries are set to be further raised under last year's agreement.

"I don't feel that there were inflated raises. Mine was the only one beyond the 25 cents per hour and that was because of the wage study done one year ago. And the raise was given to me last year, but they asked that I wait and implement it in the next budget cycle," Browe said.

Browe's annual salary now is $56,135. She also receives a $10,000 stipend to serve as the county's fiscal officer.

Prosecutor John Jarema receives an annual $86,520 a year. He also receives a $10,000 stipend, though his is to serve as the county's civil counsel.

Sheriff Don Schneider is the next highest paid department head at an annual $70,020, followed by the $68,250 annual salary for Jack Messer, Commission on Aging director. Messer received no raise this year because he is employed under a contract.

Next up is Kevin Shepard, the human resources coordinator, who receives an annual $58,000 salary. He also works under an employment contract and therefore did not receive a raise this year, either.

Other county department heads and their respective annual salaries after the raises are as follows: Betsy Mason, equalization director, $54,005; Jim Raber, friend of the court, $53,974; Frank Shaler, maintenance director, $52,520; Brian Kelly, GIS coordinator, $52,244; Larry Sullivan, county planner, $50,677; and, Charlene Novotny, register of deeds, $50,677.

Those figures are just salaries and do not reflect the value of benefits.

The raises went into effect on Oct. 1, the start of the county's 2012 fiscal year. County commissioners approved the budget last week in a split vote.

Commissioners Shirlene Tripp and Bob Drebenstedt voted against the budget, at least partly because they disagreed with raises for department heads. They thought it set a bad example for managers to receive raises, but not all county employees.

But that's not what happened.

Tripp said she never received updated information about the budget beyond the proposed figures submitted by department heads, though Browe said she provided those details to all commissioners via email and in printed copies. Tripp said she didn't know all employees received a raise, even at 25 cents per hour.

"I'm pleased with that for the employees," she said. "It was better than them not getting anything."

However, Tripp said she worries the across the board raise for all employees isn't a perfect trade-off for the lack of short-term disability insurance. Commissioners discussed the possibility of such an insurance policy when in May they reduced employees' maximum sick time accrual from 520 to 200 hours, or from 13 to five weeks. Officials never bought a short-term disability insurance policy.

Drebenstedt said he remains displeased with the pay raises the county provided. An hourly bump by 25 cents for everyone isn't fair to all, he said.

"That's a $520 a year raise and some people hadn't had any raise at all for years," Drebenstedt said.

Some county employees deserved more than that, while others deserved less, he said.

Drebenstedt said some county employees recently stepped up on the pay scale grid prior to the hourly rate increase. So that's a double whammy, as far as he can tell.

He also disagreed with multiple last-minute budget decisions folded into the approval process at last week's board meeting, Drebenstedt said.

Winter weather watcher classes offered by NWS

GAYLORD — Weather watchers interested in snow reporting with the National Weather Service are encouraged to attend special weather training sessions across Northern Michigan.

The service will host free 90-minute presentations and among the topics are the relationship between water temperatures and lake-effect snow, how to make accurate snow measurements, understand the service's products and whether La Niña will return to the region this winter season.

Those who attend will receive a snowfall tips measuring card, as well as winter weather safety information. Also, they will be eligible for a drawing for an official service rain gauge, snow measuring stick and snow measurement board.

The sessions are scattered across both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas. Among them are:

— 6:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 24, at the Tuscarora Township building, 3546 S. Straits Highway, Indian River

— 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 25, at North Central Michigan College, conference rooms 1 and 2 in the library building, Petoskey

— 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 1, Bayliss Public Library, 541 Library Dr., Sault Ste. Marie

— 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 2, Civic Center, 1125 W. Civic Center Dr., Traverse City.

SCOTT RICHARDS/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

Charlevoix quarterback Andrew Potter (12) keeps the ball as he runs for a nice gain in the second quarter of Friday's 22-0 victory over East Jordan.

EAST JORDAN — Jake McLean ran for 128 yards on 13 carries and Andrew Robarge recovered two fumbles and recorded a safety Friday as Charlevoix snapped a two game losing streak with a 22-0 Lake Michigan Conference football victory over East Jordan.

The win lifted Charlevoix to 2-4 overall, 2-2 league. East Jordan is 0-6, 0-4.

Robarge's safety was the only scoring in the first half, leaving the score 2-0 at the intermission. Charlevoix scored all three of its TDs — one each by Tanner Catt, Jamael Kelly and Andrew Potter — in the second half to pull away.

Catt scored on a 22-yard run, while Kelly and Potter each hit the end zone from 10 yards out.

Kelly finished with 52 yards on 10 carries, while Charlie Hamilton caught two passes for 22 yards for the Rayders.

Drew Seymour and River Gauthier made 11 tackles each to pace the Rayders' defense, which recorded Charlevoix's first shutout since a 41-0 blanking of East Jordan on Sept. 25, 2009. Robarge made 10 tackles, Greyson Spiegl had eight tackles including a sack, and Clay Heise recovered a fumble.

"I thought our defense played really well," Charlevoix head coach Don Jess said. "Offensively it took a little while to get going, but give East Jordan credit. They do a nice job with their run defense."

Jess pointed to the play of Mclean, Catt and Robarge as notable in the game.

"It was nice to see Jake Mclean have a break out game. He's been working really hard all season. Tanner Catt did a nice job sparking the offense. Defensively, I thought Robarge was everywhere. He's one of the most instinctive linebackers we've ever had."

Wesley Lewin rushed for 37 yards to lead East Jordan's ground game, while Tim Schutt added 28 yards and Marcus Wingate finished with 27. Wingate had one reception for 12 yards, while John Richards had one catch for seven.

Richards and Wingate led East Jordan's defense with 12 stops apiece, while Ben Walton had 11, Dillon Sweet added seven, and Noah Bacchus made an interception.

"Really super proud of the kids," East Jordan coach Alan Peterson said. "They came out and played hard. The kids stepped up and played the game. We played really good defense."

The win also keeps the Rayders' long-shot hopes at qualifying for the playoffs alive. Under the playoff system, all teams with at least six wins qualify for the playoffs. Any remaining slots are then filled with 5-4 record teams, based on how many playoff points they earn. The Rayders need to win their remaining games against Boyne City, Elk Rapids (homecoming) and Kalkaska to have a shot at the playoffs.

After raining on the Red Devils homecoming last week, the Rayders hope to do the same this week at they travel to Boyne City to take on the Ramblers on their homecoming. The Ramblers are 3-3 overall and 2-2 in the conference after falling 28-0 to Traverse City St. Francis on last week. The Gladiators were ranked fourth in the Associated Press Division 7 state poll last week.

"Boyne City will be a tough test for us on Friday. Whenever teams around Lake Charlevoix play it's always fun to watch and be a part of it. I know it's their homecoming so I expect them to come out fired up."

Kickoff is set for 7 p.m. at Boyne City's Earl Brotherston Field.

JV FOOTBALL

Rayder JV rolls over East Jordan, 58-0

Taylor Seese had 102 yards rushing and three touchdowns and Shane Sutherland added 175 yards rushing and two touchdowns to lead the Charlevoix junior varsity to a 58-0 victory over East Jordan Thursday at Kipke Field.

The Charlevoix Offense rolled up 449 yards rushing as Brian Noirot added 96 yards rushing, a touchdown, and a 2-point conversion and Sam Hovie had 87 yards rushing and a touchdown. Nate Moon and Brad Rizzo also rushed for 2-point conversions. Moon was 4-for-4 passing for 50 yards and threw 2 point conversions to Rizzo and Will Telgenhof. Seese returned an interception 34 yards for a touchdown to lead the Charlevoix defense. Austin Cesaro also had an interception, while Parker LaVanway and Brian Noirot each recovered fumbles.

The lopsided Rayder victory comes on the heels of a tough loss to Travese City St. Francis the week before.

The Charlevoix junior varsity, now 4-2, hosts the Boyne City Ramblers on Thursday night at Kipke field. Kickoff is set for 6 p.m.

CROSS COUNTRY

Rayder boys win at Carson City Invite

The Charlevoix Rayder boys cross country team won the Gold Division of Carson City Crystal Invitational Saturday and the girls finished fourth.

The top five Rayder boys medaled in route to winning the 20 team "C" division at the meet. Charlevoix had 90 points over second place Clare with 120 points. Kalamazoo Hackett and Ithaca tied for third with 129 points.

The tight pack from 1-7 of only 1:16 was the decisive reason for the win, Rayder boys' coach Ken Pude said.

He noted that the performance of Alex Gooch and Chris Young were a key as they finished ahead of every team's fifth runner to knock each opponents' the team scores higher.

"This was a great team effort from top to bottom with each boy achieving or being near to their goals," Plude said. "There were many fine performances throughout the team."

The Charlevoix boys "B" team finished 11th overall in the varsity race.

The Charlevoix squad, which was ranked seventh in Division 3 this past week, stood up well against the other ranked teams this weekend, coach Mary Plude said.

"There were three medalist in the race, and we were able to welcome back Amber Way and Anne Dipert after long illnesses." Mary Plude said. "Caroline Boss and Lexie Barnes stepped it up to start to close the gap of the number 5 runner to the top 4."

Hanover Horton was first with 99 points, followed by Grandville Calvin Christian 131, and Ithaca had 152 for third. There were 21 teams. Charlevoix "B" team was 18th overall.

The Rayders will next be in action on Thursday, Oct. 6 at Mancelona.

Rayders notch win over Kalkaska

After losing to Boyne City last week, the Rayders bounced back with win over Kalkaska Monday.

Fischer Kitley scored two goals to lead the Rayders to 3-0 victory in a Lake Michigan Conference soccer game win over the Blazers Monday night.

Also for Charlevoix, Brendan Britt had one goal, while Justin Erskin and Nick Snabes added one assist each.

Justin Pearl, played his first full game in goal for the Rayders, making 11 saves.

On Thursday, Sept. 29, the Rayders lost 6-0 to Boyne City on their home field.

Boyne City's Dean Hague scored three goals and added an assist as Boyne rolled past the Rayders.

Garrett Moeke added a goal and an assist for Boyne, which improved to 14-4 overall, 7-1 league, while Austin Gardner and Steven Halstead also scored. Tevin Larmond added an assist.

Zeek Beek and Corey Bohnet combined to post the shutout in goal for the Ramblers.

Charlevoix will host Harbor Springs Thursday, Oct. 6.

POP WARNER FOOTBALL

Bucs, Midget teams win

The Charlevoix Bucs remained undefeated last Saturday in the Pop Warner Football Peewee division with a 7-0 defeat of the Traverse City Chippewas.

The Bucs coaches said the team turned in a dominant performance, led by defensive ends Tre Hart and Hank Simmons, linebackers Colin Smith and Tyler Ostrum, and cornerbacks Caleb Kenwabikise and Walker Fogle. On offense, Kenwabikise led the the ground assault with 7 carries for 92 yards, including a 60 yard touchdown scamper for the game's lone score. The Bucs' season continues on Saturday with a 10:30 a.m. tilt against the Petoskey Wolverines in Harbor Springs.

The Charlevoix Pirates dropped their contest against a tough Traverse City Raider team on , 26-6. Dylan Starr scored the lone touchdown for Charlevoix and continues to pace an improving offense. Carson Gauthier stepped up with a big game defensively, with several open field tackles that saved touchdowns. The Pirates will also play in Harbor Springs on Saturday against the Petoskey Wildcats at 9 a.m.

Charlevoix's Junior Midget Division team also notched a win over Traverse City on Saturday, 32-8.

Charlevoix's Malcolm Williams took the opening handoff for a touchdown "thanks to great blocking from the line," coach Boogie Carlson said. Williams added another touchdown on a run up the middle. Luke Buday went for six on a counter play showing his speed around the outside. The final TD was by Brad Klinger on a sweep. Klinger was led down the field by Williams and a host of lineman.

Extra points for Charlevoix were added by Christian Matye with 2 points and Tyler Fuches adding going 2 for 2 on 2 point conversions. Camden Alden added 2 with a safety topping of a strong defensive day.

Carlson also pointed to "great punting" by Spencer Haan on a windy day.

"We worked hard in practice on sustaining our blocks and it paid off for us," Carlson said. "I was proud of our whole team effort Saturday. The kids have improved every week, and that's hard to do"

Charlevoix will face Petoskey at Harbor Springs on Saturday, Oct. 8.

ALUMNI UPDATES

Charlevoix High School graduate Hannah Hybl delivers to the plate for Alma College during a recent game against Northwood University. Hybl, a freshman, got her first collegiate hit — a home run — in the 4-2 win.

Rayder alumni

The following are recent updates on some Charlevoix graduates who are playing collegiate athletics.

— Ben Myers, a freshman forward, played 22 minutes for Clemson University in a Atlantic Coast Conference men's soccer match loss, 2-0, to the University of Virginia.

Earlier in the week, Clemson, 3-5 overall, 1-3 in the ACC, picked up a their second consecutive 2-1 overtime victory against non-conference opponent, Gardner Webb (N.C.) University.

Myers, a Charlevoix grad, has played in six games this year for the Tigers recording one game winning goal, and has had taken four shots, two on goal.

Clemson will travel to the University of North Carolina on Friday, October 7.

— A pair of Charlevoix grads, KC McCary and Taylor Smith, played for Northern Michigan University during a GLIAC women's soccer match win, 4-1, against Lake Erie (Ohio) College.

McCary, a starting senior at mid, had one goal against Lake Erie, one her only shot of the game. McCary would also be credited with strong defensive play, later in the week during a 0-0 tie against GLIAC rival, Ashland (Ohio) University.

Smith, a freshman mid player, saw action in her second game of the season, and has recorded zero shots for the Wildcats this season.

NMU is 6-2-2, 4-2-1, and will travel to Findlay (Ohio) University Friday, Oct. 7 and Tiffin (Ohio) Sunday, October 9.

— Charlevoix graduate Hannah Hybl hit a solo home run for the Alma College softball team, sparking the Scots to a 4-2 victory over Northwood University. Hybl, a freshman, later singled in the game, in which she started and played all seven innings at first base. Hybl also made two appearances for the Scots in previous games, one against Northwood, the other against Ferris State.

— Charlevoix grad Becca Madison registered one shot on goal in Ohio Wesleyan's 4-0 women's soccer loss to Wheaton (Ill.). Madison's shot was the only one the Battling Bishops could muster against Wheaton, which is 8-0-0 and ranked third in NCAA Division III.

The loss snapped a five-game unbeaten streak for Wesleyan, 4-3-1.

TENNIS

Varsity Rayders defeat TC Central JV

The Charlevoix High School boys' varsity tennis team defeated Traverse City Central JV (Gold) Wednesday in a non-league match, 6-1.

Singles results: 1-Sam Sell (C) def. R.J. Fenton, 6-3, 2-6, 7-6; 2-Brandon Arp (C) def. Carl Rasmussen, 6-2, 6-0; 3-Matt MacKenzie (C) def. Spencer Krupa, 1-6, 7-6, 7-6; 4-Zach Hankins (C) def. Murphy Drury, 6-0, 6-2.

Doubles results: 1-Trent Bradley-Blake Schulman (C) def. Logan Brown-Jack McKay, 6-2, 6-1; 2-J.J. Wachler-Noah Certa (C) def. Josh Green-Noah McKenzie, 6-2, 6-0; 3-Josh Green-Noah McKenzie (TC) def. Brody Robarge-Jamey Eakes, 6-1, 6-2.

On Monday the Rayders fell to Petoskey 6-1.

Singles results: 1-Sam Sell lost 6-1,7-5; 2-Matt MacKenzie lost 6-0,6-3 and 6-2,6-3.

Doubles results: 1-lost 7-6,7-6; 2-won 6-4,6-0; 3-lost 6-0,6-1 and 6-47-5.

The regional tournament is slated for Thursday, Oct. 6.

The Lake Michigan conference's boys' tennis tournament was postponed because of rain on Thursday.

The tournament has been tentatively rescheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 11 for Petoskey High School and will be hosted by Harbor Springs.

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

Rayders bounce back from first conference loss

Jenna Way recorded 10 kills and 21 assists Thursday as Charlevoix bounced back from its first Lake Michigan Conference volleyball loss of the season with a 25-12, 25-20, 25-22 home victory over Traverse City St. Francis.

The Rayders improved to 30-3-5 overall, 5-1 league.

Also for the Rayders, Kelsey Way had seven kills, 11 digs; Karley Pearsall had seven kills, three blocks; Anna Way finished with five kills' Megan Peters and Maddie Boss added four kills apiece; Kelly Greyerbiehl had 12 digs, while Maddie Zimmerman and Chelsie Hoffman finished with nine digs each.

St. Francis won the JV match, 26-24, 25-22, 15-11. Jessica Parama finished with eight aces and five assists to lead the Rayders, while Jennaca Holecheck had three kills and 11 digs, Madi Carey finished with two aces and eight digs, and Kourtney Putman added three kills. Charlevoix is 5-1 in league play.

Earlier in the week on Tuesday, Sept. 27, Grayling handed Charlevoix its first Lake Michigan Conference volleyball loss of the season, 25-15, 25-12, 25-23.

Jenna Way had 10 kills, 20 assists and six digs to lead the Rayders, who slipped to 29-3-5 overall, 4-1 league.

Also for the Rayders, Megan Peters had nine kills, Kelley Greyerbiehl finished with 16 digs, Karley Pearsall added five kills, Anna Way had four kills, and Chelsie Hoffman and Maddie Zimmerman added eight digs apiece.

Charlevoix won a JV match, 25-19, 25-22, 7-15. Madi Carey had five kills and three aces for the Rayders, while Kelsey Pischner had two kills, four aces, two kills and four digs. Charlevoix is 13-4-1, 5-0 league.

Up next, the Rayder varsity and JV were slated to travel to Kalkaska on Tuesday, Oct. 4. The varsity will host Boyne City on Thursday, Oct. 6 and then travel to Suttons Bay for a tournament on Saturday, Oct. 8.

JV VOLLEYBALL

Rayder JV finishes third in tournament

The Charlevoix Rayder junior varsity volleyball team took second in their pool and third overall as they traveled to St. Ignance for a tournament Saturday.

The Rayder's finished second in their pool behind host St. Ignace, but could not get past Pellston, falling by scores of 18-25, 12-25.

"Jennaca Holecheck, one of our key players was not in attendance, but the other girls worked very hard," JV coach Audra Randall said. "Each player stepped up their game to be able to finish third place as a team."

Team leaders for the tournament were Madi Carey with 10 kills, 12 digs and 5 aces.

"Madi was very solid with only two serving errors all day and 98 percent serve receive," Randalls said.

Kelsey Pischner had 13 kills, 98 percent serve receive and Jessica Paramo also had 10 assists and 13 aces with only 2 serving errors all day and Alyssa Chomeczski had 11 digs, 98 percent serve receive, 3 aces.

"Paige Bradley did a very nice job at the serving line capturing 15 aces, and also 8 digs for the day," Randall said.

The Rayder JV were scheduled to travel to Kalkaska on Tuesday and will host Boyne City on Thursday, Oct. 6 at 6 p.m.

Clinic collecting

Northern Michigan Sports Medicine Center of Charlevoix is hosting the second annual holiday food drive supporting the Charlevoix Community Food Pantry.

Food and cash donations will be accepted at the Northern Michigan Sports Medicine clinic located at 06510 M 66 North, in the Kmart plaza from Oct. 1 - Nov. 10.

Joel Smith, physical therapist and clinic manger, said he and the staff wanted to get involved with helping the community.

"Holding a food drive before the holiday season is the time when food banks really need assistance," Smith said. "Our staff is excited to bring the community together and fill our pool with food." The food drive will try to fill a 24 foot by 12 foot foot area, which is the size of their aquatic therapy pool.

Cash donations are needed to buy food in bulk. For every dollar donated will purchase five – 15 pounds of food.

The top foods needed for the food bank are:

Proteins – canned meats, tuna, chicken, and peanut butter
Soups and stew
Rice and pasta
Cereal, including oatmeal
Canned vegetables, including tomatoes and tomato sauce
Canned or dried beans and peas
Canned fruits
Fruit juice (canned, plastic or boxed) make sure it's 100 percent juice
Prepared box mixes – macaroni & cheese, Hamburger Helper
Shelf-stable milk

For those who are unable to stop by the Charlevoix clinic, food and cash donations can also be dropped off at any of the Northern Michigan Sports Medicine Centers located in Harbor Springs and two locations in Petoskey.

For more information contact Northern Michigan Sports Medicine Center, (231) 547-0380.

Oil on tap for Friday Luncheon Lecture

Gary Stewart, general manager of governmental and public affairs for BP America in the Midwest, will be the featured speaker at North Central Michigan College's Luncheon Lecture Friday, Oct. 7, on the Petoskey campus. He will talk about the blend of issues that go into the petroleum products we use in our vehicles and elsewhere.

Gary and his team support regional BP operations in refining, motor fuel distribution and marketing, pipelines, natural gas and wind energy. Previously, he served as director of public and government affairs for Amoco Eurasia Petroleum Company with operations in Azerbaijan and the Caspian Sea.

A native of the Detroit area, Gary was director of state government affairs for the Detroit Edison Company in the 1980s and previously held positions in the Michigan Senate staff and the Michigan Manufacturers Association. In his early career, Gary was a high school teacher of English and speech in West Bloomfield and Harbor Springs.

Friday's program takes place at noon in the college's library conference room. The cost is $9 including lunch. Reservations are preferred. Call (231) 348-6600 or email cmacinnis@ncmich.edu to make a reservation.

Costume exchange slated

The Great Start Parent Coalition and Char-Em ISD are teaming up to offer a Halloween costume exchange for children in the area.

The Halloween costume exchange will take place from 2-4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 16, at the ISD Taylor School for Exceptional Learners, 1515 Cemetery Road, in Petoskey behind the Petoskey Cinema (enter off Cemetery Road). The exchange is geared for children birth-12 years of age.

"We are encouraging families to join us for a 'green Halloween' and recycle their past years' costumes for another," said Maureen Hollocker, Great Start Coalition Director for Charlevoix, Emmet and northern Antrim Counties.

Parents can bring in gently used Halloween costumes for exchange or take home a Halloween costume during the family-themed event. In addition to Halloween costume exchanges, young children and families can enjoy pumpkin decorating, treats and games such as Mummy Wrap and Squash Bowling. The first 50 children will receive a free pumpkin.

Families that do not have gently used costumes for exchange are welcome to attend and find a costume for their child.

"We'd like to thank Bill's Farm Market for their generous donations of pumpkins for this event," Hollocker added.

For more information about the event, contact Great Start Parent Liaison Mandy Peterson workdays at (231) 582-8070. Although reservations are not required, they are appreciated by calling Peterson at (231) 582-8070.

Test drives for cash

On Friday, Oct. 14, representatives from Chrysler and Fox Charlevoix will join with parents and teachers for a "Drive for the Kids" fundraiser in support of Charlevoix Elementary School.

Parents and guests can earn a $10 contribution for the school from Chrysler by taking a brief test drive right at the school in the company's award winning minivan, the Chrysler Town & Country. Everyone is invited to join the fun. Any licensed driver, age 18 or over, may drive and earn $10 for Charlevoix Elementary School. Fox Charlevoix will provide minivans and insurance for the event, and volunteers from the dealership will be on hand to help out with the fundraising test drives. Driving times are from 12:30 - 4 p.m in the school parking lot, 13513 Division St.

In 1993, Chrysler introduced "Drive for the Kids" and became the first automotive manufacturer to directly support schools in the communities where the company does business. Since then, dealers such as Fox Charlevoix have worked with parents in communities across the country, and Chrysler has contributed more than $3.5 million to local schools.

Year-round drug drop-off now available

National statistics suggest that almost 90 percent of Americans improperly dispose of outdated or unwanted prescription and over-the-counter drugs. Many simply don't know that throwing them away with household garbage or flushing them down the toilet or kitchen sink is no longer the preferred way to get rid of them.

Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council recently launched a permanent multicounty-wide medication drug take back initiative to provide a convenient location for residents to properly dispose of prescription and over-the-counter medications. The program was made possible by grants provided the Charlevoix County Community Foundation and Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation. The funding was used to install permanent medication drop-off box at law enforcement offices to collect unused over-the-counter and prescription medications from households. Funding was also provided by the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office who voluntarily purchased their own drop-off box.

"Monitoring across the nation has indicated the presence of pharmaceuticals in our surface, ground, and drinking water," added Jennifer McKay, policy specialist of Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council. "The Watershed Council is pleased to assist in establishing a permanent collection of drop-off boxes. Through this program, we are reducing avoidable poisoning of both children and adults; preventing intentional misuse of unwanted prescription drugs, especially by teenagers, and protecting our water resources, fish, and other aquatic species in Northern Michigan."

The pharmaceutical and over the counter drug drop off collection boxes are located in the East Jordan Police Department, Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office, in city hall in Boyne City, Harbor Springs Police Department, in the front lobby of City of Petoskey Police Department, and at the Little Traverse Bay of Odawa Indians Tribal Police Department. Residents can drop off unused or unwanted medications at any time throughout the year. All medications are handled according to the law enforcement agency's evidence protocols until take for final destruction in accordance with state and federal laws.

"The Watershed Council would like to thank each of the participating law enforcement agencies," said McKay. Without their participation and agreement to take on the role of managing the boxes in the future, we would not have been able to make this program a success."

"While the annual events offer a good option for residents and an opportunity for the community to be educated on the problems associated with improper disposal of unwanted medications, the drop-off boxes at the law enforcement offices offers a year round, more convenient and safe method for citizens to dispose of unwanted medicines" said Petoskey Department of Public Safety Director John Calabrese "This is a great way to help keep dangerous drugs off the streets and out of the hands of people who should not have them."

"Public safety and the environment are important for our community, and this program helps Charlevoix County make progress on both," said East Jordan Police Chief, Dale Boehm. We are glad to be part of a program offering a safe and viable disposal option to reduce the risk of prescription drug overdose and abuse," he continued.

Additional collection boxes will be installed at other locations throughout Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council's 4-county service area of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Cheboygan counties as additional funding becomes available.

For more information about the Pharmaceutical Collection Boxes, visit www.watershedcouncil.org or call (231) 347-1181.

2095 PUBLIC NOTICES

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX
CHARLEVOIX CITY COUNCIL

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Monday, October 17, 2011, 7:00 p.m.

Council Chambers, City Hall, 210 State Street, Charlevoix, MI

The City Council of the City of Charlevoix will hold a public hearing on Monday, October 17 at 7:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers, 210 State Street, Charlevoix, MI 49720 to consider the leasing and/or selling for a specific term excess fiber optic cable system capacity.

Background

The Charlevoix Public Schools and City of Charlevoix have jointly constructed fiber optic cables throughout the school district and in the City of Charlevoix. These telecommunication facilities have been constructed to meet their needs. Each has determined that they now have and will continue to have some excess capacity for five or more years. Under state law and regulation they are permitted to lease and/or sell, for a fixed term, the use of their excess capacity.

It is anticipated that the potential is present for Charlevoix Public Schools and the City of Charlevoix to obtain proposals in response to a Request for Proposals (RFP) that will provide for the lease and/or fixed term sale revenue that may be used to enhance the ongoing use of the fiber optic cable system for the benefit of the City and Schools.

Proposal

It is the intent of the Charlevoix Public Schools and the City of Charlevoix, jointly, to offer for lease and/or fixed term sale approximately 50% of their present existing excess capacity through a public bid process. This is a substantial telecommunications transmission capacity for voice, video, and data throughout the City of Charlevoix and the Public School District.

The details of the offer to lease and/or sell for a fixed term will be contained in a detailed Request for Proposals (RFP) that will be released in the future.

Interested citizens can make comments at the public hearing or written comments may be sent to the City Manager's Office, 210 State Street, Charlevoix, MI 49720

Carol A. Ochs, City Clerk

09/27/2011

The City of Charlevoix will provide necessary reasonable auxiliary aids and services, such as signers for the hearing impaired and audio tapes of printed materials being considered at the meeting, to individuals with disabilities at the meeting upon one week's notice to the City of Charlevoix. Individuals with disabilities requiring auxiliary aids or services should contact the City of Charlevoix Clerk's Office in writing or by calling the following: City Clerk, 210 State Street, Charlevoix, MI 49720 (231) 547-3250

ORDER TO ANSWER

At a session of said Court, held at the County Building in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan on the 19 day of September, 2011.

PRESIDING:

The Honorable Richard M. Pajtas

On September 9, 2011, an action was filed by the above named Plaintiffs, against the above named Defendants, in the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, to quiet title to real property situated in the City of East Jordan, County of Charlevoix, Michigan, and more specifically identified as follows:

Lot 10, Block 26 of Nicholls' Third Addition to the Village of South Lake (now city of East Jordan), according to the recorded Plat thereof.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Defendant Jeffrey S. Kenney, deceased, and any heirs, successors, assigns, or others claiming thereunder, and any other parties claiming interest shall answer or take such action as may be permitted by law or court rule on or before November 9, 2011. Failure to comply with this order will result in a judgment by default against said Defendant for the relief demanded in the complaint.

PLEASE NOTE that a hearing will be held on:

December 2, 2011, at 2:15 p.m. in the Circuit Courtroom of the Charlevoix County Building at 301 State Street, Charlevoix, Michigan, in connection with this matter.

Under the power of sale contained in said mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, or some part of them, at public vendue at the main lobby of Charlevoix County Circuit Courthouse in Charlevoix, Michigan at 11:00 a.m. on OCTOBER 21, 2011.

Said premises are located in the City of Boyne City, Charlevoix County, Michigan, and are described as:

Premises situated in the City of Boyne City, County of Charlevoix, and State of Michigan, to-wit:

Beginning at an iron stake at the intersection of the Easterly line of Park Street with the East and West one-quarter line of Section 26, Township 33 North, Range 6 West (which is also the Northwest corner of Lot 29 of Collings & Crane's Addition to the Village (now a city) of Boyne City, according to the recorded plat thereof); thence Easterly along the East and West one-quarter line of said Section 26 and along the Northerly line of Collings & Crane's Addition, 404 feet to an iron stake; thence Northerly, parallel with the Easterly line of Park Street 440 feet; thence Westerly parallel with the East and West quarter line of said Section 402.63 feet to the East line of Park Street; thence Southerly along the East line of said Street 440 feet to the Point of the Beginning, being a part of the Southeast one-quarter of the Northwest one-quarter of said Section 26, Town 33 North, Range 6 West.

The redemption period shall be 12 months from the date of such sale, unless determined abandoned in accordance with MCLA §600.3241a, in which case the redemption period shall be 30 days from the date of such sale. TO ALL PURCHASERS: The foreclosing mortgagee can rescind the sale. In that event, your damages, if any, are limited solely to the return of the bid amount tendered at sale, plus interest.

If you are a tenant in the property, please contact our office as you may have certain rights.

Lack of funds delays fuel leak cleanup for 20 years

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

IRONTON — A cleanup of soil contaminated by at least one leaking underground fuel tank, that has been on the state's "to do" list for more than 20 years, finally began in Ironton last week.

Early last week, crews began work to excavate as much as 750 tons of soil from the area in front of what is now the Ironton Market, located just north of Ferry Road on M-66 between Charlevoix and East Jordan, said Bob Wagner with the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality's Gaylord Field Office.

Wagner said the contamination dates back to a gas station that formerly occupied the site. Wagner said four fuel tanks — at least one of which had been leaking — were removed from the site in 1990.

He said some contaminated soil — about 93 cubic yards — was removed at the same time the tanks came out. At that time, Wagner said, state officials knew there would likely be more cleanup to be done, but needed the results of testing to determine the extent of the remaining contamination.

However, Wagner said, in the mid-90s, a fund that the state had been using to pay for cleanups of sites such as the one in Ironton went broke.

With funds for contaminated site cleanups significantly reduced, the backlog of sites began to quickly grow.

"The state has some limited funds available every year (for cleanup work) ... we can only do so many per year," Wagner said.

He noted at the current rate of funding, the state's backlog of sites such as the one in Ironton could take between 10-15 years to complete.

He said there are about 9,000 sites around the state where contamination was caused by leaking underground storage tanks.

Wagner said the contract for the work in Ironton calls for contractors to put down steel side retaining walls and remove about 750 tons of contaminated soil — which, depending on the composition of the soil, could equal between 12,000-15,000 cubic yards, down to a depth of about 8 feet.

The estimated cost of the work is about $230,000.

"Basically, this work is the removal of some highly-con-

Sheriff reports WingNuts crew was well-prepared

SHERI MCWHITER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

Charlevoix County Sheriff Don Schneider determined the fatal capsizing of the sailboat WingNuts this summer amounts to a catastrophe in which everyone did everything right.

"It was just a tragic accident," Schneider said Friday.

His office just wrapped an 11-week investigation into the July 18 accident that claimed two lives during a terrible storm as the 103rd annual Chicago-to-Mackinac sailboat race took place, an event sponsored by the Chicago Yacht Club. The victims were Mark Morley, 51, and Suzanne Bickel, 40, both of Saginaw, who died in Lake Michigan.

The pair wore personal flotation devices and used tethers to connect themselves to the heaving sailboat. They likely became incapacitated from their head injuries when the boat overturned, unable to free themselves from their tethers, Schneider said.

The sheriff said he can't speak to whether WingNuts' design contributed to the capsizing, an area best investigated by nautical or naval engineers.

WINGNUTS

"Even then, they could disagree," Schneider said.

The county's medical examiner ruled both Morley and Bickel died first from blunt force trauma to the head with a secondary cause by drowning, the sheriff said.

There is no blame to dole out in this case, Schneider said.

The WingNuts crew prepared for the storm by wearing foul weather gear, personal flotation devices and attaching tethers to the boat. The sailboat rolled 90 degrees and the crew did not react, expecting the vessel to return to normal trim.

That didn't happen, Schneider said.

WingNuts then capsized and crew members struggled to free themselves from their tethers, by then entangled in the rigging. Crew members cut each others' tethers to free themselves, not an easy task in the pitch darkness, Schneider said.

Only one crew member did not wear a personal flotation device because he went below deck to rest. He might have been trapped inside the overturned sailboat, had he worn one, Schneider said.

Five of the six survivors climbed to the top of the boat's overturned hull, where emergency strobe lights and whistles attracted the crew of the Sociable, another competing sailboat. A life sling helped to retrieve the survivors.

"The crew of the Sociable is commended for their valiant efforts in rescuing the survivors of the WingNuts," Schneider said.

Also, Schneider said he recommends the continued use of personal flotation devices and tethers by sailors on the Great Lakes, even though the tethers created frightening complications for the WingNuts survivors.

"They need to practice with them and make sure they can get out of dangerous situations," Schneider said.

The investigation reveals more questions than answers, Schneider admits, why he hopes the sailing industry will study this case and evaluate safety standards. This tragedy should serve as a lesson, he said.

On July 28, at the request of Chicago Yacht Club officials, U.S. Sailing, the governing body for sailboat racing in the U.S., appointed a five-person independent review panel of sailing experts to review the accident, consider what lessons might be learned and make recommendations. The panel is expected to present its findings by month's end.

"We really appreciate the efforts of the Charlevoix Sheriff's Department and their investigation. We want to remind everyone that there is an ongoing independent panel review by U.S. Sailing which should be released shortly," said Joseph Haas, the yacht club's commodore.

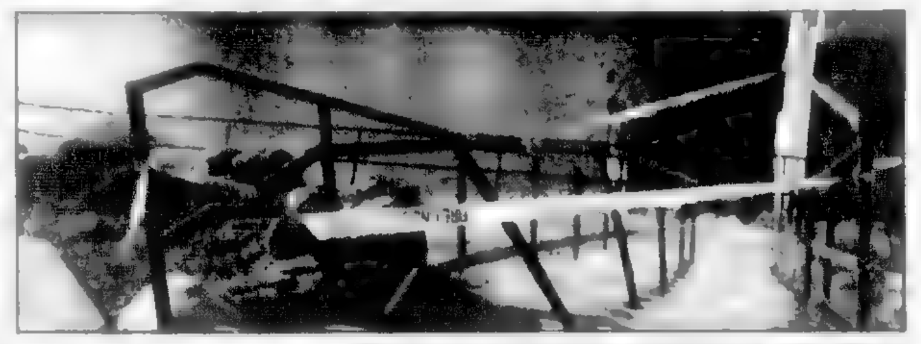
Besides some lines and rigging scattered across her deck and some apparent damage to the sails, the sailboat WingNuts appeared to have little obvious damage as it was tied up at the Irish Boat Shop marina today, Thursday.

Crash nearly lands teen in channel



STEVE ZUCKER/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

Yellow caution tape warns pedestrians of damage to the railings on the stairs leading from the street to the sidewalk along the north side of the Pine River Channel Thursday following an early-morning traffic crash.

Police say a couple of steel railings were likely all that kept a Charlevoix teen and the Jeep he was driving from tumbling into the Pine River Channel in a crash near the Charlevoix drawbridge early Thursday

Charlevoix Police Department officials said the crash happened around 2:15 a.m. last Thursday.

According to a police department news-release, a city police officer on routine patrol noticed a 1999 Jeep Cherokee traveling south on U.S. 31. The officer saw the Jeep swerve left of the centerline and drive down the sidewalk between the bridge and the Edgewater Bistro (on the east side of U.S. 31). The vehicle rolled over and came to rest on the sidewalk the runs along the north side of the Pine River Channel, according to the release.

Charlevoix deputy police chief Scott Hankins said the vehicle came to rest on its top, but the 18-year-old male driver was able to exit the vehicle on his own.

Police said following the crash the driver reported to the responding officer that he had fallen asleep.

The driver, who Hankins declined to identify because the crash is still under investigation, was transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital by ambulance where he was treated for his injuries. Hankins did not have an update on the driver's condition Thursday, but said his injuries did not initially appear to be life-threatening.

The crash caused damage to the railings on the stairway that leads from the upper to the lower sidewalks and to the railing along the channel. Hankins said although the officer who witnessed the crash did not report the vehicle had been traveling at an excessive speed, he believes the railings at the top of the stairway slowed the vehicle down enough to prevent it from crashing through the railing that runs along the channel.

Hankins said in his more than 20 years on the force, Thursday's crash is the closest he's seen a vehicle come to winding up in the channel.

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's office and Charlevoix Fire Department also assisted at the scene.

The crash remains under investigation.

Roger Knutson

Among the things vitalized by late summer rains, including many sorts of mushrooms, are a number of creatures so bizarre that they are fodder for science fiction and horror films. The science section of the New York Times last week highlighted this little known and seldom mentioned group. They are collectively known as the slime molds, although, they have nothing in common with what we usually think of as molds and are more closely related to animals like amoebas. They are among the world's oldest kinds of organisms, dating back nearly a billion years. In earth's history, as soon as there were bacteria, the slime molds evolved to use them as food, emphasizing the ecological truth that every living thing on earth is and has always been food for something else.

I used slime molds, especially one called physarum polycephalum, as a teaching tool in biology classes, and kept one particular specimen living in a small glass container on my desk for more than a year. They will feed on almost anything organic, and are most often fed small flakes of oatmeal, which when damp grow bacteria.

When my classroom need for the slime mold was finished for the year, I let it dry out slowly and placed a few flakes of the dry material in an envelope. In that dry condition, most slime molds can be revived by just adding water at any time in the next decade. When "brought back to life", they will crawl around on any damp surface looking for food. They can grow to almost any size, including' several feet in diameter if enough food is available.

A famous short film was produced when I was in college starring professor William Seifritz of the University of Wisconsin. He spent many years studying slime molds, and had a great shelf of them growing, dripping and oozing, occupying a whole corner of his laboratory.

Out in the natural world, slime molds grow almost anywhere damp enough: the underside of a downed log, a pile of sawdust or wood chips, or just on a moist soil surface. They don't look like much: Most often a shiny, sometimes colored film of live stuff covering a surface. They retreat to damper areas when the immediate area dries out. They move, or more properly ooze, continuously when they are alive and feeding. And if you live at ground level rather than in a highrise, there are probably a few of them within feet of where you are standing.

Under a low-power microscope, it is possible to see continual internal movement, visible as a flowing back and forth without pause. The live stuff flows in one direction for about a minute, stops and then flows in the opposite direction for the same period of time. This restless motion is not directly related to the oozing over surfaces that they also manage to do, and it seems generally without purpose. It is possible to stop the motion temporarily by anesthetizing the slime mold, but when the anaesthetic is removed and the slime mold revives, the back and forth flowing begins, not where it was when it stopped, but where it would have been if it had been continuous. It is difficult to avoid the idea that the slime mold is keeping track of time very accurately. It has no brain, it has no nervous system. It has no organs or any organized structure, but it is measuring out time in seconds with an accuracy that would put a cheap watch to shame.

Life is a good deal more mysterious than we generally allow. Slime molds provide a powerful example of that truth.

LETTER to the editor

Relay for Life organizers say thanks

Editor:

As part of this year's American Cancer Society Relay For Life committee, I would like to thank the residents of Charlevoix County for their generosity and support. Seventeen teams participated in this year's event, held Aug. 13 at Community Park in East Jordan, and raised more than $42,000 to help the Society's fight for every birthday threatened by every cancer, in our community and throughout the world. This outstanding show of support proves that the people of Charlevoix County stand shoulder to shoulder with the American Cancer Society to achieve its mission of saving lives by helping people stay well, by helping people get well, by finding cures and fighting back.

We were honored to be joined by 42 survivors who walked the opening Survivors Lap, officially kicking off this year's event. These survivors are the reason we continue the fight. Their participation inspires hope in those currently battling cancer.

A special thank you to the many Relay For Life volunteers who worked to make this event a success celebrating the lives of those who have battled cancer, remembering loved ones lost, and pledging to fight back against the disease. We would like to thank our entertainers: The Kowalskes, Tom Zipp, The Mickeys and soloist Shannon Tyree; our speakers nutritionist Audra Randall and Kathy Helsley; Scott Hankins; auctioneer; the donation of food from Plaths Meat Market, the John Vincent Family, Nancy Brooks, Marty's Cones and Carry Out and McDonald's; the support of the East Jordan Boy Scouts Troop 17, the East Jordan Fire Department, Thomas (Tinker) Breakey and the City of East Jordan.

We truly appreciate the generosity of this year's sponsors Charlevoix Publishing Co., East Jordan Iron Works, Sommerset Pointe Yacht Club, Evangelical Lutheran Church of East Jordan, 9 & 10 News, 106 KHQ, Lite 96.3, Glen's Markets, Farm Bureau Insurance, Preferred Waste, LLC, At Your Service Plus, Jordan Valley Rental, Inc., FOE Eagles Boyne City, East Jordan BC Pizza, Maple Ridge Dental, East Jordan Plastics, Inc., Boyne City Subway, Phoenix Trailers and The Insurance Shop as well as everyone that donated to our live and silent auctions.

We hope to see you all again at next year's Relay For Life because there is no finish line until we find a cure.

Sincerely,
Penny Hills-Postma

Thanks for 'Pints' promotion

Editor,

Thank you once again to the Villager Pub for hosting a "Pints for Prostates" fundraiser and for all of the people who raised a glass in support of the event. For the third year in a row, the Villager has donated 50 percent of the proceeds from draft beer sales for "Pints for Prostates" for National Prostate Cancer Awareness Month. This year's event was held on Friday, Sept. 30 and raised more than $440 for the Us TOO International Prostate Cancer Education & Support Network, a charity that works to support, educate and advocate for men with prostate cancer and their families.

One out of six men will be diagnosed with prostate cancer in their lifetime. Men of all ages should discuss prostate cancer screening with their primary care provider, however this is especially important for men over 50. Treating the disease early makes a difference.

Sincerely,
Linda Yaroch

Survivor heads home

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)

The family of a high school basketball star from Fort Wayne says he has returned home more than three months after suffering a serious head injury in a Michigan plane crash that killed his father and stepmother.

Austin Hatch, who had accepted a scholarship to play basketball at the University of Michigan starting in 2013, still faces a long recovery from the June 24 crash that also left him with a punctured lung and broken ribs and collarbone, according to a family statement emailed Sunday to The Journal Gazette.

"While Austin has made great improvements, he still has obstacles to overcome as he continues to heal, grieve and acclimate to life after tragedy," the statement said.

Hatch's father, Stephen Hatch, was flying the single-engine plane when it crashed near Charlevoix, Mich. A preliminary National Transportation Safety Board said Hatch had told Charlevoix Municipal Airport he was executing a GPS approach at a time when witnesses said the cloud ceiling was 200 feet about ground level.

Austin Hatch also survived a 2003 crash near Fort Wayne of a plane piloted by Stephen Hatch that killed the boy's mother, a sister and a brother.

"We are extremely thankful and relieved that Austin is home with us," Hatch's family said in Sunday's statement.

The family, however, did not say where "home" will be for the Canterbury High School standout, who had been living in Fort Wayne with his father and stepmother.

The family asked for privacy for Hatch, saying that he is not ready to be interviewed.

In the statement, the family thanked Hatch's supporters in Fort Wayne and around the country, along with his caregivers at Munson Medical Center in Traverse City, and at the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago.

"Your excellent care, compassion and support have made a difference in all of our lives and in Austin's recovery," the statement said.

In a photo provided by the family, Austin Hatch poses for a photo, date and location not known. Air Station offers free open house

TRAVERSE CITY — U.S. Coast Guard officials are inviting the public to attend a free open house at U.S. Coast Guard Air Station Traverse City, the base for all military helicopter search and rescue missions in Lake Michigan, northern Lake Huron and more. The event is from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 15.

Active-duty Coast Guardsmen will be at the event, along with their rescue equipment.

Rescue demonstrations will be at 11 a.m. and 12 p.m. with one of the air station's MH-65 Dolphin helicopters. Static displays will include that model of helicopter, plus an HC-130 Hercules airplane, HC-144 Ocean Sentry airplane, HU-25 Guardian airplane, a 25-foot response boat from Station Charlevoix and more.

The air station is located at Cherry Capital Airport on Airport Access Road, off of Parsons Road. It's often referred to as the old airport entrance.

Man injured in crash with deer

A Petoskey man was injured when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a deer last week.

Charlevoix County Sheriff's office officials identified the injured man as Dean Medlock Smith, 41, of Petoskey. Smith was transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital where he was treated for a broken leg, authorities said.

According to police, the crash happened at about 7:30 p.m. on U.S. 31 near Beatty Road in Norwood Township. Deputies said Smith was traveling north when his motorcycle collided with the deer.

Beaver Island economics topic of Oct. 24 program

BOYNE CITY — "Beaver Island: Evolving Economics of Survival" is the title of a program presented by Seamus Norgaard at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 24, at the Boyne District Library community room.

The program, sponsored by the Charlevoix County History Preservation Society, will include clips from first-person video interviews conducted for the Beaver Island Historical Society, personal accounts of both the pride and rigors of fishing and logging for a living, and stories and personal insights into some of Beaver Island's historic nature-based means of sustenance.

Norgaard, a history and environment professor and interviewer for the Beaver Island Historical Society, will offer an environmental perspective of how Beaver Island is transitioning from a past dependence on resource extraction, toward a future based on the technologies of information, research, history and environmental appreciation.

This program is free and open to the public. For more information, www.cchps.info or (231) 582-5326.

Elks scholarship applications now available

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has released scholarship applications for high school seniors to compete for awards ranging from $1,000 a year for four years to the top prize of $15,000 a year for four years. In all, Elks across the country expect to award around $3 million in scholarships this year to high school seniors.

Applications are available at the Charlevoix Elks Lodge or online at elks.org/enf/scholars/mvs/cfm. Completed applications are due to the local lodge by Friday, Dec. 2 for local judging. For more information call the Elks Lodge at (231)547-7014.

The Order of Elks has been a leader in youth programs and events presented at the local level as part of a national effort. Programs such as "Hoop Shoot" (the largest co-educational youth event in the country), the dictionary program that awards free dictionaries to third grade students and "Soccer Shoot" are some of the many programs offered by the Elks.. Information on all events and opportunities is available at your local Elks Lodge.

Last year Elks USA donated in excess of $275 million in time and money directly affecting community life at every level, organization officials said.

Dr. Sullivan began practicing at Beacon Dental Center in 2008. Since then, Dr. Sullivan says the best part of business in Charlevoix is "Being able to take care of and change the lives of so many people in our tight-knit community." When asked how he chose dentistry he notes he "grew up in dentistry!" Both his father and grandfather practiced dentistry.

OBITUARIES

Mary Cecelia Kuczynski: Aug. 21, 1917 - Oct. 2, 2011

Mary Cecelia Kuczynski, 94, of Charlevoix, passed away Sunday, Oct. 2, 2011, at her home. A Rite of Christian Burial took place at 11 a.m., Thursday, Oct. 6, at St. Mary's Church in Charlevoix. The Rev. Matthew Wigton officiated, and burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery in Charlevoix.

Mary was born Aug. 21, 1917, in Hamtramck, the daughter of Peter and Mary (Wencjnevidjz) Koltuniak. On Feb. 15, 1941, she married Aloysius S. "Dutch" Kuczynski. They made their home in Detroit before moving to Charlevoix in 1985, where they were members of St. Mary's Church. Aloysius preceded Mary in death on April 12, 2006.

Mary is survived by her children, Bernadette (Larry) Senn, and Sybil Sweeny all of Sunset Beach, Calif., Carl (Sherry) Kuczynski of Mancelona, Christopher (Charlotte) Kuczynski, of Northville, Mary Grace (Patrick) Griffith of Carson City, Nevada.; nine grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; brother, George Koltuniak of Alpena; sister, Hedwig Kachorek of Detroit; many nieces and nephews. Mary was also preceded in death by her daughter, Francine; grandson, Benjamin Griffith, sisters, Cecelia Waligara and Verna Grubba; brothers, Stanislaus Koltuniak and Rev. Father Michael Koltuniak.

Mary loved children and loved raising her six children. She devoted herself full-time to the care and love of her children and later her grandchildren. She loved classical music, was very creative, especially with her needlework. When a mother dies, the loss of unconditional love is a loss that no one else can fill. We will all miss her.

In honor of Mary Kuczynski, memorial contributions may be made to the Alzheimer's Foundation of America, 322 Eighth Ave., 7th Floor, N.Y., N.Y. 10001.

Visitation took place from 6-8 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 5, at the Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix.

Heath department sets flu shot clincs

Health officials say the single best way to avoid the flu, which has already started making the rounds in Northern Michigan, is to get vaccinated, making it the perfect time to make arrangements for seasonal flu vaccine for everyone in your family age 6 months and up.

The Health Department of Northwest Michigan is offering Community Immunization Clinics in partnership with local schools. In addition to seasonal flu shots and nasal flu mist, many other immunizations will be available for children and adults.

The Health Department's first Community Immunization Clinics are set for next week in Charlevoix County on Oct. 17 at Boyne City Middle School and Oct. 19 at Charlevoix Middle School. Many other Community Immunization Clinics are scheduled later in October and in November at schools throughout Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego counties.

The charge for flu vaccine is $25; charges for additional vaccines vary.

"We can bill Medicare, Medicaid, or several private health insurance companies for immunizations, so if you have coverage, there's no out-of-pocket cost to you," said Pat Fralick, the health department's director of family and community health. Fralick said the health department does not turn away anyone age 18 or younger for inability to pay for immunizations required for school. She noted anyone under age 18 must have their parent or guardian accompany them for immunizations.

Fralick highly recommends making appointments at the Community Immunization Clinics.

"We do quite a lot of preparation to make sure people can get in and out as quickly as possible," she said. "When we know how many are coming, we can bring plenty of vaccine and have adequate nursing staff. We can also identify any other vaccines individuals may need by checking the state's central immunization registry in advance and give them at that same appointment."

To schedule an appointment at any of the Community Immunization Clinics scheduled in Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, or Otsego counties, call the Health Department of Northwest Michigan at (800) 432-4121 during regular business hours.

The Health Department of Northwest Michigan is mandated by the Michigan Public Health Code to promote wellness, prevent disease, provide quality healthcare, address health problems of vulnerable populations, and protect the environment for the residents and visitors of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego counties.

Radon test fee waived October 17-21

To encourage home radon testing, the Health Department of Northwest Michigan is waiving its $15 charge for radon kits during National Radon Action Week. Free test kits can be picked up during regular business hours Oct. 17-21 at Health Department offices in Bellaire, Charlevoix, Petoskey/Harbor Springs, and Gaylord. Bring your property tax identification number with you; it is needed to map radon levels in the four-county health district.

According to the health department, The World Health Organization and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency predict radon gas will be the leading cause of lung cancer for non-smokers in 2011. One in 15 American homes contains high levels of radon. Millions of Americans are unknowingly exposed to this dangerous gas. In fact, a recent study by Harvard University ranks radon as America's #1 in-home hazard.

Scott Kendzierski, director of environmental health services, said the only way to know if you are exposed to elevated radon levels is to test your home.

"Fortunately, testing for radon is easy and inexpensive," he said. "And if you discover that you have a problem, the health department can provide free consultation and, if needed, help you find a contractor to correct the problem."

Radon is a naturally-occurring, invisible and odorless radioactive gas. It is dispersed in outdoor air, but can reach harmful levels when trapped in buildings. By taking simple steps to test your home for radon and fix if necessary, this health hazard can be avoided.

For additional information about radon or radon testing, telephone Scott Johnston, Environmental Health Sanitarian, at (989) 732-1794 or visit www.nwhealth.org.

CLEANUP

taminated soil," Wagner said. "This will not address all of it, just the worst of it, based on sample results."

He added, "We want to minimize the risk of the contamination spreading."

Wagner said the delay in cleanup doesn't appear to have affected water in any nearby residential wells. He said around the time the tanks were removed, contamination was found in one nearby residential well. Since then, six residential wells in the area have been checked annually by the health department, and all have passed.

He said the project is projected to take about two weeks, but could go somewhat longer depending on what crews find as they do their work. Once contaminated soil is removed, clean soil will be brought in to replace it and the site will be restored.

A portion of the work area encroaches upon the parking lot in front of the Ironton Market, however the market remains open for business while the work is going on.

Wagner said although there are hundreds of sites around the state still waiting to be cleaned up, he's not aware of any other pending tank leak sites in Charlevoix County.

Big win over Boyne

STEVE FOLEY
NEWS-REVIEW
SPORTS WRITER

BOYNE CITY — It wasn't the way they drew it up, but they'll take it.

Charlevoix recorded a safety, then scored the lone touchdown of the game on a hook and ladder play at the end of the first half en route to topping Boyne City, 8-0, in a Lake Michigan Conference contest Friday at Earl Brotherston Field.

The win for the Rayders was their first since the 2006 season over the Ramblers, as they improve to 3-4 overall, 3-2 league on a clear, warm evening in front of a huge gathering for Boyne City's homecoming.

"It feels really good," an emotionally exhausted Charlevoix coach Don Jess said. "It was just an up and down game and who would've thought we'd win on a hook and ladder play and a safety."

All the scoring came in the second quarter for the Rayders, who played a field position battle with Boyne throughout the opening 24 minutes. A booming Charlie Hamilton punt pinned Boyne City at their own two yard line before Rambler quarterback Jay Redman was tripped up by one of his own lineman in the end zone to put the Rayders up 2-0 with just over nine minutes to play in the half.

At the end of the second quarter the Rayders stopped Boyne City on a 4th and 9 situation with under 10 seconds to play near midfield, stopped the clock and then scored as time expired on a hook and ladder play as quarterback Andrew Potter connected with Hamilton at the five yard line before Hamilton pitched the ball to a streaking Jamael Kelly for a 28-yard TD to make it 8-0. The conversion attempt failed.

From there, both team's defenses took over.

Charlevoix opened the second half with a long sustained drive, but came away empty handed on Boyne's four line yard on a fourth and goal situation.

"Our offense moved the ball well, but we had a hard time punching it in," Jess said. "It was just a good rivalry game and both teams played outstanding defense. Boyne City was hitting hard and they played well."

Later in the third: Charlevoix attempted a 27-yard field goal attempt, but came up short.

In the fourth quarter, the Rayder defense rose to the occasion and stopped a pair of Boyne City drives as Potter intercepted a Bradley Fouchia halfback pass with just over two minutes to play.

After Charlevoix stalled on their ensuing offensive possession, Boyne City drove down to the Rayder 10 yard line in the final minute, highlighted by a 40-yard pass reception from Fouchia.

Again, the drive was stopped as senior Marc Durkee intercepted a Jay Redman pass intended for Noah Aller in the endzone with 42.8 seconds remaining. Durkee corralled the ball after it rolled off the back of Aller to preserve the shutout win for the Rayders.

"It was such an emotional game and I couldn't be happier with our defense and the way our kids responded," Jess said. "We were in a tough situation at the end, but it was a total team effort at the end.

"This will be a game the seniors will remember for the rest of their lives and I give them a lot of credit."

For the Rayders, Kelly finished with 95 yards rushing on 20 carries, while Potter added 25 yards on five carries. Potter, who shared time at quarterback with Tanner Catt, finished 3 of 4 passing for 25 yards, while Catt was 4 of 9 with 76 yards.

"Andrew Potter is such a good kid," Jess said. "He was our starting quarterback and we switched him to flanker this week just because we thought he was a better blocking flanker and we thought we'd get some more out of the position if he was there.

"He just does whatever is best for the team and he played about five different positions on offense."

Hamilton finished with three receptions for 61 yards, while Tommy Zipp added one reception for 15 yards.

Defensively for Charlevoix, River Gauthier had a team-high eight tackles, Andrew Robarge finished with seven tackles, while Catt and Potter had six tackles apiece. Potter also added two interceptions, Gauthier had 1.5 sacks.

"You have to give Boyne City credit as well," Jess said. "Coach (Don) Nohel had his team ready to play and it was a battle."

For the Ramblers, Redman was 9-of-21 passing for 110 yards, while Keegan LaBlance finished with five reception for 46 yards and Fouchia added two receptions for 48 yards.

Fouchia also had 33 yards rushing on 10 carries, while Kerey Kuheana added 13 yards on eight carries.

Kuheana led Boyne on defense with 17 tackles and two sacks, while Zach Wandrie had 18 tackles and a sack. Trey Reinhardt added 16 tackles, while Garret Smith had 15 stops and Fouchia and Alan Manross had 12 tackles apiece.

"I thought we competed well and competed hard," Nohel said. "We had a good week of practice, we had a good defensive scheme, but we just had a few breakdowns in technique. On that hook and ladder play, we missed a tackle on a kid at the five yard line.

"Offensively, we moved the ball well, but we just never got consistent with it."

The win also keeps the Rayders' playoff hopes — slim though they may be — alive. All teams who have six or more wins qualify for the playoffs. If any playoff slots remain after all the six-win teams are plugged in, Michigan High School Athletic Association officials move on to teams with a 5-4 record. Teams are chosen based on a point system that factors in a team's opponents school size and performance. The Rayders will have to win their final two games against Elk Rapids and Kalkaska to stay in the playoff hunt.

This week is homecoming and the Rayders will host Elk Rapids. Last week the Elks improved to 2-5 overall and 2-3 in the league with a 55-14 victory over East Jordan (0-7, 0-5). Kick off is set for 7 p.m. at Kipke Field.

JV FOOTBALL

Rayders can't corral Ramblers' comeback

Boyne City scored 21 points in the second half to come back from a 14-0 halftime deficit to beat the Charlevoix junior varsity football team 21-14 Thursday, Oct. 6 at Kipke Field.

In the first half, Nate Moon returned an interception 24 yards for a touchdown, while Taylor Seese ran 46 yards for a touchdown and added a 2 point conversion to give Charlevoix the 14-0 halftime lead.

Seese led the offense with 129 yards rushing. Jamie Kelly had 11 tackles and a fumble recovery to lead the Charlevoix defense, while Seese had 6 tackles and a forced fumble, Shane Sutherland had 6 tackles and a fumble recovery, and Luke Klinger added 6 tackles.

The Charlevoix junior varsity, now 4-3, will next travel to Elk Rapids on Thursday, Oct. 15. Kickoff is set for 6 p.m.

POP WARNER FOOTBALL

Charlevoix nets two wins

The Charlevoix Pop Warner football program teams continued their seasons last week with two convincing wins and one hard-fought loss.

Charlevoix's Junior Midget division team posted a 22-0 win over Petoskey, notching touchdowns on their first three offensive plays.

Malcolm Williams started the game with a 67 yard touchdown run. Luke Buday followed up with a scamper of 71 yards for the second score. On the third play of the game Brad Klinger ran an option to Williams for his second score of the day. Tyler Fuchs added 4 points going 2 for 2 on extra points.

Coach Boogie Carlson pointed to praised the outstanding defensive efforts by the entire team pitching their third shutout of the year. Carlson also pointed to strong play from Colin Turkelson, Camden Alden, Oliver DeYoung and Wesley Crandall.

Charlevoix plays host to another Traverse City team Saturday, Oct. at 1:30 p.m. at Kipke Field.

In the Pee-Wee Division Saturday in Harbor Springs, the Charlevoix Bucs improved to 5-0 with a 20-0 victory over the Petoskey Wolverines.

Flanker Jeremy Chernaukas led the offense with four carries for 72 yards and 3 touchdowns. Tailback Caleb Kenwabikise added five carries for 69 yards and a touchdown. Quaterback Colin Smith added a touchdown as well.

Defensively, Smith had an interception and a quarterback sack, with Tre Hart adding another sack. The coaches also praised Tyler Ostrum and Walker Fogle for strong tackling. The Bucs will go for an undefeated regular season Saturday at noon against the Traverse City Raiders at Kipke Field in Charlevoix.

The Charlevoix Pirates played a strong first half in their game, but dropped their contest against the Petoskey Wildcats 27-7. Dylan Starr scored the lone touchdown on a 20-yard run and Tylan Fry ran in the extra point.

Carson Gauthier added a 40 yard run for the Pirates.

Defensively, the coaches credited Gauthier and Cole Wright for strong tackling. The Pirates will be matched up against the Traverse City Chippewas at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday at Kipke Field.

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

Rayders down Ramblers, fall in tournament semifinal

The Charlevoix Rayder varsity volleyball team started the week with a wins over conference rivals Kalkaska and Boyne City, then finished out the week bowing out in the semifinals at the Suttons Bay Invitational tournament.

On Tuesday, the Rayders rolled over Kalkaska 25-16, 25-12, 25-0. In the final game of that match, Charlevoix's Paige Poirer served all 25 points.

On Thursday, Jenna Way had nine kills, four aces and 25 assists, leading Charlevoix to a 25-20, 25-19, 25-14 Lake Michigan Conference volleyball victory over Boyne City.

Also for Charlevoix, Karley Pearsall had nine kills, Megan Peters added eight, Kelsey Way had five kills and nine digs, Kelly Greyerbiehl had 16 digs, and Chelsie Hoffman added five digs.

The Rayders improved to 32-3-5.

For Boyne, Allie Cain had eight kills, Heather Nichols finished with 17 assists, and Ketrin Hocquard had 20 digs.

On Saturday, Charlevoix fell in the semifinals to eventual champion Kingsley, 17-21, 22-20, 7-15, Saturday in the Suttons Bay Invitational.

Kingsley defeated Leland to win the tournament.

Jenna Way was named the Rayders' most valuable player on the day and earned a spot on the all-tournament team after finishing with 34 kills, eight aces, 85 assists and 35 digs.

Also for the Rayders, Karley Pearsall had 36 kills, six blocks; Maddie Zimmerman had 27 kills, six aces; Megan Peters had 24 kills, four blocks; Anna Way finished with 13 kills, 23 digs; Kelsey Way added 12 kills, 36 digs; Madeline Boss had eight kills, five blocks. Kelly Greyerbiel had a team-high 79 digs, and Chelsie Hoffman added 46. Anna Way was named the Rayders' MVP for the morning matches.

The Rayders opened pool play by splitting with Kingsley, 25-23, 18-21. They then defeated Hancock, 21-14, 21-16, Frankfort, 21-11, 21-7; Pellston, 21-11, 21-18; Suttons Bay, 21-9, 21-6; and Benzie Central 21-16, 21-11.

Leaders for the week were: Jenna Way with 14 aces, 127 asists, 50 kills, 48 digs; Megan Peters with 37 kills, 7 blocks; Karley Pearsall with 57 kills, 9 blocks; Maddy Zimmerman with 36 digs, 11 aces; Kelsey Way with 23 kills, 49 digs; Chelsie Hoffman with 56 digs, 5 aces; Kelly Greyerbiehl with 102 digs; Anna Way with 17 kills, 30 digs; and Madeline Boss with 11 kills, 8 blocks; Paige Poirer with 6 aces.

"Anna Way and Maddy Zimmerman really stepped up this weekend in the tournament and played solid in positions they normally don't play," Charlevoix coach Liz Grunch said. "The players ability to adjust to change is just another strength that has gotten us through sickness and injury. I am proud of how my players consistently 'step up' to help the team."

Charlevoix, which was 37-4-6 following Saturday's tournament was scheduled to travel to Elk Rapids on Tuesday and then East Jordan on Thursday.

Rayder JV notches win over Boyne

The Charlevoix junior varsity volleball team defeated Boyne City during a home match on Thursday 25-22, 25-16, 15-7.

For Charlevoix, Jennaca Holecheck had 9 kills, 9 assists, 5 aces and 3 digs. Kelsey Pischner had 5 kills, 100 percent serve receive, and 2 digs. Paige Bradley was 17 for 17 at the serving line with 5 aces and 5 digs. Madi Carey had 2 aces and 5 kills, 90 percent serve receive. Olivia Storm had 2 aces, 6 assists.

"The girls came out strong and only got better as the match proceeded," Charlevoix JV coach Audra Randall said. "Overall it was a very nice effort by all the girls."

The Rayder JV, whose conference record is now 7-1, was slated to travel to Elk Rapids on Tuesday.

CROSS COUNTRY

Rayders boys, girls win in Mancelona

MANCELONA — Both the boys and the girls Charlevoix cross country teams had four runners finish in the top ten as both Rayder squads took first place by huge margins at the Mancelona Invitational on Thursday, Sept. 6.

The boys team finished with 39 points followed by East Jordan with 61 and Mancelona with 113 in a 10-team field. The Rayder boys were led by Kirch Acharya, who finished fourth at 17:41, Jackson Buday, 7th at 18:44, followed closely by Nicholas Plude and Alex Gooch.

The girls team finished first with 42 points, followed by Johannesburg-Lewiston with 68 and St. Francis with 94, also in a 10 team field. The Rayder girls were paced by Olivia Certa, who finished third at 19:58, Amber Way, 5th at 20:03; Molly Jeakle, 6th at 21:14 and Anne Dipert 8th 21:21.

"Both teams were running on a short recovering week," girls coach Mary Plude said. "It is always nice to win even when the team as a whole is not racing at their top end. Olivia Certa and Amber Way had nice races working together at the front of the pack."

The team is now off until the conference championships at home on Oct. 18th. Starting time is 4 p.m.

SOCCER

Rayders fall to Harbor

Greg Gallagher, Tristan Kenwabikise and John Bailey scored goals in the shootout Thursday, lifting Harbor Springs to a 5-2 victory over Charlevoix in a Lake Michigan Conference soccer match.

Bailey scored unassisted in the first half for the Rams, and he assisted on Forrest Lundgren's second-half goal. The game was tied 2-2 after regulation and two overtime periods, sending it to a shootout.

Andy Morse was in goal for the Rams, and he stopped all three Charlevoix shots he faced in the shootout.

It was the third straight win for the Rams, who improved to 8-12.

The shootout "definitely was a different experience for" Harbor, coach Ed Fantozzi said. "We're going into district play and it's always nice to experience that once before you get there. They did very, very well composure-wise with that. I was impressed with how they handled the shootout."

Fantozzi lauded the play of defenders Ian Greene, Hunter McQuarter, Gallagher and Andrew Taylor.

"Those four today, defensively, they were on," Fantozzi said.

Charlevoix's goals came from Fisher Kitely scored on a direct kick and from Nick Snabes with an assist from Brendan Britt.

"This game tonight was the best we've played all year," Charlevoix coach Jon Boss said. "They really possessed the ball, moved the ball around well. Everything we've been working on all season really came together. Team effort as far as everybody playing together and controlling the ball."

Boss lauded the effort of Snabes in the center mid along with the play of goalkeeper Matt Batdorff.

The Rayders were slated to wrap up their regular season at to Grayling on Tuesday. District tournament action is set to begin on Tuesday, Oct. 18.

33rd Annual Charlevoix Apple Fest 2011 October 14, 15 & 16

Apple Festival is a fall favorite

RACHEL BROUGHAM
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

For many, it's been one of the highlights of the fall season for the last three decades.

The Charlevoix Apple Festival, now in its 33rd year, is a three day event that highlights the region's apple harvest and pays honor to local growers and orchards.

This year's festival runs Friday through Sunday, Oct. 14-16 in downtown Charlevoix and organizers say it acts as a sort of "unofficial" homecoming for Charlevoix natives.

"This year the festival actually coincides with the Charlevoix homecoming parade," said Shelly Ferguson, event coordinator with the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce. "The parade will cut through downtown at 1:30 p.m. (Friday), so it will be a great way to kick off the festival."

Northern Michigan's cool temperatures are said to produce tastier and more colorful apples than those grown in warmer climates.

The festival will feature more than 30 types of apples, as well as other fall harvest items, such as pumpkins, squash, jam, honey, maple syrup and cider.

Many area organizations will also offer food, such as chili, hot dogs and kielbasa. And some restaurants, working with the apple theme, offer unique apple treats throughout the three-day festival.

Other activities include a holiday art and craft show in East Park, and children's activities include face painting, pony rides and a petting zoo near Mason Street.

New this year will be Charlevoix's first Pumpkin Carving Contest.

To enter, participants should bring their hand-carved pumpkin between the hours of noon-5p.m. on Friday, to the Apple Festival's T-shirt booth in East Park.

Participants will be divided into two age categories and ribbons will be awarded to the first, second and third place finishers in each category.

"We were looking for new things to keep the festival fresh and exciting and this is an opportunity to give the community the chance to be a little more active in the festivities," Ferguson said of the pumpkin carving event.

The pumpkins will remain on display in Bridge Park for the remainder of the festival.

The festival runs noon-6 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Sunday.

For more information on the Apple Festival, including the Pumpkin Carving Contest, visit www.charlevoix.org or call (231) 547-2101.

Remaining events:

— On Wednesday, Oct. 12, the "Powder Puff" girls football game will take place at Kipke Field starting at 7 p.m.

— The busiest day of homecoming activities takes place on Friday, Oct. 14, starting with the homecoming assembly in the high school gym from 8:05-11:45 a.m.

The homecoming parade will see two changes this year. Not only has the time has been moved up to 1:30 p.m., but the parade route has been changed to include Bridge Street from Clinton to Hurlbut, then to May Street.

The Charlevoix High School Sports Boosters will host a pig roast starting at 5:30 p.m. at Kipke Field. Prices are $9 for adults and $5 for children.

The football game against Elk Rapids kicks off at 7 p.m. and the homecoming king and queen will be crowned at halftime.

The week full of activities will wrap up with the homecoming dance set for 8:30-11:30 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 15, at the Charlevoix Elementary School.

It's a Good Week to Think about Retirement Savings

You may not see it posted on your calendar, but Oct. 16 – 22 is National Save for Retirement Week. This annual event, endorsed by Congress, is designed to raise awareness about the importance of saving for retirement — so you may want to take some time this week to review your own strategy for achieving the retirement lifestyle you've envisioned.

If you're not convinced of the need for an event such as National Save for Retirement Week, just consider these statistics, taken from the Employee Benefit Research Institute's 2011 Retirement Confidence Survey:

- The percentage of workers not at all confident about having enough money for a comfortable retirement grew from 22 percent in 2010 to 27 percent — the highest level measured in the 21 years of the Retirement Confidence Survey.
- 56 percent of respondents say that the total value of their household's savings and investments, excluding the value of their primary home and any defined benefit plans (i.e., traditional pension plans) is less than $25,000.
- Less than half of the respondents say they and/or their spouse have tried to calculate how much money they will need for a comfortable retirement

These numbers are obviously troubling — and they indicate that most of us probably need to put more thought and effort into our retirement savings. What can you do? Here are a few suggestions:

- Determine how much you'll need in retirement. Try to define the lifestyle you want during retirement. Will you travel the world or stay close to home? Will you work part time or spend your hours volunteering or pursuing hobbies? Once you know what your retirement might look like, try to estimate how much it might cost.
- Identify your sources of retirement income Take into account your IRA, 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan, Social Security and other savings and investments. How much income will they provide? How much can you withdraw from these vehicles each year without depleting them?
- Calculate any retirement shortfall. Try to determine if your savings and investments will be enough to provide you with an income stream that's adequate to meet your retirement needs. If it isn't, develop an estimate of the size of the shortfall.
- Take steps to close savings "gap." If it doesn't look like you'll have enough to meet your retirement needs, you may consider adjusting your savings and investment strategy. This may mean contributing more to your IRA, 401(k) and other retirement accounts. Or, perhaps your investment mix may need to be reviewed to find a better balance growth potential with risk. Or you may need to take both of these steps.
- Monitor your progress. Once you've put your investment strategy into place, you'll need to monitor your progress to make sure you're on track toward achieving your retirement savings goals. Along the way, you may have to make adjustments, if there are changes in your objectives or your specific situation.

Taking these types of action can be challenging, so you may want to work with a professional financial advisor who has the experiences and resources necessary to help you identify and work toward achieving your retirement goals. In any case, though, National Save for Retirement Week is a great time to consider your course of action.

Farmers market to continue through winter

With the end of summer and the closing of fall, the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce recently announced that area residents will continue enjoying fresh, local foods throughout the winter months.

The Charlevoix Farmers Market will be take place indoors at the Charlevoix Public Library from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. the first Thursday of every month November through May. In addition to the regularly scheduled markets, there will also be two holiday markets, one right before Thanksgiving on Nov. 21, and one on Dec. 22, just before Christmas.

More than 20 Northern Michigan farmers and vendors will be present offering fresh meat, cheese, bread, baked goods, dried and frozen fruit, holiday items including wreaths, garland and pumpkins, honey, maple syrup, beef jerky, frozen produce, canned items, fresh apples, squash, greenhouse tomatoes and a variety of fresh greens.

Various special events are planned throughout the winter months, including food tastings and demonstrations, health screenings, and family activities.

For more information about the Winter Farmers Market contact Bethany Pearson at the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce by calling (231) 547-2101 or e-mailing manager@charlevoix.org.

LTAHB expands area

The Little Traverse Association of Home Builders announces an expansion of jurisdiction from three to four counties in the tip of the northern Lower Peninsula, covering Emmet, Charlevoix, Otsego and Cheboygan counties. Recent official notification from the National Association of Home Builders follows on the heels of the spring, 2011, association board of director's meeting where a national vote to reassign the membership of the now defunct Straits Area Builders Association of Cheboygan was finalized. The Little Traverse organization offers services to nearly 2,000 licensed builders currently operating businesses or serving as sub-contractors throughout Northern Michigan. Members of the Straits Area Builders Association had previously reorganized as Straits (Cheboygan) Area Contractors Group, but without official national sanction. Cheboygan county builders and related trades will receive an official invitation to participate in Little Traverse association membership, functions and advocacy efforts. In addition to builder members, the Little Traverse association serves businesses associated with the building trades through their associate and affiliate member statuses.

The mission of the Little Traverse Association of Home Builders is to promote professionalism within the membership and industry by offering local educational and builder certification programs, as well as networking opportunities and advocacy at the state and local levels. The association also sponsors the largest home show in Northern Michigan, participation in which will now be available to Cheboygan area businesses. The show is scheduled for March 9 and 10, 2012.

Grocer, dental office team up for fundraiser

Charlevoix's Galway Bay Green Grocer and Beacon Dental Center will be combining their efforts in a fundraiser to benefit the Charlevoix Area Hospital's school nurse project.

A portion of all proceeds from sales in the meat, seafood and deli counter at Galway Bay from noon-4 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 29, will go towards the school nurse project. During that time, the staff of Beacon Dental Center and a few of Charlevoix Area Hospital's "top dogs" will, (with some help) serve customers at the meat counter, ring them up at the register and bag their groceries. Galway Bay Green Grocer is located at 402 Petoskey Ave.

Betsy Kelly, both a full-time staff member of Beacon Dental Center, and co-owner of the new Galway Bay Green Grocer, said she sees the school nurse project as a common bond between her two favorite companies. The project has Charlevoix Area Hospital in partnership with area schools, placing registered nurses in schools to support students and the staff by working with teachers to promote health and wellness. In addition, the nurses will care for the bumps and bruises that sometimes occur during the school day.

"I thought this was the perfect opportunity to combine everyone to help the hospital in funding the project", Kelly said.

The funds will be officially presented at this year's Dec. 2 Holly Daze Celebration, at Castle Farms in Charlevoix. Holly Daze serves as Charlevoix Area Hospital's "community-focused" fundraiser.

Argonne to host Northwest Academy fundraiser Oct. 25

For the third year, the Argonne Supper Club on Boyne City Road will be opening its doors to Northwest Academy's dinner fundraiser.

The evening of food, service and entertainment provided by the students, staff and parents of Northwest Academy will take place 5-8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 25. The fundraiser supports performing, visual and literary arts programs at the Charlevoix charter school.

Diners will have the choice of four dinner options shrimp, steak, ribs, or chicken. Desserts and a cash bar will also be available this year, but are not included in the price of the ticket. Dinner tickets are $25 per person in advance, $30 at the door. Tickets are available at Northwest Academy, Heaven Sent Adoption Services, from Gary Stutzman, Northwest Academy director of bands, and from many Northwest Academy students and parents.

Entertainment will include a saxophone quartet of eighth- and ninth-grade students, and several other guitar, jazz and instrumental performers.

Charlevoix Area Hospital registered nurse Julie Edwards scans the bar code on Richard Cole's identification bracelet. The new bar code system helps regulate medication dosages and increase patient safety.

Charlevoix Area Hospital and its affiliates have left paper record keeping behind and transferred to a fully electronic system. The Cerner Millennium system now in use at the hospital is produced by Cerner, one of the top companies for hospital data management worldwide, hospital officials said. This state of the art system is an important upgrade for the hospital, as it adds a new level of security and confidentiality to patient records. Cerner is the same software vendor used by Munson Medical Center, Northern Michigan Regional Hospital, and Spectrum Health Systems.

The change took place a few weeks ago, although it has been in the works for more than a year. Thanks to extensive preparation, Dave Priest, a registered nurse and director of information technology, said that the transfer has gone smoothly.

"We had significant involvement from all clinics and departments to bring this together. The hospital has installed wireless networks throughout the campus to allow for mobile carts and laptops that will display patient records as needed.

According to hospital officials, with the old system, each patient had a paper chart. Using the electronic system, the records are now accessible by doctors anywhere in the hospital or in the affiliate medical centers and practices. Added security measures include encryption and password protection, as well as remote servers that store the data. In terms of the increase in security, Priest explains it this way. "I would much rather have my own records in an electronic system than a paper system. A piece of paper doesn't tell you who looked at it. This system has an audit trail, so each person who looks at the screen is monitored and must sign in with a password to view the record." All changes to the record are recorded as well, and the complete history is available for the doctor to view when treating a patient.

The electronic system has additional benefits in regards to disbursement of medications, hospital officials said. A new bar code system scans the code on medication and on the patient ID bracelet before the medication is administered. The hand-held scanner is programmed to alert caregivers in cases of incorrect dosages, drug interactions, or allergies, making inaccurate drug administration less likely.

"Undoubtedly one of the most important issues of patient safety has been improved with this system," said Joseph P. Hawkins, chief pharmacist. "Additionally, the height, weight, and allergy fields are mandatory in this system, which means they won't be inadvertently overlooked in an emergency."

Another bonus, Hawkins adds, is that pharmacists no longer have to worry about being able to read doctors' handwriting when filling prescriptions. Now orders, prescriptions, and reports are typed directly into the computer, taking illegibility out of the equation for error.

This system also shows patient test results alongside the medical records. In the past, doctors had to request the records separately. Now, CAT scans, X-rays, MRIs, and EKGs can all be viewed directly on screen from the same interface as the interactive medical chart. For patients, this is important, because it puts all of the pertinent information directly at the fingertips of a doctor, so that he or she can get the full picture of a patient's health.

The electronic medical records will also connect to the state registry of immunizations, which means that doctors can determine what and when past shots were administered and reduce the chance of missing an important immunization. Patients can rest assured that the new system will include their past records as well as ones for new procedures. Old patient records were scanned into the new system, making them accessible now as well, hospital officials said.

"We are light years ahead of where we were," said Chris Wilhelm, vice president of operations. "Today, doctors and nurses in training across the country all learn how to use an electronic system. While our past system did work, we now have the best technology available, and it will definitely improve patient care and efficiency."

Part of the process of implementing the new electronic system involves updating all of the patient insurance and billing records. Even if you have been to the hospital before, you will need to bring your current insurance card and a photo ID to your next visit. Hospital officials said patients should expect the first visit to take a little longer than usual, as registration will need to accurately update all of your information, including your billing address and contact information. After that initial visit, the information will be in place, and all subsequent visits should proceed quickly as usual.

To learn more about the new billing or medical record system, contact Chris Wilhelm at Charlevoix Area Hospital at (231) 547-4024.

0710 IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY
Margaret Juilleret
(12/17/1938-10/14/1991)

God's Garden
God looked around his garden and found an empty place,
He then looked down upon you and saw your tired face.
He put his arms around you and lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful
He always takes the best.
He knew that you were suffering, He knew you were in pain,
He knew that you would never get well on earth again.
He saw the road was geting rough, and the hills were hard to climb.
He closed your weary eyelids
then whispered,
"Peace Be Thine."
It broke our hearts to lose you,
but you didn't go alone
Part of us went with you the day
God called you home.

You are deeply loved and missed by your family!

NOTICE

This firm is a debt collector attempting to collect a debt. Any information obtained will be used for this purpose. If you are in the Military, please contact our office at the number listed below. Notwithstanding, if the debt secured by this property was discharged in a Chapter 7 Bankruptcy proceeding, this notice is NOT an attempt to collect that debt. You are presently in default under your Mortgage Security Agreement, and the Mortgage Holder may be contemplating the commencement of foreclosure proceedings under the terms of that Agreement and Michigan law. You have no legal obligation to pay amounts due under the discharged note. A loan modification may not serve to revive that obligation. However, in the event you wish to explore options that may avert foreclosure, please contact our office at the number listed below. Attention: The following notice shall apply only if the property encumbered by the mortgage described below is claimed as a principal residence exempt from tax under section 7cc of the general property tax act, 1893 PA 206, MCL 211.7cc. Attention Bryan J Zettel and Gail A. Zettel, regarding the property at 4305 Marshall Road Boyne, MI 49712. The following notice does not apply if you have previously agreed to modify the mortgage loan under section 3205b. 3205a, 3205b and 3205c do not apply unless the terms of the modified mortgage loan entered into were complied with for one year after the date of the modification. You have the right to request a meeting with your mortgage holder or mortgage servicer. Northwestern Bank is your mortgage servicer, with authority to make agreements under MCL 600.3205b and MCL 600.3205c, and can be contacted at: 625 S. Garfield Ave Traverse City, MI 49686 (800) 968-4754. You may also contact a housing counselor. For more information, contact the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) by visiting www.michigan.gov/mshda or calling (866) 946-7432. If you request a meeting with Northwestern Bank within 14 days after the notice required under MCL 600.3205a(1) is mailed, then foreclosure proceedings will not commence until at least 90 days after the date said notice was mailed. If an agreement to modify the mortgage loan is reached and you abide by the terms of the agreement, the mortgage will not be foreclosed. You have the right to contact an attorney and can obtain contact information through the State Bar of Michigan's Lawyer Referral Service at (800) 968-0738.

Around 1917, John Koch (pronounced "Cook") converted the former Meech residence at 207 Meech St. into the Colonial Club. It quickly became one of the Midwest's premier gambling and gourment restaurant establishments in an era when gambling was illegal but wide open. Only a handful of local upper-crust residents were allowed inside. The club relied on summer residents, tourists, and train junketeers from the big cities. It never advertised and was rarely if ever mentioned in the town's two newspapers. At the end of each season John Koch went to Lansing and greased the palms of those in authority so he could reopen the next year. Michigan's governor had auto license plate number 1. Koch had plate number 2. In the 1940s he sold the business. It was raided and closed down in August of 1947 under a new state government regime. The building was torn down in 1969, but John Koch's residence at 209 Meech St. still stands.

A hero's helping hand

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

The Charlevoix City Council on Monday presented a heroism award to a part-time city resident who authorities believe likely saved the lives of two people — one of them disabled — who were in a building that caught fire earlier this year.

Emergency crews were called to a house at 801 State St. late July 4 to a report of a structure fire. The house, which was divided into separate apartments on each of its three floors, had flames coming from the second floor windows when fire crews arrived on the scene.

But before responders arrived, Steve Jadwin, who has a home nearby, drove by the building, noticed it was on fire and sprung into action, Charlevoix Fire Chief Paul Ivan said.

"Knowing that one of the residents of the second floor apartment was disabled, Jadwin went into the burning house and assisted two residents out of the house. Steve Jadwin did this even though he placed himself at great risk," Ivan wrote in his memo to the city council.

Ivan continued: "With the extent of the fire when the first responders arrived, I believe if

A principal safety concern

School officials seek money to make Bridge Street crossing safer

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Charlevoix Middle School principal Travis Garrett and social studies teacher Bryan Hawkins are on a mission to make Bridge Street safer for students to cross as they walk to and from school.

At the Charlevoix Public Schools Board of Education's regular monthly meeting Monday Garrett, who is in his second year as the school's principal, laid out his plans to pursue a grant to pay for pedestrian safety measures on the busy four-lane state highway that runs near the school and bisects the city from north to south.

He said crossing the street has been a concern of school officials long before his tenure began, noting that at one time parents were required to sign a waiver for their children to be allowed to cross Bridge Street.

Garrett said his research shows that about 35 students cross Bridge Street on their way to and from the middle school each day and he regularly hears tires screeching, raising his fears about students' safety.

He noted that the speed limit on Bridge Street in the area of the school is 35 mph and the only safety measures on Bridge Street is the word "School" is stenciled in paint on the road north and south of the middle school and St. Mary's School areas.

"We have a crosswalk for golfers crossing the street, but not for students on the way to and from school. Something is wrong with that," Garrett said referring to a painted cross walk that connects two sections of the city's Charlevoix Golf Club on the north side of town.

Garrett said his concern came into sharp focus following a Dec. 9 crash in which two then-eighth grade students were injured when they were struck by a car while walking along Bridge Street shortly after school had been dismissed on a half-day of classes. One of the students suffered a broken hip in the accident, Garrett said.

To be clear, that incident did

HERO

Steve had not entered the burning house and helped the two residents when he did, those two people would have died in the fire."

The two occupants received minor injuries for which they were treated at Charlevoix Area Hospital and released.

Based on that information, Ivan and city manager Rob Straebel recommended Jadwin for an honor for citizens who perform heroic acts in the city that was established several years ago in the name of former long-time police chief Jack R. Mol.

Investigators later determined that the fire was accidental in nature, but had difficulty nailing down a cause because of conflicting witness statements. The charred remains of the house were recently demolished and the lot cleaned up by the property owners.

New date for murder trial

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

A new trial date has been set for a Charlevoix-area woman accused of killing her elderly mother earlier this year.

At an Oct. 7 scheduling conference, Charlevoix County Circuit Court Judge Richard M. Pajtas set the date for the trial of Sandra Gregory, 74, for four days beginning on Feb. 6, 2012.

The trial had been scheduled for three days beginning on Sept. 26, but the trial was put on hold when Gregory's defense attorney Kraag Leiberman requested an independent mental evaluation for his client. That evaluation is now complete. The cutoff for pre-trial motions and plea agreements in the case has been set for Dec. 16.

Gregory is facing a charge of open murder in connection with the March 27 death of her 94-year-old mother Amelia Patricia Gregory.

Gregory has already been evaluated by staff from the state's Michigan Center for Forensic Psychiatry. The state's evaluation looked both at her competency to stand trial (whether she understands the proceedings against her and can assist in her own defense) and whether Gregory has some mental defect that would prevent a jury from finding her guilty of the charge offense.

Gregory

In earlier filings, defense attorney Kraag Leiberman has conceded that Gregory caused the death of her mother and indicated his intent to assert an insanity defense.

Leiberman has already agreed to accept a finding by the center that Gregory is competent to stand trial.

Regardless of finding of the mental evaluations, ultimately it will be up to a jury to decide if Gregory "as a result of mental illness ... lacks substantial capacity either to appreciate the nature and quality or the wrongfulness of her conduct or to conform his or her conduct to the requirements of the law."

Gregory has been out of jail on a $100,000 bond since early July. A condition of that bond is that she is to live with her sister and her sister's husband in Greenville, that she wear an electronic tether device and that she attend weekly mental health counseling sessions.

Emergency crews were called to the Gregory residence south of Charlevoix around 8 p.m. on March 27 to a report of a deceased elderly woman in the residence.

According to court documents, Gregory told police that earlier in the day her mother had told her she would rather be with her dead husband than be admitted to a nursing home and that sometime after that conversation she attempted to smother her mother with a pillow and then hit her on the head with a lamp.

If convicted on the murder charge, Gregory could face up to life in prison.

A LOOK AT LIFE

Gayle Gennett

In the shadows of buildings and alleyways, they are out there and not going away anytime soon. They call without conscience. They create fear in the older generation and frustration and anger in the younger ones. What I'm referring to is the consumer scam artist.

Consumers often are afraid to report they have been conned. Some of us don't know where to turn to for help and some of us are just are too embarrassed to report it. So,we just say nothing at all.

When my dad read his Sears bill years ago and a washer and dryer showed up on it, he knew something was amiss. But it wasn't until the stiletto black leather boots arrived that it was confirmed that someone had his credit card numbers. Mom had long since passed and I knew for certain dad wasn't a cross-dresser. We involved the FBI and they tracked the fraud to a woman working in a catalog store that reviewed his credit card use and decided she could add her needs to his. Fortunately she was caught, fired and fined. But more often than not, the scammer is very savvy attacking those individuals raised in an era where politeness was as important as honesty. These scheming individuals know their targets, usually senior citizens who are widowed. The scammers have acquired just enough information via Internet and credit card purchases and then they begin the attack; calling their victims from disposable cell phones making it all but impossible to track, them down.

They will tell you not to tell friends and family about their need for money or not to tell anyone that you will be coming into a fortune. They request money first before they send their money, which of course they don't. If someone calls asking for information for a new Medicare card ask for their phone number and name so another family member may call them back. Other scams include talent agents who say they will put up one thousand dollars of their own money if you send them five hundred dollars in a money order with promises that you be the next American Idol, a model in a local shoot or actress in an upcoming movie. If someone is telling you there is a computer glitch and they need your bank name and routing number in order to receive your next Social Security check, please do not give them any information. When they are hesitant to answer your questions you need to be suspicious.

Be aware of work-at-home scams advertised on the Internet, being billed for something extra on your phone bill and Advance Loans that request a payment on your part in first.

If you feel you've been scammed, cancel your checking account and start a new one and notify law enforcement. An easy way to check on a company or product is to contact Consumer Fraud Reporting or Scambusters.org which you may easily access by typing into your computer's search engine, and, better yet, mark it as a favorite. They assist in everyday things from getting your name removed from Publisher Clearing House to filing a complaint with the Better Business Bureau.

If you're an avid email user, look at the sender address and compare it to the reply address. If they are different, don't open it. If you've been scammed, it's important to know that after you clear things up with your local bank, which has been trained to catch frauds as well, and once you've filed a report with law enforcement, your life will return to normal. Anger, resentment, distrust and feeling as though others around you know you were scammed will dissipate in time.

You may want to help disaster victims, but don't become a victim yourself. Know your source that is asking for money and don't be afraid to question them. If you have an elderly parent, remind them to screen their calls and record the message on the answering machine. Let it do its job. Scammers don't leave messages. Don't pick up the phone until you hear the person you can identify or can recognize who is calling by the Caller ID. Protect yourself from being part of the song, "Take the Money and Run."

LETTER to the editor

Auction organizers say 'Thanks'

Editor:

The Fall Fiesta of Giving Auction at Community Reformed Church on Oct. 1 truly was all about giving. The businesses of Charlevoix, as well as individual members of the Community Reformed Church, once again donated generously beyond our highest hopes. All of the people who planned, gathered donations, and set up the auction gave selflessly of their time and talents putting in countless hours of work. The many people who came to the event enjoyed a time of fellowship, ate wonderful food, but most of all came to say, "we care about our neighbors who are in need." Thank you to all of you wonderful people. Our heart to assist families in need was matched by the generosity of all of those who contributed to the success of the auction. As a result of the successful evening, the women's group at the Community Reformed Church will again be able to help families with gas cards, school clothes, food cards and other needs. This is one way we hope to live out neighbor helping neighbor, especially in these tough economic times. The spirit of giving permeated the entire evening.

Thank you one and all.

Lawsuit filings reveal code of conduct discussions

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

CHARLEVOIX — Charlevoix County officials may be attempting to craft a new code of conduct for county board members, according to court paperwork filed by the county in a Freedom of Information Act lawsuit launched by the Petoskey News-Review.

A board code of conduct policy has only been previously mentioned once during a public meeting.

The only public mention of a code of conduct happened at the Aug. 24 board meeting when chairman Joel Evans, of South Arm Township, sought to publicly sanction Shirlene Tripp for comments she made about county issues outside public meetings, including quotations in the News-Review and other newspapers. Evans said Tripp should consider resigning from the board if she can't get along with other commissioners.

Commissioner Tripp said not only is this code of conduct issue not being discussed in public, it's not even been mentioned in closed session meetings that the county is the target of the newspaper's FOIA suit.

Cheryl Potter Browe, county clerk, said that since that meeting, the development of a code of conduct has not been discussed at any public and posted county meeting.

Despite that, "discussions have and continue to take place regarding the need to draft and propose new Board Policy regarding candor, ethics and a code of conduct for elected Board members," according to affidavits associated with the Freedom of Information Act suit signed by Evans, Christensen and Jarema.

The court documents describe the contents of an email — without supplying the email — sought under the newspaper's FOIA request that includes Christensen's "frustrations and concerns" with a fellow commissioner and the need to develop a board code of conduct. Christensen sent the email to Evans sometime between May 10-13, with a carbon copy to Jarema — the reason it surfaced under the newspaper's FOIA requests.

Christensen

Jarema

Jarema advised Christensen the email would remain confidential, court documents show.

Jarema's affidavit shows he has "spoken to both Chairperson Evans and Commissioner Christensen, as head of the Personnel Committee, preliminarily in regards to not only the need for such a policy but how to implement such a policy."

Evans' affidavit states, "As Chairman of the Board, Commissioner Christensen sent me an e-mail documenting his concerns and seeking advice how he and the board should respond. Discussions have and continue to take place as a direct result of this letter regarding the need to draft and propose new Board Policy regarding candor, ethics and a code of conduct for elected board members."

Commissioner Ron Reinhardt, of Wilson Township, said he's sure Browe is right and the potential code of conduct policy hasn't been publicly brought up since that August board meeting.

"Has it been (discussed) between commissioners since then? I don't know," Reinhardt said.

Browe said she expects the issue eventually will come up at the board's personnel and internal government committee meeting, though she doesn't expect it to be discussed at the meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 19, because Evans is on an out-of-town hunting trip.

Evans, therefore, could not be reached for comment.

The county board's personnel and internal government committee is comprised of Christensen, Evans and Reinhardt.

Christensen and Jarema did not return calls seeking comment.

Commissioner Bob Drebenstedt, of Marion Township, said he is concerned with a board code of conduct being drafted behind closed doors. That is not governmental transparency, he said.

"It's news to me they are discussing this. What are they planning? To lower the hammer on me and Shirlene? Is that why this is so hush-hush?" Drebenstedt said. "If they are going to talk about it, let's talk about it in front of the public."

Reinhardt said he is in favor of a new code of conduct, but he's not interested in limiting free speech rights held by both elected officials and every citizen.

"If a commissioner wants to make a fool of themselves, let them," he said.

But commissioners should be more mindful of their manners during meetings, something a new conduct policy could help ensure, Reinhardt said.

Commissioner Rich Gillespie, of Beaver Island, said no new code of conduct is necessary.

"We already have one and it's called Robert's Rules of Order. I see no reason to expand on that. I think we need to follow the rules we already have," Gillespie said.

Drebenstedt agreed that Robert's Rules of Order should suffice.

Tripp said a code of conduct policy could be an attempt to keep her or any other individual commissioner from "rocking the boat."

"I feel that if I don't agree with them, boy will I pay," Tripp said.

Background on FOIA lawsuit:

In August, the newspaper sued the county's board of commissioners, commissioner Chris Christensen, prosecutor John Jarema and his office. The lawsuit seeks to compel the board and prosecutor to release several emails between Christensen and Jarema, including any emails sent between the two during a public meeting held May 11 at Charlevoix County's administration building in Charlevoix.

The suit also alleges Jarema deliberately stalled a requested police report in another matter as retribution for the previous FOIA requests for his emails.

The complaint contends that the three requests the newspaper made under the Michigan Freedom of Information Act were "met with hostility, threats and deliberate delays."

The issue started when commissioner Shirlene Tripp voted against an iPad purchase request approved May 11 because she said the computerized equipment could be a distraction as officials try to conduct business. She also pointed to Christensen's frequent laptop use during board meetings, prior to the purchase of iPads, and contended he sent emails to Jarema who sat on the other side of the room, what she feared violated the state's Open Meetings Act.

News-Review editor Jeremy McBain filed two FOIA requests for emails between Christensen and Jarema, the first for a four-day period surrounding the meeting date and the second for between the meeting's specific start and end times. County officials refused to release any emails, arguing they are either personal or exempted under state law.

Civil defense attorney Gretchen Olsen, who represents the county, on Oct. 11 filed a motion to toss the newspaper's suit. She argued in her brief that no emails covered in the multiple FOIA requests are public records, or those that are can be exempted under state law. The motion further argues the final claim is moot because Jarema's office eventually released the requested police report.

A hearing will be at 1:45 p.m. on Nov. 21 to consider the county's motion.

Meanwhile, Judge Charles Johnson, of Emmet County Circuit Court, ruled on Monday that both Christensen and Jarema are dismissed from the lawsuit as individuals. The remaining defendants are the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners and the prosecutor's office as a whole.

Johnson also granted the newspaper's request that the county release the emails to him for review "in camera" before the November hearing.

Chili cookoff winner

Organizers of the seventh annual Charlevoix Chili Cookoff, which takes place in conjunction with the Charlevoix Apple Festival, said this year's event was a great success this year despite the rain.

The winner was chosen from the ballots submitted by those who came and enjoyed the chili. This years winner was Stafford's Weathervane. Chef Rob cooked up Cajun Cowboy 3 Meat Chili that edged out his competition. The other participating restaurants were Edgewater Bistro, Harbor View Cafe, Scovie's Gourmet, Whitneys, Giuseppe's and Grey Gables.

Edgewater Bistro entered its "Get the "L" out of my Chili;" Harbor View Cafe, "Bean there, done that;" Scovie's Gourmet with "Knight's of the Round Bean;" Whitney's with "Shotgun Willie Chili;" Giuseppe's with "Chili Nirvana" and Grey Gables with "Sicilian Wild Boar Chili."

The proceeds from this event go to the Charlevoix United Methodist Church to support its programs including a jail ministry, an elementary school mentoring program, a mission trip to Kentucky, and international Missionaries Dale and Jan Marcum whose latest project is a school in Kenya. Other community involvements are the annual Crop Walk where eight church members walked and raised $1,750. Also, during The United Way "Day of Caring" 11 church members volunteered to complete a project requested by The Front Porch Cafe – an Ellsworth non-profit community restaurant and outreach program.

Church officials said it is important for the United Methodist Church's members to work hard helping others so they can feel and share the love that is the greatest gift of the Christian faith. There is always a chance to help with any of these ongoing or future programs by just coming by the church located at 104 State St. or calling the Rev. Greg Culver at (231) 547-2654.

Red Cross hosts Deer Hunters Ball

RACHEL BROUGHAM
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF WRITER

It's not just for hunters, but it is for those looking for a fun time.

The fourth annual Deer Hunters Ball will take place from 6-10 p.m. Friday, Oct. 21 at Odawa Casino's Ovation Hall.

The fundraiser benefits the Northern Lower chapter of the American Red Cross and include a silent and live auction, food, a cash bar and prizes for the best dressed hunter.

Comedian Jeff Jena will also take the stage to entertain the crowd. And there is no dancing allowed.

While the dress code is casual, participants are encouraged to wear their best hunting outfits.

"This event gets better every year and helps raise funds for our chapter," said Donna Mattson, executive director of the Northern Lower chapter of the Red Cross. "We thank the public for supporting the American Red Cross, without the financial support from our community we would not be able to deliver the services we do to families in times of need."

Tickets are $30 each or $50 per couple.

For more information and to make a reservation, call (231) 675-4001. Those with reservations will get $10 in free slot play.

Tickets will also be sold at the door.

OBITUARIES

George Brown: Dec. 28, 1918 - Oct. 9, 2011

Mr George Brown, age 92, of Norton Shores passed away Sunday, Oct. 9, 2011. He was born Dec. 28, 1918 in Ellsworth, to John and Hattie (Veenstra) Brown.

George served during WWII as a member of the U.S. Navy and was captain of the LST 639. After serving in the war he was a school principal and retired in 1977 from Churchill Porter School. He was a member of Calvin Christian Reformed Church. He was an avid golfer and his team won the Senior World Championship for Softball in 2000 for the over-80 age group and was known to play bridge.

On Jan. 27, 1949 he married the former Roberta Hitzfield in Kalamazoo and she survives him along with two sons, Craig Brown of Bremerton, Wash. and Forrest "Woody" (Kathy) Brown of Norton Shores; seven grandchildren: Brittany, Hunter "Blake," Erin, Jenny, Nicky; and eight great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his son, Hunter Brown on Oct. 27, 2009; two brothers, August and John Brown; and one sister, Leona Grit.

A memorial service for George took place at 11 a.m. Friday, Oct. 14, 2011, at The Lee Chapel with the Rev. Al Hoksbergen officiating. Visitation with George's family took place from 6-8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 13, at the funeral home. Interment will take place in Atwood. Contributions in memory of George may be given to Habitat for Humanity. Please sign the family's online guest book at www.sytsemafh.com

Douglas Neal Bugai: July 7, 1950 - Oct. 14, 2011

Bugai

Douglas Neal Bugai, 61, of Beaver Island and a native of Greilickville, died Friday, Oct. 14, 2011, at his family home, surrounded by his family.

Doug was born on Friday, July 7, 1950, to the late Stephen and Ethel Bugai in Traverse City. Following graduation from high school, Doug served our country as a member of the U. S. Army during the Vietnam War. Following his discharge, he worked for many years in saw mills and the oil fields, but for the last 14 years he worked for the Beaver Island Transfer Station. He made Beaver Island his home for the last 21 years. Doug loved the out of doors and enjoyed hunting, fishing, and trapping. He also enjoyed country music, as well as Polish dancing. Doug was a member of the Beaver Island Amvets and Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Traverse City. Doug was proud to serve as a volunteer fireman on the Elmwood Fire Department and was honored as one of their Fireman of the Year.

Doug is survived by his son, Stephen "Stef" Bugai of Beaver Island; his brother and wife, David and Linda Bugai of Traverse City; his nieces and nephews, Tony (Julie) Bugai of Kalkaska, Mickie (Hal) Miller and Mindy (Nate) Kujawski, all of Traverse City, Courtney and Tyler Skipski of Three Rivers; eight great niecos and nephews and one great, great niece, Lilly. Doug was preceded in death by his parents.

Memorial services for Doug will take place at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19, at The Reynolds-Jonkhoff Funeral Home with the Rev. Jim Hayden officiating. Visitation will take place one hour prior to the service.

Memorial contributions may be directed to the Beaver Island AmVets or to the Elmwood Township Fire Department. Please share your memories and condolences with the family by way of Doug's online guest book at www.reynolds-Jonkhoff.com.

The family is being served by the Reynolds-Jonkhoff Funeral Home and Cremation Services.

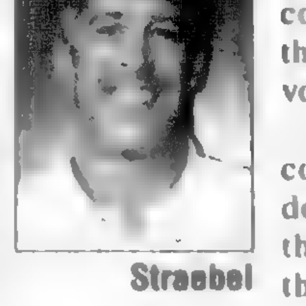
Council extends city manager's contract



Straebel

The Charlevoix City Council has given its city manager a gold star and a small raise for his efforts as members voted Monday to extend his three-year contract by another year.

In an evaluation completed in closed session about a month ago the council gave Rob Straebel straight fives (on a one-to-five scale, with five being the top or "outstanding") on all 38 points of his 38 point annual evaluation. The contract extension includes a 1 percent pay raise (or $834) bringing his annual salary to $84,233.46. In the first three years of his employment he declined raises of 2 percent, 1.5 percent and 2 percent and last year accepted at 3.5 percent pay raise. This year's raise was the same as offered to all of the city's other non-union employees this year.

In his evaluation last year, the council gave him a mix of 4s and 5s for an overall rating of about 4.5.

In the comment sections of this year's evaluation, the council lauded Straebel for his use of "strong department heads," having respect for employees and allowing them to talk freely, and for his "diplomatic" handling of difficult intergovernmental situations such as fire and ambulance service contract negotiations with surrounding townships. The council noted that Straebel's biggest area of improvement over the past year was in the area of community relations noting that he is "notably more involved in (the) community."

In other business, the council voted to extend the dock lease agreement with the Keweenaw Excursions, the company that operates the Keweenaw Star for a period of two years. The terms are the same as the previous lease with an annual rental fee of $10,000 to be paid in four equal installments on the first of June, July, August and September. Keweenaw Excursions owner Jason Funkey had requested that the council make the agreement a three-year deal, but Straebel and council members were reluctant citing the city's ongoing efforts to bring another U.S. Coast Guard vessel to be stationed in Charlevoix. The council said it would be willing to review the two-year contract annually and consider adding another year, which would give Funkey at least two years of security.

The council approved a development plan for a mixed-use building at 211 Ferry Ave. The planning commission had previously recommended approval of the plan by Daniel and Barbara Yenglin who wish to tear down the existing rectangular, single-story building and construct a new two-story building with office space on the lower level and living quarters on the second floor. Because the plan met all of the requirements of the property's C-1 zoning, the only conditions placed on the approval were that the Yenglins install an approved sprinkler system and that a document be recorded on the property's deed that the living quarters may not be divided into two units. The approval came over the objections of Tom and Tanya Eppinga, who recently purchased a home at 110 Terrace Ave., which overlooks the Yenglins' property. The Eppingas complained that the new building will block most if not all of the small view corridors they have of Lake Charlevoix. City planner Mike Spencer said, because the project is within the height requirements of the zoning district, there is nothing the city can do about the Eppingas' view.

The council also approved an agreement for the city to purchase a share of a natural gas-fired electric generation plant to meet the city's electrical needs during high-demand times. The city's estimated cost over the 40-year expected life of the plant is estimated at about $1 million. The costs will be paid out of the city's electric fund.

LOOKING BACK…

In the summer of 1927, Charlevoix was excited to learn it would be a major Great Lakes port of call for what was considered to be the world's number one touring tourist attraction, the "Ancient Famous and Infamous Australian Convict Ship" Success, for a two week stay. The ads claimed: "This Old Craft has Been Visited by Over 20,000,000 - Twenty Million - People, Including Most of the Crowned Heads of Europe. The Oldest Ship Afloat (Launched in 1790), Raised from Bottom of Sydney Harbor and Now on a Final Tour of the World, a Relic of the Barbaric Days, When for a Minor Offense a Man Could Be Sentenced Overseas." She docked at the foot of Mason Street. On her final Sunday 6,000 people paid to come aboard and be regaled by bloodcurdling exhibits and stories that stretched the convict experience truth, no matter how brutal that could be, plus the ship's history, to an often Barnumeesque extent. It turned out not to be her final tour, however. The Success came back for another visit in 1937.

This photo is one of 850 images in the Charlevoix Historical Society's new DVD titled "Charlevoix, Michigan — A Pictorial Journey through 16 Decades," available at the society's Harsha House Museum at 103 State St. next to the Congregational Church, from 1-4 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday. It is also available at Central Drug Store, Castle Farms, Round Lake Books, and Ell-Air Gallery. Call (231) 547-0373 for shipping and society membership information.

Char-Em ISD lends hand for innovative teleconference

The Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District was among four intermediate school districts in Michigan to recently help with an innovative teleconference that saved time and money.

The four ISDs collaborated to help the Michigan Department of Natural Resources bring people from across the state together, without attendees having to travel long distances.

There are 57 districts across Michigan and four of them, including Charlevoix-Emmet, Bay-Arenac, Clinton and Wayne provided their teleconferencing equipment and services to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for their Fall Friends group update.

Northern Michigan University in Marquette also provided space and equipment for bringing representatives from the Upper Peninsula into the collaborative conversation.

More than two dozen DNR park officials from Marquette to Wayne discussed fundraising ideas for getting more children and their families outdoors and into local state parks.

Other topics of conversation included the Recreation 101 and Shoe Year's Day events scheduled at parks across the state, which encourage hiking and snow shoeing and other activities in the winter months.

It's estimated that the innovative teleconferencing provided by the intermediate school service districts saved the state more than $3,000 in travel costs.

"We were very happy to be able to open our building to the DNR and use our teleconferencing equipment," said Bob Alger, director of instructional services for Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District. "Teleconferencing is just one way we look at efficiently and effectively using resources and we're glad we could share this with our colleagues at the state DNR."

Great Lakes Engery awards People Fund grants

Great Lakes Energy members continue to lend a hand to local community causes through their voluntary contributions to the People Fund. The People Fund Board of Directors awarded a total of $37,306 in grants in October to the following non-profit organizations in Northern Michigan:

Northern Michigan Cancer Crusaders, Petoskey: $2,000 for gas cards, wigs and Ensure for cancer patients.

Harbor Hall, Petoskey: $2,206.98 for new bedding.

Cheboygan Compassionate Ministries, Cheboygan: $2,000 for 10 tables and 40 chairs.

Friendship Centers of Emmet County, Petoskey: $2,000 toward the purchase of a Meals on Wheels vehicle.

Third Day Fellowship and Outreach, Charlevoix: $2,000 for food pantry stock.

Northern Michigan Regional Health System Foundation, Petoskey: $2,500 for the Pediatric Patient Assistance Fund.

The City of Boyne City, Boyne City: $1,000 toward a river walk, contingent on the city raising the rest of the funding needed.

Kalkaska County Commission on Aging, Kalkaska: $4,000 for winter heating bill assistance for seniors.

Boyne City Food Pantry, Boyne City: $3,000 for a compressor for a walk-in cooler, contingent on the group raising the rest of the funds.

Boyne Area Seniors, Boyne City: $2,500 toward materials and new computer class offerings for seniors.

The Manna Food Project, Harbor Springs: $3,000 for the Food 4 Kids backpack program in Antrim, Emmet and Charlevoix counties.

The Manna Food Project, Harbor Springs: $4,000 toward a Food Rescue vehicle, contingent on the group raising the rest of the funds.

Otsego Memorial Hospital Foundation, Gaylord: $2,000 for the Diabetes Self-Management Program.

Crawford County Library System, Grayling: $1,800 for two computers for children's programs.

Voices Without Borders, Petoskey: $1,800 for sheet music for the choir.

Raven Hill Discovery Center, East Jordan: $1,500 for international flags for the High Flying Flags program.

The People Fund is supported solely by Great Lakes Energy members who allow their electric cooperative to round up their bill each month to the next dollar. Since 1999, more than $2 million in grants have been awarded to charitable and community organizations throughout Great Lakes Energy's 26-county service area, which stretches from Kalamazoo to the Mackinac Straits.

"The Great Lakes Energy People Fund is funded by our members who pay just a few cents more each month," said President/CEO Steve Boeckman. "The average monthly contribution is just 50 cents per month. We encourage more members to round up their bills so we can continue to meet the needs of our communities."

Great Lakes Energy electric members interested in participating can enroll by contacting Great Lakes Energy by phone or online at www.gtlakes.com.

Non-profit organizations can apply for a grant through the People Fund by downloading the application at www.gtlakes.com or by calling Great Lakes Energy at (888) 485-2537, ext. 1313. The next grant application deadline is Feb. 1, 2012.

Coldwell's Mark Knapp named Realtor of the Year

The Antrim Charlevoix Kalkaska Association of REALTORS has named Mark Knapp as its 2011 REALTOR of the Year. This award is given in recognition of outstanding leadership and service for the association, the community and the real estate industry, organization officials said.

Award winners were chosen by their peers and recognized both locally and at the annual Michigan Association of REALTORS' Convention and Expo at the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel Sept. 28–30. Nominees are evaluated on their community service, education and business accomplishments and service to the REALTOR organization at the local, state and national levels.

Knapp has been a full time real estate professional for more than 33 years and is currently the managing broker of the Coldwell Banker Schmidt offices in Charlevoix. Prior to joining the Antrim Charlevoix Kalkaska Association in 1994, Knapp was a member of the Emmet Association of REALTORS where he served two terms as association president and was also the recipient of the Emmet Realtor Associate of the Year award as well as the Emmet Realtor of the Year award. In 2001 Knapp was elected to the Antrim Charlevoix Kalkaska organization's board of directors, served as director until 2004 and was re-elected in 2007. Since that time he has served as secretary, treasurer, vice president and is currently the president of the association. In addition, Knapp is also serving as the president of the Northern Michigan Multiple Listing Service, Inc., a corporation which maintains a multiple listing service for the Antrim Charlevoix Kalkaska and Emmet REALTOR associations. Knapp's efforts were instrumental and a driving force in the establishment of the Northern Michigan Mutiple Listing Service in 1996 and it remains a viable service for the area's REALTOR members, organization officials said. Knapp also currently serves on the association finance and professional standards committees and has served on many other committees during the last 33 years. In addition to his professional work, Knapp has also been involved in the work of many local charities and organizations over the years and remains active in the community.

The Michigan Association of REALTORS is a 22,000-plus member trade association which protects the rights of private property owners while serving as the primary source for Michigan housing and real estate data. The organization is comprised of 42 Local REALTOR associations, which adhere to a strict code of ethics, established by the National Association of REALTORS.

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce • October 19, 2011

Our mission is to support commerce and provide leadership to enhance the quality of life.

October Business of the Month
The Business of the Month is a business that goes above and beyond business as usual, positively impacting the community. This business is selected by the Chamber Ambassador Committee and will be a contender for the Chamber's Business of the Year Award. This prestigious award is presented at the Chamber's Annual Gala. We are proud to present to you the October Business of the Month:

Beacon Dental Center
Dr. Mike Sullivan
06483 M-66 Hwy, Charlevoix
www.beacondentalcenter.com

Dr. Michael Sullivan began practicing at Beacon Dental Center in 2008. Since then, Dr. Sullivan says that the best part of being in business in Charlevoix is "Being able to take care of and change the lives of so many people in our tight-knit community." When asked how he chose dentistry, he notes that he "grew up in dentistry!" His father is a pediatric dentist and surgeon while his grandfather was a dentist too. One thing that Dr. Sullivan would like to do someday is to travel to Australia -so if you have ever visited, send some tips and ideas his way while extending a congratulations for being selected as one of October's Business-of-the-Month

Business to Business -October 19th
It is a fact that companies who do not network are missing out on an opportunity to maintain their business relationships as well as an opportunity to tap into a rich stream of new contacts that can make them more successful! Join the Chamber and your colleagues at Business After Hours (BAH) hosted the third Wednesday of each month from 5 to 7pm.. The October Business to Business night is scheduled for the 19th from 5 to 7pm at the Edgewater Bistro. The event is sponsored by Raymond James Financial Service

First Friday Business Breakfast
It is a fact that breakfast is the most important meal of the day, providing your mind and body with the energy needed to get through the day! Listen to a different speaker every month and catch up with fellow business owners. Admission is $7 for members and $10 for not-yet members.

The November First Friday Business Breakfast is from 7:30-8:30 at Northern Michigan Sports Medicine Center. The morning's event is sponsored by Dr. Jay Balasz and the guest speaker will be Charlie MacInnis from North Central Michigan College.

Verizon- The Cellular Connection Celebrates New Space with Ribbon Cutting- On Tuesday, October 4th Verizon- The Cellular Connection celebrated their new office space with a ribbon cutting ceremony. Verizon is now located in the Captains Corner Plaza on M-66. Make sure to stop by and congratulate them on their new space!

Charlevoix Farmers Market to Continue Throughout Winter
With the end of summer and the closing of fall, the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce is excited to announce that you can keep enjoying your favorite fresh, local foods throughout the winter months.
The Charlevoix Farmers Market will be held indoors at the Charlevoix Public Library the first Thursday of every month from 10:00 to 2:00, November through May. Homecoming heartbreaker

Mother Nature, Elk Rapids rain on Rayder festivities

Coming into the game with plenty of momentum following an emotional win at Boyne City, Charlevoix was looking to garner some more offense Friday at homecoming against Elk Rapids.

After spending the two previous Fridays figuratively raining on homecoming festivities in East Jordan and then Boyne City, this time it was the Rayders' turn to bother figuratively and literally be rained upon as they fell to the Elk Rapids Elks 7-6 on a rainy and windy Kipke Field Friday.

Elk Rapids scored early in the game and made it stand up as they slipped past the Rayders Friday at With the win, Elk Rapids improves to 3-5 overall, 3-3 league, while Charlevoix falls to 3-5, 3-3.

"It was a heartbreaking loss for the kids," Charlevoix coach Don Jess said. "Being homecoming, it was especially tough to take, but I was proud of the kids effort. We really played hard and gave it everything we had."

After the Elks took a 7-0 lead, Charlevoix scored in the second quarter as Tommy Zipp scampered 43 yards into the end zone. The two-point conversion attempt failed.

From there, both teams were able to sustain drives, but couldn't come away with points, Jess said.

"We drove the ball up and down the field, but we had four turnovers in the second half and lost all four," Jess said.

Two of the turnovers came late in the fourth quarter as the Rayders made two last ditch efforts to get in the end zone.

The Rayders tried a hook-and ladder play that resulted in a touchdown as time expired in the first half against Boyne City the previous week, and it nearly worked again. The pass was caught and the pitch man was in position with no one between him and the end zone, but the pitch was intercepted by a defender, resulting in a turnover.

Offensively for Charlevoix, Jamael Kelly finished with 58 yards rushing on 11 carries, while Andrew Potter added 40 yards on seven carries.

Charlie Hamilton had 24 yards receiving on three receptions.

"I thought Elk Rapids came in with a good game plan," Jess said. "They ran hard and had quite a few rushing yards against us. They rushed better against us possibly than anyone they had all year."

Defensively for the Rayders, Andrew Robarge had a team-high 16 tackles and a fumble recovery, while Potter added 14 tackles and Coby Herriman and Greyson Speigel added 11 tackles apiece

With the loss the slim hopes the Rayders had for sliding in as one of the 5-4 teams to fill a remaining berth not occupied by six-win teams are gone.

The Rayders will wrap up their season this Friday when they travel to Kalkaska. Last week the Blazers, who are 3-3 in the league and 4-4 overall lost to Grayling 30-14. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

JV FOOTBALL

Back on the winning track

JV bounces back with 36-6 victory over Elk Rapids

The Charlevoix junior varsity football team got back on the winning track with a decisive 36-6 win over host Elk Rapids on Thursday.

Luke Klinger caught two touchdowns passes from Nate Moon to lead the Charlevoix offense. Moon finished 6 of 8 for 118 yards passing and added another 43 yards rushing. Taylor Seese had 71 yards rushing and added three touchdown runs, while Shane Sutherland ran for two 2 point conversions. Sam Hovie also rushed for a 2 point conversion.

Sam Eakes and JJ Bottomley led the Charlevoix defense with 6 tackles a piece. Devin Largent added 5 tackles, while Seese, Jamie Kelly, and KeNen Borths all recorded sacks. The coaching staff said Kelly recovered a key on-side kick off a "perfectly executed kick" by Bottomley to help get Charlevoix rolling.

" It was great to see the team come back from the tough loss to Boyne City last week" head coach Doug Waha said. "This was another great team win where every player participated in helping our team win the game."

The Charlevoix junior varsity Team, whose record is now 5-3, finish the season with a home game at Kipke Field next Thursday against the Kalkaska Blazers. Kickoff is set for 6 p.m.

Rayders on a roll

The Charlevoix Rayder Volleyball team is on a roll, defeating their last four opponents in sweeps.

Senior setter Jenna Way finished with 43 assists, 14 digs, 13 kills and four aces as Charlevoix defeated Harbor Springs and Traverse City St. Francis in a Lake Michigan Conference tri-meet on Monday.

The Rayders opened with a 25-11, 25-12, 25-11 win over Harbor, then downed the Gladiators, 25-18, 25-6, 25-10.

The Rayders improved to 41-4-6 overall, 11-1 league. They play at league leading Grayling on Thursday, Oct. 20. The Vikings won the first meeting with Charlevoix this season.

"I was very pleased with the way we played in both games," Charlevoix coach Liz Shaw said. "We had really good hitting and Jenna (Way) did a good job of moving the ball around. Our hitters were very successful as a result.

"We scored points from a lot of different positions on the floor."

Also for Charlevoix, Megan Peters finished with 13 kills; Anna Way added 11; and Kelsey Way had 10 kills, 10 aces and four blocks; Madeline Boss had nine kills; Karley Pearsall added nine kills and five blocks, and Maddie Zimmerman finished with 14 digs and eight aces.

Kelly Greyerbiehl led the Rayders in serve receive, finishing with 40 digs to go along with her six aces.

"Kelly really stepped up to lead us in serve receive," Shaw said.

Also for the Rayders, Chelsie Hoffman had 12 digs and three aces, while Cassidy Peebles added three digs and three kills.

Charlevoix dropped both JV matches, falling to the Rams, 18-25, 21-25, 15-7, and to St. Francis, 13-25, 25-23, 20-25. Madi Carey finished with eight kills and nine digs for Charlevoix while Kesley Pischner added eight aces, five kills; and Olivia Storm had 11 digs, five aces and three assists. On Thursday, Oct. 6, Karley Pearsall finished with nine kills and three blocks Thursday, leading Charlevoix to a 25-19, 25-7, 25-17 Lake Michigan Conference volleyball win over East Jordan.

The win lifted Charlevoix to 39-4-6 overall, 9-1 league.

Jenna Way finished with seven kills, four aces and 24 assists for the Rayders, while Megan Peters added six kills and two blocks, Maddie Zimmermann had seven digs, two aces; and Madeline Boss finished with six kills.

Kelly Greyerbiehl had 12 digs to lead the Rayders on defense, while Kelsey Way added 10, and Chelsie Hoffman had six.

For the Red Devils, top servers were Savannah Drew and Katie Spence, the top setter was Tommie Outman, and Spence and Courtney Gibbard were the top hitters.

On Tuesday, Oct. 4, Karley Pearsall finished with nine kills and Jenna Way had 25 assists and 10 digs Tuesday as Charlevoix downed Elk Rapids, 25-19, 25-19, 25-13, in a Lake Michigan Conference volleyball match.

The Rayders improved to 38-4-6 overall, 8-1 league.

Anna Way added seven kills, Madeline Boss had six, and Megan Peters added five for the Rayders, while Kelly Greyerbiehl finished with 26 digs, Kelsey Way had 10, Chelsie Hoffman finished with eight, and Maddie Zimmerman added four digs and four aces.

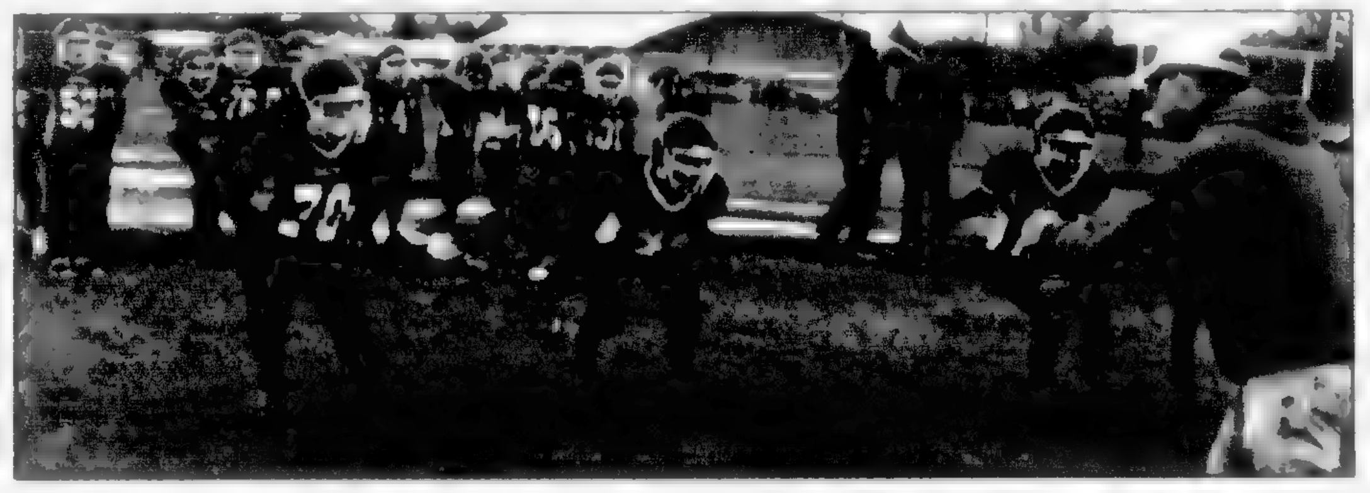
POP WARNER FOOTBALL

2 Charlevoix wins, 1 loss



M. CHRIS LEESE/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

Assistant coach Chris Pease of Charlevoix drills his football team, from the Midgets division, at they prepare for their turn on the playing field Saturday during the Pop Warner games at Kipke Field in Charlevoix.

Two Charlevoix Pop Warner teams won, and a third suffered its first loss of the season as youth the teams made their second appearance of the season at Kipke Field on a windy and rainy day Saturday.

Charlevoix Midgets beat Traverse City 32-0 to remain unbeaten.

"It was another outstanding team effort on defense," coach Boogie Carlson said of the team's fourth shut out of the season.

Malcolm Williams led the way with three touchdown runs on the day. He scored from 48, 54 and 39 yards. Oliver DeYoung also scored on a run up the middle.

The final score of the day was by Tyler Fuchs on his first carry of the season.

Joshua Carlson and Collin Turkelson added the extra points on strong runs on the inside.

"The offensive linemen provided great blocking on the day leading to the strong and productive ground game," Carlson noted.

The coaches also pointed to strong play and leadership from Brad Klinger and Luke Buday. Buday had a touchdown saving tackle late in the game to help preserve the scoreless streak.

Klinger orchestrated the offense at the quarterback position and had some strong runs of his own, the coaches noted.

This week the Midgets hope to finish off their season with and keep their perfect record at Forest Area High School. Charlevoix will face Kalkaska in the Pop Warner Jamboree on Oct. 22, 2011, to finish off the season.

In the Pee Wee divisin, the Charlevoix Pirates recorded a victory over the Traverse City Chippewas 7-6.

Offensively, Dylan Starr scored the lone touchdown for Charlevoix, with the extra point run in by Tylan Fry. Defensively, the team's coaches said it was a collective team effort, with a game saving tackle in the final minutes by Carson Gauthier. The vastly improved Pirates wrap up their season at Forest Area on Saturday against Kalkaska at 4 p.m.

The Charlevoix Bucs suffered their first loss of the season to the Traverse City Raiders 20-0 on Saturday.

Although the offense did not produce points, coaches credit the team for coming out in the second half and playing hard. The coaches said Caleb Kenwabikise ran the ball strong, taking on tacklers and picking up tough yards. Defensively, the team started out strong and showed good fight, led by the tackling of defensive end Hank Simmons and linebacker Colin Smith. The Bucs will take on the Traverse City Fighting Irish Saturday in Forest Area at 1 p.m. Saturday to end what their coaches said has been a great season.

SOCCER

Rayders fall in district opener

BELLAIRE — The Eagles ended Charlevoix's season in a Division IV district quarterfinal Monday, defeating the Rayders 3-0 on their home field.

"We played aggressive tonight," Charlevoix coach John Boss said. "Tonight was our best game of the season, and you could see the improvement from where we were at the beginning of the season."

After a very successful season last year, the Rayders lost most of their starters to graduation and in the early going had difficulty with low roster numbers. Boss has said he's seen big improvements in the team as the season progressed.

Matt Batdorff made 15 saves in goal for the Rayders, while Nick Snabes was a standout in the midfield, Boss said.

The Eagles advance to play Suttons Bay in a Wednesday district semifinal at the Coast Guard fields in Traverse City. The Norse advanced with a 2-1 victory over Leland.

TENNIS

Rayders take 4th in conference, 7th at regionals

The Charlevoix High School boys tennis team finished wrapped up their season last week placing fourth in the Lake Michigan Conference meet and seventh at the regionals.

" With quite a few inexperienced players, our goal throughout the year was for continued improvement. We made some great strides this year," head coach Erik Lundteigen said. "The No. 3 doubles team of Noah Certa/JJ Wachler ended up with All Conference Honorable Mention honors. The challenge will be to keep playing this fall, spring, and summer in preparation for next year. That is the time when great improvements can be made."

Lundteigen also offered his thanks all the parents who came to the matches and assistant coach Glen Wachler for all his help.

Results from the regional meet:

No. 1 singles, Brandon Arp lost to Elk Rapids 6-0, 6-1

No. 2 singles, Jacob VanLiew lost to Elk Rapids 6-0, 6-0

No. 3 singles, Jamey Eakes lost to Whitehall 6-0, 6-0

No. 4 singles, Brody Robarge lost to Ludington 6-1, 6-0

No. 1 doubles, Blake Schulman/Trent Bradley lost to Glen Lake 6-3, 6-2

No. 2 doubles, Matt MacKenzie/Zach Hankins lost to Harbor Springs 6-2, 6-1

No. 3 doubles, Noah Certa/JJ Wachler beat Harbor Springs 6-0, 6-0 and lost to Traverse City St. Francis 6-2, 6-3

Results from the conference meet:

No. 1 singles, Sam Sell lost to Traverse City St. Francis 6-0, 6-1

No. 2 singles, Brandon Arp lost a very close match to Boyne City 2-6, 6-1, 6-3

No. 3 singles, Jacob VanLiew lost to Harbor Springs 6-0, 6-1

No. 1 doubles, Blake Schulman/Trent Bradley beat Boyne City 6-0,6-1 and lost to Traverse City St. Francis 6-2, 6-1

No. 2 doubles, Matt MacKenzie/Zach Hankins lost to Harbor Springs 6-1,6-1

No .3 doubles, Noah Certa/JJ Wachler beat Elk Rapids 6-1,6-4 and lost in the Conference finals in a very close match to Traverse City St. Francis 3-6, 6-4, 6-2

No .4 doubles, Jamey Eakes/Brody Robarge lost to Elk Rapids 6-1,6-0

JV VOLLEYBALL

Rayders win 2, lose 2

After notching wins over conference rivals Elk Rapids and East Jordan last week, the Charlevoix Rayder junior varsity volleyball team lost to Traverse City St. Francis and Harbor Springs in a home tri-match Monday.

In Rayders' first match against Harbor Springs, they fell, 21-25, 21-25, 15-7.

Coach Audra Randall described the second match against St. Francis as a "nail-biter." In that match the Rayders lost the first game 13-25, won the second 25-23, coming back from an 8 point deficit, and in the third game fought hard but fell 20-25, Randall said.

Randall noted that the team's top player, Jennaca Holecheck was out of the lineup Monday with an injury.

Team leaders were Olivia storm with 5 aces, 3 assist and 11 digs, Kelsey pischner with 5 kills, 8 aces. Madi Carey 8 kills, 9 digs. The Rayders' conference record now stands a 9-3.

On Thursday, Oct. 6, Charlevoix defeated East Jordan, 26-24, 25-13, 10-15. Madi Carey had five kills to lead the Rayders, while Jessica Paramo had four aces, Jennaca Holecheck finished with four kills and six assists, and Paige Bradley had three aces and four digs. Charlevoix is 19-7-3 following that match.

On Tuesday, Oct. 4, Charlevoix beat Elk Rapids, 25-16, 25-13, 17-25. Jessica Paramo had four aces to lead the Rayders, while Paige Bradley had six digs, Jennaca Holecheck added six assists, and Kelly Pischner finished with four digs. The Rayder's next match is in Grayling on Thursday.

CROSSING

not involve the students crossing Bridge Street. In that case, the students were walking north on the sidewalk on the east side of Bridge Street and as they crossed Lincoln Street they were struck by a car. The car that struck the students had not been traveling on Bridge Street, but rather was eastbound on Lincoln Street when the driver failed to yield to traffic on Bridge Street, was struck by a northbound mini van and the impact caused the eastbound car to spin into the students crossing Lincoln Street. However, the crash does highlight the danger posed to students by traffic.

Garrett told the board he and Hawkins are working on applying for a grant through the federally-run Safe Routes to School Program. The grants can be used to pay for a wide array of infrastructure and non infrastructure programs to improve safety for children walking and riding their bikes to school.

"I just hate the fact that nothing is being done until something happens," Garrett said.

The first step in the grant-seeking process is to form a committee made up of school, city, police, and transportation officials along with parents and students to study the nature of the problem and what options might be available to reduce the risk.

One factor that makes addressing pedestrian crossing safety on Bridge Street more difficult is the fact that it is a state highway, which falls under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Department of Transportation.

Garrett said that many options are available to make the crossing safer, but one option state officials have already ruled out is installing a standard traffic light. Other options could include a painted crosswalk, a reduced speed limit in the area during "school zone" hours. Flashing lights and a host of other traffic warning devices that could be used.

Students at the school have already begun collecting some rudimentary data that may be used in the grant-seeking process. And teachers have woven the effort into their curricula.

Some students have spent time checking traffic speeds using an iPhone or iPod application that uses the device's video camera to measure the speed of moving objects. They've also conducted surveys of traffic, looking for people who appeared to be driving while distracted. They've also conducted experiments in the school parking lot, measuring how long it takes a car to stop at different speeds and calculating how far a vehicle travels in a given time at a given speed.

A handful of students presented some of their findings made at Monday's school board meeting.

Garrett said he welcomes input from the community, including anyone interested in serving on the Safe Routes to School committee in the coming months.

Motions granted in FIOA case

HEATHER LOCKWOOD
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

Emmet County Circuit Court judge Charles Johnson granted the Petoskey News-Review's motion requiring Charlevoix County to produce six disputed emails for the judge to review in camera during a hearing Monday, Oct. 17.

Johnson

Johnson also granted Charlevoix County's motion to dismiss Charlevoix County Prosecutor John Jarema and county commissioner Chris Christensen from the case as individuals. The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners and the Charlevoix County Prosecutor's Office remain as defendants.

The hearing in Emmet County's 57th Circuit Court was part of a lawsuit filed by the Petoskey News-Review against Charlevoix County, Jarema, Christensen and the county prosecutor's office over three Freedom of Information Act requests the newspaper filed in May and June.

"(Johnson) disagreed that the unique circumstances of this case supported naming these individual public officials and dismissed them from the lawsuit," Robin Luce Herrmann, who represents the News-Review, said of the judge's decision. "He's granting our motion to produce the six emails and he will wait until both parties have submitted all of their papers before making a decision."

For the judge to review documents in camera means to do so privately.

After Monday's hearing, News-Review editor Jeremy McBain said, "I think we're one step closer to finally receiving those emails."

McBain

Gretchen Olsen, who represents the defendants offered the following comment, "On behalf of the defendants (Jarema and Christensen), we're very pleased that the court granted the motion. As the court indicated, they should not have been named individually to begin with."

She added, "I was not opposed to the motion (to produce the documents) and I'm happy the court will review the documents and take into consideration our motion for summary disposition at the same time."

A hearing is scheduled to take place Nov. 21.

The Petoskey News-Review filed a lawsuit against Charlevoix County officials after they failed to turn over information it had requested under the Michigan Freedom of Information Act.

The lawsuit, filed against Jarema, Christensen, Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners and the Charlevoix County Prosecutor's Office and consisting of three counts of alleged violations of the Freedom of Information Act, came after a several week long freedom of information fight.

The complaint contends that the three requests the newspaper made under the Freedom of Information Act were "met with hostility, threats and deliberate delays."

"We didn't file this lawsuit lightly," Luce Herrmann said during an interview in August. "We made repeated substantial efforts to try and resolve the issues and get the information we believe we're entitled to."

The News-Review sought the release of emails between Jarema and Christensen. The newspaper requested the emails to determine whether another commissioner's belief that the two were communicating by email during board meetings was on the mark.

"There's a lot of people out there who would want to know what's in those emails," Shirlene Tripp, county commissioner, previously said.

The issue started when Tripp voted against an iPad purchase request approved May 11 because she said the computerized equipment could be a distraction as officials try to conduct business. She also pointed to Christensen's frequent laptop use during board meetings, prior to the purchase of iPads, and contended he sent emails to Jarema who sat on the other side of the room. Jarema is not only the county's prosecuting attorney, but also the board's civil counsel.

Christensen previously said he used his laptop to take notes during the meeting and any emails he sent to Jarema are allowable because the prosecutor serves as the board's civil counsel.

Tripp said she fears that is a violation of the Michigan Open Meetings Act, though she wondered whether all the electronic communications had to do with county business.

The editorial board at the News Review wanted to find out if Tripp's suspicions had merit, so McBain filed a Michigan Freedom of Information Act request on May 16 for the emails between Jarema and Christensen for a four-day period, including the May 11 meeting date.

Jarema denied the request on May 23, but identified six emails during the requested time period and the reasons he would not release them.

Jarema said four of the emails were personal in nature, one was "personal to Mr. Jarema, his work product," as well as "pertain(ing) to an ongoing criminal investigation" and the last was attorney-client privileged and subject to the "frank communication" exemption. He did not reveal details about when the emails were sent.

An affidavit of Joel Evans, Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners chair, filed in circuit court this month indicates four of the six emails are pertaining to real estate, one is pertaining to an ongoing criminal case, and those emails were not prepared by the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners. It also states those emails are not owned by, in possession of or retained by the board.

The sixth email "is the direct result of advice from Civil Council Jarema to Commissioner Christensen regarding a personnel issue with a fellow board member," according to the affidavit, (see related story)

It continues, "As Chairman of the Board, Commissioner Christensen sent me an e-mail documenting his concerns and seeking advice how he and the board should respond. Discussions have and continue to take place as a direct result of this letter regarding the need to draft and propose new Board Policy regarding candor, ethics and a code of conduct for elected board members."

Jarema argued that electronic communications between him and a board member could never violate the Open Meetings Act because it only applies to public bodies and members of the same public bodies. Jarema contends, because he does not sit on the board, yet is the board's civil attorney, the Open Meetings Act does not prohibit him from communications with board members electronically.

NOTICE

This firm is a debt collector attempting to collect a debt. Any information obtained will be used for this purpose. If you are in the Military, please contact our office at the number listed below. Notwithstanding, if the debt secured by this property was discharged in a Chapter 7 Bankruptcy proceeding, this notice is NOT an attempt to collect that debt. You are presently in default under your Mortgage Security Agreement, and the Mortgage Holder may be contemplating the commencement of foreclosure proceedings under the terms of that Agreement and Michigan law. You have no legal obligation to pay amounts due under the discharged note. A loan modification may not serve to revive that obligation. However, in the event you wish to explore options that may avert foreclosure, please contact our office at the number listed below. Attention. The following notice shall apply only if the property encumbered by the mortgage described below is claimed as a principal residence exempt from tax under section 7cc of the general property tax act, 1893 PA 206, MCL 211.7cc. Attention Jeffrey R. Sprecksell and Tricia M. Sprecksell, regarding the property at 01439 Red Pine Run, Charlevoix, MI 49720. The following notice does not apply if you have previously agreed to modify the mortgage loan under section 3205b. 3205a, 3205b and 3205c do not apply unless the terms of the modified mortgage loan entered into were complied with for one year after the date of the modification. You have the right to request a meeting with your mortgage holder or mortgage servicer. Potestivo & Associates, P.C. is the designee with authority to make agreements under MCL 600.3205b and MCL 600.3205c, and can be contacted at 811 South Blvd., Suite 100 Rochester Hills, MI 48307 (248) 844-5123. You may also contact a housing counselor. For more information, contact the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) by visiting www.michigan.gov/mshda or calling (866) 946-7432. If you request a meeting with Potestivo & Associates, P.C. within 14 days after the notice required under MCL 600.3205a(1) is mailed, then foreclosure proceedings will not commence until at least 90 days after the date said notice was mailed. If an agreement to modify the mortgage loan is reached and you abide by the terms of the agreement, the mortgage will not be foreclosed. You have the right to contact an attorney and can obtain contact information through the State Bar of Michigan's Lawyer Referral Service at (800) 968-0738.

Award benefits school

Office supply company honors teacher, donates $4,000 in supplies

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

In a school year where school district budget reductions cut into money for school supplies, students and teachers at Charlevoix Middle School recently saw a big boost to their supply cupboards thanks to a national office supply company and the hard work of one of the school's teachers.

Middle school English teacher Jane Garver was recently selected as one of 1,000 teachers around the country to be honored through an Office Max promotion dubbed "A Day Made Better."

Garver, who is in her 19th year of teaching, was nominated for the award by Charlevoix Middle School principal Travis Garrett.

On Oct. 4 four Office Max employees came to the school to surprise Garver with a new chair, a new bulletin board, a plaque with certificate, and a large box with more than $1,000 worth of classroom supplies — including a digital camera and picture printer.

But the supply bounty didn't stop with Garver's gifts. The school as a whole also recieved about $3,000 worth of donated supplies.

"They (OfficeMax representatives) came in with about 35 boxes full of stuff," Garrett told the Charlevoix Public Schools Board of Education at a recent meeting. "We just put it all out and told the staff to go shopping. It was a great day to celebrate. Mrs. Garver and my entire staff got to share in the celebration."

In his nominating comments about Garver, Garrett said her zest for teaching and improving the lives of others only gets stronger each year.

He pointed to her involvement in student council, curriculum development team chair, school improvement team, organizing after-school activities, grade level leader, English department leader, eighth grade Washington D.C. trip organizer, and many other daily activities "that keep this school running smoothly."

Get 'Fit-4-Life'

If you are among the 25 million Americans who are overweight or obese, your risks for death and disability are significantly higher. In addition, you are most likely coping with ongoing pain, fatigue, difficulty moving, sleep deprivation, or other obstacles to a vibrant, healthy life. Each year that passes without taking charge of your health is an opportunity missed – an opportunity to feel good, enjoy greater energy, and feel less stressed.

The organizers of Charlevoix Area Hospital's Fit-4-Life Program say they have a program that will give participants all the tools needed to embrace wellness. This 16-week program meets every week for 90 minutes on Tuesdays from noon-1:30 p.m. at Charlevoix Area Hospital. Total cost for the program is $240.

The next Fit-4-Life session begins: Tuesday, Nov. 22, 2011, at noon.

Each class includes exercise and education. The program's medical wellness experts will guide participants into setting specific yet achievable goals for their personal health and well-being. Participants will benefit from the individualized feedback. Organizers keep class size small. For more information, call Kathy Jacobsen at (231) 547- 8906 or Shannon Pemble at (231) 547- 8899.

HALLOWEEN HAPPENINGS

Below is a list of some Halloween events slated in the community this week:

Haunted Station — The staff of U.S. Coast Guard Station Charlevoix will host its annual "Haunted Station" haunted house from 6:30-9 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 25 and 26. Requested admission is a donation of one non-expired canned food item for the Charlevoix Community Food Pantry. The event is recommended for middle school-age children and older. The station is located at 101 Coast Guard Drive, near depot beach. Call (231) 547-2565 for more information.

Fright Night fundraiser — The Charlevoix Children's House will host the sixth annual Fright Night at the Castle from 6:30-11 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 28, at Castle Farms on M-66 south of Charlevoix. See listing on page 26 for more details.

Halloween parade — Students at Charlevoix Elementary School will get an early start on their trick-or-treating fun when (weather permitting) they walk from the school to the downtown area to visit some businesses and collect some goodies. School officials expect the students to leave the school around 1 p.m. and arrive downtown around 1:30 p.m. In the event of inclement weather, the parade will take place inside the school.

Trick-or-treating — Hours for trick-or-treating in Charlevoix are from 6-8 p.m. on Halloween, Monday, Oct. 31.

Trunk-or-treating — Located at 1204 Bridge St., Third Day Fellowship and Outreach will line their parking lot with decorated vehicles from 5:30 – 8 p.m. on Halloween night, Oct. 31. Children are invited to trick-or-treat at each car in a fun, safe, place to be off the street. Call (231) 547-8040 for more information.

Cash for candy — Got more candy that you want or need? Turn it in and make some cash. See page 10 for details.

School board candidate forum set for Thursday

The Charlevoix Public Library will host a School Board Candidate Forum at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 27.

The forum will include introductions and questions for the two candidates running for Charlevoix School Board, Bo Boss and Dick Joseph.

The forum will offer an opportunity to find out more about the candidates and how they will serve the Charlevoix Public Schools. There will be time for the audience to ask questions. The forum will be moderated by Anne Marie Conway with assistance from her Charlevoix High School government students.

Columnist hooked on kayak fishing

EAR TO THE GROUND

Roger Knutson

Some months ago I read the newspaper story of an East Coast gentleman who had just set the world record for a fish caught from a kayak. He had managed to paddle several miles out into the Atlantic Ocean, hook and subdue a bluefin tuna that weighed something like 130 pounds, and then paddle back to shore with the fish. According to the rules of kayak fishing, all of that must be accomplished without motorized aid of any kind. Until I read the news story, I had never heard of fishing from a kayak. I am seriously out of date in many other ways as well.

Once the idea was introduced, I began to look for and notice other writing about kayak fishing. Some of the sporting magazines had extensive information about how to equip your kayak and how to pursue fish. I began to imagine myself in a kayak, being towed around Lake Michigan by a thirty pound salmon.

The more elaborate fishing kayaks described were a little intimidating. They had GPS units, fish finders, foot-operated paddles and built-in coolers for lunch or for the catch, and of course batteries to operate all that gear. My imaginings were considerably simpler.

I found a simpler kayak. It had two simple fishing rod holders, a nearly flat bottom to add stability and an uncomplicated paddle. It fit on top of my fishing truck. I brought it home and spent a few days on the water, cautiously exploring some of Lake Charlevoix. I caught a few small perch and convinced myself that I could travel pretty well on a calm day. Even a few boat wakes were only interesting, rather than frightening.

The first two trips out onto Lake Michigan were uneventful. I fished but caught nothing. Salmon were beginning to come into shallow water by the St. Mary's Cement plant. On my third visit to Lake Michigan, I hooked a salmon and had it on the line for about 15 seconds before it swam away. And then, the big one. A well-hooked salmon that began to tow me out into Lake Michigan. A person would ordinarily think that towing me and the kayak would quickly tire a salmon out. After 40 minutes and what I judged to be about a quarter of a mile, I had seen the salmon a few times when I got him close enough to the kayak. Then off he would go and pull us along for another hundred yards.

I finally beached the kayak, climbed out and wrestled the salmon to shore. I still don't know just how I would have handled him out in the lake. Maybe I need to add a small gaff-hook to the on-board equipment. After all that, he weighed only about 16 pounds. I still dream of being towed by his 30-pound brother. But my respect for the man who somehow landed or rather boated a 130-pound tuna in the Atlantic Ocean has increased enormously. I look forward to next year.

VETERAN OF THE MONTH

McKenzie

The Veteran of the Month for October 2011 is Louis Daniel McKenzie.

Born on Jan. 19, 1923, in Charlevoix, McKenzie graduated from Charlevoix High School in the class of 1941 and went to Detroit to work in an automobile factory as a tool grinder operator. On March 1, 1943, he was inducted into the U.S. Army, assigned to the Inactive Enlisted Reserve Corps, entering into active service on March 8, 1943, at Fort Custer, Battle Creek. Following Basic Training, where he qualified as a sharp shooter with the M1 carbine and marksman with the M1 grande rifle, McKenzie received 12 weeks specialty training at the Army Photography School. On March 17, 1945, McKenzie departed the U.S., arriving in The Pacific Theater of Operations on April 14, 1945 and was assigned to The 28th Photography Laboratory, Army Air Force, Guam where he served as a photography laboratory technician loading, unloading and developing film from wing and bomb-bay cameras and servicing and repairing cameras. On Feb. 5, 1946, McKenzie departed The Pacific Theater of Operations, having participated in battles and campaigns in The Eastern Mandates Air Offensive of Japan, arriving in the U.S. on Feb. 18, 1946.

On Feb. 25, 1946, at The Separation Center, Fort Sheridan, Ill., McKenzie received an honorable discharge having attained the rank of sergeant and was awarded the following decorations and citations: The American Theater Medal, The Asiatic Pacific Theater Medal with two Bronze Battle Stars, the Good Conduct Medal, the Distinguished Unit Badge and one Overseas Service Bar. Returning to Detroit, McKenzie enrolled in the Detroit School of Photography, under The GI Bill, graduating on Jan. 31, 1947.

On May 22, 1948, at St. Benedict's Church in Highland Park, McKenzie married Betty Jane Arsenault and they made their home in Charlevoix where he went to work for Total Oil Company delivering fuel oil for 20 years. Later he drove a school bus for the Charlevoix school system for 10 years before going into semi-retirement in 1985. McKenzie enjoyed playing golf and served his community on the board of the Charlevoix County Commission On Aging, he served his comrades in arms for 23 years on the Charlevoix County Veterans Affairs Committee and he served his church through his service when or wherever needed and where he ushered for 50 years. On Feb. 11, 2011, Louis Daniel McKenzie answered the final call and is being honored by his wife Betty, daughters, sons and their families.

The Veteran of the Month program was adopted by American Legion Ernest Peterson Post 228 in Boyne City in September of 1999 and since inception the program has honored a veteran every month of each year. Any deceased veteran who served honorably in the United States military is eligible to be honored in the program. Membership in a veterans organization is neither a prerequisite for eligibility nor a requirement to nominate a veteran.

To honor a veteran, call the program chairman at (231) 588-6067 or on Tuesdays call (231) 582-7811 between 3-8 p.m. The ceremony may be witnessed at 6:15 p.m. on the first Thursday of each month in front of The American Legion Post located on the corner of Lake and Main streets in Boyne City.

LETTER to the editor

Family thankful for help following fire

Editor:

The Meyer family wishes to extend a BIG thank you to our family, friends, co-workers, neighbors, strangers and everyone who has helped us out with clothing, money, food and gifts following our devastating house and garage fire on Sept. 16. Your thoughts, prayers and generosity are greatly appreciated. We want everyone to know how blessed we are for having so many people who have helped us in this time of loss. Thanks again to all of you!

A night of mystery, monsters and music

Charlevoix High School Performing Arts presents dinner theater

STEVE ZUCKER
CHARLEVOIX COURIER EDITOR

Get ready for an evening full of fall fun and feasting as the Charlevoix High School Performing Arts presents its autumn production presents "Cafe Murder — A Dinner Theatre Murder Mystery" and "Music of the Night Musical Revue at 6 p.m. Friday, Oct. 28 and Saturday, Oct. 29 at Charlevoix High School commons and auditorium.

The evening will begin with a dinner prepared by Grey Gables. The dinner menu will include a Belvedere Avenue Caesar salad, sour dough rolls with butter pats, sautéed 8 oz. chicken breast, grilled vegetable orzo pasta with roasted tomato sauce, and New York Cheese Cake with whipped cream and chocolate sauce.

In a true dinner theater format, during the meal the cast will present the first portion of the evening's entertainment: "Café Murder."

The plot centers around Rosemary Saint-John, a loud, annoying hypochondriac who is convinced she is allergic to water celebrating her birthday at a restaurant with her four kooky sisters — a hippie, a valley girl, a trucker and a banker. Rosemary makes enemies with everyone around her. When she disappears and is presumed murdered, the only objective witnesses in the restaurant are the audience members, who must cast their vote. Was it one of Rosemary's sisters? The self-taught detective? The passionate French chef? The polite and proper Mâitre D'? The sarcastic waitress? No one is above suspicion in this delightful dinner theater murder mystery. Whether you are young or old, you'll find lots of laughs at the café.

STEVE ZUCKER/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

Playing the part of Dr. Frankenstein, Matthew Whitley sings the Halloween favorite "The Monster Mash" last week during rehearsals for upcoming Charlevoix High School Performing Arts Program dinner theater performances.

Then, after dinner, the entertainment moves into the auditorium for a musical revue of some favorite spooky Halloween tunes, old and new. The revue will include solo and ensemble numbers with singing and dancing by the performing arts cast.

The show is directed by Jodi Thompson.

Tickets, which include the show and dinner are $20 for adults and $12 for children ages 10 and under. Tickets may be purchased in advance by calling (231) 547-3222. If tickets remain they will be sold at the door.

A DAY MADE BETTER
OfficeMax

COURTESY PHOTO

Charlevoix Middle School English teacher Jane Garver sits in a new chair presented to her by OfficeMax employees earlier this month as she was honored through the company's "A Day Made Better" campaign.

AWARD

"Mrs. Garver is the driving force behind the staff at Charlevoix Middle School. She is a dedicated English teacher that strives to reach all kids all year long. Mrs. Garver is always willing to go the extra mile."

He added: "Mrs. Garver can always be counted on to anything and everything asked of her. She is a selfless teacher who always puts the needs of the school and kids first."

OfficeMax's "A Day Made Better program is based on a 2005 National Education Association survey which found that, on average, teachers spend about $1,000 each on supplies for their classrooms every year.

Charges dropped in Vollbach assault case

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF WRITER

A Charlevoix County judge threw out a criminal charge against former East Jordan elementary teacher Paula Vollbach for allegedly striking a child with a ruler, a decision based on century-old case law.

Petoskey-based defense attorney Mary Beth Kur on Wednesday, Oct. 19 filed a motion to dismiss the misdemeanor assault charge and cited a 1909 Michigan case, People vs. Green, that ruled teachers can act in loco parentis — Latin for "in the place of a parent" — and argued that although the state legislature in 1976 outlawed corporal punishment of students, it "proscribed the sanction for violations as being up to the school board," according to her motion. Kur conceded the student's allegations are true "for purposes of this motion only," court documents show.

Judge Richard May dismissed the charge Wednesday afternoon in a Petoskey courtroom.

Kur declined to comment on the case and said her motion speaks for itself.

Kur's motion argues that Vollbach acted within the law, specifically under the doctrine of in loco parentis.

"This doctrine in the law provides that the parent, custodian, or one placed in authority over a minor child may exercise a reasonable amount of force in the child's chastisement and so long as he or she acts in good faith, honestly thinking that what he or she does is for the benefit of the child, he or she is not liable for the assault unless the punishment inflicted is excessive and cruel," Kur's motion reads.

Vollbach

Chief assistant prosecutor Shaynee Fanara said she understands that old case law remains valid on the state's law books, but still feels the legal system failed this 10-year-old boy.

"I do not think that is a shield for teachers hitting children," Fanara said. "Here it was the teacher acting out of anger or frustration."

Vollbach, 50, faced criminal sanctions in Charlevoix County District Court for the alleged assault with a ruler against the fifth-grader in early March. After the child's parents reported the incident to police, district officials placed Vollbach on a leave of absence from her elementary art teacher job and launched an internal investigation into allegations of chronic verbal and physical abuse against students.

School officials since fired Vollbach, citing budget cuts.

East Jordan Police documents received under Michigan's Freedom of Information Act state the student in the March 3 incident asked Vollbach for help with an assignment before she asked him whether he needed to be in a class for students who require "special help." This happened prior to the alleged assault with a ruler, records show.

Despite the outcome, Fanara said the child did the right thing when he reported the incident to his parents, who in turn contacted police.

"I'm really proud of him coming forward. He did the right thing. The criminal justice system failed him, but I want to encourage other children to come forward if this happens to them," Fanara said.

Susan Wooden, superintendent for East Jordan Public Schools, said this may be the end of the criminal case, but the district will continue to pursue punishment for Vollbach.

"Our standard is different. We have additional charges unrelated to the criminal case," Wooden said. "With all due respect to the court's outcome, I would stress that the seriousness of additional charges demands immediate attention by the school district."

The district filed tenure charges against Vollbach and a hearing is set for mid-November. The News-Review acquired a copy of the tenure charges under Michigan FOIA, as well as an accompanying 13-page memorandum that details specifics of at least 15 alleged incidents and what's described as "an overall climate of intimidation" in Vollbach's classroom.

All of the alleged victim students are between kindergarten and fifth-grade.

The document shows Vollbach is accused of: slapping and shoving students — often causing pain — as well as slamming students' hands onto tables, yanking students into or out of their seats by their sweatshirt hoods, pulling fifth-grade students forcefully by the wrist or arm, shaking fifth-grade students for mistakes on art projects and in one case, striking a student with a table to get the child's attention.

Two alleged examples include kindergarten students being slapped on the hand or arm, one for reaching for a lump of clay and another for incorrectly holding a pair of scissors, but only after Vollbach had already removed the scissors from the child's hand, documents show.

Then the report explains the various allegations of non-physical, emotional abuse.

Vollbach is accused of: sarcastically berating students, angrily raising her voice, willfully embarrassing students, invading students' personal space while yelling at them, repeatedly slamming a table onto the ground to gain a kindergartner's attention, targeting students with a loud and confrontational tone, mocking students, using profanity in front of students, calling students stupid or suggesting with a negative connotation that they belong in special education classes, making students tear up unsatisfactory art projects and even punishing a young child for mistakenly calling her "Mrs. Vollbach," rather than "Ms. Vollbach."

The report alleges that, for example, "a kindergarten student bumped into a table and inadvertently knocked over an object causing Ms Vollbach to (become) furious and raise her voice in an apparent attempt to intimidate the student. Ms. Vollbach then physically picked up a table and in close proximity to the student slammed it loudly to the ground several times while shouting at the student."

Multiple students reported they fear Vollbach enough to avoid asking her questions, and in some cases students said they fear attending her class, the report alleges.

Agriculture-based workshop Nov. 9

Local farming, economic development and education organizations are hosting a workshop to help Charlevoix County communities boost their economies through agriculture-based development. The event will take place from 7 p.m.–9:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the Charlevoix Public Library.

Agriculture is an important part of Charlevoix County's economy. Whether it is commodity production for national markets, vegetables for local farm markets, agriculture-based tourism or locations for wind energy facilities, farms provide jobs and income, Michigan State University Extension senior educato Dean Solomon said.

"Agriculture is one of the bright spots in this difficult economy and there are new opportunities to increase its contribution to local economic development," Soloman said.

The workshop is specially designed for county and township elected officials, planning commission members, professional planners, farmers and interested citizens. The event is sponsored by Michigan State University Extension, Northern Lakes Economic Alliance, Charlevoix County Farm Bureau, Charlevoix County Planning Department and the Charlevoix County Conservation District.

During the workshop, participants will learn about agriculture trends and new economic opportunities, planning and zoning techniques to increase farm income and jobs, and discuss possibilities and barriers. Featured speakers include experts from the Northern Lakes Economic Alliance, MSU Extension and the Northwest Michigan Council of Governments.

The program fee is $15 per person. Registration deadline is Nov. 2. For more information contact the Charlevoix County MSU Extension office at (231) 582-6232 or visit www.msue.msu.edu/charlevoix.

Business manager launches veterans discount program

In an effort to acknowledge the sacrifices of the U.S. military veterans, Randi Hunter, general manager of AmericInn and U.S. Navy veteran, invites the business owners of Charlevoix and Emmet County to join in the Northwest Michigan Veterans Discount Program.

Hunter said the program will enable veterans in Charlevoix and Emmet counties to receive a discount from area business owners. She said the program will work in conjunction with Charlevoix and Emmett County Veterans Affairs offices where veterans can register their DD214 form and receive a veteran picture identification. The picture ID card can then be presented to participating merchants who will then honor the cardholders by providing a discount on purchases and services. Registered veterans will then be provided with a list of participating merchants.

Business owners or managers who wish to register for the program may contact Hunter at (231) 237-0988 or via email at Charlevoix.mi@americinn.com. To be included in the November email blast, businesses must be registered by Nov. 1.

Kids get cash for candy

Charlevoix area children looking to avoid a stomach ache or cavities from eating too much Halloween candy can unload some of the haunting loot and make a few dollars in the process.

Beacon Dental Center will again be offering a candy buy-back program from 1-5 p.m. on Tuesday Nov. 1. During the event children will earn $1 for every pound of wrapped Halloween candy they bring in to the Beacon Dental Center office at 06483 M-66 North in Charlevoix.

Beacon Dental Center will be sending the candy to our troops abroad through Operation Gratitude. Operation Gratitude sends care packages to U.S. service members abroad, to their children left behind and to Wounded Warriors recuperating in transition units. Adults are welcome to donate bags of candy too. Adults can drop off wrapped candy from 9 a.m.–5 p.m. Nov. 1–4. For more information call (231)547-914.

Hollocker hired as director for Great Start Collaborative

Hollocker

Maureen Hollocker of Harbor Springs has been named as the new director of the Great Start Collaborative of Charlevoix, Emmet, and Northern Antrim counties. The collaborative is currently made up of more than 30 different participants and organizations from around the community. Representatives from business, health, education, human services, legislative, higher education, non-profit, court systems, and parents are committed to creating a movement in our area that seeks to involve the entire community in supporting families as they raise their young children to succeed in school and in life.

In her role, Hollocker will work with agencies to who work together to raise awareness of early education programming and advocate for further investment into education programs for children from birth to age 5. Additionally, she will be watching the education legislative changes and leading the collaborative in looking for new ways to help young children and families. Hollocker, a native of Michigan, has been living in the Northern Michigan area for eight years after 10 years in Los Angeles.

"My family returned to Michigan when my son was 2 years old, and picked the Northern Michigan area in particular because we felt it was a great place to raise a child," Hollocker said.

Jill Haan, early education coordinator for Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District said, "Maureen was chosen as director for her diverse professional history that includes previous legislative experience, event planning, and a great passion and personal experience in early education and intervention with her own child."

The collaborative's goals encompass five major components: pediatric and family health, social-emotional health, childcare and early education, family support and parenting leadership. Other components of the Great Start Collaborative include the Great Start Parent Coalition in partnership with the Great Start Regional Resource Center. This October, the network will be distributing their new strategic plan for the 2011-2013 periods. Recent and upcoming Great Start events include: Halloween Costume Exchange and Family Fun Event on Oct. 16 to promote a "green" and budget saver holiday, and a Parenting Education Conference and Preschool/Childcare Fair during Parenting Awareness Month in March 2012.

The Great Start Collaborative is publicly funded through state and federal governments, and recent cuts have made their additional grant donations vital to achieving the goal of giving every child in our community a great start in their growth and development. There are 55 collaboratives throughout Michigan covering all the state's counties. The Charlevoix, Emmet and northern Antrim Collaborative is seeking additional community leaders, business owners, and parents that are interested in promoting a child and family friendly community. Anyone interested in becoming involved with the collaborative should contact Hollocker at (231) 582-8070, via email at greatstartforkids@gmail.com or online at www.greatstartforkids.com.

Designation denied

Road commission says 'No' to natural beauty road for Norwood's Lakeshore Drive

Norwood Township officials want to pave Lakeshore Drive, near the Lake Michigan shoreline, but don't want to first widen the road. That's why they sought a natural beauty road designation for the stretch.

SHERI MCWHIRTER/NEWS-REVIEW

BOYNE CITY Charlevoix County road commissioners denied a natural beauty road designation for Lakeshore Drive in Norwood Township last week, despite the overwhelming support for the measure from those who live there.

The road commission hosted a public hearing Oct. 11 at Norwood Township Hall, where members of a standing-room only crowd said they wanted the natural beauty road designation. The move would allow township officials to later pave the often narrow stretch of shoreline bluff road without removing trees to widen it.

On Friday, Oct. 21, county road commissioners unanimously voted against the request at their meeting in Boyne City.

At Friday's meeting, road commissioner Keith Ogden read from a prepared statement that it was "evident at the public hearing that many residents and owners view the natural beauty road designation as a manner in which to have the roads improved with a hard surface that would be narrower than the current road commission standards for roadway width."

Ogden further argued later paving of the road is contrary to the goals and objectives of the state's natural beauty road program and the roads do not provide scenic and natural vistas of Lake Michigan because of the significant residential development there. Finally, it would set a "poor precedent" to allow the natural beauty road designation to circumvent the county's engineering standards to improve gravel roads, Ogden said.

Road commissioners voted on the issue without further discussion.

Later, though, the dozen or so Norwood Township residents who attended the meeting spoke against the road commission's decision.

"It makes me very angry as a taxpayer," said Carol Apol, who lives on the northern stretch of Lakeshore Drive, off of Clipperview near Fisherman's Island State Park. "We qualify to the nth degree, as far as I'm concerned."

Both the southern and northern sections of Lakeshore Drive offer periodic views of Lake Michigan contain critical dune grass habitat and have glacier-deposited boulders, among other features. The southern section connects the unincorporated Norwood village to the Antrim County line, while the northern section is a few miles north along the lake shore and completely surrounded by the state park.

Frank Hamilton, township supervisor, said county road officials restricted how the township can improve its roads.

"We want to do things. You are simply telling us how to spend our money," Hamilton said.

Bill Gnodtke, township road committee member, said he is very disappointed because he believes road commissioners based their decision on the natural beauty road designation on the township's future plans, not on the state's requirements for the special road designation.

"We met every single part of the statute," he said. "I believe the commission was influenced on the future, not on the present and what was before you."

Norwood residents who requested the natural beauty road designation pointed to Indian Garden Road in Emmet County, where residents achieved the requested designation and also got a paved road.

"We're not Emmet County," Ogden said.

Bill Lovett, who also lives on Lakeshore Drive, said the road commissioners made a "grievous error" and their action is "not a good public service process."

Hamilton said he now will ask township residents whether they wish to petition the road commission a second time for the natural beauty road designation, file a civil lawsuit to compel the county to make the designation or just let the issue go. Residents there have "both sufficient private funding and anger" to warrant a suit, he said.

Gnodtke said Norwood Township voters now may be turned off to the county's road efforts in the future, particularly its 15-year millage for improvements to existing paved roads.

"It's a good thing you got it for 15 years because if you went for a renewal now you'd be hard-pressed to get any votes out of Norwood," Gnodtke said.

Road commission chairman Doug Way, said the issue is now over and he thanked the Norwood residents for sharing their thoughts.

"I feel like we beat this dog to death," he said. "Thanks for your input. I realize it's not what you wanted to hear."

CROSS COUNTRY

Conference champions!

Rayder boys and girls take top honors at conference meet, regionals up next

Members of the Charlevoix High School cross country teams gather to display their trophies Tuesday after sweeping the Lake Michigan Conference Championships on their home course. The Rayder girls unseated four-time defending champion Harbor Springs, while the Rayder boys topped the Harbor boys, who were seeking their fourth consecutive league title. Charlevoix girls' team members are (above) front (from left) Caroline Boss, Annie Dipert, Jane Balasz, Amber Way, Margy Bolt, Jill Dipert, Pauline Sheets; middle, Shelby Robinson, Cora Taylor, Stirling Witthoeft, Christina Russell, Nicole Pischner; back, Sarah MacKenzie, Olivia Certa, Molly Jeakle, Lauren Bartling, Hillary Way, Anna Voci. Absent, Lexie Barnes, Anna Moon. The Rayder boys' team (below) comprises front (from left) Tristan Rudolph, Alex Gooch, Lucas Von Lau, Kirk Acharya, Noah Jeakle, Brendan Gregory; back, Aaron Duckworth, Jon Lindfors, Jackson Buday, Parker Skeel, Andrew Plude, Will Jeakle, Nick Plude, CJ Rice, Chris Young, Vince Von Lau.

After sweeping the conference championships and placing first and second respectively in a weekend invitational meet, the Charlevoix High School boys and girls cross country teams are gearing up for what their coaches expect to be an even tighter regional meet this Saturday.

The Rayder runners started off the week out-pacing perennial conference powerhouse Harbor Springs for the dual conference titles.

For veteran Charlevoix boys' coach Ken Plude, things (in the conference meet) went all according to plan.

The same couldn't be said for his wife's team on the girls' side, but Mary Plude will take the result.

The Charlevoix High School boys' and girls' cross country teams swept the Lake Michigan Conference championship Tuesday, Oct. 18 on their home course at a rainy and cold day.

The Charlevoix girls, ranked No. 10 in the Division III state coaches poll, held off four-time defending league champion Harbor Springs, which is ranked eighth, by just two points, 30-32.

On the boys' side, the Rayders captured their first league title since 2007 as they also finished ahead of the Rams, 34-44, to complete the sweep. East Jordan was third with 49 points.

"We did what we needed to do," Ken Plude said. "The times were slower because as the rain kept coming down the course got soggy, but we ran what we normally do and we did what was necessary."

The Charlevoix boys had three runners finish in the top seven to earn all-conference honors, while three others finished from eighth-14th to earn honorable mention.

The top seven runners were named to the all conference team, the next seven earn honorable mention.

"Our top five ran a one-minute gap," Plude said. "We performed well and that's a good thing with having 16 guys. Our goal going in was getting 34 points, and that's what we ended up with."

Four Charlevoix girls finished within the top seven, led by freshman Amber Way, who won in 20 minutes, 3.8 seconds. She held off defending league champ Rhi Cullip of Harbor, who finished runner up in 20:09.1

Harbor Springs senior Ben Kloss repeated as conference champion in the boys' race as he finished in 17:18.5. East Jordan senior Luke Hawley was second in 17:21.0.

"I've been working at getting a first for a while and it feels really good to get a conference championship win," Way said.

"Our race went out fast and there were a couple of parts I wasn't sure of with the hills, but I knew what I was supposed to do and I got it."

Also for Charlevoix, Molly Jeakle finished third, senior Olivia Certa was fourth, and senior Annie Dipert was seventh. Also for the Rayders, Caroline Boss was 15th, followed by Jane Balasz, 17th; and Stirling Witthoeft, 20th.

"It definitely helped us all knowing the course being this race was at home," Way said. "It was good. We all know we performed well and it's all about getting us to the next one. We're all pretty ready for regionals."

Mary Plude said it's been a tough past two weeks for her team.

"It turned into a dual meet with some help from East Jordan and Boyne City, that's what it really came down to," she said. "It was a different road than I thought we'd take, we've had to deal with mono and an ineligible runner who's now done for the season. It was a tough road and there was some disappointment on the team, but we came through after we worked some things through."

Plude said having Dipert and Jeakle healthy were key factors.

"What they both did was the biggest thing for the team," Mary Plude said. "Annie was not ranked to be all-conference, so this was a huge personal goal for her and Molly ran her best race of the season."

Plude also said Way, who has missed time this season, wasn't going to go down without a fight.

"She (Way) really wanted it out there and we've had to be really careful at times with her," Plude said. "But you could see she was focused and she just wanted it."

For the Charlevoix boys, senior Kirk Acharya finished a team-best fourth, while sophomore Jackson Buday was sixth, and senior Nick Plude was seventh.

Also for the Rayders, Andrew Plude was eighth, senior Will Jeakle placed ninth, Tristen Rudolph was 13th, and Chris Young was 15th.

"It's been four years and we still weren't able to get one conference title," Acharya said. "This year we've had a lot more focus with the guys and the seniors have really pulled through on the team and have stepped up and done their part in the leadership role.

"All the younger guys are pulling and feeding off that and they have a drive to succeed."

Acharya missed all of last season because of injury.

"I was able to get some things in order and (injuries) lit a fire for me to come back and just give it my all," he said. "Everyone gave what they had to give and we were able to pull through."

Also for the Harbor girls, senior Maddie Buntin was fifth, freshman Charlotte Cullip was sixth, junior Kaitlyn Alessi was eighth, Betsy Simons was 11th, Autumn Kihnke was 12th, and Taylor Sydow was 13th.

"We expected, as did Mary (Plude), for it to be about two points difference and there just wasn't a lot of people in the race," Harbor girls' coach Emily Kloss said. "Although we put our seven in there pretty tight, there wasn't a lot of other people.

"I was pleased to get seven runners in the top 13. We didn't run great, but we ran well. When you're racing against Charlevoix, you have to put it all out there."

Ben Kloss paced the Harbor boys with his win after pulling away along with East Jordan's Hawley and Josh Wojan.

Kloss led the majority of the race, but Hawley surged ahead within the final half mile on a corner before Kloss regained the lead and finished strong.

On Saturday, the Rayders traveled to Manistee for the Manistee National Cross Country Invitational at which the boys team took first place in the small division with 61 points to second place Grand Traverse Academy's 74 in a 12-team field. The Rayder girls took second place, falling by one point to Harbor Springs.

In the boys race, the Rayders were again paced by Acharya who took second place, less than 1 second off the winning pace.

In the girls race, the Rayders took a trifecta with Amber Way in first place with a 19:30 finish, Molly Jeakle in second at 19:54 and Olivia Certa was third at 19:55. Annie Dipert also medaled at 6th place and a 20:40

Mary Plude noted that both Way and Jeakle posted career-best times in Saturday's race.

Looking ahead to Saturday's regional races at Benzie Central, the Pludes are expecting the close races to continue

"Regionals will be very tight. There are four teams in each of the boys and girls races that could go to the state meet. Benzie Central is the strongest in both of the races. For the boys, there is also Charlevoix, Mason County Central, Kingsley and Harbor Springs. East Jordan is also a close contender. The boys have been keeping a tight pack behind Kirk Achraya

Winning wrap-up

KALKASKA — Senior running back Andrew Potter ran for 102 yards and two touchdowns on 22 carries as the Rayders won a back-and-forth Lake Michigan Conference battle 28-26 over host Kalkaska Friday.

The Rayders finish the season at 4-5 overall, 4-3 league, while Kalkaska finishes at 4-5, 3-4.

"I was really happy we could send the seniors off on a winning note," Charlevoix coach Don Jess said. "I'm proud of the way they battled, it was a back-and-forth game and they kept coming and coming. It was a good win on the road."

Charlevoix led 12-0 in the first quater, then saw the Blazer score 20 straight points to seize a 20-12 lead. The Rayders tied the game only to see the Blazers score yet again to take a 26-20 advantage.

Charlevoix tied the game with a fourth-quarter TD then got the all-important two-point conversion for the difference-making points.

Marc Durkee made an interception with 1 minute, 22 seconds remaining to seal the win.

Jamael Kelly rushed for a team-high 125 yards on 17 carries for the Rayders, while quarterback Tanner Catt was 7-of-20 passing for 65 yards, including a 6-yard TD to Charlie Hamilton.

Hamilton finished with five catches for 43 yards, while Myles Kerr returned a fumble 43 yards for a TD. Kelly scored a pair of two-point conversions.

Coby Herriman had a team-high nine tackles to lead Charlevoix's defense, while Greyson Speigle added seven stops, and Andrew Robarge and Josh Hogan had six apiece.

Jess offered praise for the commitment his players showed over the course of the season.

"We had some unselfish kids on the team this year like Herriman and Potter, who both switched positions and both did great jobs," Jess said. "Another senior, John Boss, hurt his shoulder early in the year, but he's stuck around and came to every practice and was a great team captain. He was there cheering us on all season."

Reflecting further on the season, Jess added: "We played some good competition this year and had some very close ball games. I'm happy with the fact that our kids never, never stopped playing hard, as a coach that's all you can ask for. We'll have a lot of starters coming back next season and it's crucial that we get in the weight room and make good decisions this offseason."

JV FOOTBALL

A strong finish

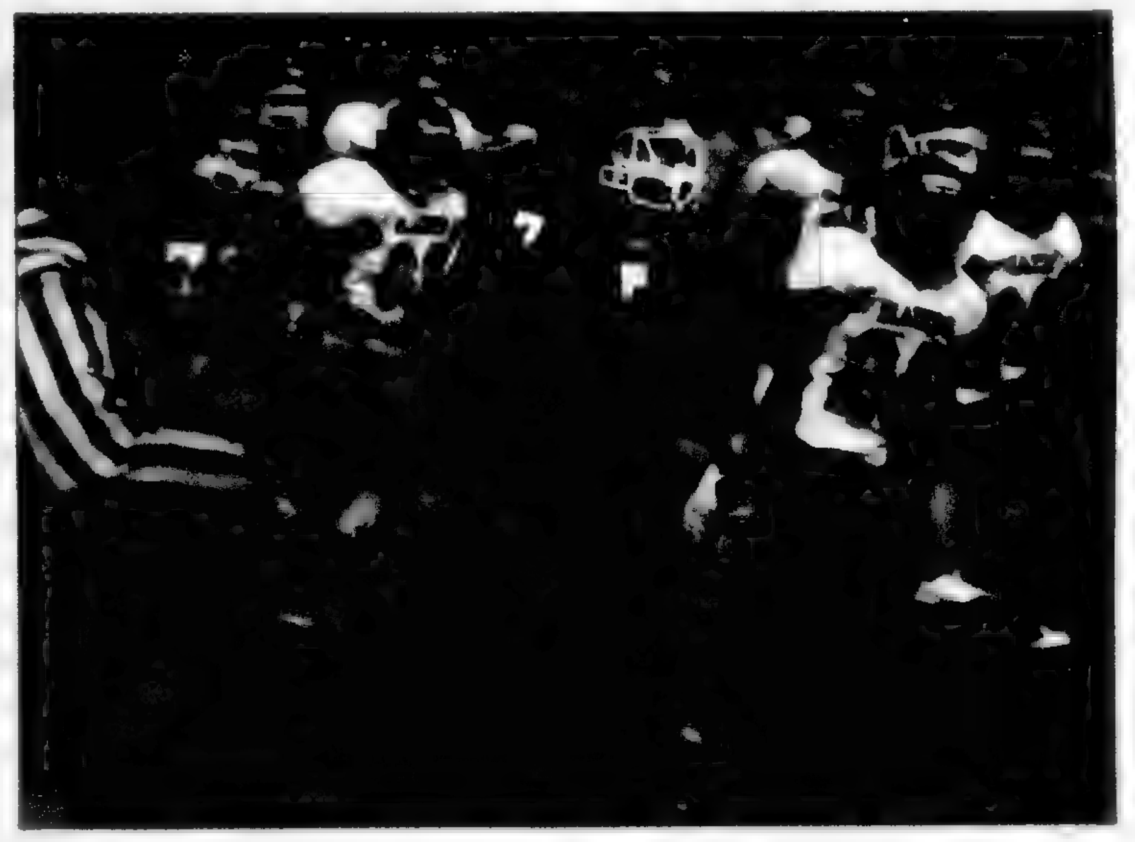
Rayder JV rolls over Kalkaska, finishes at 6-3

Taylor Seese rushed for 216 yards and 4 touchdowns and Shane Sutherland rushed for 169 yards and one touchdown as the Charlevoix junior varsity rolled up 485 yards total rushing to beat Kalkaska 54-6 Thursday at Kipke Field. Sutherland also caught a 26 touchdown pass from Nate Moon and rushed for a 2-point conversion. Brad Rizzo and Brian Noirot also added touchdowns, while Moon and Luke Klinger rushed for 2-point conversions.

J.J. Bottomley, Sam Eakes, and Will Telgenhof all finished with six tackles to lead the defense, while Taylor Seese, Andrew Mitchell, Devin Largent, and Tanner Seese all recovered fumbles. Taylor Seese added a sack and KeNen Borths blocked a punt, as all 26 players were in on tackles for the Rayders.

"This win was a great way to end the season" said head coach Doug Waha. "I'm very proud of the way our sophomores stepped up this season, and am happy they could end their junior varsity career with a big win. I'm also proud of our freshmen, who improved every week, and played a big part of us having a successful season."

The Charlevoix junior varsity finished the season with a 6-3 record.



After breaking a tackle near the line of scrimmage, Charlevoix's Shane Southerland breaks a run off the right side for a touchdown in the first half of the Rayders' game against Kalkaska Thursday.

their front runner and that has brought the boys their success this season. The order has moved around, but the commitment to running in a tight pack has remained. They have been a very team orientated group of young men," Plude said.

She added: "For the girls, it is also Charlevoix, Harbor Springs and Manistee. The point separation is very small. We will need to run well from 1-7 to place in the top three at the regional. The girls are capable of achieving this goal and I know their focus is where it should be this week."

VOLLEYBALL

Big win puts league title within reach

Rayders need win Thursday to at least tie for championship

GRAYLING — A big, big win on the road moved Charlevoix into first place in the Lake Michigan Conference volleyball race and, with one game left on the schedule, the Rayders need a win at home on Thursday over Kalkaska to clinch at least a share of the league title.

On Thursday, Charlevoix outlasted league-leading Grayling, 25-23, 25-12, 22-25, 22-25, 15-10, to improve to 42-4-6 overall, 12-1 league. It was the first league loss for the Vikings, who are 11-1 in the conference with two matches remaining. They were slated to travel to East Jordan on Tuesday and Elk Rapids on Thursday.

Charlevoix, which dropped the first meeting this season with Grayling, has one league contest left.

"The Grayling game was the biggest game of the season and my players started strong and ended strong. We had balanced attack on offense and held strong with defense all night; everyone contributed," Charlevoix coach Liz Shaw said.

"The girls really showed a lot of senior leadership in that last game. After losing the third and fourth game, they put it all on the line and they knew this was their last chance with a conference title on the line.

"They weren't about to let it go. It was really something and I have to credit their intensity, focus and their sportsmanship. It was a great atmosphere."

Senior setter Jenna Way led the Rayders as she finished with 47 assists, 13 kills, 12 digs and four aces, while freshman Madeline Boss had 21 kills, and Megan Peters finished with 19 kills and three blocks.

Also for Charlevoix, Karley Pearsall had seven kills and four blocks, Kelsey Way added 20 digs and seven kills, libero Kelly Greyerbiehl finished with 40 digs, Maddie Zimmerman and Chelsie Hoffman added 10 digs apiece, and Hoffman and Cassidy Peebles each served at 100 percent.

"Two people who really stepped up were Madeline Boss on the left side and Cassidy Peebles came off the bench and she served really strong when we needed her," Shaw said. "That was a big step for our team and they showed the younger players on our team what you can do when you step up and play hard."

"We are so close to accomplishing our first goal of the season (winning a league title)," Shaw said. "I am so proud of my team.

On Monday the Rayders begin their pursuit of a district title in East Jordan. Charlevoix is slated to take on Elk Rapids at East Jordan in the second game of the evening. The district semis are set for Tuesday and the finals will take place on Friday, Nov. 4

JV wins, too

Charlevoix also won the JV match against Grayling Thursday, 25-23, 25-20, 12-15. For the Rayders, 10-3 league, Madi Carey had seven kills, Jennaca Holecheck had five aces and five assists, and Jessica Paramo was 16-for-16 in serving had four aces and five assists. Madi Carey also notched 7 kills.

POP WARNER FOOTBALL

Pop Warner teams fall in season finales

Two of Charlevoix's three Pop Warner football teams lost in their final games of the season Saturday and game results were not available on the third team.

Charlevoix Midgets suffered their first loss of the season, falling 20-0 to Kalkaska at Forrest Area High School. The Midget team finished the season at 6-1.

"I am very proud of this team. They never quit right down to the very last play," coach Boogie Carlson said. "It was a good game against a great team. It was a solid effort by the team as a whole and it was nice to see the progress we made throughout the year. Every week we got better, improving on fundamentals such as blocking, tackling and managing the game. It was unfortunate to lose 3 solid starters due to injury, but it provided a great opportunity for the other boys to step up. It was nice to see others fill the positions and do very well. It was a great effort by all and those moving on to play Rayder football will be missed next year."

Carlson pointed to "the stand out play" of Malcom Williams, Brad Klinger, Collin Turkelson, Luke Buday, Ty Fuchs and Oliver DeYoung.

"I am looking forward to next year to continue the improvement of all these young players," he said. "The record speaks for itself, but the coaches are most proud of the fact each and every game this team was complimented on their sportsmanship and effort. Not one game went by that these boys were not told by opposing coaches and/or referees how well they played the game."

The Charlevoix Pop Warner Peewee division football teams also took to the field for the last time this season Saturday at Forest Area Schools. The Charlevoix Bucs ended the season 5-2 with a tough loss against the Traverse City Fighting Irish by the score of 8-0.

Offensively the Bucs were led by the rushing of Caleb Kenwabakise. Quarterback Colin Smith also connected with wide receiver Austin Jenson for a 35 yard pass. On defense, the Bucs were led by the tackling of Kenwabikise and Smith, and a defensive line that continuously got penetration. The Charlevoix Pirates also played on Saturday against Kalkaska, however results of that game were not available to me at press time.

New county transit manager introduced

Jill Drury, the new manager at Charlevoix County Transit, introduced herself to county commissioners recently.

Drury, hired in July, attended the commissioners' board meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 12. She addressed the board during public comments and said in her short time in Charlevoix County, she's already been invited to join a state committee designed to investigate cost reduction tactics for transit in all counties.

Additionally, she has some ideas for the transit bus system in Charlevoix County.

"I want to work at being able to provide efficient, good service for the county and have it accessible, within our budget, of course," Drury said.

She also will look into whether bike racks should be installed on buses, she said.

Drury said the local transit system is operated by a very capable staff and she's eager to work with them to make continued improvements. There may be some transit building changes, too.

"We're going to look at possibly having some type of facility on Beaver Island to house the two buses there, so we have a place to keep them out of the weather and do preventative maintenance, as opposed to paying to bring them to the mainland," Drury said.

Prior to her arrival in Charlevoix County, Drury worked as senior services coordinator for the Newaygo County Commission on Aging, where she stayed on the payroll for 21 years.

"While my new position is all transit and maybe not as diverse, it's still a job in the human services or public service field and now instead of just helping seniors, I have an opportunity to be part of an organization that helps many people, regardless of age, get that ride to the store, bank or doctor," Drury said.

Drury also said she's making an effort to familiarize herself with the community she now serves. She is a participant in the inaugural class for Leadership Charlevoix County, a strengths-building program designed to foster leadership and community involvement.

"I want to become more involved throughout the community," Drury said.

Her annual salary is $49,020, plus benefits. She replaces the former transit manager Ray Leach, who earned an annual $49,900 salary, plus benefits when he retired, said Kevin Shepard, county human resources coordinator.

Drury currently lives in Boyne Falls, but plans a move to rural Boyne City soon. Her husband, John, is retired from the Michigan Department of Transportation and the couple collectively has four daughters.

Road commission saves nearly $11,300 on work

BOYNE CITY — Most Charlevoix County road construction projects are wrapped for the season, although a couple continue to linger.

Road commission officials on Tuesday, Oct. 11 discussed the remaining road projects' statuses in the 2011 construction season, including bump-grinding and intersection work in Charlevoix Township. Additionally, the Springvale Road reconstruction in Chandler and Melrose townships is nearly finished with just a few items on the contractor's punch list, officials said.

Pat Harmon, road commission manager, said the Springvale Road project ran more than two weeks past deadline, a situation that comes with a $450 per day penalty for contractor Rieth-Riley, of Petoskey.

Final cost figures are yet to come in for multiple projects around the county, but at least eight jobs came in at or under budget, records show.

Projects that ended over budget include the Old Horton Bay Road overlay, Camp Ten Road wedge and overlay, as well as the Afton stone placement on Studer Road. Final bills came in about $1,900, $2,000 and $175 over budget, respectively.

Payne and Dolan, of Gaylord, did the Old Horton Bay Road work, while Rieth-Riley did Camp Ten Road. Poquette Leasing Company, of Petoskey, completed the Studer Road gravel work.

On the flip side, contractors saved the road commission more than $15,000 by completing work on many projects for less than the figures they submitted as bids. When balanced with the projects that went over budget, the road commission saved nearly $11,300.

However, final figures are yet to be submitted for six more projects, including Springvale Road, Sanderson Road gravel work in Eveline Township and Marshall Road reconstruction in both Eveline and Wilson townships.

The most recent project to finish is the Lake Street boat launch in Horton Bay.

"They finished the boat ramp on Lake Street last week. The old concrete ramp went out further than expected," Harmon said.

The next Charlevoix County Road Commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. on Friday, Oct. 21, at the commission's headquarters in Boyne City.

NOTICE

This firm is a debt collector attempting to collect a debt. Any information obtained will be used for this purpose. If you are in the Military, please contact our office at the number listed below. Notwithstanding, if the debt secured by this property was discharged in a Chapter 7 Bankruptcy proceeding, this notice is NOT an attempt to collect that debt. You are presently in default under your Mortgage Security Agreement, and the Mortgage Holder may be contemplating the commencement of foreclosure proceedings under the terms of that Agreement and Michigan law. You have no legal obligation to pay amounts due under the discharged note. A loan modification may not serve to revive that obligation. However, in the event you wish to explore options that may avert foreclosure, please contact our office at the number listed below. Attention: The following notice shall apply only if the property encumbered by the mortgage described below is claimed as a principal residence exempt from tax under section 7cc of the general property tax act, 1893 PA 206, MCL 211.7cc. Attention Michael Sheridan and Belinda Sheridan , regarding the property at 619 Barker St, East Jordan, MI 49727. The following notice does not apply if you have previously agreed to modify the mortgage loan under section 3205b. 3205a, 3205b and 3205c do not apply unless the terms of the modified mortgage loan entered into were complied with for one year after the date of the modification. You have the right to request a meeting with your mortgage holder or mortgage servicer. Potestivo & Associates, P.C. is the designee with authority to make agreements under MCL 600.3205b and MCL 600.3205c, and can be contacted at 811 South Blvd., Suite 100 Rochester Hills, MI 48307 (248) 844-5123. You may also contact a housing counselor. For more information, contact the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) by visiting www.michigan.gov/mshda or calling (866) 946-7432. If you request a meeting with Potestivo & Associates, P.C. within 14 days after the notice required under MCL 600.3205a(1) is mailed, then foreclosure proceedings will not commence until at least 90 days after the date said notice was mailed. If an agreement to modify the mortgage loan is reached and you abide by the terms of the agreement, the mortgage will not be foreclosed. Gillespie gets road commission roofing job

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF WRITER

BOYNE CITY — A Charlevoix County Road Commission roofing project on Beaver Island will go to Rich Gillespie, county commissioner for District 6.

Road commissioners on Friday, Oct. 21, discussed the need to repair the steel roof on the agency's Beaver Island garage. Road commission manager Pat Harmon received quotes for the work, but none of the companies carried county-required workers' compensation insurance.

Gillespie

Harmon

"I can't have somebody get hurt over there — fall off the roof — and then be responsible for that," Harmon said.

Oliver Construction on Beaver Island quoted a $750 price to screw down loose nails on the garage's roof, while KM Contractors on Beaver Island offered a $980 quote for the same project. Both carry liability insurance, but not workers' compensation, Harmon said.

R. Gillespie Enterprises, owned by Gillespie, offered to remove all nails in the steel roof and then reattach it to the building for $2,250. His company carries both liability and workers' compensation insurance, so road commissioners unanimously voted for that option.

Road commission chairman Doug Way asked whether the move created a conflict of interest. Since Gillespie's construction company is the only one quoted that carries the required insurance, there was no other choice, he said.

"I just wanted to be sure we were in the clear and not in a conflict of interest," Way said.

Gillespie said he didn't seek out the job. In fact, the opposite happened, he said.

"They called me and asked me for a quote," Gillespie said. He added he performed work for the road commission for the last 25 years, long before voters elected him as a county commissioner.

Harmon and Way agreed it would cost far more to hire a mainland company to mobilize here, travel to the island by ferry and potentially have to house and feed a crew for two days. Going with Gillespie's offer is the best financial decision for the project, Harmon said.

The road commission's garage on the island has been there since the 1920s and houses road plow trucks and a loader, as well as serves as the road workers' base.

LOOKING BACK…

On June 7, 1935 the Hotel Charlevoix located in the middle of Bridge Street's 300 block, on the east side, burned to a shell. The city fathers saw the view through to Round Lake and realized the potential for a magnificent park that ideally would stretch from the channel to Antrim Street. But several building owners refused to sell. Work began on some properties and the waterfront in late spring of 1936. In September, 1937 the city was able to obtain four more of the block's remaining properties for $14,000, and began more work with WPA help. That year it also had to purchase a property option held by Standard Oil who had been contemplating a gas station on the site. Planned from the beginning were two tennis courts, at least four shuffleboard courts, plus sandboxes and other playground equipment for children. Gravel walkways were also intended besides the cement walks and stairs. Much of this was not installed, and East Park remained pretty much as it began, as seen here, until the massive and award winning renovations of 2007-2009, the crown jewel of Charlevoix's park system.

This image is one of 850 on the Charlevoix Historical Society's new DVD titled "Charlevoix, Michigan — A Pictorial Journery through 16 Decades." It is available at the society's Harsha House Museum, 103 State St., from 1-4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and at the Central Drug Store, Round Lake Books, Castle Farms, and Ell-Air Gallery. Call (231) 547-0373 for shipping and society membership information.

Former St. Mary's principal charged with embezzlement

Police say Keisha Veryser took more than $100,000 from school coffers

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Legal trouble continues to mount for the former principal of Charlevoix's St. Mary School who left the position in 2010 amid allegations that she stole thousands from the school's coffers.

Veryser

On Monday, following an 18-month investigation, Charlevoix County Prosecutor John Jarema authorized five counts of embezzlement from a nonprofit agency by agent or trustee, $1,000-$20,000 and two counts of perjury in a noncourt proceeding against Keisha Veryser of Hayes Township. The charges are 10- and 15-year felonies respectively.

Veryser turned herself in on the charges at the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office early Tuesday. She was arraigned in 90th District Court, given a $50,000 personal recognizance bond and released. Her preliminary examination is set for Dec. 15.

The charges stem from Veryser's employment as principal at St. Mary School from Aug. 1, 2006-March 17, 2010.

The case was investigated by the Michigan State Police at the request of Charlevoix City Police Chief Gerard Doan, who did so because he is a member at St. Mary Church.

Det./Sgt. Jerry Briolat with the Michigan State Police Petoskey Post who has been investigating the case since May 2010, said Jarema authorized the one charge of embezzlement for each year of Veryser's employment with the school.

In Briolat's eight-page affidavit filed in the case, authorities lay out a series of transactions in which Veryser allegedly took the school's money for her own use. For each year police list enough transactions to total at least the $1,000 threshold for the charge, but claim there are more that are not listed. In all, police say Veryser embezzled more than $100,000 from the school.

Some of the transactions listed in the affidavit are for cash for as little as $37, others police say were sizable transactions for as much several thousand

The largest transaction listed in the affidavit reads, "On 11-29-2007, Keisha Veryser withdrew $8021.46 from a school (certificate of deposit) and turned the money into three cashier's checks and sent one to her Visa for $1,850, one to TC State Bank for her cosmetic procedure for $750 and one to pay off her school loan in the amount of $5,406.46."

The affidavit lists several other transactions, allegedly used to pay Veryser's personal credit card bills, that were deposited into her checking account or to pay for other expenses such as nutritional supplements.

The perjury charges stem from allegedly untruthful sworn statements Veryser made during depositions taken as part of civil suits pending between her and the Diocese of Gaylord, also stemming from her employment as the school's principal.

Legal trouble between Veryser and the Diocese of Gaylord (which oversees St Mary school and church) began just over a year ago when Veryser filed a lawsuit in Charlevoix County Circuit Court claiming that she was wrongfully terminated from her position as the school's principal. The diocese then

Parks master plan update pending

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Officials with the city of Charlevoix are in the process of updating the city's parks and recreation master plan and they are hoping for additional community input on the draft version of the plan, set to come before the city council next week.

City officials expect a draft of the plan to be posted to the city's website at www.cityofcharlevoix.org this week.

City planning director Mike Spencer said the new master plan is intended to replace the city's existing plan, which was adopted in 2000. He said industry standards call for the parks and recreation plans to be updated every five years.

The effort to revamp the plan started in 2009 with 800 community surveys which asked respondents a variety of questions about land use, government and recreation related topics. The initial draft of the new plan was drawn up in February and has since been honed by a parks and recreation advisory board which was appointed in April

Spencer explained that, like any master plan, the

Sailing experts: Design to blame for WingNuts deaths

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A sailboat that capsized in a storm during the annual race from Chicago to Mackinac Island, killing two crew members, was not suited for the competition because its sails were too big for its weight, a sailing group says.

U.S. Sailing's report criticized the design of the WingNuts boat, saying its sail area was too large for its weight under the conditions of the long Great Lakes competition.

The Kiwi 35-foot sport boat overturned July 18 in Lake Michigan off the northwest Michigan coast near Charlevoix, killing skipper Mark Morley, 51, and crew member Suzanne Makowski-Bickel, 41. A competing vessel rescued the other six crew members from the Saginaw-based yacht.

"WingNuts was a highly inappropriate boat for a race of this duration, overnight, without safety boats, and in an area known to have frequent violent thunderstorms. Her capable crew and preparation could not make up for the fact that she had too little stability, which led to her being blown over by a severe gust," said the report, which was requested by the Chicago Yacht Club, the race organizer.

Greg Miarecki, rear commodore for the Chicago Yacht Club, said officials had reviewed the WingNuts' stability but it didn't raise concerns. He said the report concluded that the stability index that had been used may not have been the best indication of whether the boat was too unstable to be in the competition.

"Looking at the report, it appears that there's now some discussion about having a stability index that's different or additional," he told the Chicago Tribune. "We would certainly welcome that."

Organizers say 355 boats and roughly 3,500 crew members took part in the annual race, which finishes off Mackinac Island in the straits where Lakes Michigan and Huron meet. The first race was in 1898, and organizers began holding it every year starting in 1921.

The U.S. Sailing report praised WingNuts' crew and the boat's preparation before the storm, and it also praised the crew of Sociable, the boat that rescued WingNuts' survivors and coordinated the search and rescue.

The Charlevoix County medical examiner determined that Morley and Makowski-Bickel drowned after severe head trauma made them incapable of saving themselves. Earlier this month, county Sheriff Don Schneider said his 11-week investigation found that the crew acted properly and no one was at fault in the accident. Although in his report Schneider said sailing officials will need to evaluate the appropriate use of personal flotation devices and tethers, the U.S. Sailing report concluded those devices were not factors in the deaths.

The report will also be studied by Detroit's Bayview Yacht Club and could bring changes to another race next summer, the Beer Bayview Mackinac Race, which runs up Lake Huron from Port Huron to Mackinac Island, according to 2012 race chairman Greg Thomas.

"I am sure we're going to have requirements about stability and righting moment and who we permit to race," Thomas told the Detroit Free Press. "Whatever we have to do to improve the safety of our race, I can promise you it will get done. It's not going to go ignored."

Thomas said such accidents have inevitably led to safety improvements in the sport of sailing.

"How many hundreds of boats have sailed in the 190 Mackinac races these two lakes have put on over the years, and this was the first fatality," Thomas said. "Something's been working right."

Pet ownership means tough choices

A LOOK AT LIFE

Gayle Gennett

Owning a pet brings with it heartfelt decisions, one of which is when to end your pet's life when it is seriously ill. After listening to others when faced with this dilemma, I've decided my topic this week is to assist pet owners in making this decision. I've owned myriad animals in my lifetime, from goldfish to goldfinches, lizards to lame ducks, goats to galloping horses, canines to felines too numerous to mention, but all having a special place in my heart.

Owning a pet teaches us many of life's lessons including responsibility, patience, humor, confidence, camaraderie and lastly compassion. My dad taught me about funerals through my pets, and my brief period farming taught me to look at livestock differently and not to become too attached. But I am just too impressionable so, I still eat more vegetables than meat or fowl so I won't think of a pair of soulful eyes are looking back at me from my entrée. I can still recall the elegant restaurant in Southfield where the walls were lined with enormous aquariums filled with tropical fish. How could I order something off the menu that used to have gills when their distant relatives were looking at me?

In the past when our pets were suffering, we met with a veterinarian who euthanized them and then we brought them home to be buried in the back yard. Time passed and as we aged we have found ourselves wanting our creatures closer to us. The remains of our pets from the last 10 years have been cremated and housed in a large, garden kitchen window. This area also includes photos of previous animals we have owned since childhood. Because of its location, it looks like pet cemetery meets country spice rack. During the holidays I am quick to remind family that the jars will not be added to the stock simmering on the stove.

The reasons to put a pet down may vary but the most common would be to end their suffering from a terminal illness. Eating may have stopped and taking in liquids slows down. It's helpful to keep a pet diary recording the amount of food ingested each day and behavior changes. This will give you a better idea of how your pet is doing and may convince you to act with your mind versus your heart if things are not getting any better. Your pet may have a cough and you can list how many times a day they cough. They may refuse going for a walk or not respond when called. Many of us feel we can't say goodbye but we need to realize that putting your pet to sleep is an act of mercy.

There are also reasons not to put a pet down. The showcase pet that is no longer able to produce pups, adding new animals to your household and feeling you have too many , having to relocate where animals aren't allowed or a dispute in a divorce may inspire putting a pet down to get back at a spouse. All of these are reasons for finding your pet a new home, not putting them down. Some of the best pets have been acquired from the situations I've listed. When considering adopting a pet be ready to accept all that goes with it as dogs live 12 or more years, cats 16 or more and a horse into their late 20's.

Pets are companions and guardians who provide comfort, therapy, a listening ear, a voice that doesn't talk back and a look that expresses devotion. They may be soft and warm, slithery and sleek, cuddly and curly, feathery or smooth. They sneak into our lives during childhood and remain in our hearts forever.

LETTERS to the editor

Submarine vets say 'Thank you'

The members of the Michigan Submarine Veterans of World War II and members of the Michigan Submarine Veterans Inc. wish to thank the City of Charlevoix and its citizens for extending their warm welcome on the weekend of Oct. 22.

We especially want to thank the Argonne Supper Club for their outstanding food, the Weathervane Terrace for their friendly staff and great accomodations, The Villager Pub for its world-class whitefish, Oleson's Food Stores for their donations, John and June Cross for unbelievable smoked whitefish and whitefish pâté and the Charlevoix Elks Lodge 2856 for a great breakfast. We want to single out the members of the Charlevoix Leslie T. Shapton American Legion Post for taking the time from their busy Saturday afternoon to provide and honor guard. The honor guard presented colors and a three-volley salute, for out tolling of the bell at the Escolar (SS-294) memorial in East Park. Each toll of the bell is for one for the 52 boats lost during World War II and four boats lost post World War II.

We can't thank you enough for the kindness you have extended to us.

John Hess

counter-sued seeking repayment of the money it claims Veryser took.

Veryser claims she was forced to resign from her position in March "in response to threats and intimidation of various supervisors all of whom were (diocese) employees."

In her suit Veryser claims that prior to her resignation, her supervisors accused her of "utilizing funds from the enrichment program for her personal benefit and threatened her with public exposure and prosecution if she did not resign immediately."

Veryser goes on to claim that the conduct which was the basis of the diocese officials' accusations had been authorized by her immediate supervisor and had been reviewed in audits by the diocese done in the two preceding years "without complaint or comment."

In the suit, Veryser claims diocese officials told her that if she resigned immediately, there would be no further consequences, but if she fought the allegations, the matter would be reported to the police and become public.

However, Veryser claims after her resignation, the diocese "intensified its investigation, reported it to the police and broadcasted their allegations throughout segments of the community."

Veryser claims that she was made to be a "scapegoat" for shoddy bookkeeping practices set up by her supervisors prior to her arrival.

The civil case is currently scheduled for an eight day jury trial set to begin on April 11, 2012.

Messages left late Monday seeking comment from Veryser's attorney Bryan Klawuhn and with the Diocese of Gaylord were not returned before press time Tuesday.

LOOKING BACK…

The buildings shown here were some of the earliest constructed in Pine River/Charlevoix. They constituted what might be termed "Old Town." From left, beside the bridge: Sam Rose's barber shop (Sam was formerly a professional deep-sea diver who never liked to be photographed), Bonthron's Plumbing and Heating (moved to Antrim Street in 1941 where it became John Mol's plumbing shop), Fred Myer's cigar and newspaper store (the first wood building on Bridge Street,1868, originally Amos Fox and Hiram Rose's "Mammoth" store of general merchandise), the road down to the dock, a small building that was once Pauline Hamlin's hat shop, the Charlevoix Sentinel newspaper building from 1876 to the late 1930s, and the state liquor store, once Gellick's saloon. All were purchased and removed by the state in late 1941 to make way for construction of a new bridge. But Pearl Harbor and World War II intervened in December. The lots sat vacant for almost six more years until the present bridge did start to go up in 1947. Today, Bridge Park occupies this land.

This image is one of 850 in the Charlevoix Historical Society's new DVD titled "Charlevoix, Michigan — A Pictorial Journey through 16 Decades." See anybody you know?

The Charlevoix Historical Society recently received this photograph of the 1939 kindergarten class showing the fishpond and playhouse that were in the kindergarten room of the old school on Grant Street, now the library's Belvedere Room housing newspapers and periodicals. Many of these students went on to graduate in 1952. Only two have been positively identified (Elizabeth "Betty" Gill and Ralph "Bruzz" Cross). Charlevoix Historical Society officials are asking anyone who can identify people in the photo to call the society at (231) 547-0373 or come to the museum at 103 State St., Tuesday-Saturday between 1-4 p.m.

OBITUARIES

Betty Gretchen Rondell, 86

Betty Gretchen Rondell, 86, was born in Mansfield, Ohio on Oct. 13, 1925 of Florence and Aaron Pfleiderer. She graduated from Mansfield High School in 1943 and received her bachelor's degree in physical education from Miami University of Ohio in 1947. She began teaching in Jackson, Mich. and married Paul Rondell on June 24, 1950. While Paul completed his studies they moved to Willow Run, Mich where their two children Mark and Rachel were born. Paul joined the faculty of the University of Michigan and they resided in Ann Arbor for the following 20 years. Betty devoted her time to faculty womens' clubs, International Neighbors, and her many sports activities including skating and tennis. During this period they lived abroad for one year in Switzerland and one year in Spain. In 1973 they moved to their ski cabin in Brutus and began spending winters in Snowmass, Colo. Betty enjoyed working in a mountain top restaurant and commuting to and from her workplace on skiis. In the early 1980s they moved back to Michigan and purchased a sailboat on which they traveled the Trent –Severn Waterway, the Erie Canal, Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway and the Florida coasts. In the 1990s she continued her active lifestyle participating in a local tennis group for more than 20 years and skiing. Betty survived two bouts with cancer and finally succumbed to peripheral vascular disorder.

She is survived by her husband Paul, son Mark Rondel of Harbor Springs, and grandchildren Luke Rondel of New York City and Cassandra Rondel Asencio of Scottsdale, Ariz.; and daughter Rachel Rondell of Berryville, Va. and grandchildren Janet George of Richmond, Va. and Caroline George of Berryville, Va.

Burial, including a graveside, service took place in the Mennonite Cemetery on Brutus Road.

Evaluating aging priorities

Commission on Aging officials say deficit spending must end

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

Programs for senior citizens will soon be overhauled by Charlevoix County officials, an effort to reel in what's become a non-sustainable budget model.

The Charlevoix County Commission on Aging annually spends more than it receives through taxes, grants and donations, often by well more than $300,000. Each year that shortfall is covered by the public agency's fund balance, an account that may diminish from its current $1.2 million to nothing within three years if major budget practices aren't pursued, Charlevoix County Commission on Aging executive director Jack Messer, agency executive director said.

"This is the train wreck ... I saw coming," he said.

Messer, who the county board of commissioners hired in March last year, laid out the financial conundrum to the county board and more than 30 seniors in the audience during Thursday's two hour committee of the whole meeting at Charlevoix Public Library. He also presented a report from recent senior focus group sessions designed to determine both the current senior population's and the baby boomer generation's needs and interests.

The hope is for officials to better understand what senior preferences are as they examine how to balance the budget, Messer said.

"Unfortunately we do not have unlimited funding, which means we are going to have to change things," he said.

Two primary options are to raise revenues through an increased millage rate or cut expenditures. Voters will have to approve any tax hike — limited by law to no more than 1-mill — while less expenses will mean either fewer services or no longer offering them all for free.

Messer

"I don't believe there is anything else we can trim without making significant changes," Messer said.

The agency currently provides nearly two dozen services, including congregate meals, foot care, transportation, home-delivered meals, medication management, bathing and hygiene assistance, in-home respite care, among others. Services recently cut include at-home snow removal and lawn mowing, an effort to reduce non-essential services from the budget, Messer said.

"No agency can be all things to all people," he said.

Current trends show in-home care requests are on the rise and senior center attendance consistently declines. Closing all four senior centers would plug the hole in the budget, but Messer said it's important not to abandon current seniors who benefit from those facilities in Boyne City, Charlevoix, East Jordan and on Beaver Island, even as their numbers dwindle.

"The next (senior) generation is not identifying with the senior center model," Messer said.

What the focus group report shows is that baby boomers likely won't use senior centers as they currently exist and even take offense to the term "senior," Messer said — a word that carries a negative connotation for them. Baby boomers are generally considered those currently less than 70 years old.

The agency's recent study shows they will also prefer a multi-generational social club atmosphere to the current cafeteria-style group meal program at the county's senior centers, he said.

> "This is the train wreck ... I saw coming."
> - Jack Messer, agency executive director

However, one thing is universal for all; maintaining independence is a top priority and available in-home services will remain key in the equation, the report shows.

Senior Gloria Anderson, an active participant at the Boyne City Senior Center, attended the presentation and afterward said she's optimistic county leaders will remedy the financial situation and taxpayers may be willing to help more, too.

"It's going to take a lot of work and compromise and we may have to go back to the voters. I think they will help in solving the problem," she said.

Agency board member Ward Cook also attended the session and said he believes seniors who can afford to pay for services should. He also hopes voters will support an increased millage, if asked, Cook said.

County commissioners agreed they have much to think about and some tough decisions ahead.

Chris Christensen, of Boyne City, reminded the crowd that the commission on aging's millage will come up for renewal within a year. He also said it likely will take more than one approach to fix the financial mess.

"It's going to be some sort of a compromise to make it effective. I think the voters will be looking for a solid plan," he said.

Commissioner Ron Reinhardt, of Wilson Township, agreed with Christensen that it may take a "little bit" of all the possible approaches to rein in the senior programs budget. But he's not yet ready to decide how.

"I've got to think about it some more," Reinhardt said.

The issue will be re-visited at the next board personnel committee meeting at 9:30 a.m. Nov. 16, officials said.

School board candidates offer similar views

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

About 40 people, many of them high school students, heard first-hand last week from the two men vying for one available school board seat about how each candidate views the challenges facing schools.

Incumbent Bo Boss (whose name appears as Dale Boss on the ballot and challenger Dick Smith (whose name appears as Richard Smith on the ballot) answered questions from an audience gathered at the Charlevoix Public Library Thursday for a candidates forum hosted by the Friends of the Library organization. The election for a four-year term on the Charlevoix Public Schools Board of Education will take place as part of the Nov. 8 general election.

Boss, 55, has served on the school board since 2007 and is currently the board's vice president. Boss is a Charlevoix High School graduate, and lifelong Charlevoix resident whose family ties to the area go back four generations. He is a master craftsman and owner of Bo Boss & Son Construction and has been a state licensed builder since 1978. Boss has also served as the general manager of the city's Mount McSauba Recreation Area since 1976. He has also managed various family owned businesses 1973 to present. He has had extensive involvement with the schools and community over the years, including in leadership roles with the Keep Charlevoix Beautiful organization.

Joseph, 54, grew up in Grayling where his family has lived since 1835. After high school he earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and his law degree from the Detroit College of Law.

After law school, Joseph practiced in the Detroit area for two years and moved to Charlevoix in 1988.

Joseph became active in the community through the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce, serving on its board for six years, and as its president for three of those years. In the early 1990s he initiated the "Ambassador" arm of the chamber and was the recipient of the chamber's first "Ambassador of the Year Award." He also was instrumental in the millage campaign that funded the new high school.

Not surprisingly, many of the questions at the forum centered around budget concerns that every school district around the state is facing.

— How do you cut the budget and still maintain a quality education?

Both men agreed that the district as been proactive when it comes to trimming its budget and that there is little left to be cut.

Boss noted that the district has reduced its staff by about 35 percent in recent years and still has been able to maintain a high level of academic performance. He attributed that success to hard work on the part of staff and the technology bond that was past a few years back.

Joseph said the budget crisis has been a long time coming and, "we're at rock bottom." He suggested there might be some savings to be found if districts around the county looked at ways to consolidate some of their administrative functions.

— Besides the budget, what is the most important issue facing the district right now?

Again both Boss and Joseph agreed — a pending overhaul of the district's student handbook poses a lot of difficult questions especially about discipline. Should first time offenders for drinking, for instance, be required to attend substance abuse counseling? What about incidents that happen in the summer? were a couple of questions Boss highlighted. Joseph added "Should a first offense mean a student must miss 30 percent of an extra-curricular season?"

"I think if a student gets into trouble they should be forced to be in extra-curricular activities," Joseph said.

— What are your thoughts on privatization (of staff)?

Both men said they are generally against it, but would be willing to consider it for support staff if it meant significant savings and would prevent further cuts in the classroom.

"I've always been a strong proponent against privatizing, but also we want to try to keep as much money in the classroom as possible — (support staff) do have a big impact on student, but we have to maintain our core classes."

Joseph added, "The problem I have is once you go down that road, you start to lose control of quality. It would have to be a significant cost savings."

— How should we deal with declining enrollment?

Both men agreed that marketing should be a key component of the district's efforts to attract new students.

— What can the community do to better support the schools?

"Just become more involved," Boss said. "Come to school board meetings, come to the school and volunteer. All of our aides have been let go."

Joseph agreed volunteerism is important, but he'd like to see business organizations such as the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce become more involved in promoting the schools.

Both Boss and Joseph said they are against random drug testing of students and both think the change the high school made from a block scheduling format to a trimester format last school year was a positive change for students in the district.

Both also said they would be opposed to merging the district into two buildings — a measure that has been discussed and studied by school officials as a cost-cutting measure.

Asked about their views on online classes both said they feel the classes have their place, but they shouldn't replace actual classes with teachers.

"If it's done correctly, I'm in favor of it," Boss said. "There needs to be follow-up. There's nothing like a teacher in a classroom."

Joseph said he often works with young people in his legal practice who don't go to school and don't have contact with teachers or other kids. "On the other hand, you can't do anything anymore without a diploma. If it's the only way to get it, I'm not going to say 'no,'" Joseph said.

The men concluded the event saying they wish to serve on the school board because they want to give back to the community.

Hospital unveils latest CT scanner tech

Charlevoix Area Hospital has become is the first hospital in Michigan to acquire the latest in CT diagnostic technology.

The new GE Optima CT660 was installed Tuesday, Oct. 18, at Charlevoix Area Hospital, and it is currently available for scans. Hospital officials said this advanced CT scanner is the newest from GE, and it offers improved image performance, workflow, and low-dose scanning, which will help doctors at the hospital make better diagnoses.

"Charlevoix Area Hospital is committed to providing high quality services to this community and top-of-the-line equipment to meet the needs of area patients," said Jennifer Cunningham, lead CT technologist at the hospital. "I am incredibly pleased with this equipment and the capabilities it offers our doctors and patients."

CT scans are used to diagnose serious illness or injury especially when the cause or symptoms are not easily detectable with a conventional physical exam. One key feature of the Optima 660 is that it provides exceptional diagnostic imaging while reducing radiation dosage. Hospital officials said the dosage is up to 40 percent lower than the previous technology, with improved image clarity and resolution. Low dose scanning is especially beneficial for women who may be or may become pregnant, patients requiring repeat CT exams, and children. The hospital already follows the "Image Gently" pediatrics dosing protocol, which monitors and reduces the radiation dosage given to children receiving scans. The new equipment will lower that dose even more.

Another new feature is the "Dose Check" technology that will help technologists manage the amount of radiation given to patients. "Dose Check" notifies and alerts CT users prior to scanning if the estimated dose is above set values. Additionally, the technology requires user authority checks and it enables specifically-defined pediatric and adult alert values.

The equipment also includes pre-set protocols for trauma situations which will allow hospital staff to scan patients more quickly than previously. In addition, they can provide same day results for other CT services including CT angiography (renal, carotid, mesenteric, aorta run-offs), advanced vessel analysis, brain perfusion, and lung nodule analysis.

"This technology was introduced a few years ago in Europe, but was only recently approved for use in the U.S. We were due to renew our contract or upgrade our equipment, and this was a perfect opportunity to acquire this new system," said Joe Schodde, vice president of finance for the hospital. "This means better imaging capabilities and better safeguards for our patients' health."

The Optima CT660 is a 64-slice scanner and is also among the world's most energy efficient CT systems, using approximately 60 percent less energy than the previous scanner. It can also offer more detailed images of patients up to 500 lbs., and, it has faster scan times and a 12-inch display screen that shows relaxing videos or cartoons to increase patient comfort during the exam.

Hospital officials said the new equipment allows the hospital to provide the highest quality images and technology to Northern Michigan in a relaxed, friendly environment. The department goal is to provide an environment that is as stress free as possible and imaging technology that is second to none, hospital officials said.

For more information about CT services at Charlevoix Area Hospital, visit the hospital's website at www.cah.org or call (231) 547-4024.

Winter farmers market kicks off this week

The first of the nine regularly scheduled Winter Farmers Markets will begin Thursday, Nov. 3.

The Charlevoix Winter Farmers Market will take place indoors at the Charlevoix Public Library the first Thursday of every month from 10 a.m.-2 p.m., November through May. In addition to the regularly scheduled markets, there will also be two holiday markets, one right before Thanksgiving on Nov. 21, and one on Dec. 22, just before Christmas.

More than 20 Northern Michigan farmers and vendors will be present offering fresh meat, cheese, bread, baked goods, dried and frozen fruit, holiday items including wreaths, garland and pumpkins, honey, maple syrup, beef jerky, frozen produce, canned items, fresh apples, squash, greenhouse tomatoes and a variety of fresh greens.

Various special events are planned throughout the winter months, including food tastings and demonstrations, health screenings, and family activities.

For more information about the Winter Farmers Market, contact Bethany Pearson at the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce by calling (231) 547-2101 or e-mailing manager@charlevoix.org.

Chamber of the Year, again

Charlevoix Area Chamber takes top honors for second year in a row

On Thursday, Oct. 27, the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce was awarded, for the second year in a row, the honor of being named Michigan's mid-sized Chamber of the Year at the annual Michigan Association of Chamber Professionals Leadership Conference which took place at the Boyne Mountain Mountain Grand Lodge in Boyne Falls.

"The Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce received this award based on its accomplishments in leadership and governance, financial stewardship, business advocacy and member programming," said Bob Thomas, director for the Michigan Association of Chamber Professionals.

Although presented in October of 2011, the award recognizes efforts by chambers of commerce in 2010.

Among the chamber's noted achievements were its significant membership increase, dedication to education through the facilitation of candidate forums, and incorporation of a new membership orientation program.

"We are thrilled to have received this prestigious honor a second year in a row," said chamber president Erin Bemis. "It is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the staff and leadership from our board of directors. It really is very exciting. We love what we do, which is supporting our members, and it is nice to be recognized for our efforts."

The Outstanding Chamber of Commerce award is presented to one chamber of commerce in each of three membership categories (small, mid-size and large chambers of commerce) and based on a comprehensive application judged by chamber of commerce professionals from seven regional states including Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Minnesota, Ohio, Oklahoma and Wisconsin. Applicants must demonstrate quality, innovation, and effectiveness of programming in the areas of leadership and governance, finance, business advocacy and programming/membership development.

The highest scoring applications receive the annual award. The award is modeled after the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Accreditation process for recognizing best industry practices.

The association also presented 2011 Outstanding Chamber of Commerce awards to the Kalamazoo Area Chamber of Commerce in the Large Chamber category and the Greenville Area Chamber of Commerce in the Small Category.

The Michigan Association of Chamber Professionals is the industry association for more than 270 chambers in Michigan. Its mission is to build excellence in chambers of commerce through organizational and board-level resource support, professional development for chamber staff and to promote the image of chambers of commerce across the state.

School, police to host drug forum

Charlevoix Public Schools working together with area law enforcement and substance abuse officials will host a "Community Forum for Adults Who Care," an informational session about drug use at 7 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 7, at the Charlevoix High School auditorium.

The event will feature presentations and discussions including facts on drug and alcohol use in the region, trends teens are experimenting with, information on community resources and how to get involved in addressing drug and alcohol problems among teens.

Officials expected to attend include Charlevoix County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Shaynee Fanara, Charlevoix County Undersheriff Chuck Vondra, and Scott Kelly with Bay Area Substance Education Services (BASES).

Child care services will be available through the high school's National Honor Society chapter.

In a recent letter to parents, Charlevoix County Sheriff Don Schneider said law enforcement continue to battle what her called an "epidemic" of illegal drug use and sales in the area.

Schneider

"We've received information that there is a very serious problem concerning illegal narcotics in the high schools within Charlevoix County ... This issue of illegal drugs is not only a law enforcement problem, but a community health issue as well," Schneider wrote.

He added: "This office is concerned about the amount of heroin that has infiltrated our county ... This concern is on top of our concerns involving prescription drugs such as OxyContin, Vicodin and other controlled substances."

"Each on of us shares in the responsibility to protect all children in our care," he concludes.

Nationwide Emergency Alert System Test set for Nov. 9

The Federal Emergency Management Agency, in coordination with the Federal Communications Commission and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, will conduct the first nationwide Emergency Alert System Test on Nov. 9, at 2 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Officials said the purpose of the test is to assess the readiness and effectiveness of the Emergency Alert System and identify incremental improvements .

Although the Emergency Alert System is frequently used by state and local governments to send weather alerts and other emergencies, there has never been a national activation of the system.

Federal officials said the plan for improving the alert system is incremental, with the test serving as the first step. Officials said the test is not a pass or fail measure. The test may look like regular, local Emergency Alert System tests that most people are already familiar with, but there will be some differences in what viewers will see and hear.

Typical tests only activate on one or two channels or radio frequencies at a time. This test will activate all Emergency Alert System stations (television, cable, satellite, and radio) at the same time, interrupting programming throughout the country. The audio message will repeat "This is a test." The video message scroll may not indicate "This is a test." The message will last for approximately three minutes and then regular programming will resume.

Officials said it is not necessary to contacting 9-1-1 centers regarding the test. Future testing of the system will assess the effectiveness and reliability of other technologies to achieve the ultimate goal of timely alert and warning to the public in the preservation of life and property.

For additional information, contact the Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet County Office of Emergency Management at (231)-439-3306 or eoc@cceoem.net.

Recycling bylaws adopted on split vote

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

Charlevoix County Recycling Committee members now have bylaws under which to operate, but approval of the document didn't come without disagreement.

County commissioners approved the document on Wednesday, Oct. 26, in a 4-2 split vote. Commissioners Shirlene Tripp, of Hayes Township, and Bob Drebenstedt, of Marion Township, voted against the bylaws because they wanted to go with a suggestion made by recycling committee member Nancy Ferguson.

The point of contention involved how many committee members get to cast decision-making votes.

Ferguson

Ferguson spoke during the public comment period and said she and others on the recycling committee would prefer 12 voting members and no per diem payments for any members, rather than the proposed — and now approved — seven voting members with the possibility for some per diem payments.

"Our members would rather have the right to vote than to take per diems," Ferguson said.

Both Tripp and Drebenstedt said they fear some recycling committee members will resign as a result of the new bylaws that call for seven members, rather than the preferred dozen

"I know they aren't going to be happy We're going to lose some of these good working members." Tripp said

Drebenstedt echoed her thoughts.

"There are people who are on recycling right now who told me if they can't be a part of voting they're going to get off the recycling committee," he said.

Twelve voting members and no per diem payments would help foster cohesiveness on the public committee, Drebenstedt said.

The committee is permitted to develop sub-committees for various purposes and seat representatives from beyond the seven-member group, said commissioner Rich Gillespie, of Beaver Island.

Commissioner Ron Reinhardt, of Wilson Township, said he supported Ferguson's suggestion, but changed his opinion after commissioner Chris Christensen withdrew his support for Reinhardt's motion.

"I think seven members is adequate," said Christensen, of Boyne City.

Reinhardt's second motion was to adopt the proposed bylaws as presented.

Drebenstedt

Commissioner Joel Evans, board chairman from South Arm Township, said commissioners should look again at the number of members on the recycling committee

"They just kicked the can down the road," Drebenstedt said.

Meanwhile, county commissioners unanimously approved a contract for asphalt and cement work for a relocated recycling site in Charlevoix. The $38,900 job went to Swanson K&D, of Charlevoix.

The existing site at the sheriff's office will be moved to the other side of the building, off of Grant Street.

CROSS COUNTRY

Another double-dip

Both Rayder teams finish second at regionals, state finals await

STEVE FOLEY
SPORTS WRITER

BENZONIA — For the second time in as many weeks, the Charlevoix Rayder boys and girls cross country teams bested perennial Lake Michigan Conference powerhouse Harbor Springs as both Rayder teams clinched berths Saturday in the Division III state cross country finals Saturday, Nov. 5.

It marks the first time since 2004 that both Charlevoix squads have qualified together.

Both teams finished runner-up to host Benzie Central in Saturday's regional. The previous Saturday, both Rayder cross country teams out-paced Harbor Springs to win their respective conference titles.

"It was one of those days where we didn't have anyone run poorly," Charlevoix girls' coach Mary Plude said. "It all went as planned."

The Benzie boys finished with 60 points, while the Rayders finished with, 92; and Kingsley was third with 93. Mason Country Central was fourth, 110; while Harbor Springs was fifth, 136.

The Benzie girls, who are ranked first in the state coaches poll, finished with 40 points, followed by the Rayders, 67; Harbor Springs, 73; Manistee, 87; and Mason County Central, 135.

Mason County Central sophomore Chase Barnett won the boys' race in 15 minutes, 47.40 seconds, while senior Kelly Schubert of Manistee won the girls' race in 17:36.94. The top 15 finishers in each race earned all-region honors. Any runner finishing in the top 15 on a non-state-qualifying team also earns a trip to the finals at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn.

For the Charlevoix girls, who are ranked 10th, freshman Amber Way was a team-best sixth, 18:44.91; while junior Olivia Certa was eighth, 19:00.66; and senior Molly Jeakle was ninth, 19:04.47.

Also for the Charlevoix girls, senior Annie Dipert was 13th, 19:30.13; followed by sophomore Caroline Boss, 32nd, 21:11.87; Stirling Witthoeft, 38th, 21:51.39; and senior Jane Balasz, 42nd, 22:05.58.

"The kids did what they were supposed to do and I knew at about the two-mile mark or with about 1,000 meters to go we'd be in," Plude said. "I just tried to relax them and push them each individually. It was great to be able to congratulate them at the finish line. I've only been able to do that one other time."

Plude lauded the efforts of all her runners, including her top two in Way and Certa who ran tactical races.

"They like to go out fast and I had to tell them the couldn't because all the other teams were going to go out quickly," Plude said. "The front line was Harbor, Benzie and Manistee and they sat behind them and didn't really get into the top 10 until about a mile and three quarters. They were very patient, they took the second half of the race and drove it home. They did a really great job of doing what was best for the team."

Plude said the senior leadership and experience played a huge role for the Rayders.

"They (seniors) talked about the hardships and we laughed about it and we said we weren't going to let it happen," Plude said. "We were going to make it happen and we wanted to be in charge."

For the Charlevoix boys, senior Kirk Achayra finished a team-best fourth in 16:18.54, while senior Andrew Plude was 21st, 17:12.49; sophomore Jackson Buday, 22nd, 17:13.70; and Nicholas Plude, 23rd, 17:22.85.

Also for the Charlevoix boys, senior William Jeakle was 27th, 17:30.61, sophomore Tristen Rudolph, 37th, 17:54.95; and senior Alex Gooch, 42nd, 18:02.56.

"Ken (Plude) was really pleased, especially with the race Kirk put together," Mary Plude said. "I've never scene (Archayra) put together such a complete race. He just kept moving up and up, he went to the front and just remained very relaxed and focused.

"All the guys had a strategy individually and they stuck to their game plan."

Mary Plude said perhaps the Rayder most courageous runner was Gooch, who ran despite a painful back injury.

"He (Gooch) ran the entire thing in pain," Plude said. "For him to run what he ran was really something. He was grimacing the whole race, but there's just something inside that boy and he was able to overcome everything he was dealing with.

"Afterwards, he (Gooch) said to Ken (Plude) this was the best team he's ever been on and it meant everything to him that they qualified for the state meet. It really is the greatest team from top to bottom and I know Ken's had a wonderful time watching them grow."

The Harbor Springs girls, ranked No. 9 in the Division III state coaches poll, were led by junior Rhi Cullip, who finished a team-best fourth in 18:39.91. Senior Maddie Buntin placed 14th in 19:34.73; while freshman Charlotte Cullip was 15th, 19:35.00.

"The key for us was we got four runners in the top 20, which made us kind of relaxed," Harbor girls' coach Emily Kloss said. "I think the word of the day was relief. Once we saw the girls qualified and when was saw Ben (Kloss) and Michael (Sutton) made it, it was relief. We were able to achieve our two goals.

"There were a lot of tough teams there and you look at Benzie Central, Charlevoix and Harbor, those three schools have a lot of state championship combined. Those are three powerhouse teams, so you're pleased to be able to run in the state meet."

For the Harbor boys, seniors Michael Sutton and Ben Kloss each qualified for the state meet as individuals as Sutton finished a team-best seventh, 16:26.86; while Kloss was 13th, 16:34.31.

"We were expecting Ben (Kloss) and Michael (Sutton) to qualify and we were also hoping for a little more," Harbor boys' coach Mike Kloss said. "My hat goes off to Benzie Central, Charlevoix and Kingsley. They all ran tough and I thought we ran tough as well up front."

East Jordan sophomore Josh Wojan also qualified for the state meet individually as he was 11th in 16:33.17. Other East Jordan runners: senior Luke Hawley, 17th, 16:50.55; senior Tyler Nachazel, 29th, 17:33.75; freshman Gabe Hawley, 41st, 18:01.03; senior Tyler Galmore, 50th, 18:15.00; senior Rob Nemecek, 73rd, 19:49.83; and junior Alex Moses, 74th, 20:07.29.

The Red Devils finished sixth as a team with 141 points.

VOLLEYBALL

Conference champs!

Varsity Rayders tops in league, now eye districts

After clinching the league championship last week on the final game of the regular season, the Charlevoix Rayder varsity volleyball team took its first step toward defending its district title Monday.

After stumbling early both Charlevoix and Boyne City battled back to earn four-set wins Monday in their Class C district opening matches at the East Jordan High School gym to advance to the semifinal round, Tuesday.

In the opening match, Boyne City topped host East Jordan, 25-14, 19-25, 25-14, 25-20; while the Rayders defeated Elk Rapids, 23-25, 25-17, 25-14, 25-12.

On Tuesday, Charlevoix — the defending district champions — was slated to face Mancelona at 7:30 p.m., while Boyne City was scheduled to play Harbor Springs at 6 p.m. The district championship match is scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 3, at the East Jordan High School gym.

"We'll just go in and play one play at a time," Charlevoix coach Liz Shaw said. "We'll work hard and play hard on our side of the court."

After dropping the first set to the Elks on Monday behind a combination of hitting errors, passing errors and serving mistakes, the Rayders rebounded to win the next three.

"I thought Elk Rapids played really well to start," Shaw said. "We had some uncharacteristic errors and the girls just really needed to pick up their mental focus. The main thing we focused on was the fundamentals, once you do that everything else will take care of itself."

Senior setter Jenna Way paced the Rayders, 44-4-3 overall, as she finished with 29 assists, 11 kills, seven digs, two blocks and two aces, while senior Megan Peters added 11 kills and three blocks.

Also for the Rayders, freshman Madeline Boss added nine kills, while junior Karley Pearsall had seven kills and five blocks and senior Kelsey Way had seven digs, three aces and three blocks. Senior Chelsie Hoffman finished with nine digs and five aces, while senior Madison Zimmerman had seven digs.

"After taking the second game, we carried over the momentum from that game onto the third and fourth," Shaw said. "We've lost just four games all year and in each of those games it was the little things and our mental focus."

The district win Monday came on the heels of a win over Kalkaska at home Thursday which — with a little help from Elk Rapids — clinched the league title for the Rayders.

The Rayders defeated Kalkaska, 25-7, 25-13, 25-8, in their Lake Michigan Conference and regular season finale Thursday and earned the Lake Michigan Conference title outright after Grayling fell to Elk Rapids in their league finale.

The Rayders,finished the regular season at 43-4-6 overall and 13-1 in the league, while Grayling finished at 12-2 with their lone league losses coming to the Rayders and to the Elks.

"It was nice," Charlevoix coach Liz Shaw said. "We've been through a lot of adversity this year and we still managed to come out on top."

Senior setter Jenna Way paced the Rayders as she finished with 21 assists, six digs, four kills and two aces, while Madeline Boss added 12 kills and Megan Peters finished with eight kills. Also for the Rayders, Anna Way had five kills and two blocks, Kelsey Way was 7-of-7 on serve receive and had three kills and Kelly Greyerbiehl had eight digs. Cassidy Peebles had six aces, Chelsie Hoffman added five digs and Maddie Zimmerman finished with four aces.

"It was a great night for our seniors," Shaw said. "It was their last regular season home game and I thought the senior have been leading all season. It was great for them to wrap it up on a positive note and they all (Greyerbiehl, Hoffman, Kelsey Way, Zimmerman, Peters, Jenna Way) were on the floor together for the final point."

"I feel pretty confident and the girls are working just as hard as they were on the first day of practice," Shaw said. "We still have three weeks ahead of us, that's the way we're looking at it and we're just going to take it day-by-day.

"We are really shooting for quarterfinals which would be on our home floor in two and a half weeks," Shaw said. "We really want to get there and play on our home floor."

Charlevoix also won the JV match over Kalkaska, 25-20, 25-16, 15-12. For the Rayders, Jennaca Holcheck had six aces, five digs and three kills, while Kelsey Pischner added eight aces and three digs. Also for Charlevoix, who close a 21-9-3 season, Jessica Paramos had seven assists and was 100 percent serving, while Madi Carey added four kills.

Open arms, open hearts

Orphan Sunday to highlight need for adoptive parents

ANNE KELLY
SPECIAL TO THE COURIER

The Charlevoix Ministerial Association is hoping that an upcoming event will help shed light on the plight of orphan children and the need for adoptive parents.

The association will host an event at [illegible] p.m. on Sunday, Nov. [illegible], at the Assembly of God Church on M-66 south of Charlevoix in honor of Orphan Sunday.

Orphan Sunday is national campaign by the Christian Alliance for Orphans. The organization unites more than one hundred respected Christian organizations and a national network of churches. Its mission is one of inspiring adoption and foster care, of equipping those who choose to do so with support and resources, and of connecting interested volunteers with all the contacts and information necessary for them to successfully adopt, become foster parents or become advocates either domestically or globally.

Jan Biddick, a volunteer for the Christian Alliance for Orphans and Bethany Christian Services, has been a member of the planning committee for the event.

"The Charlevoix Ministerial Association stands with over 1,200 churches worldwide in offering Orphan events during the month of November," she said. "The event will feature an international webcast, a community-wide hour of guided worship and prayer for the Cause of the Orphan. Following the webcast and a local program, refreshments will be served and informational tables on global adoption, domestic adoption, foster care and child sponsorship will be available. Here are some local examples of these types of adoption or childcare situations:

Global Adoption

A young Charlevoix couple, Candice and Aaron Wiers, are in the process of making their international adoption dream a reality. They hope to expand their family, which presently includes 2 and a half year old daughter Addy, by embracing an orphan from Ethiopia. By doing so the Wiers believe they will be committing to a call to care for the ever growing number of neglected or abandoned children of the world.

"I had it in my heart, long before Addy was born, to adopt," Candice Wiers said.

She said it was a personal calling, nurtured by the inspirational stories of others in her church. She knew she was ready, but it took a little longer and a bit of serendipity to get her husband, Aaron, on the same page.

"It was Mother's Day, and we were tossing around the idea of going out to breakfast. For some reason we can't explain, we changed our minds at the last minute and decided to go to church." That decision proved to be the pivotal point for bringing Aaron on board wholeheartedly. At the service that Sunday, Mabel and Brian Carson, also of Charlevoix, shared their personal adoption story. The Carson's, a blended family of her own, his own and three adopted children, have walked the walk. Of their three adoptions one was domestic and two were international, one from Liberia and the other from Ethiopia. As they spoke about their experience, they included a video which captures the moment of meeting and receiving their child from an Ethiopian orphanage. The Wiers were equally touched by the presentation, and on that Mother's Day committed to initiating their own adoption. Now, with all the paperwork and preliminary formalities in place, they are anxiously awaiting confirmation of their request for the infant that will be a sibling for Addy. When the process is finalized, they will make the long trip to and from Ethiopia to bring their child home.

"Some people wonder if we will miss that immediate delivery room bonding that comes with having your own child. But in watching the faces on the video that recorded the Carsons' 'delivery day' in an Ethiopian orphanage," Candice Wiers said. "We know that our first meeting will certainly be different, but very special in its own way."

Domestic Adoption

In the early 1980s Dr. Bruce and Joanne Deckinga of Petoskey were raising two biological children of their own, a son and a daughter, and were ready to open their arms to the possibility of having more. Both had come from large families and knew first hand the benefits of having multiple siblings. They decided to consider adoption to fulfill their desire for a larger family. In 1979 the Deckingas moved to Northern Michigan and began to pursue their dream. At that time agencies deemed the mid-to late thirties to be "late in life" when it came to applying for adoption, and private adoptions were not allowed. The adoption arm of Community Family and Children's Services (now Catholic Human Services) was at that time a leader in the "open" adoption movement. Because of this new philosophy, they were making many adoption placements. They offered hope by accepting the Deckingas into the home-study phase, which would precede a placement at a future date.

"We were told the process could take a couple of years," the Deckingas remembered. "About a year later we received a surprise call asking us if we could come and pick up our baby girl in the morning!" Andrea was just three days old, and the Deckinga's were ecstatic, if cautiously optimistic. They knew that by law, the birth mother who had made an adoption plan had a period of

Norwood residents complain to county board about road designation denial

Norwood Township officials and residents took their plea for a natural beauty road designation to county government leaders after county road officials shot down their request.

Frank Hamilton, township supervisor, addressed the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners Wednesday night, the first in a line of residents from the township to speak in favor of the two stretches of Lakeshore Drive becoming natural beauty roads. The group's consensus is that county commissioners should take up the issue, even though road commissioners hold the authority to approve or deny the petitioned request.

"Because of this unbelievable action take by the road commission, I am requesting the subject to be put on the agenda of your next meeting to permit the residents to present the criteria of the Natural Beauty Road Act and to request, if necessary, an intervention on your part," Hamilton said to county commissioners during the public comment portion of their meeting.

Road commissioners unanimously voted on Oct. 21 to deny the petitioned road designation, at least in part because they believed the effort is an attempt to circumvent the county's specifications for paving dirt roads. Norwood Township officials have said they wish to create a hard surface on both sections of Lakeshore Drive, but don't want to widen the road to achieve it.

Hamilton complained that it seemed the road commission members' minds were made up and they took no additional public comment at their Friday meeting. Testimony from the public hearing would suffice, they had said.

"Mr. (Keith) Ogden (road commission vice-chairman) read from a prepared statement, which I understand the board of commissioners had prior to the road commission meeting. When he finished his statement he continued by making a motion to defeat the request, glanced up to Mr. (Russ) Magee (road commission member), who supported the motion and a vote was taken," Hamilton said.

Others also spoke at Wednesday's meeting about their frustrations with the road commission's natural beauty road designation denial.

Sue Mabee, who lives on Lakeshore Drive near Norwood village, said road commissioners put too much emphasis on the township's "back door" effort to pave the road, rather than the state statute for natural beauty road designations.

"What we want is to keep the beauty of it as it looks today without cutting down trees and doing what normally needs to be done," Mabee said.

Township road committee member Bill Gnodtke also spoke to that point.

"We met every requirement in the statute," he said.

Carol Apol, who lives on Lakeshore Drive off of Clipperview, complained that the true copy of minutes from the road commission's public hearing about the designation request does not accurately reflect comments made by citizens.

In the end, Joel Evans, board chairman, said county commissioners will think about whether to send a letter to the road commission on behalf of Norwood Township residents, once they determine if it's the "right thing to do."

"We will check with our legal counsel," Evans said.

Prosecutor John Jarema, also the board's civil counsel, did not attend the Wednesday meeting, so the board did not have an immediate answer for Norwood residents.

County commissioner Rich Gillespie, who represents Norwood Township, said he expressed his disappointment to the road commission about its decision, specifically that what happened seemed "unfriendly to the discussion."

Ron Reinhardt, county commissioner and liaison to the road commission, said he attended the road meeting when the designation was denied. He said that although residents said on Wednesday that their focus is to protect the road as it is, that's not how is sounded last week.

"I think there is somewhat — and that's OK if they do it — of a move afoot to go around what the road commission says they have to do, but that's an opinion," Reinhardt said.

Meanwhile, Norwood Township residents said they hope the issue is placed on the board's agenda for its next meeting on Nov. 9.

Editor's note:

The Natural Beauty Road Act itself does not contain criteria for a road being considered for Natural Beauty Road status. The act says only that 25 or more landowners in a township may petition the county road commission for designation. The act requires the Michigan Department of Natural Resources to "develop uniform guidelines and procedures that may be adopted by a (road commission) board to preserve native vegetation in a natural beauty road right-of-way from destruction or substantial damage by cutting, spraying, dusting, mowing, or other means."

The guidelines developed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources do contain six criteria for roads to be candidates for Natural Beauty Road designation. Lakeshore Drive would seem to fulfill all six criteria, but the act does not require a road commission to approve a requested designation for roads meeting those criteria.

In fact, if the road were approved for designation as a Natural Beauty Road, the same guidelines would argue against the road surface being upgraded to pavement. Under "Accepted Maintenance Practices," the guidelines read:

"The existing road surface at the time of designation should normally be continued. Necessary changes in surface to improve safety, drainage, reduce maintenance problems, etc., may be cause for undesignating roads if such changes disturb the natural beauty characteristics for which the road was designated."

The Charlevoix County Road Commission has had a policy for several years that any roads that it paves, must be built to a width of 22 feet. Road commission officials have said the reasons for the width requirements are that wider roads are safer and the pavement lasts longer.

Why do we need to have public notices?
Public notices tell you, as a citizen, what is being done by your government. State law requires actions of interest to you be published in these notifications.

It keeps you up to date about what's happening with your city, county and school board, as well as other governmental bodies.

Nearly two-thirds of active Michigan voters think legal notices should continue to be placed in your local newspaper.*

Reading public notices helps you become a more informed citizen.

parks and recreation master plan is not a document that is "set in stone," but rather one that can serve as a guiding tool for city staff and the city council as it makes decisions about parks and recreation related matters in the coming year.

He noted that the plan is also an important tool for the city as it pursues grants to help fund projects in the city. He said grant-making agencies and organizations tend to view applications much more favorably if the organization seeking the grant has a master plan in place.

Spencer said the draft plan contains no major changes for any of the parks in the city, but simply encourages routine maintenance of facilities. He said one cost-saving measure the city may consider is reducing the amount of grass in certain parks and going with natural vegetation.

He said the only "new" park use is the under-construction disc golf course at Mount McSauba. He said the use isn't technically new, because disc golf has been played at Mount McSauba previously. The installation of a new course was approved by city council earlier this year. Some park users expressed concerns over the cutting of some trees that took place to make way for the course.

Addressing the disc golf use specifically, Spencer said the master plan encourages the development of the disc golf course utilizing private funding sources.

"There is language about making every effort with course design and rules to minimize impacts to other users and activities, and the natural environment. We need to work proactively to try and strike a balance between the Mount McSauba being a natural area, in addition to a recreation area. Erosion control measures will be necessary and changing hole locations can bring back areas to a natural state after heavy use from disc golfers."

Spencer noted that a significant element in the new plan involves creating better pedestrian and bicycling ways in and around the city. He said the proposed plan includes proposed routes which seek to link up the Little Traverse Wheelway, the schools, the parks and beaches, and the Lake to Lake Trail. He said another important element involves finding funding and the timing of other infrastructure projects.

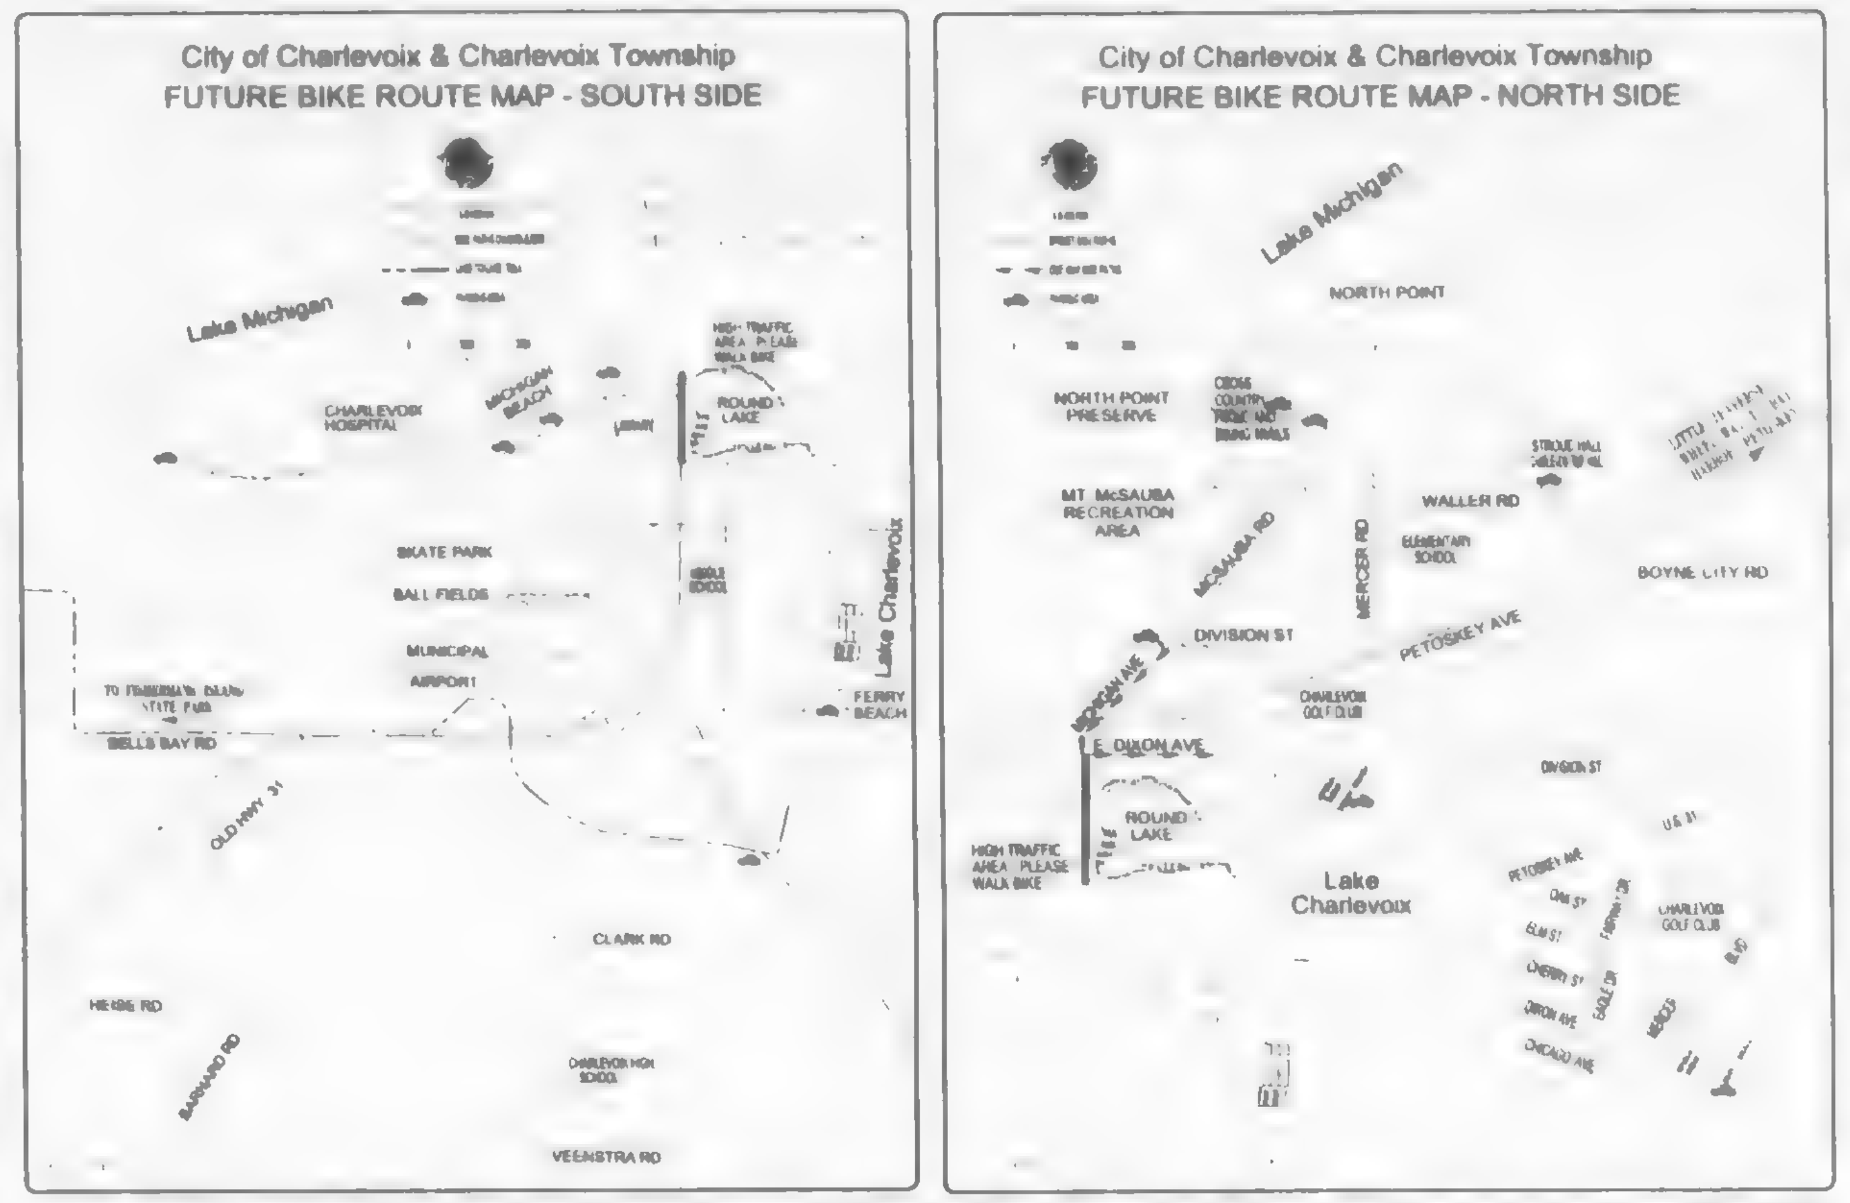
"Incorporating bike paths as you replace and update streets and other utilities is important. Over time you start to establish the city's biking grid. Also working with the schools, the chamber, and the public to advertise the routes and get people to use them will be important."

The city and Charlevoix Township have already been working on a "Lake-to-Lake Trail" on the south side of the city that would link the Ferry Beach area with Fisherman's Island State Park via Bells Bay Road. Earlier this year trail organizers received a $20,000 grant from the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians for preliminary engineering work for the trail. The engineered drawings for the trail and crossings are now complete and have been reviewed by the Michigan Department of Transportation as a preliminary step before submitting applications for the crossings and trial work within the U.S. 31 right of way.

City manager Rob Straebel has spent significant time in recent weeks working on submitting a grant to the Michigan Department of Transportation for a grant that could pay for a sizable portion of the trail if approved. Straebel said the grant application deadline is at the end of November and there are still many particulars to work out including agreements for funding, maintenance and liability coverage to be ironed out with the city council and the township board. He said tentative estimates are the trail will cost about $331,000 to construct and the city and township would be responsible to match 20 percent of any grant. Straebel estimated the "out of pocket" cost for the city and the township at about $55,000 each. He said the grant, which is a key to the trail moving forward, even awarded might not be available until 2013.

For more information on the Lake-to-Lake Trail visit www.laketolaketrail.com.

The city council is expected to take a first look at the proposed parks and recreation master plan at its Nov. 7 meeting and could adopt it at its Nov. 21 meeting.



These maps, provided by city staff, show proposed future bike routes in the city and surrounding areas that are part of the proposed parks and recreation master plan.

ADOPTION

six weeks in which to change her mind. By then, the Deckingas would have bonded with the baby and separation would be painful. The alternative of putting the baby in foster care for six weeks was not an option they wanted to consider. They decided to foster the baby themselves during that period and hope and pray for the best. Ultimately there was no reversal in the mother's decision.

After the adoption proceedings were finalized, the Deckingas kept their name on the list with the agency. "We decided that Andrea would need a sibling around her age to keep her company growing up. The older kids were about 10 years older at that time." Twenty-two months later the family welcomed a baby sister, Jodi, and the family was complete. "We told the girls right from the start that they had been adopted," the Deckingas explained. "It was never any secret. We also told them they would be free to locate and meet with their birth parents when they reached 18." They have both done this successfully. "There's always a little curiosity," said Jodi. "Who do I look like? Where do my characteristics come from?" The reunions accomplished, both Andrea and Jodi said they feel fortunate to have been raised and embraced by their loving adoptive family. Though they each went through the usual adolescent insecurities, magnified by the knowledge that they had been adopted, the girls came to realize that the couple that had adopted them, raised them, invested in them and loved them were really their parents. As for the Deckingas, "We had the resources to make it happen and a calling to share with those in need. We wanted to open our arms to adoption and have a 'forever family.'" Now they are learning that their arms can be opened a lot farther. Coming full circle, their daughter Andrea Deckinga-Coston and her husband are now in the initial stages of adopting a sibling for 1 1/2 year-old Pilot, supplementing their nuclear family of three. They are in the fundraising stage of the process and are working toward their goal through the Heaven Sent Agency of Charlevoix. "Adoption is both a financial and an emotional commitment," Andrea said. "If you don't have both those pieces in place, you probably shouldn't be adopting until you do."

Foster care

Foster care is yet another option for those who wish to advocate for children in need of a loving stable home. Scott and Karlee Philp are a young couple who have stepped up to the challenge. Parents of a daughter, 15-month-old Chelsea, the Philps are proceeding with cautious optimism along the path they have chosen. Originally, they investigated the possibility of international adoption. Both felt strongly about the plight of the orphans of the world. "But after an initial orientation for foster care," Karlee Philp said, "we both knew that this is where our hearts were and what we needed to do." The couple has been attending classes and, after other formalities and a home inspection, the couple will apply for licensing. They have been given much support from family and friends, but there are skeptics as well. The Philps attribute a lack of understanding of how the foster care and adoption process works to those that would question their decision.

"We have learned that foster care is not about us. The primary mission of foster care is reunification of the child with its parents but sometimes circumstances render reunification impossible. Foster parents are there to provide a safe, stable place for the child while his/her family is undergoing counseling for its dysfunction. Permanence and stability for the child is the desired outcome, so many parents go into fostering open to the possibility of adoption if the need arises." Foster parents have options regarding the age, gender and specific challenges different children may present. "You select what characteristics you are comfortable with in your home. Children aren't just dropped on you randomly," the couple explained. "If you are willing to take in children with disabilities, behavioral issues or older children, there is even a greater need there, but it's your choice." The Philps' decision to become a licensed foster care home did not come without apprehension. "We can't say for sure that everything is going to go perfectly... we're a little scared, but there are children out there that need a loving home, and that has to top many of the priorities we have had in the past."

Tabitha Simpson is very familiar with foster care. Together with her husband, Tracy, and three children, she has fostered more than 20 girls over the course of eight years on their dairy farm on Phelps Road in Charlevoix. Seven of those eight years were spent caring for teenage girls. They have been a model for many as to what a healthy home should be. Now that their three biological children are 11, 12 and 14, the Simpsons are taking a break from foster care to attend to their own children during their teenage years.

"Foster parents are given some financial aid as well as support from the system including counselors, probation officers and case workers," Tabitha Simpson explained. "They are not left to fend for themselves." She noted that there are other kinds of foster homes beyond the usual. Respite care homes for foster parents who need to get away for a period of time, emergency homes for children who need to be put into a safe place quickly, and intensive care homes for kids with more severe problems. Many [illegible] are available for those who are interested in this endeavor. Always the main emphasis is on reuniting the child with his/her biological family if at all possible after one year. After that, long term foster care or adoption is a possibility.

Blood drives — The American Red Cross is asking people to roll up their sleeves and give blood or platelets this Veterans Day weekend to honor those who have served our country. At the same time, anyone who comes to donate will have the opportunity to sign a card and include a personal message that will become part of the annual American Red Cross Holiday Mail for Heroes campaign. The American Red Cross and Pitney Bowes have joined forces for Holiday Mail for Heroes, a program through which people can sign holiday cards for members of the U.S. military, veterans and their families. Pitney Bowes will then screen the cards for hazardous materials, and the Red Cross will sort and deliver them to military installations, veteran's medical facilities and other locations during the holidays. In this area, the Red Cross Great Lakes Blood Services Region provides lifesaving blood to hospitals across the state of Michigan and need approximately 700 people to donate blood and platelets each weekday to meet hospital demand. In addition to the Veteran's Day promotion, everyone who comes out to donate this month has a chance to win a $250 Meijer gift card. To schedule a donation time or get more information about giving blood or platelets, people can visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). Individuals who are 17 years of age, meet weight and height requirements (110 pounds or more, depending on height) and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. Donors should bring their Red Cross blood donor card or other form of positive identification when they come to donate.

On the grant trail

City, township to consider agreement for Lake-to-Lake Trail

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

A recreational trail connecting Lake Charlevoix to Lake Michigan south of the city moved one baby step closer to possibly becoming a reality Monday night.

It its regular semi-monthly meeting, the Charlevoix City Council gave its blessing for city manager Rob Straebel to proceed with submitting a preliminary grant application to the state that could ultimately pay about $265,000 of the Lake-to-Lake Trail's expected roughly $370,000 price tag.

The trail would start in the area of Ferry Beach where it would follow Ferry Avenue with 5-foot shoulders on each side of the road to M-66. Where the trail crosses M-66 (on the west side of the road) a trailhead parking area including a 60-by-90-foot parking area would be constructed. From the parking area the trail would follow an existing former railroad bed, owned by St. Marys Cement, through the woods. The trail would follow the rail bed across Marion Center Road and intersect with U.S. 31 about halfway between Barnard and Marion Center Road near the Charlevoix Municipal Airport. From there a new section of trail would be constructed, mostly following the state highway right of way until the trail reaches Bells Bay Road. From there users would simply follow the shoulder of Bells Bay Road to Fisherman's Island State Park.

Straebel said plans call for the non-roadway portions of the trail to be covered with crushed limestone. A small spur of the trail will also be connected to an existing walkway in the Harbor Industries area.

Straebel, who has been serving as the point man on the grant application, was given the go-ahead to send a "pre-application" to the state for comments before the ultimate grant application deadline of Nov. 30.

But there are several more steps that need to take place before the final application is submitted.

The biggest among those steps is getting both the Charlevoix Township Board and the city council to agree to an intergovernmental agreement regarding the trail.

Straebel had originally placed the agreement on Monday's agenda, but then asked the council to table its consideration of the agreement until after the Charlevoix Township Board considers it. That is expected to take place at the board's meeting next week.

Basic provisions of the agreement are that the township and the city will evenly split the matching and other costs not covered by the grant, which is estimated at about $52,000-$54,000 for each entity. The agreement then calls for each governmental body to then be responsible for maintenance and liability insurance costs for the portions of the trail that fall within their respective boundaries.

Other points of the proposed agreement include:

— The city will serve as the fiscal agent for the grant because the townships are not

In the next year or two, this field along M-66 south of Charlevoix could become a parking area and trail head for the Lake-to-Lake Trail if a state grant being sought by city and township officials is ultimately approved.

Veterans Day observation

Charlevoix area veterans will host brief Veterans Day ceremony at 11 a.m. on Friday, Nov. 11 in Charlevoix's Veterans Park (just south of East Park) in downtown Charlevoix.

The ceremony will include a wreath-laying and a firing party.

The ceremony will also include the re-dedication of the an updated plaque that adorns the memorial in the park. The plaque was removed earlier this year to have two names removed and six names added. The changes were prompted by research that turned up the five additional people from the Charlevoix area who died while serving and one person who was from Boyne City and another who didn't die while serving.

Charlevoix man faces child sex assault charges

Defendant faces up to life in prison for crime

A Charlevoix-area man faces up to life in prison after authorities recently charged him with four counts of criminal sexual conduct against a 5-year-old girl.

Gerald Shane Schoolcraft, 50, of Hayes Township, was arraigned Tuesday, Nov. 1, in Charlevoix County's 90th District Court on one count of first degree criminal sexual conduct and with three counts of second degree criminal sexual conduct.

The Charlevoix County Prosecutor's office has also added a habitual offender sentencing enhancement to the charges because Schoolcraft has a criminal record with at least a half dozen convictions that date back to 1983, court records show.

Schoolcraft

The first degree charge, which involves sexual penetration, is punishable by up to life in prison. Because of the victim's age, the charge also carries a minimum sentence of at least 25 years. The second degree charges, which involve sexual touching, are typically 15-year felonies, however the habitual offender enhancements would also increase those maximum prison sentences to up to life.

"This is a mother's worst nightmare," Charlevoix County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Shaynee Fanara said of the circumstances surrounding the case.

Schoolcraft's bond was set at $10,000, which he posted on Friday, Oct. 28, officials said.

According to the affidavit of probable in the court file, in May of this year Schoolcraft failed a polygraph test and confessed — at least in part — to the alleged crimes. According to court records the alleged crimes took place in October of 2010.

Additionally, court records show Schoolcraft's criminal record includes convictions for: malicious destruction of police property in October 1983 in Cheboygan; operating while intoxicated in June 1990 in Cheboygan, in April 1996 in Gaylord and in December 2003 in Cheboygan; and resisting and obstructing a police officer in Rogers City in August 2008.

Charlevoix attorney Christopher Turkelson has been appointed to represent Schoolcraft. A preliminary examination in the case has been set for Nov. 22.

Island Airways selected for Pure Michigan 'Gardening' program

Island Airways' Angela LeFevre-Welke announced Tuesday that the local air transport company is one of 54 small and midsize companies from around Michigan that have been selected to receive business development support through the Pure Michigan Business Connect Economic Gardening Pilot Program being offered by the Michigan Economic Development Corporation.

"We are very pleased to be selected to take part in the Economic Gardening Pilot Program and look forward to getting support that will help us identify and pursue opportunities for growth," LeFevre-Welke said. "We have a great commitment to our community and to Michigan, and see this opportunity as a benefit not only to our company, but to Michigan's economy as well."

The program will be administered through the Cassopolis-based Edward Lowe Foundation and will include four areas of support: strategy and management; market research/competitive intelligence; internet and social media strategy; and geographical information systems to help identify potential customers in other states.

"The goal of this program is to help these second-stage companies grow and in turn, generate new private investment and create new jobs for Michigan," ogranization CEO and president Michael A. Finney said. "The program is part of our toolkit for economic gardening that's built on Michigan's broad asset base of strong corporate enterprises, innovative entrepreneurs and rich technology resources."

McPhillips Flying Service, Inc. (doing business as Island Airways) was established in 1945. In the following 66 years, the business has changed tremendously but the core mission remains the same, "Provide air transportation of passengers and freight to the residents and visitors of Beaver Island, Michigan," LeFevre-Welke said. The company is based on and operates from Welke Airport on Bea-

City approves new contract, reduces liability with police, firefighters

The Charlevoix City Council on Monday took a first step toward reducing its $3 million unfunded employee retirement liability when it approved a new three-year contract with the city's three full-time firefighters and six full-time police officers.

After meeting in closed session to discuss the new contract, the council returned to open session and voted unanimously to approve the contract.

City manager Rob Straebel said the most notable element of the contract for the city is that it will begin moving the city away from a traditional pension retirement system toward a system similar to a 401(k) system in the private sector.

Straebel said the move is not expected to save the city any benefit costs in the short term, as employees will still be receiving about the same amount in retirement benefits, but in the long term, the move will allow the city to chip away at the currently unfunded retirement liability hanging over its head.

Other new or modified contract provisions include:

— a 2 percent wage increase in each year of the contract;

— a reduction in the city's short-term disability payments from full salary to two-thirds salary;

— a provision under which employees may cash out up to five unused sick days each year for one-half of their value;

— that sick time does not count as hours worked for purposes of overtime calculations;

— offering employees a $40 payment for unplanned shift changes without at least 72 hours notice.

Straebel noted that the negotiations with the employees went very smoothly and came at a much lower cost that in previous years. He said in the past the city has spent as much as six figures on legal fees in contract negotiations. This time around, he said the total came to about $2,600.

The bargaining unit's last contract expired in April; however, a new state law prohibits employees to receive pay retroactive to the end of the prior contract.

Next year the contract with the union that represents the rest of the city's non-management employees will expire.

Harbor Springs teen driver injured in crash

A young driver from Harbor Springs was injured in a traffic crash that left the vehicle he was driving upside down near the Lake Michigan shoreline Sunday.

Charlevoix County Sheriff' Don Schneider identified the driver as Alexander Waha, 18. Waha was transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital where he was treated for his injuries and released.

Police said the crash happened at about 9:18 a.m. on U.S. 31 near Burgess Road as Waha was traveling south on U.S. 31. Police said witnesses reported Waha crossed into oncoming traffic, then crossed back over into the southbound lane, eventually leaving the roadway toward Lake Michigan. After leaving the roadway, the vehicle overturned and slid on its roof coming to rest near Lake Michigan.

A crew from Bergmann Marine used a crane to remove the vehicle from the lakeshore.

Deputies were assisted at the scene by Charlevoix Ambulance and the Charlevoix Township Fire Department.

The crash remains under investigation.

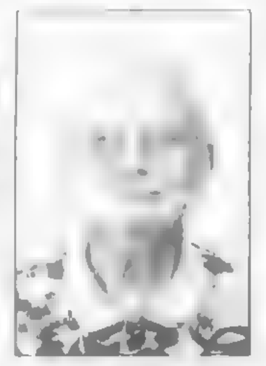
Animals may be smarter than we think



EAR TO THE GROUND

Roger Knutson

The intelligence of animals is difficult to understand. We are likely to consider the capabilities of animals that are most like ourselves as being most characteristic of intelligence. The chimpanzee or ape who has learned to communicate somewhat by using American Sign Language is given high marks, while muskrats, for example, don't' get much credit for intelligence. I think we seriously underestimate the intelligence of many animals – birds and even muskrats, for example.

Crows and some kinds of gulls have both been clearly demonstrated to recognize individual human faces. And in the case of crows, they seem capable of communicating that knowledge to their offspring who have never seen the particular human face. This information comes from a set of behavior experiments with crows in Seattle, Wash. Fledgling crows who had not seen the human mask used to frighten their parents, were equipped with radio-monitoring devices, turned loose and allowed to grow up. Only one monitored crow survived to adulthood, but that one, when located, responded with fear reactions to the mask used to disturb its parents some months before. Crows are not just smart, but smart enough to be teachers.

The gulls in question were on an island off the coast of California. They were clearly shown to recognize the face of a worker who had been capturing and banding them. When he changed clothing and wore a different hat, the gulls still responded with fear. When the researcher wore a mask, even with the same clothes, they ignored him. Pretty smart gulls.

We have local examples. Each morning, between 9-10 a.m., in good weather, I walk past East Park. This time of year there are often ducks in the park. One day, I picked a cob of corn from the lamp-post decorations, shelled some of it and threw it into the park from the sidewalk. A few ducks came over and were willing to pick up corn kernels at my feet. The next day I arrived again with a cob of corn, and a few ducks ran over to me before any corn had been distributed. I have repeated the exercise with variations every non-rainy day since. Now, even though no corn is visible on my person, the ducks run toward me when I begin to cross Clinton Street at Murdick's fudge shop. They seem not to pay much attention to other walkers. I am beginning to suspect that they recognize me. One drake, in particular, is especially faithful, and often brings along 10 or a dozen of his friends. I'm going to try the same thing wearing a mask, and publish the results.

Many years ago a professor at Iowa State University, Paul Errington, spent much of his professional career studying the behavior of muskrats. Often people would tell him how stupid they thought muskrats were. His response was, "They know all they need to know." Who among us humans could demonstrate as much intelligence as those muskrats.

A lot of animals may be smart in ways we cannot understand.

A Veterans Day history lesson

The following was submitted by Charlevoix County Veteran's Affairs office director John Hess

Veterans Day, which had its origins nearly 100 years ago, is intended to honor and thank all military personnel who served in the United States armed forces in all wars, particularly living veterans. At many places the American Flag is flown at half mast. A period of silence lasting two minutes is held at 11 a.m. at many gatherings.

History

On the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918, an armistice between Germany and the Allied nations was signed and came into effect.

On Nov. 11, 1919, Armistice Day was commemorated for the first time by then President Wilson. He proclaimed the day should be "filled with solemn pride in the heroism of those who died in the country's service and with gratitude for the victory"

In 1926, the United States Congress officially recognized the end of World War I. The Congress also requested that the president should "issue a proclamation calling upon the officials to display the flag of the United States on all government buildings."

On May 13, 1938, Congress enacted a law which made Nov. 11 in each year a legal holiday, known as Armistice Day. This day was originally intended to honor veterans of World War I. A few years later, World War II required the largest mobilization of service men and women in the history of the United States. This was followed by the Korean War. In 1954 the Veteran Service Organizations petitioned the Congress to change the word "Armistice" to "Veterans." Congress approved the change and on June 1, 1954, Nov. 11 became a day to honor all American veterans, whereever and whenever they had served.

In 1968, the Uniform Holiday Bill changed Veterans Day to the fourth Monday of October. The bill took effect in 1971. The change caused so much confusion that in 1975 President Ford signed another law changing Veterans Day back to Nov. 11.

Show Your Gratitude

Have you ever wanted to show your gratitude to the troops, but didn't know how?

Have you ever wanted to say "thank you" to a service person but you didn't?

An easy way to show your gratitude is to look the service person straight in the eye, place your right hand over your heart and then extend the hand, palm up. This indicates heartfelt warmth and thanks without saying a word.

To all veterans and active duty military personnel. Thanks for your service.

LETTERS to the editor

Parent shares concerns about kids crossing Bridge Street

In regard to the story about the Charlevoix Middle School principal wanting a cross walk on Bridge Street. I own Heaven Sent Adoption Services which sits facing Bridge Street right in front of the public schools' administration building (which is in front of the middle school) and across the street from St. Mary's school. I can't tell you how many close calls I have personally watched out my window with kids crossing here.

I also have three children attending Northwest Academy which is just four blocks toward the north, which makes three schools in a five block area. Recently my high school daughter was struck by a car while she crossed Bridge street walking to my office from Northwest Academy. The traffic was backed up because of Apple Fest and the waiting cars waved her through but a right lane driver did not see her and hit her. I have left a message for principal Travis Garrett that I would like to be involved with whatever I can to help in protecting the children in this town while crossing this street. I hope to hear back from him as to what needs to be done and how I can be involved.

I believe a light that is blinking yellow all the time but that can change to red by a push of a button on either side of the street by the kids would be a great as well as blinking lights that slows traffic to 25 mph during school hour and the hour before and after school.

Grant will pay for Norwood Township Park upgrades

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

NORWOOD — Visitors to the Norwood Township Park are expected to have some new amenities to enjoy next summer thanks to a grant the township will soon receive from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Last week Michigan Rep. Greg MacMaster (R-Kewadin) announced that Norwood Township will receive a state grant from the Recreation Passport Development Grant program in the amount of $26,200, which will be combined with $8,800 in local matching money to purchase and install two new vault toilets, two new picnic tables and two new grills for the park.

State officials said the money comes from fees collected on the Michigan Recreation Passport. Last year the passports replaced motor vehicle permits for entry into Michigan state parks, recreation areas and state-administered boating access fee sites. In addition to helping fund operations of campgrounds, trails and historic and cultural sites in state parks, about $600,000 of this year's revenue is funding park development grants in local communities.

Michigan residents can purchase the Recreation Passport at a cost of $10 per motor vehicle and $5 for motorcycles when they renew their license plates each year.

Norwood Township Supervisor Frank Hamilton said the vault toilets, which are pre-cast and weigh about 50,000 pound each, are the most expensive part of the project (about $25,0000). He said the toilets will have to be installed with a crane, likely in the spring after the frost restrictions have been lifted from the roads.

Hamilton noted that all of the additions being purchased with the grants are handicap-accessible features.

He said the work planned for next spring is just the most recent in the township's efforts to make improvements at the park, which features about 1,500 feet of Lake Michigan shoreline.

The next improvement on the township board's wish list is a pavilion to provide a covered area for dining and other activities at the park, Hamilton said. He said there is no specific time frame for that project, noting that it will likely hinge upon if or when the township might qualify for another grant.

STEVE ZUCKER/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

Thanks to a grant that Norwood Township recently received from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, these two portable toilets at the Norwood Township Park are expected to be replaced next spring with "vault" toilets. The grant will also help pay for new grills and picnic tables.

STEVE ZUCKER/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

These picnic tables and grills at the Norwood Township Park will be joined by two more of each in the spring, thanks to a state grant township officials recently learned they will recieve for improvements at the park.

Music on the Back Porch

AEBRA COE
SATURDAY
STAFF WRITER

The Back Porch Coffeehouse music series, originally located in Ellsworth, has moved to a new venue and new location here in Charlevoix.

The monthly concert and jam session will now take place at the Charlevoix Senior Center.

Saturday, Nov. 12, will mark the start of the fourth season of the music series which runs the second Saturday of every month through May 7-8:30 p.m.

It was founded by Pam and Robin Luce of Central Lake at the Front Porch Cafe in Ellsworth, a community owned, not for profit business.

Pam Luce said that in order to understand the music series, you need to learn about the environment in which it began.

She said, "Front Porch Cafe is a community meeting place and that's what the goal of the series is as well."

The menu has suggested donation amounts instead of set prices and volunteer as well as paid employees. In the same spirit, all entrance fees to the music series are by suggested donation and people of all ages are invited to come listen and even participate.

"We wanted to have an evening activity that drew the community together, but we've outgrown the cafe," said Luce.

She spoke with officials at the Charlevoix Senior Center and learned they would be able to use that space for the concerts free of charge.

"It's a nice, big open space," she said. "We hope the series will be easier for people to get to in the new location."

Leslie Lake is the coordinator of the Charlevoix Senior Center.

"We thought it would be a neat thing to do," she said, on hosting the concert series.

She added it's great for the seniors who won't have to travel as far to see live music and for the community as a whole.

"It's really going to be nice to bring other people in the community to the senior center to mix with the seniors and share the experience together," she noted.

They recently did some improvements at the center, one reason the Back Porch organizers thought it would be a nice venue.

They added a few coats of bright paint to the walls and a large number of live plants.

"Our goal was to make it homier," said Lake.

Robin Lee Berry was the first ever scheduled performer at the music series and has shared the stage with other performers. She and her husband, Tony Williams, also host a concert series at their Freshwater Studio in Boyne City.

"The old venue was small. This will increase the potential size of the audience," she said. "My experiences playing for the series have always been wonderful. It's a great opportunity to play with other artists and collaborate."

Berry said the circle jams are especially encouraging for new, young artists because you're not on your own.

"There is less of a barrier because many feel more comfortable playing with others," she noted.

The hosts provide complimentary refreshments such as coffee, tea, doughnut holes and cider.

"There's nothing better than music and food to bring people together," said Luce.

She and her husband, Robin, both donate their time to the event.

"You are sure to find that (the musicians) are terrific people, and all part of a wonderful network of musicians and artists who are woven into the fabric of our regional community," she explained. "We have been so blessed as we have connected with these folks and the many people who come to enjoy these musical evenings together."

Luce said people come to just listen to the music, which many musicians prefer compared to performing in a bar where music is often secondary.

The second part of the night features a circle jam session. This is where anybody in the audience who has brought an instrument can join together and play it.

Visitors can stay and just listen, play an instrument or sing along. Luce said that they've had any number of instruments join in including banjo, mandolin, harp, ukulele, bolo, cello and several wind instruments.

"It's a great cure for cabin fever to get out once a month for the concerts," she said.

The Back Porch Coffeehouse music series begins at 7 p.m. the second Saturday of each month. Scheduled performers play until 8:30 p.m., then there is a circle jam session after.

Suggested donations are $5 per individual and $10 per family. All performances are at the Charlevoix Senior Center, 06906 Norwood Road, Charlevoix.

For more information, call Pam Luce at (231) 622-2944 or Leslie Lake at (231) 547-5361.

Back Porch Coffeehouse 2011-2012 schedule

Nov. 12: Weaving the Wind, featuring Celtic and Folk music. "Weaving the Wind" is the duo of Linda Hammond and Gretchen VanLoozen. These two Northern Michigan women accompany their harmony vocals with a variety of instruments, including Celtic harp and flute, and guitars.

Dec. 10: Carols in the Round. This holiday session offers songs of the season performed on a variety of instruments through traditional, contemporary and world music.

Jan. 14: Peacemeal String Band, with special guest John Richey. Peacemeal String Band features multi-instrumentalists Maureen and Dale Scott. The ensemble mixes Appalachian style old-time fiddle, claw hammer banjo, hammered dulcimer, tenor guitar, 6-string guitar and harmonica with vocal harmonies. John Richey joins in with multi-faceted fiddle playing and vocals.

Feb. 11: C.Y. Butcher brings original and well-known songs to his performance, along with a personalized guitar and vocal style.

March 10: Shady Hill is the personal and musical collaboration of Antrim County natives Shane Tschirhart on guitar and Lexi Hill on vocals.

April 14: Cal Manis learned his musical art at the feet of old-style blues musicians, and plays a variety of tunes, from standards to rock 'n' roll, country to Southern and Chicago-style blues.

May 12: Duo Kelly Shively and Norm Hausler collaborate for this performance. Shively brings original songs of family and home, along with interpretations of traditional mountain and Celtic music, while Hausler's deep baritone lends itself to country classics and harmony for the pair.

Health officials: The flu is here

Influenza has arrived in northwest Michigan and is one the rise according to local public health officials. Over the last three weeks, schools reporting "flu-like illness" to the Health Department of Northwest Michigan have steadily increased. Last week, nearly 200 students were absent from school in Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego counties with flu symptoms.

"The single best way to prevent getting the flu is to get vaccinated every year," said Dr. Joshua Meyerson, medical director for the Health Department of Northwest Michigan. "That's why the Health Department offers Community Immunization Clinics throughout the four-county health district." Meyerson said appointments for flu vaccine, and many other vaccines, are still available at two clinics:

— 4-7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 10, at Gaylord Intermediate School

— 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 19 at the Health and Fitness Fair at North Central Michigan College

To schedule an appointment at any of the Community Immunization Clinics, call the Health Department of Northwest Michigan at (800) 432-4121 during regular business hours. The charge for flu vaccine at Health Department clinics is $25; charges for additional vaccines vary. "We can bill Medicare, Medicaid, and several private health insurance companies for immunizations," said Pat Fralick, the health department's director of family and community health. Fralick said the health department does not turn away anyone age 18 or younger for inability to pay for immunizations required for school. She noted anyone under age 18 must have their parent or guardian accompany them for immunizations.

Fralick highly recommends making appointments at the Community Immunization Clinics. "We do quite a lot of preparation to make sure people can get in and out as quickly as possible," she said. "When we know how many are coming, we can bring plenty of vaccine and have adequate nursing staff. We can also identify any other vaccines individuals may need by checking Michigan Care Improvement Registry in advance and give them at that same appointment."

In addition to annual flu vaccination, other actions to take to avoid the flu are:

— Avoid close contact with people who are sick.

— Cover your mouth and nose.

— Thoroughly clean your hands.

— Avoid touching your eyes, nose, or mouth.

Influenza viruses are spread when someone who is sick with the flu coughs, sneezes, or speaks, releasing viruses into the air for other people to breathe. When these viruses enter the nose, throat, or lungs, they begin to multiply, causing disease. The viruses can also be spread when a person touches a surface with flu viruses on it and then touches his/her nose or mouth.

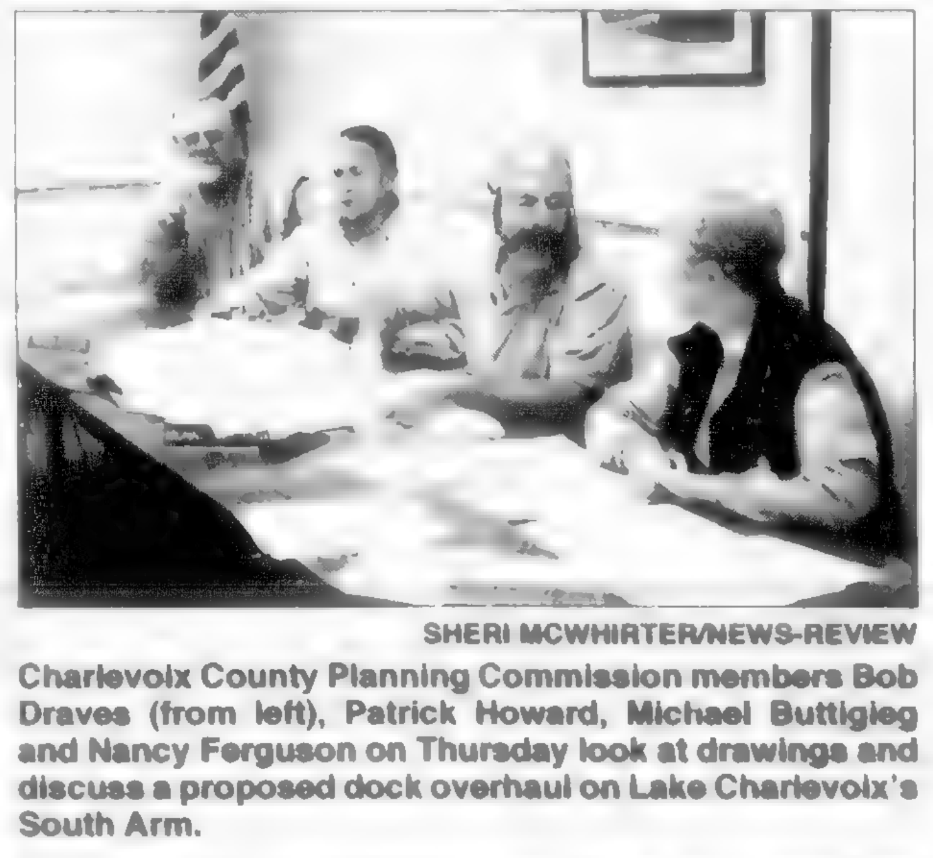
Planners change course on dock proposal



SHERI MCWHIRTER/NEWS-REVIEW

Charlevoix County Planning Commission members Bob Draves (from left), Patrick Howard, Michael Buttigieg and Nancy Ferguson on Thursday look at drawings and discuss a proposed dock overhaul on Lake Charlevoix's South Arm.

Charlevoix County Planning Commission members unanimously agreed last week to reverse their position on a proposed dock overhaul project on Lake Charlevoix's South Arm.

The planning commission met on Thursday in Charlevoix to discuss the project along M-66 in Eveline Township, among other issues. Members agreed they would support the application to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers after property owners Edward and Laura Demmer retooled their proposed project to address township recommendations.

"They met the concerns of the township. They are going to abide by it," said Sherman Chamberlain, surveyor at Ferguson & Chamberlain Associates of Charlevoix.

On June 9, planning commissioners recommended the Corps deny the application as an "excessive and unnecessary consumption of water surface area" — a more than 800-square-foot dock addition - and the property isn't large enough for the eight watercraft spots shown in the original drawings. Now the applicant seeks space for four permanent boats without building any additional docks.

Existing docks will be updated, including a change from a fixed to floating dock design.

The previous plan also called for boulders along the shoreline in places, but the updated proposal includes a green shoreline protection strip with bio-logs and plants, documents show.

A sticking point for some is the Lake Charlevoix Management Plan. Both planning commissioners Michael Buttigieg and Bob Draves said the revised proposal still fails to comply with the plan, but conceded it did satisfy township objections.

"But it's been there forever. It's been there since before the management plan," Draves said.

The site is about a half-mile south of the Ironton Ferry crossing along the western South Arm shoreline.

If federally approved, work is expected to begin as soon as permits are issued, perhaps yet this year, Chamberlain said.

Planning commissioners also unanimously supported a proposed boardwalk construction and dredging project in Round Lake, inside Charlevoix city limits. That plan also calls for improved dock space, though near the Pine River Channel north of the drawbridge.

Dedication of Eagle Scout project set for Saturday

Charlevoix's Nick Snabes stands on the newly constructed basketball court at Charlevoix Township's Shanahan Field. Nick oversaw the project, including raising about $25,000, as part of his Eagle Scout project.

Nick Snabes, a Charlevoix area resident and Life Scout with Boy Scout Troup 11 of Charlevoix will host a ribbon cutting and dedication ceremony for the high school regulation-size basketball court which was recently constructed at Charlevoix Township's Shanahan Field under Nick's direction for his Eagle Scout project.

The event will take place at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 12. The field is located off Waller Road in Charlevoix Township.

Nick wishes to use the event to thank "all those people who helped me in construction of my Eagle Scout project, donated time, donated money, donated supplies, or gave me encouragement" and to officially turn the court over to Charlevoix Township officials.

Cake and refreshments will be served afterwards. Shelter will be provided in case of inclement weather.

Northern Michigan Chorale to present fall concert

Tickets are now on sale for the 30th annual fall concert of the Northern Michigan Chorale, titled "The Many Moods of Christmas." Dates for the two performances are 7:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 18, and 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 20. The concerts will be performed at the John M. Hall Auditorium in Bay View.

This is the first time that the chorale has given an all Christmas music concert.

"The Many Moods of Christmas" is arranged by Robert Shaw and Robert Russell Bennett. Several of the familiar songs that will be sung by the chorale include: "Good Christian Men, Rejoice," "Silent Night," "O Come, All Ye Faithful," "What Child is This?," "Bring a Torch, Jeannette, Isabella," "The First Noel," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Deck the Halls With Boughs of Holly."

Adding to the concert will be a solo, "O Holy Night" sung by Ken Pastorius. Jennifer Dawson, Bobbie Barger and Jo Snedden will perform, "I Heard The Bells on Christmas Day."

125 singers, from all over Northern Michigan make up the Northern Michigan Chorale for this special concert. Peter D. Sims, director/accompanist and Michelle Mitchum will be playing on the two grand pianos, with Sally Page at the keyboard. Mitchum and Sims will also play a piano duet titled, "Christmas Moods."

Adult tickets are $10 (18 years and older) and $7 for students. Contact the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce office, The Pier in Harbor Springs or Chorale members. The ticket booth at Hall Auditorium will also sell tickets one hour prior to performances. For ticket information, contact Larry Gerould at (231) 838-1757 or Janada Chingwa at (231) 347 1618.

Girl Scouts' project earns Bronze Award

Bienvenido a Charlevoix y Paz a Todos
Welcome to Charlevoix and Peace to All

Rachel Nesburg (left) and Alexandria Snabes stand with the peace pole that the was installed in Bridge Park earlier in September as part of the girls' Girl Scout Bronze Award project.

Two middle school students from Charlevoix recently earned the Girl Scout Bronze Award, the highest award that a Junior Girl Scout can earn, for their efforts to have a peace pole installed in Charlevoix's Bridge Park earlier this year.

To earn the award, Alexandria Snabes, 11, and Rachel Nesburg, 12, who are both in the sixth grade, were required to create a new project that would benefit the community, write a plan and time line, obtain permission from the parties or governmental bodies involved, and carry the project to completion.

The girls' idea was to create a new and unique peace pole and have it place in Bridge Park. Unlike many other peace poles that can be found in other locations in Charlevoix and other communities, the pole for the girls' project has a unique message. "Welcome to Charlevoix and Peace to All," written in English, French, Spanish and Odawa.

"We wanted everyone who visits Charlevoix to see the peace pole and know that they are welcome in our community," Alexandria said.

Rachel added, " We wanted to include Odawa as one of the languages, since we have member of the Odawa tribe in the area."

The girls got the help they needed in translating their message into the Odawa language when someone from the tribe read an account of the Charlevoix City Council meeting at which they girls received approval for their project, and called right away offering the correct translation, said Maura Snabes, the girls' scout leader and advisor.

The girls sanded, stained and sealed the pole, and hand-created the letters for the four sides of translation. They adhered the plates to the pole, capped it, dug the hole and cemented the pole into its location along the sidewalk leading to the water in Bridge Park.

The girls spent about six months on the project.

Maura Snabes noted that the pole was cemented in place on Sept. 10, which led one passerby to ask if the girls had done the project in honor of the 10th anniversary of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

"It wasn't planned that way; it just happened to work out that way," Snabes said.

The girls offered their thanks to those who helped them with their project including Chris and Maura Snabes, Roger and Annette Nesburg, Charlevoix Screen Masters, Yvonne Snabes, Mark Postma, Pat Elliott and the city of Charlevoix.

"I am very proud of these girls and the example they are setting," Snabes said. "I have a wonderful troop of girls and look forward to many other great things I know all of the girls will accomplish."

New parent support program kicks off

The Health Department of Northwest Michigan has received a $5,000 grant from the Petoskey Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation to support the launch of a new "Parent Support Partner" program for families with young children who are experiencing all kinds of behavior issues. The Parent Support Partner program is one facet of a comprehensive approach to improving access to behavioral health services for young children in Charlevoix, Emmet, and northern Antrim counties, department officials said.

"We are just delighted to receive the support of the local community foundation. We are excited to launch this new program, and to be able to support local parents and to help them access resources for their children," said Natalie Kasiborski, coordinator of the Health Department's Early Childhood Behavioral Health Initiative. "Katie Harris, the Parent Support Partner — a peer parent herself — is now available for families from Charlevoix, Emmet, and northern Antrim counties. There is no charge for the program," she said.

The Parent Support Program is aimed at parents and caregivers of children ages 0-5 with a behavioral health concern. "We estimate approximately 12 percent of children through age 5 experiences a social or emotional issue that impacts learning, overall functioning, development, and school readiness," said Kasiborski. In Charlevoix, Emmet, and northern Antrim counties, that translates to nearly 340 young children.

"We know there are a lot of families who are concerned about their children's social or emotional development. We're here to help and support them to cope with temper tantrums to concerns about emerging mental illness and everything in between," she said. "Early intervention is key to school success."

"The community has really come together to support the Early Childhood Behavioral Health Initiative," said Kasiborski. "We're working closely with Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District, Great Start, and North Country Community Mental Health Services to improve local access to behavioral health services."

The Early Childhood Behavioral Health Initiative is supported with grants from the Frey Foundation, Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation, and United Way of Charlevoix and Emmet counties.

For more information about the Early Childhood Behavioral Health Initiative or the Parent Support Program, contact Kasiborski at (231)347-5144.

Entries sought for first holiday parade

Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce officials are hoping area residents and businesses will show their holiday spirit and community cheer by entering Charlevoix's first-ever holiday parade.

The parade will take place on at 5:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 25 on Bridge Street in downtown.

The parade will take place in addition to Charlevoix's annual community tree lighting festivities which run the same day from 3-6 p.m. Tree lighting activities will include ornament making and free photos with Santa at the North Pole (Charlevoix Circle of Arts), cookies, cocoa, and "more yuletide cheer than you can shake a stick at."

The theme of this year's parade is "Holiday Spirit." The deadline to enter is Nov. 21 and there is no fee to enter.

There will be a teddy bear parade in which children can march with their favorite furry friend.

Those who have a that dog "plays well with others" and have a holiday-themed costume may wish to enter their companion in the canine costume parade.

Chamber officials hope the community parade will become a cherished tradition that will continue for years to come. For more information, contact the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce at (231) 547-2101 or chamber@charlevoix.org. Entry forms are available online at www.charlevoix.org.

Turkey Trot on tap

Officials with Charlevoix Area Hospital and Harbor Health and Fitness Center are encouraging area residents to burn off some extra calories before packing them in this Thanksgiving as they two organizations team up to sponsor the first ever Turkey Trot 5K Run/Walk.

The event will begin with registration at 8 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 24, followed by the start of the run/walk at 8:30 a.m. at Charlevoix Area Hospital

Event organizers hope the event encourages the community to get out and exercise with family and friends before sitting down to that "big meal."

The entry fee is $5 which covers the cost of a commemorative Turkey Trot t-shirt. Organizers are also asking participants to bring non-perishable food items to donate to area food pantries.

Public school enrollment holds steady

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Charlevoix Public Schools officials are cautiously optimistic that the free fall in student enrollment numbers the district has seen in recent years may have stopped after the recent fall student count day showed numbers holding steady from last winter's count.

District superintendent Chet Janik said enrollment between the district's three main buildings unofficially totaled 1,061 students. (The count still has to be audited by state officials.) While that's down from a year ago, the number held steady from February's count. The student counts per building were 354 at both the elementary and middle schools and 353 at the high school.

The number falls almost exactly in line with the count school officials estimated when they passed the budget for the school year — 1,060.

In fact, the overall number is up slightly when the 10 kindergarten students who are enrolled in the Charlevoix Children's House Montessori School are counted in the mix. Earlier this year the district entered into an agreement with the Charlevoix Children's House under which the school district rents a portion of the Charlevoix Children's House Mercer Road building for $16,000 per year and pays the salary and benefits totalling about $40,000 per year for the school's teacher. In turn, the district would is be able to add students enrolled in the kindergarten program at the Children's House into its student count figures used for per-pupil state school aid funding calculations.

The district gets about $8,000 in state funding per student in its official enrollment. That number is derived from a blending of counts done in the fall and winter, with 90 percent weight given to the fall count.

Over the past decade the district's enrollment has been steadily dropping. The number is now down more than 300 students from where it was in the 2000-01 school year.

Janik said the enrollment numbers were buoyed by a particularly large kindergarten class this fall. At 87 students, it's well above the numbers in the 60s the district has seen in many recent years.

The district also recently got some more good financial news when it learned that it will qualify for a $100-per-student "best practices" payment from state officials for meeting requirements such as investigating the possibility of cutting costs through contracting and privatization of services. Charlevoix schools was one of 177 districts in the state to qualify for the money.

The money, which for Charlevoix amounts to more than $100,000, is not a windfall however, as it was already figured into the revenue figures when the budget was passed at the end of June.

The 54 companies were selected by an independent review board from a pool of 108 nominees that were submitted by local economic development representatives from throughout Michigan. The companies were chosen based on the type and size of the markets they serve, their growth potential, and their likelihood of benefitting from the service.

"Our experience shows us that second-stage companies exposed to economic gardening techniques grow at faster rates than their peers," said Penny Lewandowski, director of entrepreneurship development at the Edward Lowe Foundation. "MEDC's support of the pilot program is exciting news for Michigan's second-stagers – and a clear indication of the commitment our state has made to the next generation of Michigan success stories."

The pilot program is the latest addition to Pure Michigan Business Connect, the $3 billion public-private initiative that provides Michigan's businesses new ways to buy and sell, raise capital, and connect with each other through an alliance of the Michigan Economic Development Corporation, state agencies and major Michigan companies and organizations.

The Michigan Economic Development Corporation, a public-private partnership serving as the state's marketing arm and lead agency for business, talent and jobs, focuses on helping grow Michigan's economy. For more on the MEDC and its initiatives, visit MichiganAdvantage.org.

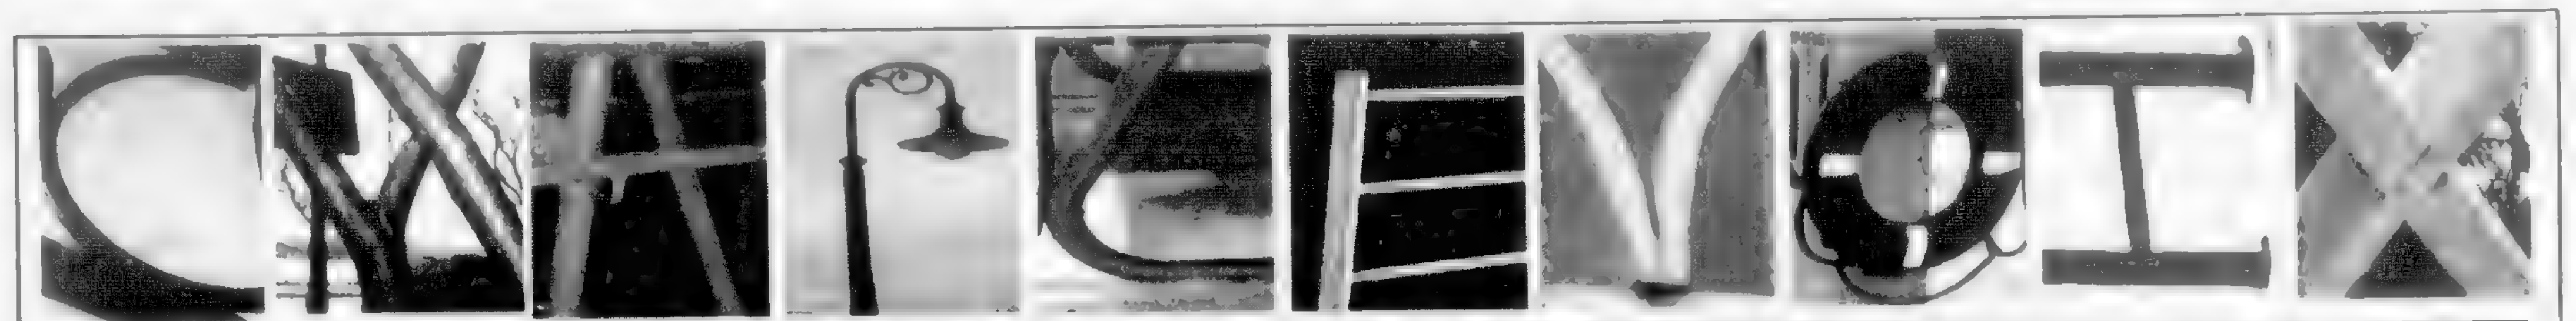
DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSIONS: Friday, November 11, 2011



The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce • November 9, 2011

Our mission is to support commerce and provide leadership to enhance the quality of life.

November Business of the Month
The Business of the Month is a business that goes above and beyond business as usual, positively impacting the community. This business is selected by the Chamber Ambassador Committee and will be a contender for the Chamber's Business of the Year Award. This prestigious award is presented at the Chamber's Annual Awards Reception. We are proud to present to you the November Business of the Month:

Beaver Island Boat Company
103 Bridge Park Drive
www.bibco.com

The Beaver Island Boat Company (BIBCO) has been doing business since 1984. The Beaver Island Boat Company stated that "Charlevoix's beauty and natural waterway is the best part of being here. Passing under the drawbridge and waving to people along the boardwalk is an essential experience in Charlevoix and we are happy to be part of it! We enjoy meeting the visitors to Charlevoix and Beaver Island as well as working with local business to help the Charlevoix community succeed!" When asked why they chose the field that they work in, the BIBCO said, "ferry service has been a lifeline for Beaver Island. We are privileged to not only bring passengers, cars and pets to Beaver Island, but also so many of life's essentials." When commenting on something left on their bucket list, the BIBCO jokingly stated, "as a company, we would love to find a way to control Mother Nature so we can always have the best weather conditions, but that might be a long shot!"

Business to Business –November 16th
It is a fact that companies who do not network are missing out on an opportunity to maintain their business relationships as well as an opportunity to tap into a rich stream of new contacts that can make them more successful! Join the Chamber and your colleagues at Business After Hours (BAH) hosted the third Wednesday of each month from 5 to 7pm. The November Business to Business night is scheduled for the 16th from 5 to 7pm at Grey Gables Inn Restaurant. The event is sponsored by Grey Gables Inn Restaurant.

First Friday Business Breakfast
It is a fact that breakfast is the most important meal of the day, providing your mind and body with the energy needed to get through the day! Listen to a different speaker every month and catch up with fellow business owners. Admission is $7 for members and $10 for not-yet members.
The December First Friday Business Breakfast is from 7:30-8:30 at the Charlevoix Public Library. The morning's event is sponsored by the Charlevoix Public Library and the guest speaker will be Jodi Adams from the Charlevoix County Humane Society

Charlevoix is recognized for the second year in a row!
On Thursday, October 27th, the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce was awarded, for the second year in a row, the honor of being named Michigan's mid-sized Chamber of the Year at the annual Michigan Association of Chamber Professionals Leadership Conference. Among the chamber's noted achievements were its significant membership increase, dedication to education through the facilitation of candidate forums, and incorporation of a new membership orientation program.
"We are thrilled to have received this prestigious honor a second year in a row," said Chamber President Erin Bemis. "It is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the staff and leadership from our Board of Directors. It really is very exciting! We love what we do, which is supporting our members, and it is nice to be recognized for our efforts."

Charlevoix Farmers Market to Continue Throughout Winter
With the end of summer and the closing of fall, the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce is excited to announce that you can keep enjoying your favorite fresh, local foods throughout the winter months.
The Charlevoix Farmers Market will be held indoors at the Charlevoix Public Library the first Thursday of every month from 10:00 to 2:00, November through May. In addition to the regularly scheduled markets, there will also be two holiday markets, one right before Thanksgiving on November 21st, and one on December 22nd, just before Christmas.
Over 20 Northern Michigan farmers and vendors will be present to supply you with fresh meat, cheese, bread, baked goods, dried and frozen fruit, holiday items including wreaths, garland and pumpkins, honey, maple syrup, beef jerky, frozen produce, canned items, fresh apples, squash, greenhouse tomatoes and a variety of fresh greens.
Various special events are planned throughout the winter months, including food tastings and demonstrations, health screenings, and family activities it will be one day a month your entire family won't want to miss!

1st Annual Holiday Parade
Show your holiday spirit and community cheer by entering Charlevoix's 1st Annual Holiday Parade. The parade will be held on Friday, November 25th at 5:30pm on Bridge Street in downtown. The parade is a welcome addition to Charlevoix's annual Community Tree Lighting festivities which run the same day from 3:00 to 6:00pm. Tree Lighting activities include ornament making and free photos with Santa at the North Pole (located at the Charlevoix Circle of Arts), cookies, cocoa, and more yuletide cheer than you can shake a stick at. There will be a teddy bear parade in which children can march with their favorite furry friend. Does your dog play well with others and have a holiday themed costume? If so, you may enter your companion in the canine costume parade. Let's make the Community Parade a cherished tradition that will continue for years to come. Contact the Chamber today or click here for an Entry Form.

VOLLEYBALL

Sweet three-peat!

Rayders sweep Ramblers to win third straight district title, regionals up next

STEVE FOLEY
NEWS-REVIEW
SPORTS WRITER

EAST JORDAN — On the back of the Charlevoix High School volleyball team's warm up shirts are two simple words.

'Finish it.'

That more or less is exactly what the Rayders did Thursday in a Class C district title match as they finished off Boyne City in three games, 25-13, 25-11, 25-20, in front of an earsplitting crowd at the East Jordan High School gym.

The district title was the third straight for the Rayders, who improve to 46-4-6 and also set a school record for wins in a season.

Charlevoix, ranked No. 6 in the Michigan Interscholastic Volleyball Coaches Association Class C state poll, will face either Manton or Fife Lake Forest Area in a regional semifinal at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 8, at Kalkaska High School.

Manton played host to Forest Area in a district title match Friday, November 4.

Thursday's win was not only the third consecutive district championship for Charlevoix, but it was the third straight time the Rayders have beaten the Ramblers to accomplish the feat.

"Every win feels great, each district feels great, and the girls are excited," Charlevoix coach Liz Shaw said. "You really can't compare this one to the other ones. We just want to keep moving forward and we want to keep reaching for the stars."

The Rayders took control early in each of the first two sets, using a variety of attackers from across the entire floor, which pressured Boyne City's defense and passing throughout the match.

"We did make some errors, but we had some girls who stepped up and we mixed it up on the court," Shaw said. "We did a great job of spreading the ball around and we weren't just an outside-attacking team or middle-attacking team. We had great balance and that was key."

Senior setter Jenna Way paced the Rayders as she finished with 20 assists, 14 digs, seven kills and four aces.

"Jenna Way is doing a great job moving the ball around the net," Shaw said. "Her ability to do so really makes it difficult for the blockers to get a double block on our hitters."

Way, who has made a verbal commitment to Ferris State University, skillfully distributed the ball throughout the match to attackers Megan Peters, Karley Pearsall, Kelsey Way and Madeline Boss.

"It feels amazing," Jenna Way said. "We lost to them (Boyne City) my freshman year, but to beat them three years feels great. I've put so much extra time into this out of season and seeing it pay off with my teammates and accomplishing a common goal with them, it's just one more check mark off our goal sheet."

Peters finished with a team-high 12 kills, Pearsall added five kills and two blocks, and Kelsey Way finished with four kills and was a perfect 12-of-12 on serve receive.

Also for the Rayders, Chelsie Hoffman added 14 digs, Boss and Anna Way had three kills apiece, while Kelly Greyerbiehl finished with 21 digs and was 90 percent on serve receive.

"Having seven seniors of which five played tonight definitely helps," Shaw said. "Their composure and having played in big games I think helped us in preparing for this game. They play with a lot of maturity and they support each other."

Boyne City built a 13-11 lead in the third set, but couldn't hold onto the lead as the Rayders eventually seized a 17-15 advantage on a pair of Boyne attacking errors. Charlevoix closed the match behind the attacking of Peters and Kelsey Way, who delivered the game-winning kill.

"Boyne City has always been a big rivalry with us," Jenna Way said. "There's always been little things like ABC, which is 'Always Beat Charlevoix,' but then more recently it's been ABCD 'Another Boyne City Defeat.' Those types of battles within the student sections. It's been a lot of fun playing against them."

For Boyne City, which closes a 20-21-8 season, sophomore middle hitter Kylie Hicks finished with nine kills and five blocks, while senior Allie Cain added five kills, sophomore setter Heather Nichols had 15 assists, senior Ketrin Hocquard added 13 digs, while Hicks and Nichols both served at 100 percent.

"Charlevoix really stepped up their game I felt," Boyne coach Casie Parker said. "We watched them earlier this week and they played almost flawless. We didn't help by giving them a lot of balls over the net.

"I thought we passed better in the last game and started playing more our game. But the first two games we couldn't pass and it was a little disappointing. I wish we would've given them a little bit better match, but Charlevoix is a good team."

The Ramblers will lose four seniors to graduation in Hocquard, Cain, Tanner McCune and Hannah Reinhardt.

"It was one of the best groups of seniors I've had," Parker said. "All the way they've been a positive group and very good towards our younger girls. I'm sad to see them go. This was probably one of the more fun groups I've coached. They were very team driven and they always worked hard for me."

The Rayders return to the regional for the third straight year. Last season, they squandered in a 2-0 lead in falling to Leroy Pine River in a heartbreaking five games in the regional final.

"We just can't wait," Jenna Way said. "We still have that fire burning inside us from last year and this year we're going to finish it. I just love playing with my teammates and just the positive energy we bring to the court. When we have fun and we play together, winning takes care of itself."

Shaw said one of Charlevoix's goals in to reach the Class C state quarterfinal round, which will play played Tuesday, Nov. 15, on the Rayders' home floor.

"It gets tougher and the stakes are high from here on out," Shaw said. "I think experience will keep coming into play down the road. We've been here before and we know what to expect and we know the excitement. We've had this goal all along to get to regionals, but we want to go further than we did last year, which is to win it and play on our home floor on quarterfinal night.

"The girls' character all year has been top notch. They have fun, help each other out and it's a great atmosphere out there on the floor."

Shaw also noted that with their last two wins the Rayders last two wins met and surpassed the school record for total wins on the season.

The Rayders earned the right to play for the district title when they defeated Mancelona in the district semi-final on Tuesday, Nov. 1, 25-13, 25-8, 25-17.

In that match, Megan Peters had 12 kills and 10 digs, and Karley Pearsall added 11 kills and three blocks to lead the Rayders, who need one more victory to tie the school record for wins in a season, 45, set last season.

Also for Charlevoix, Jenna Way had seven kills, 30 assists, 12 digs; Madeline Boss had seven kills; Anna Way added four kills; Kelly Greyerbiehl finished with 14 digs; Chelsie Hoffman had eight digs; Kelsey Way was a perfect 18-for-18 in serve reception and added six digs.

RAYDER STATS:

Jenna Way 50 assists, 14 kills, 26 digs, 5 aces

Megan Peters 24 kills, 11 digs

Karley Pearsall 16 kills, 6 blocks

Kelsey Way 7 kills, 30/30 serve receive with 10 digs

Madeline Boss 10 kills

Rayder girls take 6th at state finals

Amber Way, Olivia Certa earn All-State honors, boys finish 16th at Speedway meet

STEVE FOLEY
SPORTS WRITER

BROOKLYN Charlevoix freshman Amber Way notched one school record and tied another as she led the Charelvoix High School girls cross country team to a 6th place finish at the Division III state finals meet at Michigan International Speedway Saturday. The Rayder girls finished 15 points behind fifth place Harbor Springs, who they beat the two previous weeks at the conference and regional meets respectively. The Rams finished runner-up in the Division IV state meet last year.

Top-ranked Benzie Central won the team title, finishing with 126 points, while Kent City was second, 146; Hanover-Horton was third, 166; followed by Jackson Lumen Christi, 190; Harbor Springs, 197, and the Rayders, 212.

Two Rayders, freshman Amber Way and junior Olivia Certa, earned All-State honors. Way finished ninth in 18:55.0, while Certa was 18th in 19:16.4. The top 30 finishers earn All-State.

Way's finish tied for the best ever by a Charlevoix female runner, and her time is a school record. Alina Dhaseleer held the previous record, 19:09, and she finished in 11th place in the race in 2008. "Amber and Olivia ran perfect races up front," veteran Charlevoix coach Mary Plude said. "They ran the way they always run. Amber is one cool customer up there and she went out very strong, was in the top 30 or 40 and she was then ninth coming back into the stadium where she held her position for the final three-quarters of a mile or so.

"She just ran great."

Plude also lauded the effort of Certa, who last season ran for Ellsworth in the state finals in Division IV.

"She moved up from about 20th or 25th and she felt it a little bit," Plude said. "She was tickled to death afterwards. I think last year was a bit of a shell shock for her and jumping up to Division III, she was happy."

"I was pleased for Maddie (Buntin) to finish her career on top," Kloss said. "It was good for her. She's been to the state meet all four years and she's been All-State twice.

"Charlotte (Cullip) also did really well. We had just a second apart between our No. 3 and No. 5 (runners) and we had the second-fastest No. 5 runner (Kihnke) in the state behind Benzie Central."

6TH PLACE

Also for Charlevoix, senior Annie Dipert was 46th, 19:58.4; followed by senior Molly Jeakle, 60th, 20:06.5; sophomore Caroline Boss, 181st, 21:47.9; senior Stirling Witthoeft, 201st, 22:19.6; and senior Jane Balasz, 223rd, 22:59.0.

"Annie (Dipert) ran a really good race and she knew coming in she had an outside shot of being All-State," Plude said. "Molly (Jeakle) has been anemic all year and she lost some training this summer. She just seemed to run out of gas. She's been guiding this team for years now and she's looking forward to track season.

"Our other girls ran their races and they ran pretty much what they expected to run. I'm proud of our team, proud of what we got and they got rewarded accordingly."

The Charlevoix boys finished in 16th place out of 27 teams, finishing with 420 points.

Grandville Calvin Christian won the boys' team title with 56 points, followed by Lansing Catholic, 65; and Hemlock, 195.

Senior Zachary Zingsheim of Lansing Catholic won the individual boys' title, finishing first in 15:48.2, while Mason County Central sophomore Chase Barnett was second, 15:54.8.

The Rayders were paced by senior Kirk Achayra, who finished a team-best 37th in 16:49.0. Also for the Rayder boys, sophomore Jackson Buday was 129th, 17:43.4; senior William Jeakle, 136th, 17:46.9; freshman Nicholas Plude, 152nd, 17:54.3, senior Andrew Plude, 167th, 18:08.0, senior Alex Gooch, 190th, 18:28.2; and sophomore Tristen Rudolph, 202nd, 18:45.9

"I think we just ran out of gas," Charlevoix boys' coach Ken Plude said. "Nobody had a really, really good race. I think we just put so much effort into getting here last week. It wasn't the ending we wanted.

"We didn't get a top-10 finish and we were ranked ninth. If we would've ran the way we did last week (at the regional), it would've been a different story."

Despite the finish, Plude said he was extremely proud of his team's accomplishments this season.

"We were second to last in our first invitational," Plude said. "This team had a great team attitude, there were no troubles and they were always focused and had a lot of fun. It was a very enjoyable season for the boys, but I know they wanted more."

CHARLEVOIX HISTORICAL SOCIETY

LOOKING BACK…

In late summer of 1956 Charlevoix was abuzz with news that the train depot had been chosen as a backdrop for an advertising photo shoot for the upcoming 1957 sweptwing Dodge. The ad would run exclusively in Life magazine, then the most influential and popular illustrated weekly in the country. Professional models were flown in from New York City, and worked under the guidance of Fred Peck, an art director of Grant Advertising in Detroit, beside a Chesapeake & Ohio train. The car, shown here in prototype form, would go on to create a sensation in the automobile styling world. Dodge claimed that, at the car's peak of popularity, the company was selling one every 45 seconds, priced from $2,165 to $3,600. This photo reportedly pioneered the "editorial-style" ad without headline and very limited body copy. It was taken by Jimmy Northmore of Farmington Hills, once a summer resident of Gaylord. Many local residents looked on just out of camera range at left.

This image is one of 850 in the Charlevoix Historical Society's new DVD titled "Charlevoix, Michigan — A Pictorial Journey through 16 Decades," available at the society's Harsha House Museum, 103 State St., from 1-4 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday. The royal treatment eligible for this type of grant.

— The project is contingent upon a grant of easement for public access to the trail from St. Marys Cement Company to Charlevoix Township.

— The trail would be maintained for bicycles and pedestrians in the spring, summer and fall, and for cross country skiing, snowshoeing and snowmobile use in the winter.

— Neither the city nor the township would be responsible for grooming the trails. That responsibility would be left to local snowmobile clubs.

Straebel said if the township board approves the agreement next week, he would likely be coming back to the city council at its Nov. 21 meeting seeking both approval of the agreement and permission to proceed with the final grant application.

He also noted that, because the grant is tied to federal money, even if the grant request is successful, the money may not be available until 2013.

In other business, on Monday the council also:

— approved a request from city electric department head Don Swem to spend $15,000 for a year's worth of crew training required by state safety officials.

— accepted the introduction of a proposed new parks and recreation master plan. The proposed plan is available for download on the city's website, www.cityofcharlevoix.org. The council also set a public hearing for the master plan for its next meeting on Nov. 21.

— met in closed session to discuss and then approved a new three-year contract with the city's full-time firefighters and police officers (see story page 3).

Not only does she hook rugs but art clothes as well. This beginner class will introduce you to the art of rug hooking, learning technique and color. The cost is $100 per student.
Photography show — The third annual juried photography show "Life in Northern Michigan—Places and People," administered by the Charlevoix Photography Club will be on display at the Charlevoix Circle of Arts from Nov. 12 - Dec. 30. An Opening Reception and Juror's Award Presentation will take place from 5-8 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 12. The juror for the contest will be Thomas Kachadurian, a professional photographer, author, lecturer, and art director from Traverse City The show will conclude with a closing reception from 7-9 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 30 at which time the People's Choice Award for the show will be awarded.

Free exercise class — Beacon Dental Center is offering free Zumba fitness classes from 5:30 - 6:15 p.m. every Tuesday in their parking lot, weather permitting. The office is located at 06483 M-66, Charlevoix. For more information call 547-9141.

Blood drives — The American Red Cross is asking people to roll up their sleeves and give blood or platelets this Veterans Day weekend to honor those who have served our country. At the same time, anyone who comes to donate will have the opportunity to sign a card and include a personal message that will become part of the annual American Red Cross Holiday Mail for Heroes campaign. The American Red Cross and Pitney Bowes have joined forces for Holiday Mail for Heroes, a program through which people can sign holiday cards for members of the U.S. military, veterans and their families. Pitney Bowes will then screen the cards for hazardous materials, and the Red Cross will sort and deliver them to military installations, veteran's medical facilities and other locations during the holidays. In this area, the Red Cross Great Lakes Blood Services Region provides lifesaving blood to hospitals across the state of Michigan and need approximately 700 people to donate blood and platelets each weekday to meet hospital demand. In addition to the Veteran's Day promotion, everyone who comes out to donate this month has a chance to win a $250 Meijer gift card. To schedule a donation time or get more information about giving blood or platelets, people can visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). Individuals who are 17 years of age, meet weight and height requirements (110 pounds or more, depending on height) and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. Donors should bring their Red Cross blood donor card or other form of positive identification when they come to donate.

Kruskie

One of the drivers involved in a traffic crash that claimed the life of a Charlevoix-area father and firefighter earlier this year has been charged with a misdemeanor in connection with the crash.

On Monday, Charlevoix County Prosecutor John Jarema authorized a charge of moving violation causing death against Patrick John Kruskie, 47, of Boyne Falls. The charge is punishable by up to a year in jail and/or a $2,000 fine.

The charges stem from a Feb. 14 crash that claimed the life of Brent Aronson, 36, of Charlevoix.

Police said the crash happened at about 10:16 p.m. on Pleasant Valley Road

AEBRA COE
SPECIAL TO THE COURIER

Construction of a new recreational trail connecting Lake Charlevoix and Lake Michigan south of Charlevoix moved one step closer to becoming a reality Monday when the Charlevoix Township Board of Trustees approved its portion of an intergovernmental agreement with the city of Charlevoix.

The agreement was passed unanimously contingent on the addition of a clause which would allow the township to back out of the agreement after a given number of years if they choose to do so.

Man cited following Beaver Island crash

BEAVER ISLAND — Charlevoix County Sheriff's office officials say a reckless driver was responsible for a traffic crash that left portions of Beaver Island without electric power Sunday.

Charlevoix County Sheriff Don Schneider said the crash happened at shortly before 6 p.m. on East Side Drive near the Welke Airport when a 1989 Chevy pickup truck driven by Roger Anderson, 31, of Beaver Island ran off the roadway, drove over an embankment and struck a utility pole.

Authorities said the pole was completely broken, leaving wires across the roadway and a portion of the island without electrical power. The crash also prompted a response by the Beaver Island Fire Department.

Police said Anderson fled the scene and was interviewed the following morning by a deputy. Police said Anderson admitted to the accident and that he had been drinking.

Authorities cited Anderson for reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

about half a mile south of Behling Road in Charlevoix County's Wilson Township.

Authorities said Aronson was driving a 2000 Ford pickup north on Pleasant Valley when he collided with a Freightliner propane truck which Kruskie was driving south.

Aronson

Charlevoix County Sheriff Don Schneider said the road was extremely icy at the time of the accident.

Kruskie was not injured in the crash, but Brent's father, Pete Aronson, a passenger in Brent's vehicle, was transported to Northern Michigan Regional Hospital for non life-threatening injuries and was later released.

The Boyne City Fire Department had to use extrication tools to remove the injured occupants from the pickup truck.

Schneider said Kruskie turned himself in at the sheriff's office shortly before 5 p.m. Monday and he was released a short time later after posting a $200 bond. Future court dates in the case had not yet been set as of press time Tuesday.

Jarema was not available before press time to comment on his reasons for authorizing the charge.

Aronson, who was a Charlevoix Township firefighter, was an advocate for youth to have hunting and fishing experiences. He left a wife and 13-year old daughter.

With every season there is change

A LOOK AT LIFE

Gayle Gennett

The leaves on the sugar maples quietly changed their palette. Hues of green blended into crimson that couldn't be matched by my box of Crayolas. Fall is my favorite season because it announces nature is changing her mind about her decor and as someone who embraces change I begin to feel like her soul mate. In a particular fall of 1999, an event in my life led to change, hope and new beginnings.

I became a patient and was hospitalized for something other than giving birth. Not being one who can sit still and possessing a mind that swirls and fires off like a sparkler on the fourth of July, it was tough for me to remain constant and still. It was after my 10-day stay that I began thinking about patient needs and turned my thoughts to hospital chaplaincy. Listening and trying to guide others for many years as a school counselor, this choice seemed a natural move in my desire to enrich my life with purposeful activity. The role reversal from patient to now visiting patients has provided me an education that textbooks and lectures couldn't provide.

I've learned to listen with my ears, my heart and my eyes. Experience has taught me that the more optimistic a patient is the quicker they seem to heal. Doctors know they are not God and cannot cure everyone. They have knowledge about medicine and have lots of medical experience but patients have lots of life experience and often times know their body better than anyone else. When concerned about a medical issue, never be afraid to voice your concern. Communication is always the key to maintaining good health.

There's a comfort when you are open to a patient's grasp reaching out in loneliness and apprehension. Saying a prayer with a patient brings a sense of calm into a room that may be busy with nurses and aides who care for them. A patient will sometimes fret because there is time to think of things that must be done at home or work and a listening ear will ease that stress. Caregivers need coffee and breaks as well so it's helpful to check on their needs too. For individuals on Medicare who are worried about mounting bills there are affordable supplemental insurances that fill the gap often times paying the remaining amount of a hospital stay and even your ambulance bill.

On a humorous note, if a patient has an igloo cooler in their room it does not mean they have brought in their own beverage. Also, when a chaplain visits you, don't think you are sicker than you are.

An enlightening conversation I recently had with a patient will remain with me forever. To tell everyone who works at the hospital to take time in their day to gaze out the window and view all that nature in Northern Michigan provides. The waves as they softly or vigorously greet the sand. To view an ever changing sky that reaches into eternity. To take note of the occasional pair of swans that glide by and the eagles searching for food and a new place to roost. Don't ever take it for granted. Make time every day to thank God for what you have and what you've been given. And those were the very same words I did say, only a few days later at her funeral.

To provide this type of spiritual support and a listening ear, not just to patients but to staff, is a privilege not taken lightly, but a purposeful change that came when the seasons told me it was time to do so.

Crop walk another big success

Editor:

The 28th annual Charlevoix County Crop Walk held on Sept. 24 was another great success. Walkers from Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan walked from their communities to Ironton. Each walker completed approximately six miles. Thanks to over 115 walkers who participating in this annual event.

The walk also received help from the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office, Michelle Nowka and "At Your Service Plus," Castle Farms, Sue Dixon and the Charlevoix Food Pantry, Good Samaritan Family Services and East Jordan Rotary Club.

The "Crop Walkers" collected approximately $20,100. A quarter of the money raised will come back to the community food pantries affiliated with Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan.

"Crop Walks" are community-wide events sponsored by Church World Service and organized by local congregations to raise funds to end hunger at home and around the world.

Thanks to everyone who participated, making this years walk a huge success.

Community Christmas needs your help

To our friends and neighbors,

Holiday season has arrived. Turkeys are on sale. Christmas trees are up at K-Mart. Gift catalogs arrive in the mail daily. A few flakes of snow have arrived. Hunters are in the woods stalking deer and Thanksgiving is rapidly approaching.

Have you counted your blessings lately: little things like food on the table, a warm bed to sleep in, a place to call home, warm clothes, friends to share a cup of coffee with, a car and enough money to put gas in it, Christmas shopping for your kids? In a perfect world all of us would have these things, plus much more. But this isn't a perfect world and lots of people have needs, and you and I can help with some of these needs.

The Charlevoix Community Christmas Project committee is busy getting ready for Christmas for kids in the Charlevoix school district that need a little help. We need your help. As we celebrate Christmas — the birth of Jesus — won't you help us help the kids of Charlevoix? The churches of Charlevoix participate in this program so, just check at your church. Some are furnishing food, mittens and socks or are adopting kids. Russ Bolt and his wonderful helpers with Toys for Tots already have boxes all over Charlevoix, please help us by filling these boxes (and remember that teens need fun things at Christmas also). You will begin to see some of our great business people promoting this program, please support them. Last year, with your help, we helped 250 families and 450 kids with food, clothes and gifts. We expect our food costs to nearly double this year and we need help buying turkeys. You can help by sending a check to John Coolman at Community Reformed Church, 100 Oak Street, Charlevoix. Make checks payable to CCCP (Charlevoix Community Christmas Project.)

The Giving Tree at St. Mary's will go up just before Thanksgiving. Adopt a family or just one child. You can call Bev Boss at (231) 547-2078 if you have questions or would like to adopt a family.

You wonderful people of Charlevoix have been supporting this program since 1982 and have never let us down. Please put us on your Christmas list again this year so that we can help every needy child in the Charlevoix School District.

Thank you for your generosity and may God bless you and your family.

Bev Boss,
Christmas Project Chairman

(If you have children and need help this year and have not signed up, please go to the food pantry at the Congregational Church at the corner of Park and State streets and fill out a form. The Pantry is open Monday and Thursday from 10 a.m.-noon. Please sign up by Dec. 10 so that we can have time to get food and gifts for your family on distribution day, Dec. 16.)

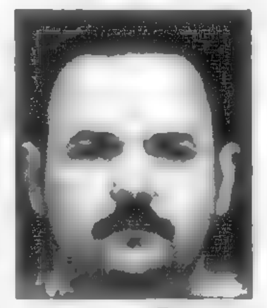
Multiple charges issued in connection with break-ins

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

A Charlevoix Township man is facing up to life in prison after he was recently charged with multiple crimes in connection with break-ins at stores in Petoskey and Traverse City last month.

On Friday, Charlevoix County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Shaynee Fanara authorized charges including two counts of safebreaking, two counts of receiving and concealing stolen property ($1,000-$20,000), possession of burglar tools and a habitual offender third offense sentencing enhancement against Michael Edward Downs, 31.



Downs

The safebreaking charges are punishable by up to life in prison, the burglar tools count is a 10-year felony and the receiving and concealing counts are five-year charges. The habitual offender enhancement doubles the maximum penalty of the two non-life offenses.

According to a Charlevoix County Sheriff's office affidavit filed in the case, Downs allegedly admitted to police that he and two co-defendants participated in break-ins at Halloween Stores in Petoskey and Traverse City and breaking open two safes stolen in the break-ins. Police said Downs said the safes were broken open in a van in Charlevoix County and then hidden in a trash bin at Fisherman's Island State Park.

Police said they found the thousands of dollars in money and thousands of dollars-worth of Halloween contact lenses that had been in the safes when they conducted a search of Downs' house in Charlevoix Township on Oct. 12.

Downs has not yet been arrested on the Charlevoix County charges because he remains lodged in the Emmet County Jail in lieu of a $25,000 bond in connection with multiple similar Emmet charges stemming from the same set of circumstances. Downs recently waived his preliminary examination on the Emmet County charges and is awaiting his next circuit court appearance. Two co-defendants, Danielle Newlin and Adam Miller, were both also charged with multiple counts in connection with the break-ins. They both recently took advantage of plea agreements in Emmet County and are free on $5,000 and a personal recognizance bond respectively while they await sentencing.

Road tax approved in Hayes Twp.

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

Hayes Township voters agreed to continue to pay special taxes for road improvement projects.

Township officials asked voters in the Tuesday Nov. 3 election whether they wanted to continue to pay a 1-mill levy for road work and taxpayers agreed by a nearly 2-1 margin. The millage renewal request received 185 yes votes and 96 no votes.

"We really appreciate it so we don't have to use only general fund money to do road work," said Ethel Knepp, township supervisor. "We'll do as much as we can."

Township coffers paid for the recent $500,000 Burgess Road reconstruction out of the special road fund, Knepp said.

The millage previously had reduced to 0.9762 mills, after rollbacks under the Headlee Amendment. It expired in December last year.

The now-approved 1-mill tax will run from this year through 2015. It is expected to generate an estimated $194,226 this year.

A 1-mill tax means property owners will pay $1 for every $1,000 in a property's taxable value.

Nearly 17 percent of Hayes Township voters turned out at the polls, or 283 of the 1,689 registered voters.

FIRST STEP

That time period will likely be 12 years.

The agreement is a key element of an upcoming grant the city of Charlevoix is applying for in order to fund the project. Charlevoix city manager Rob Straebel submitted a preliminary grant application to the state last week that could ultimately pay about $265,000 of the Lake-to-Lake Trail's expected roughly $370,000 price tag.

Before the final grant application deadline of Nov. 30, it was necessary for both the Charlevoix Township board and the city council to consent to an intergovernmental agreement regarding the trail.

Basic provisions of the agreement are that the township and the city will evenly split the costs not covered by the grant, which is estimated at about $52,000-$54,000 for each entity. The agreement then calls for each governmental body to be responsible for maintenance and liability insurance costs for the portions of the trail that fall within their respective boundaries.

Charlevoix Township Supervisor, Dale Glass raised several concerns over the long term maintenance and insurance costs of the trail before ultimately approving the measure. He stated he would approve the measure as long as a clause was included which would allow the township the option to rescind the agreement after a given period of time.

Glass said he also worried about the township being sued by those injured while using the trails and the resulting cost. Township trustee, Nancy Rajewski said she doesn't think it is likely the township would be sued and said she felt strongly the board of trustees should go forward with the agreement.

Straebel said that he thinks the provision of a given period of time for township support, followed by a review, should be acceptable. But, he said the state may say they need more commitment from the township in order to distribute the grant money.

He said he is excited the city and township have come to a consensus on the intergovernmental agreement, "We hope grant funds are forthcoming and that we can start construction in 2012."

He will go back to the city council Monday, Nov. 21, to seek both its approval of the agreement and permission to proceed with the final grant application.

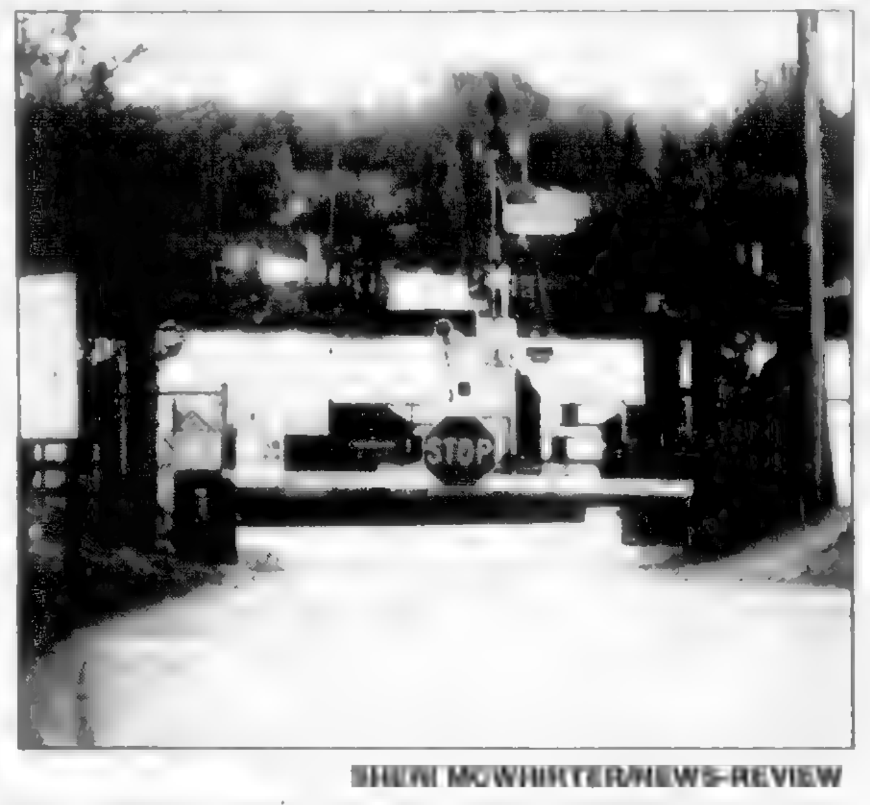
If approved the trail would run from Lake Charlevoix in the Ferry Beach area, along widened shoulders on Ferry Avenue, to a former railroad grade that runs from M-66 to U.S. 31. A newly-constructed trail mainly following U.S. 31 would then connect to Bells Bay Road. From there, users would simply use Bells Bay Road or its shoulder to travel to Lake Michigan in Fisherman's Island State Park. Plans also call for a trailhead parking area to be constructed on the west side of M-66 across from the Northern Michigan Community Mental Health offices.

Ironton Ferry set to close Nov. 23

IRONTON — In one week the Ironton Ferry will cross the mouth of Lake Charlevoix's South Arm for the last time this season.

The four-car cable ferry will close at 10:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 23. It will re-open sometime in April 2012.

Until closing, the ferry will remain open 6:30 a.m. 10:30 p.m. It costs $3.25 per crossing with a vehicle, while walkers can cross for 50 cents and bicyclists for $1.



SHERI MCWHIRTER/NEWS-REVIEW

The Ironton Ferry, shown here recently near the western side of the Ironton Narrows, is set to close for the season on Nov. 23.

Toys for Tots kicks off campaign in Charlevoix

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Marking the start of this year's Toys for Tots campaign at the toy collection area at Fox Motors on Monday are (from left) Ken and Arlene Staley, Russ Bolt, George Wahl, Charlie Butcher and Fox Motors general sales manager Jim Jeffreys.

Large boxes wrapped in Christmas paper and banners with the well-know train engine logo have sprung at businesses and other locations all over the Charlevoix area in the past week heralding the start of this year's Toys for Tots campaign.

Since 1947, U.S. Marines have collected toys at Christmas time and distributed them to less fortunate children.

In the Charlevoix area, the Toys for Tots program is overseen by the Northern Michigan Marine Corps League #690 representing the Marine Corps Reserve.

Boxes for the collection of new, unwrapped toys have been placed at 30 area businesses and organizations. Organizers suggest contributions such as toys, batteries, wrapping paper, or personal items such as backpacks, books, games, sleeping bags.

Those wishing to contribute to this year's Toys for Tots campaign, should have their donations placed in a collection box by Tuesday, Dec. 13.

The toys and other items will be distributed through the Charlevoix Community Christmas program, which will conduct its distribution day on Friday, Dec. 16.

Collection locations for this year's drive include:

Charlevoix Senior Center, Ace Hardware, Dollar Tree, K-Mart, Rite Aid, Copy Plus, Dollar General, Glen's, Harbor Industries, Fox Motors, Holiday Gas Station, Flap Jack Restaurant, Olson's, Clothing Company, First State Bank, Bay Winds Federal Credit Union, First State Bank, Charlevoix Area Hospital, Weathervane Restaurant, Grey Gables Inn Restaurant, Charlevoix Elementary School, Charlevoix high, middle and elementary schools, Walgreens, Charlevoix City Hall, Rick's Chiropractic, Bolt Designs, Muscle Menders, Bethany Lutheran Church, Greensky Hill Church, Charlevoix Municipal Airport, Coast Guard Station Charlevoix, Front Porch Restaurant (Ellsworth).

New this year, Fox Motors has made arrangements to distribute two free passes to Avalanche Bay water park in Boyne Falls with each toy donated at either Charlevoix Fox Motors location. Fox Motors will also be hosting a family fun event from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 10, in honor of the Toys of Tots campaign.

For more information about the program, contact Russell Bolt, at (231) 547-4855.

"We'd like to thank all the many volunteers who, without their dedication to the children and young teens, this project would not happen," Bolt, a member of the Toys for Tots committee, said.

Sample sweets at Advent Tea

Christ Episcopal Church will hold its eighth annual Advent Tea from 1 - 4 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 19.

In addition to the afternoon tea with sweets and savories, a Country Market will offer home baked and canned food specialties. Proceeds from the event will be divided between the Charlevoix Area Food Pantry and the Charlevoix Ministerial Association for their community assistance programs. A donation of $15 is suggested for those attending the tea.

The church is located at 200 State St., on the corner of State and Clinton streets.

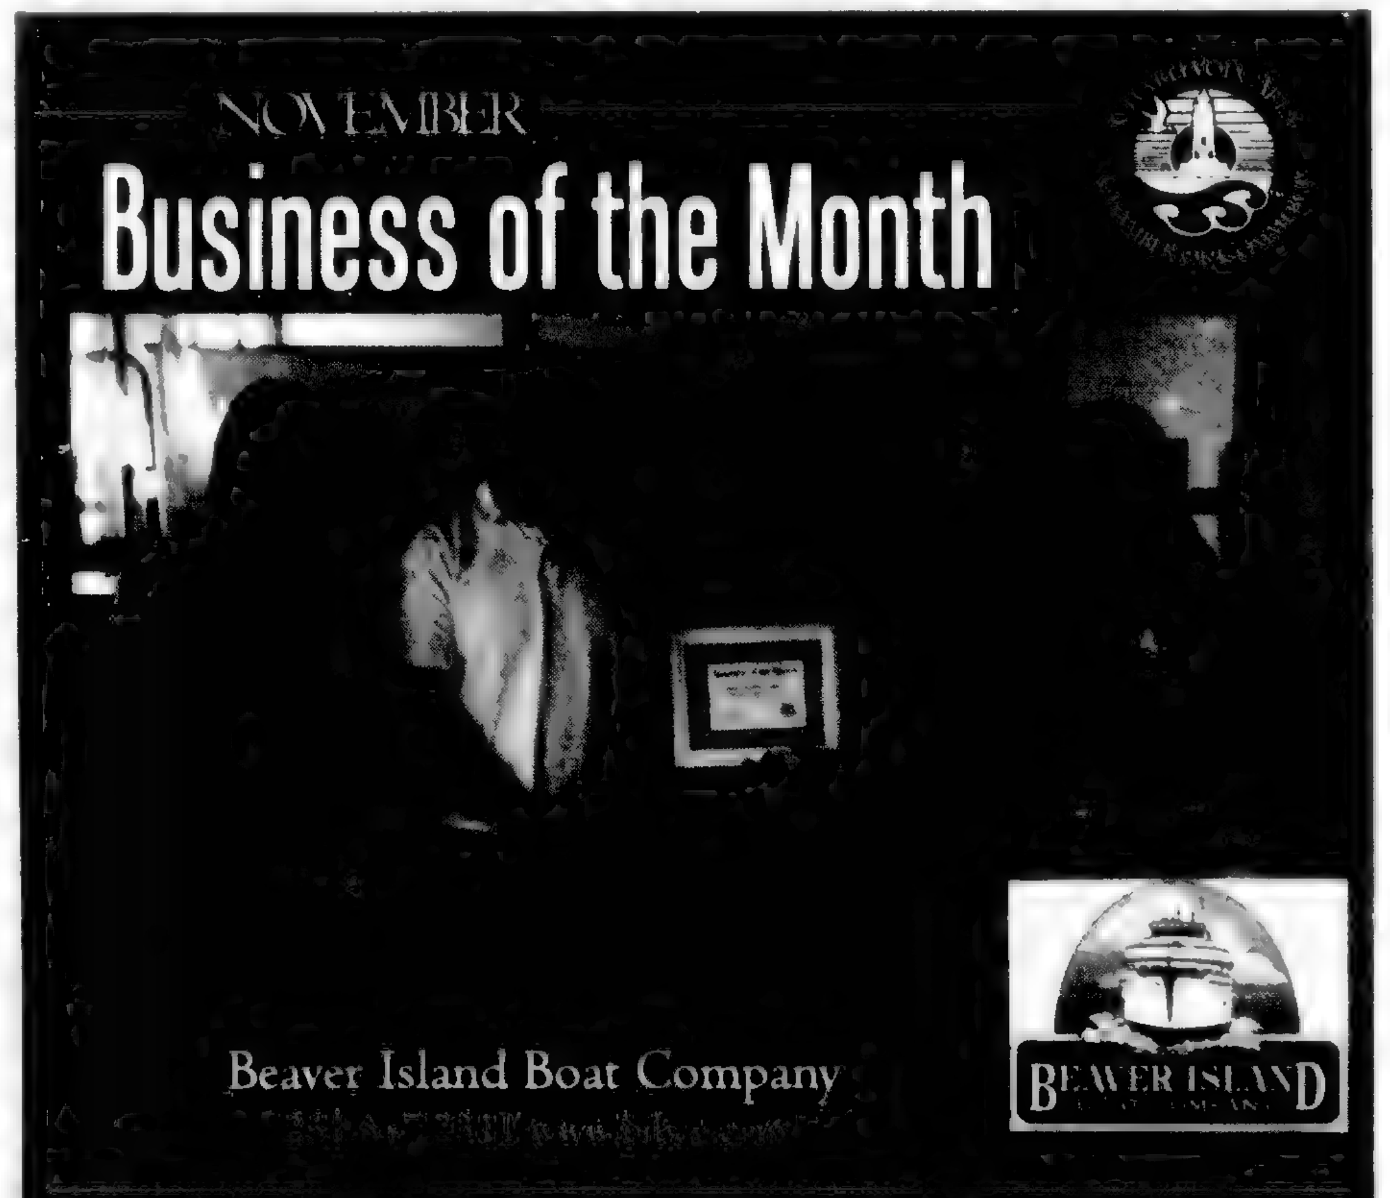
Court is open

Nick Snabes (right), 15, a Life Scout in Charlevoix Troop 11, cuts the ribbon with the help of Charlevoix Township clerk, Carol Martin, and supervisor, Dale Glass, in front of the new basketball court at Shanahan Field Saturday. Nick raised funds for the court, part of his Eagle Scout project and then directed planning and construction. He said he wanted to do something that not only he would enjoy, but also something that would benefit the community.



The Beaver Island Boat Company commented that "Charlevoix's beauty and natural waterway is the best part of being here. Passing under the drawbridge and waving to people along the boardwalk is an essential experience in Charlevoix and we are happy to be part of it. We enjoy meeting the visitors to Charlevoix and Beaver Island as well as working with local business to help the Charlevoix community succeed."

OBITUARIES

Virginia L. Gebeau: Jan. 28, 1916 - Nov. 13, 2011

Funeral services for Virginia L. Gebeau, 95, of Charlevoix, will be 11 a.m., Wednesday, Nov. 16, at the Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix. The Rev. Gregory Culver of the Charlevoix United Methodist Church will officiate, and burial will follow at Brookside Cemetery in Charlevoix. Visitation will be 3-6 p.m., Tuesday Nov. 15, at the funeral home followed by an Order of the Eastern Star memorial service conducted by Chapter 72, Charlevoix.

Mrs. Gebeau passed away Sunday, Nov. 13, 2011, at her daughter's home in Edmore.

Gebeau

Born in Charlevoix, Jan. 28, 1916, to Walter and Ella (Matchett) Taylor, she graduated from Charlevoix High School in 1933.

After high school, Virginia worked at District Health Department #3 in Charlevoix, then at the Michigan Department of Public Health in Lansing as a medical secretary.

Virginia married William "Bud" Gebeau Jan. 7, 1943, in Lansing. In 1983, Bud retired as hospital administrator of the Rogers City Hospital, and they returned to Charlevoix to make their home.

Virginia was a member of the Charlevoix United Methodist Church, and its Mary Jean Tennant Circle; the Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter 72; AARP; and life member of the Charlevoix Hospital Auxiliary. She volunteered at the Charlevoix Area Hospital gift shop, the Rainbow Shoppe, and Charlevoix Senior Center.

Virginia is survived by her daughter, Sherri Miel and her husband, Larry Greer; grandson, Erik (Jennica) Miel and their daughters, Kristy and Erin of Cape Coral, Fla.; granddaughter, Christine (Billy) Miel and future grandson of Six Lakes; sisters, Dorothea Kelley and Elaine Martin of Charlevoix; nephews, Kim Kelley, C.T. Martin and Kevin Martin.

Virginia was preceded in death by her husband, Bud, on Oct. 19, 1986; and great-granddaughter, Ella Marie.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Heartland Hospice, Fremont, MI 49412.

James J. Hilligan, 68

James J. Hilligan, 68, passed away unexpectedly on Nov. 12, 2011. Jim met Wezie when they were 13 years old and for 55 years they were an amazing couple. Jim graduated from Ohio State University with a Doctorate in Optometry in 1969. He practiced for 42 years in Vassar and Saginaw. He loved to play golf, ski and most of all landscape his yard. He is survived by his wife Louise, son Jeffrey (Janice), daughter Christine Frink (Mark), daughter Jennifer Vollmer (Bryan), brother Denny (Diana), sister Pat Immonen (David), brother Barry (Loralee), brother Mike (Kathy). Grandkids who he loved to have making a ton of noise at his home include: Hudson, Olivia, Abby, Nico, Tucker, Kenzie and Madison. His smile and calming gentle spirit will be missed by all. Since he had a love for landscaping, in lieu of flowers please plant a tree or a bush with your family in his honor or make a donation to the Charlevoix Junior Golf Program in care of Dean Davenport, 712 Cyress, Big Rapids, 49307. A memorial mass will take place at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 19 at St. Mary's Church in Charlevoix. You may sign Jim's online guestbook at www.winchesterfuneralhome.com.

New Leadership for Prudential Preferred Properties Network

A new manager has been appointed at the Charlevoix office. Jeffery Miner has joined the team of esteemed REALTORS at the landmark Bridge Street location as Manager. Miner's duties will include overseeing the daily aspects of the office, along with staffing and increasing Prudential's market share.

Miner brings to Prudential Preferred Properties Network over two and one half decades of industry experience including owning a real estate firm in New York and a real estate school for pre-licensing, continuing education and general sales in California. In addition to owning his own real estate company, he has held positions such as Manager and Advisor, Training Director and Recruiting Director as well. He is passionate about supporting his staff through coaching and mentoring. Miner's primary goal is to enable and provide his staff with the tools and knowledge to be successful. In addition to leading the Charlevoix office, he will also oversee the operations for the company at the locations of Beaver Island, Eastport-Torch Lake and Boyne City.

Rik Lobenherz; President and Owner of Prudential Preferred Properties Network states; "We are extremely pleased to welcome Jeffery as our new manager and know that with his skills, knowledge and experience he will take not only our Charlevoix office to the next level of success, but the others as well".

Please stop in sometime and say hello and welcome Jeffery to Charlevoix. You'll soon see him as regular addition to the community.

Joseph defeats Boss in school board race

Boss

Joseph

Incumbent school board member Dale "Bo" Boss was defeated by challenger Richard Joseph for a four-year term on the Charlevoix Public Schools Board of Education Tuesday by a 509-394 margin in the Tuesday, Nov. 8, general election.

Boss, 55, has served on the school board since 2007 and is currently the board's vice president.

Following the election Boss wished Joseph good luck in his service on the school board.

"I think it was positive that we had someone else interested to run for the board," Boss said. "I'm proud of the things we did during my term and the things we accomplished. I have no regrets."

Boss said after he leaves the board in December, he still plans to stay involved in the school district.

"I'll support them in any way I can," he said, adding that he'll use the coming months to "recharge." Boss said he hasn't ruled out running for the board again next year.

For Joseph, 54, this will be his first time holding an elected office. Joseph, who has lived in Charlevoix since 1988, is an attorney who owns Charlevoix Abstract and Title Company. He has been active in school functions for many years — in particular in the millage election that result in the construction of the current high school.

Joseph said he's pleased with the results of the election and that so many people turned out to vote on a day that featured nasty weather. He added that he regrets that Boss had to lose, but said he's looking forward to working with the remaining board members.

"I think there are going to be enormous changes (coming from Lansing) that are going to be dramatically affecting how we operate," Joseph said. "I want to make sure that we don't increase class sizes anymore than we already have."

He said important issues that lie ahead for the school board include revamping the school's student handbook code, keeping tabs on coming changes in state legislation and beginning the groundwork for the next staff contracts which will be up for renewal in a little less than two years.

Joseph has also said he'd like to see more cooperative marketing efforts between the school district and the business community.

"I've received a lot of phone calls from people congratulating me on the win, but they all are saying, 'Make sure you put the kids first.'"

Rayders to appear on Quiz Central

The Charlevoix High School quiz bowl team will take on The Carson City/Crystal Eagles on the Central Michigan University Television quiz show "Quiz Central" at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday Nov. 19. An encore presentation of the match will air at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 20.

Quiz Central's seventh season features 48 teams from high schools around Michigan. Tune in to CMU Public Television for new games at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday and at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday. (Plus, a special repeat broadcast of both of the week's games on Sundays at 2 p.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Teams compete on "Quiz Central" in four divisions, based on school size. Division champions will be awarded four $2,500 one-year scholarships to Central Michigan University. Again this season, "Quiz Central" is offering five textbook scholarships to seniors planning to attend Central Michigan University. The textbook scholarships are provided by The CMU Bookstore.

CMU Public Television includes WCML Channel 6 Alpena, WCMU Channel 14 Mt. Pleasant, WCMW Channel 21 Manistee, WCMV Channel 27 Cadillac and WCMZ Channel 28 Flint.

Improve Your Financial Picture During 'Open Enrollment

Late fall marks the beginning of the holiday season, which probably means that you'll have a lot going on over the next couple of months. However, busy as you are, you'll want to take the time to review your employee benefits package, since November also is a popular month for employers to offer open enrollment. And the decisions you make now could have a big impact on your financial outlook for years to come.

So, if you are in an open enrollment period, here are some steps you may want to take:

* Boost your 401(k) contributions. It's almost always a good idea to put in as much as you can, up to the contribution limit, in your 401(k) or similar retirement plan. After all, you typically contribute pre-tax dollars, so the more you put in, the lower your taxable income. Also, your money can grow on a tax-deferred basis, which means it has the potential to grow faster than an investment for which you paid taxes every year. At the very least, contribute enough to earn your employer's match, if one is offered. For example, if you work for an organization that will match 50 percent of everything you put in up to, say, 6 percent of your salary, then you should contribute 6 percent of your salary — which is like getting a three percent raise.

* Rebalance your 401(k) portfolio. You may have a dozen or more investment options in your 401(k). Ideally, you'll want to spread your money among these options in a way that's appropriate for your risk tolerance, time horizon and long-term goals. But over time, your 401(k) portfolio can become "unbalanced," even if you made no changes. For example, if you've invested in a couple of aggressive-growth accounts, and these accounts have gained significantly in value, they may now be taking up a greater percentage of your portfolio than you had originally intended, exposing you to more risk than you'd like. Consequently, if your plan doesn't offer an automatic rebalance option, you may need to rebalance your portfolio by moving some of your assets into less aggressive vehicles.

* Be cautious about adding company stock. You may be loyal to your employer, but try not to hold too much company stock in your 401(k). After all, your company, like all businesses, may go through ups and downs, and if your portfolio is dominated by this single stock, you may experience considerable volatility. And if your company matches your 401(k) contributions with its own stock, you may want to invest all your own money in vehicles other than company stock.

* Take all the insurance that's offered. Typically, when employers offer life insurance as a benefit, it's at little or no cost to you, so you'll probably want to take all that's offered. However, this amount may still be less than what you really need to fully protect your family, so you may well need to purchase an individual policy to supplement your employer's coverage. And always be aware if your employer reduces or eliminates the insurance that's offered as an employee benefit, because you'll then need to adjust the policy that you've bought outside work.

You can review and improve your financial picture during open enrollment — so take advantage of this opportunity.

Lions tree sales to start a week earlier

Again this year the Charlevoix Lions will be selling Christmas trees.

However, based on community input, Lions officials have made some changes from past years.

First off, tree sales will start a week earlier this year, starting the day after Thanksgiving, Friday, Nov. 25, which will also coincide with the lighting of the community Christmas tree and parade.

Tree sales organizers have also added Scotch pines along with the ever-popular Black Hills spruce and Fraiser fur. Another addition will be wreaths.

Project chairman Steve Michael said the Charlevoix Lions want to thank the community for its past support and they hope the changes meet the community's ever-hanging desires. He added that, as in the past, proceeds from sales are returned to the community as grants to local projects.

Sales hours are from 10 a.m. -6 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. Monday-Friday hours are from 4-8 p.m.

Clothing Company offers coat donation incentive

The Clothing Company of Charlevoix is again offering an additional 5 percent discount above the 20 percent off it is offering during its annual outwear sale, now through Dec. 3.

To qualify for the additional discount, customers must bring in a "gently used" coat to donate to the Charlevoix Community Christmas Program.

The coats will be included among the many items that are distributed to families in the community in need on Dec. 16.

"As in the past, we count on the help from the Clothing Company in getting gently used coats and jackets, for men, women and especially children for our coat room during distribution day," said Joan Lemerand, member of the Charlevoix Community Christmas Project committee. "Each year the numbers grow for those needing assistance and this year we are seeing a number of requests on our forms for coats, snowsuits and outerwear for children and teens."

After the sale concludes, the Clothing Company will continue to serve as a coat drop-off location for the Community Christmas program through Nov. 27.

Anyone interested in contributing to or volunteering with the Charlevoix Community Christmas program should call the program's director, Bev Boss at (231) 547-2078.

Forging a new identity

East Jordan Iron Works takes on a new brand, EJ

This is the new logo under which the East Jordan Iron Works will operate when the company changes its identity to EJ in January.

EAST JORDAN - Owners of East Jordan Iron Works plan for the company's century-plus manufacturing history to keep unfolding, but future chapters will do so under a new business moniker.

Company officials recently announced that the U.S.-based East Jordan Iron Works operations, along with affiliated companies that operate in several markets internationally, all will do business under the same name and brand, EJ. The change will take effect Jan. 6, 2012.

"We're going to one global brand," said Thomas Teske, vice president and general manager for the soon-to-be-renamed East Jordan Iron Works, adding that the streamlined identity won't disrupt other aspects of the operations.

Affiliated companies that will also be brought under the new EJ label include Norinco in France, Cavanagh in Ireland, McCoy in Canada and HaveStock in Australia.

Along with its more recent affiliates, East Jordan Iron Works is owned by the Malpass family of East Jordan, and has been since 1883.

The entity that's taking on the EJ name has multiple sales, distribution and manufacturing facilities located in the Americas, Europe, Asia and Australia; and focuses on providing access solutions for infrastructure systems. Products include cast manhole covers and frames, gratings, fabricated metal products and fire hydrants and gate valves.

The East Jordan-headquartered company expects that the global name and brand will unify the business and support its vision to be the global leader in infrastructure access solutions. Company leaders also believe the new shared identity will help in leveraging all company resources to improve internal operations, as well as provide superior product offerings and services to customers.

The company employs approximately 500 people at its operations in East Jordan, and about 2,000 worldwide.

Company officials had their operation's East Jordan roots in mind when they selected the new name and brand, Teske said, but "as we go forward, (the pair of initials in the company name) just stands for itself."

Representatives from various EJ operations around the world gathered at Boyne Mountain Resort in recent days for a rollout of the new brand and some training related to it, Teske said.

"All of our employees, all of the management, everyone was really excited about it," he added.

Club hosts blanket drive

AKtion Club of Charlevoix, a community service club sponsored by Kiwanis and Bergmann Center is hosting a blanket drive. With winter coming, club members know there are many people who could use an extra blanket to help keep warm. AKtion Club is collecting new blankets from anyone who would like to participate. Drop boxes are located inside of Charlevoix City Hall and Bergmann Center's Resale Shop at 8888 Ance Road both in Charlevoix. Blankets should be new and warm.

AKtion Club will give the blankets to area agencies such as Moms and Tots in Ellsworth and Department of Human Services in Petoskey who can distribute them to families in need. AKtion Club has hosted three blanket drives in the past and believes they have been very successful. The club's goal is to collect at least 50 new blankets this year. Club members also have a fun time by purchasing fleece and making tied blankets to donate.

The AKtion club will be collecting blankets now through Nov. 28. The club's goal is to give back to the community and better the world one child at a time. For further information, contact Kim Brock at (231) 547-2979 ext. 11 or see an AKtion Club member.

Elks Thanksgiving Day swim on tap

The Charlevoix Elks Lodge will host it's 10th annual Thanksgiving Day Swim fundraising event at 11 a.m. sharp on Thursday, Nov. 24 at Michigan Beach.

Proceeds from funds raised during the event go to support a wide array of community projects. Last year about 70 people participated and about 200 watched from the beach, raising about $3,000. Checks should be made payable to the Charlevoix Elks. Organizers recommend participants going in the water wear shoes, stay in their vehicles until just before going into the water and dry off quickly after the swim.

For more information, contact John McNabb at (231) 622-2660.

Representatives from the Charlevoix Knights of Columbus recently presentes the Charlevoix Food Pantry with a check for $5,200 in proceeds from the organization's eighth annual Hunter's Banquet which took place Oct. 27 at the Charlevoix VFW hall. More than 125 people attended the event which featured a big game photo journalist presentation by Mike Schlitt of Charlevoix. A pig roast and all the trimmings was the main dining event with some black bear added for fun. The Knights sponsor and staff the event selling dinner tickets and a Jay's Sporting Goods raffle for a $1,000 shopping spree. The Whitley crew roast the pig and bear. Pat Elliott and his team sell raffle tickets for a shotgun. Many merchants and restaurants donated food for the event. Pictured above, (from left) are: Pat Elliott, shotgun raffle, Birdi Whitley, pig roast, Teresa Sotuyo from the Charlevoix Community Food pantry, Greg Whitley, pig roast, and Steve Seely, Knights of Columbut trustee.

Planning commission role assignments discussed at meeting

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

Those who sit on the Charlevoix County Planning Commission may soon have their designated roles, in accordance with the state's Planning and Enabling Act.

County planner Larry Sullivan presented his recommendations for the assigned roles for planning commission members at a recent Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners committee of the whole meeting.

Sullivan's suggestions are to assign each planning commission member a role that coincides with their professional and volunteer experiences, as spelled out in the state's 2008 legislation.

County commissioner Chris Christensen, of Boyne City, planning commission liaison, said at the planning commission meeting Thursday, Nov. 3, that the role assignments will be useful when open planning seats need to be filled. The roles will help county commissioners decide which applicants will best fill any vacancies, he said.

Sullivan's proposed roles are as follows:

— Michael Buttigieg, term expires in 2011; environmental protection and secondly business and economic development. Buttigieg is a small business owner and is involved with both the Water and Air Team Charlevoix and Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council.

— Robert Draves, term expires in 2011; tourism and recreation, and secondly business and economic development. Draves owns a cabin resort on Lake Charlevoix's South Arm, as well as several other car wash and laundry service businesses.

— Nancy Ferguson, term expires in 2012; western townships and secondly education. Ferguson lives in Eveline Township and owns property on Beaver Island. She works part-time at a bank in Charlevoix and is a retired school teacher.

— Patrick Howard, term expires in 2013; eastern townships and secondly agriculture, forestry and land use. Howard is a Chandler Township resident, works in the construction industry and also raises llamas and alpacas.

— Dennis Jason, term expires in 2013; business and economic development, and secondly human services. Jason works for a public works construction company, served as the head of Boyne City's street department, served as interim East Jordan city manager and currently works as a construction manager.

— Larry Levengood, term expires in 2011; human services and secondly public education. Levengood works for the Health Department of Northwest Michigan and sits on the Head Start Board of Education. He also formerly served for about 20 years as a school board member in Charlevoix.

— Tom Wieland, term expires in 2012; agriculture, forestry and land use, and secondly western townships. Wieland is a lifelong farmer, has been active in the local 4-H program and lives in Norwood Township.

County commissioners must assign specific roles to each planning commission member, according to state law. Each planning commissioner must represent various segments of the community.

Some examples of the segments specifically noted in the state law and new county ordinance include tourism and recreation, business and economic development, agriculture, forestry, land use, environmental protection, education, human services and other geographic boundaries.

CHARLEVOIX HISTORICAL SOCIETY
LOOKING BACK…

Drum beats a path back home

STEVE ZUCKER/CHARLEVOIX COURIER

A drum that once belonged to John Harsha, firstborn son of Harsha House building Horace S. Harsha, still bears its original owner's name.

A piece of Charlevoix history recently returned to its rightful home at the Charlevoix Historical Society Harsha House Musuem on State Street thanks to a coincidence and the generosity of a society member.

The society's musuem co-director David Miles explains in the organization's October newsletter: "The society was recently the recipient of a priceless artifact. It is a snare drum that belonged to Harsha House builder Horace S. Harsha's son John, his firstborn. An inscription on the bottom drumhead says "John Harsha Charlevoix Drum Corps Charlevoix Michigan 1897." John would have been 11 years old. The drum reached us via an antiques dealer downstate who acquired it and wondered about its origin. She Googled Charlevoix and Harsha, found us, we notified the Harsha family, and within days John's great-niece, Society member Jennifer Harsha Carroll of Silver Spring, Md. bought it and immediately donated it to the museum. John Harsha's drum has returned home."

The drum can be seen at the museum along with many other Charlevoix artifacts. Call (231) 547-0373 for more information on the society membership information.

Rayders reign at regionals

Rayders avenge last year's loss to claim school's first-ever regional volleyball title

STEVE FOLEY
NEWS-REVIEW
SPORTS WRITER

No letdown this time.

No heartbreak.

It was shear joy, excitement and vindication for the Charlevoix High School volleyball team this time around.

After suffering a heartbreaking five-set loss to Leroy Pine River a year ago in a Class C regional championship match, the Rayders came through against that same opponent Thursday in a regional final rematch at the Kalkaska High School gym.

Charlevoix overcame a shaky start, then caught fire and used that momentum to top the Bucks, 25-22, 25-10, 25-16, to claim the school's first-ever Class C regional volleyball title.

With the win, the Rayders, 48-4-6 and ranked No. 6 in the state coaches poll, advance to a quarterfinal on Tuesday, Nov. 15, against Houghton, 41-9-5, at the Charlevoix High School gym.

The Gremlins advanced with a 25-19, 25-19, 25-21 victory over Rudayrd in their regional final on Thursday.

Reaching the Class C state quarterfinals was something the Rayders and coach Liz Shaw eyed soon after the bitter finish of last year's loss to Pine River.

Charlevoix was playing Thursday in its third consecutive regional final. Two years ago, the Rayders fell to McBain in the regional final. Last year, they won the first two games from Pine River, then saw the Bucks win three straight to walk away with the trophy.

"Our athletic director, Brian Certa, told me before the season started that we were hosting quarterfinals," Shaw said. "That was just something that sparked the fire right there. It was a goal to get there and win that game and get the momentum from our fans and that energy and push on.

"Our goal is to push on and get down to Battle Creek (state semifinals/finals). It's something we've never done, but it's definitely a goal that's reachable for this group."

Knocking off Pine River in the rematch of last year's regional was another goal, and after coming back from a 22-16 deficit in the opening set, the Rayders grabbed the all-important momentum and never relinquished it.

"I'm so proud of my girls," Shaw said. "They felt every bit of it from last year and they brought that to the court this year. I don't think they were going to lose no matter what it took."

Pine River, which finished 41-13-5, opened the match by taking a 10-6 lead which expanded it to 17-12 following a pair of Charlevoix attacking errors. The Bucks then made it 22-16 behind the attacking of Cayman Catt and Jessica Hoaglund, while the Rayders continued to struggle to find their offensive rhythm.

"We had to settle down and start being big at the net," said Shaw, who called two timeouts in the first set. "We needed to start attacking because we weren't and I thought we were playing timid. We were playing not to lose instead of going out and winning. It was just a whole mentality of the girls, they had to change their thinking and take a more positive approach at the net."

That's exactly what the Rayders did as freshman Madeline Boss, senior Kelsey Way and junior Karley Pearsall all had kills to tie the match at 22-all. Two Pine River attacking errors upped the Rayder lead to 24-22, then senior setter Jenna Way sealed the game-one victory with a tip that the Bucks could not handle.

"Once we got into a rhythm and started playing our game, from that point on it was over," Shaw said.

Charlevoix rolled in the second set. The Rayders built a commanding 19-9 lead using a variety of hitters who attacked Pine River's back row. Kelsey Way then put the set away with a kill from the left side.

The third and final set was also all Charlevoix as the Rayders took a 7-1 lead which then grew to 20-10. Kelsey Way sealed the win with a kill, again from the left side, to set off an emotional celebration by Rayder players and their fans.

"It's amazing," Kelsey Way said. "Last year we worked so hard and got those first two games (against Pine River) and then to lose was just heartbreaking. We still remembered the feeling of that moment, but this is amazing.

"It happened so fast we just never gave up. Even in that first game, we never gave up."

For the Rayders, Jenna Way, who today, Friday, will sign a national letter of intent to play volleyball at Ferris State University, finished with 22 assists.

"I have the biggest smile on my face," Jenna Way said. "It's just the greatest feeling. With the fire we had from last year, they (Pine River) should've known we were gunning for them and I'm sure they did

"We all had so much positive energy and it just overflows. When that happens, as I've said before, winning takes care of itself."

Megan Peters finished with 12 kills for the Rayders; Kelsey Way added seven kills, eight digs and three blocks; and Boss had six kills and five digs.

"It's just spectacular," Peters said. "We wanted it really bad last year so it feels good to beat the same team last year that beat us. After the first game, we just got the momentum going and it just carried us the rest of the way."

Defensively for the Rayders, senior libero Kelly Greyerbiehl finished with 20 digs and was 20-of-22 on serve receive, while senior Chelsie Hoffman added 18 digs, and senior Madison Zimmerman added six digs.

"Defensively, we played the best overall game we've played this year from serve receive on up," Shaw said. "Our seniors, Kelsey Way, Kelly Greyerbiehl, Chelsie Hoffman and Madison Zimmerman, really stepped it up."

Peters said nerves may have played a part in the Rayders' sluggish start.

"We were all just thinking and coach read us the newspaper article from last year," Peters said. "We just had to work out some jitters and once we got back on track, we stuck it to them."

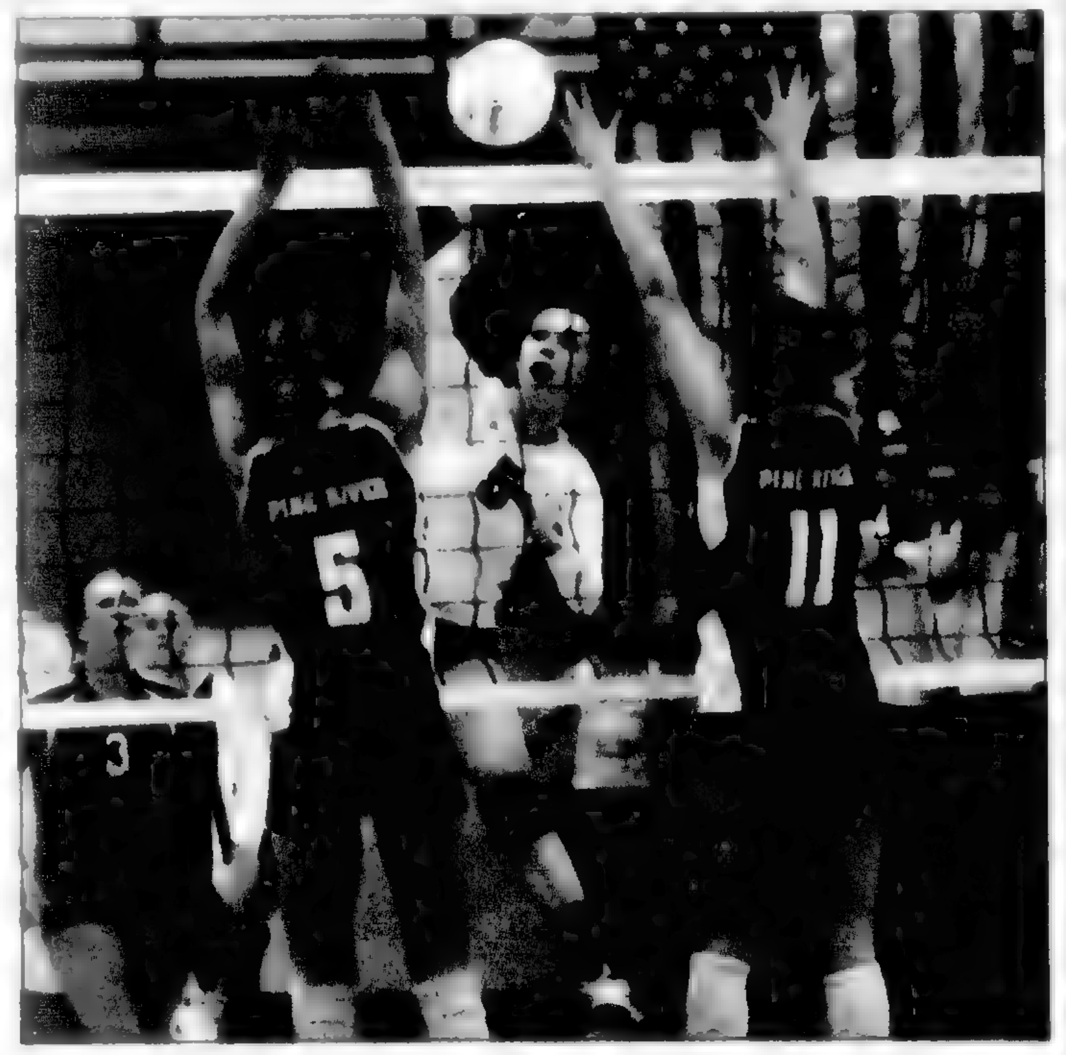
Kelsey Way said she felt butterflies throughout the day.

"I was so excited and ready to play," she said. "Once we got settled in and the butterflies went away, we just had fun. My teammates have been amazing this year and to make school history with them is amazing. It's been fun and one huge memory-making year."

The Rayders have the luxury of playing Tuesday's quarterfinal game on their home floor, while Houghton will trek some 320 miles across the Upper Peninsula and the Mackinac Bridge for the match. The quarterfinal winner advances to a state semifinal match on Friday, Nov. 18, against the winner of the St. Louis quarterfinal.

"It's another check mark off that goal sheet," Jenna Way said. "We said since the start of the season we wanted to play on our home court where we've practiced every day since August. That's where we want to win. I'm just overjoyed.

"We've had so much fun. Our student section, our parents who are so supportive and loyal, and they get in on everything. The community is there for us and I can't even imagine how loud our gym will be just having all that support."



Charlevoix's Kelly Greyerbiehl (3) watches as teammate Madeline Boss (5) hits the ball over the net in the directon of two Pine River blockers during the Rayders' Class C Regional victory Thursday.

The road to Battle Creek

STEVE FOLEY
NEWS-REVIEW SPORTS WRITER

As the Courier went to press on Tuesday, the Charlevoix Rayder volleyball team was one win away from a trip to Kellogg Arena and three wins away from a state title.

If the Rayders are victorious when they play Houghton at 7 p.m. Tuesday in their home gym, they will travel to Battle Creek to play in the state semifinals at 3:45 p.m Friday, Nov. 18 against either Saginaw Valley Lutheran or Morley-Stanwood. The winner of that match will go on to play for in the state championship game at noon on Saturday

"I'm expecting it to be a really positive and just a great atmosphere," Charlevoix coach Liz Shaw said of the remaining stretch of the Rayders' playoff road. "We've never experienced this before and this is something our girls will remember for the rest of their lives.

"Knowing this team, they're going to rise to the occasion. They've risen up in every other big game and they've just been mentally tough."

The Rayders are led by a strong group of seniors including setter Jenna Way, outside hitters Megan Peters and Kelsey Way, and defensive standouts Kelly Greyerbiehl, Chelsie Hoffman and Madison Zimmerman

Before Tuesday's match, the Rayders had dropped just one set in five postseason matches, a 25-23 decision in its first district game against Elk Rapids, and hadn't given up more than 22 points in any of the other 15 sets they've won.

"We haven't overlooked any team or any game this year," Shaw said. "We play every game like it's our last and we don't want this to end. We see the future and it's exciting. It's exciting to be in this atmosphere."

The Gremlins are led by senior standout Joey Carroll, who was named the Most Valuable Players in the West-Pac this season, while junior Blaire Zenner is another threat. In the Gremlins' regional final win over Rudyard, Zenner and Carroll combined for 26 kills.

Although the results Tuesday's quarterfinal were too late for inclusion in this week's edition of the Courier, results of the match and any subsequent matches will be available at www.charlevoixcourier.com

Born to be a Bulldog

Rayder standout setter Jenna Way to play at Ferris

STEVE FOLEY
NEWS-REVIEW
SPORTS WRITER

The end of last week was undoubtedly the best two days of Jenna Way's life.

On Thursday, the Charlevoix High School senior setter guided the Rayders to the program's first-ever regional volleyball title.

The following day, Way signed a national letter of intent in front of her entire team and family at the Charlevoix High School gym to play college volleyball at Ferris State University.

Way, a four-year letter winner who will run the Rayder offense in their first-ever Class C state quarterfinal match against Houghton on Tuesday, is no stranger when it comes to Ferris State University.

Not in the least.

In fact, one could say she practically was born to be a Bulldog.

Way's mother, Chris, lettered in both basketball and softball at Ferris State, while here aunt, Jodi, played tennis for the Bulldogs and was the founder of Ferris' famous pompom squad.

Way's uncle, Terry Davenport, also attended FSU and was the designer and creator of the Bulldog logo on the suggestion Way's grandfather, Dean Davenport, who was Ferris' athletic director and assistant men's basketball coach for a combined 25 years.

"It's been a personal goal of my since I can remember," Way said of attending Ferris. "I've watched my sisters (Aubrey and Summer) grow up and play (college) volleyball on Saturdays and I remember taking my little volleyball to games when I was in the first and second grade.

"It's a huge advantage I think I've had over the other girls being able to watch and interpret what they were doing and to translate that into my game. That's really helped me get into Ferris."

As has her overall play. A gifted athlete, Way holds nearly every Charlevoix setting record. A first-team Class C All-State selection last year, Way was also second-team All-State her sophomore year and honorable mention her freshman season.

Way's oldest sister, Summer, was a four-year scholarship volleyball player at Hillsdale College, which is a member of the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, just like Ferris State. Her other sister Aubrey played at Cornerstone University in Grand Rapids.

"I know the GLIAC schools," Jenna Way said. "My grandpa (Dean Davenport) was the athletic director at Ferris for a while and I have a little photo of myself as a baby in a Ferris State onesie that says 'I'm a Bulldog.' I've grown up around Big Rapids and it's always been apart of my life."

Way is poised to break her sister Aubrey's assist record at Charlevoix and, when it's all said and done, will have earned 12 varsity letters as a Rayder in volleyball, basketball and track, said she wouldn't be where she is today without her teammates.

"All four years on varsity have made a big difference in my life," she said. "I remember having Tammy Potter my freshman year and Shauna Spencley, both true athletes, and being able to play under their leadership helped mold me into the leader I am today.

"My sophomore year it was Taylor Storm and Sarah Potter and last year Katie Mays. Playing with those types of players challenged me to be the best leader I can be."

Way said other schools showed interest and recruited her, but deep down she knew Ferris State was her first choice all the way.

"I verbally committed in March eight months ago and this is something I've been looking forward to for a long time," Way said. "It just feels great knowing I've picked the right school. I've been going to their setter camps for five years now and I felt like they wanted me. It felt great to be wanted."

Way will join a Bulldog team that currently is 26-3 and making it's first NCAA Division II regional appearance since 2009. Coached by 16th-year head coach Tia Brandel-Wilhelm, the Bulldogs are ranked No. 12 nationally.

"They've been doing awesome this year and I've actually been in contact with five girls that are also coming in next year," Way said. "We're already getting tight and I'm excited to get there and start winning. It's just perfect timing. I can't stop smiling."

Charlevoix coach Liz Shaw said Way's signing is one of the more exciting things to happen during her tenure.

"She's put four years of her time and her fall into my program and into my life," Shaw said. "Just to have the opportunity to go on makes me very proud and she deserves it. She's such a great girl both academically and socially and she's such a leader on the court.

"She deserves everything of this scholarship and the opportunity."

A double repeat for Charlevoix's Walt Drenth

Drenth

Two in a row for Michigan State, and two in a row for Walt Drenth.

Drenth, a Charlevoix native, was named the Big Ten Women's Cross Country Coach of the Year for the second straight year after leading the Spartans to their second consecutive Big Ten championship at the University of Illinois.

Drenth's Spartans held off Michigan 55-61 to win the title. Penn State was third with . Sophomore Julia Otwell, a Traverse City Central graduate, led the MSU women with a sixth-place finish.

Drenth is in his sixth season at MSU and is the director of cross country track and field at the school. He began his coaching career at his alma mater, Central Michigan, and his coaching resumé includes stints at William & Mary and Arizona State.

Other Rayder alumni making athletics headlines recently include:

— Becca Madison, a 2008 Charlevoix grad, helped the Ohio Wesleyan women's soccer team to a 1-0 win over Allegheny (Pa.) in the North Coast Athletic Conference tournament championship game.

It was the first NCAC title for the Bishops, 11-4-4, since 2005, and they will face quality Wisconsin Oshkosh in an NCAA Division III tournament opener.

Madison, a senior captain, is a two-time All NCAC selection. She has scored four goals on the season.

— Eric Buday, a 2011 Charlevoix grad, finished 32nd while running unattached at the Eastern Michigan University Fall Cross Country Classic. Buday, a student at Michigan State, finished the 5K course in 16 minutes, 13.61 seconds.

— Ben Myers, a 2011 Charlevoix grad, appeared in Clemson's 2-1 Atlantic Coast Conference men's soccer victory over Virginia Tech.

Myers, a freshman mid, has appeared in 13 games this season. He has one goal on five shots on goal. Clemenson is 8-8 overall, 4-4 ACC, and is scheduled to play Duke in a league tournament opener yesterday, Tuesday.

— Freshman Taylor Smith and junior KC McCary, both Charlevoix grads, played in the Northern Michigan women's soccer team's 3-0 loss to Tiffin (Ohio) in a Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tournament quarterfinal.

McCary started 16 games and appeared in 18, recording three goals, one a game-winner, with two assists. Smith appeared in six games. The Wildcats finished 10-6-3 overall, 8-6-2 in the GLIAC.

County, townships save on road work

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS–REVIEW

BOYNE CITY — Charlevoix County road commissioners on Monday briefly discussed the recent construction season's end.

The county's road commission takes bids and awards contracts for all road work, even those funded by townships. More than a dozen road projects wrapped this year and the final bills came in more than $24,000 below contractors' accepted bids.

Much of the savings is thanks to the down turned economy and contractors' eagerness to do whatever work is available, road commissioners said.

"These guys doing road work are hungry," said Keith Ogden, road commission vice chairman.

Jim Vanek, road commission engineer, said he is pleased with this construction season's outcome. There are a few projects that haven't yet received final numbers, including the Springvale Road reconstruction and some bump grinding and intersection paving in Charlevoix Township, he said.

The Springvale Road job is expected to finish below estimates and the Charlevoix Township work will wrap in the spring, Vanek said.

In total, township and county officials spent $2.18 million for road work, about $24,108 less than expected. So far, 11 projects came in at or less than bids, while four came in more than the contractors' bids.

Records show the financially overrun projects included the Old Horton Bay Road overlay and Lake Street boat launch in Bay Township, as well as the Camp Ten Road wedge and overlay and the Studer Road Afton stone placement in Hudson Township.

Pat Harmon, road commission manager, said it's also worth noting how much less work would have been done this year without both the township projects and the voter-approved county road millage.

"Without the townships and the millage, that crack-filling would have been all we could have afforded," Harmon said.

Workers did crack-filling in Bay, Boyne Valley, Evangeline, Eveline, Hayes, Hudson, Marion, Norwood, South Arm and Wilson townships for a total $127,429.48 contract. Millage-funded projects included work on Springvale and Camp Ten roads.

A solemn salute

ABOVE: Emory Sloan of Charlevoix salutes in front of the memorial in Charlevoix's Veterans Park following a Veterans Day ceremony Friday. The first name on the memorial plaque is that of Sloan's son, U.S. Army Maj. Douglas E. Sloan, a Charlevoix native who was one of three U.S. soldiers killed by a roadside bomb in Afghanistan on Oct. 31, 2006. BELOW: A muzzle flash is visible from the end of a rifle fired by Bob Drebenstedt (middle), who along with fellow veterans Jeff Riley (left) and Bob Harig fire a three-volley salute during a Veterans Day ceremony at Charlevoix's Veterans Park Friday.

DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY
PO Box 30458
Lansing, Michigan 48909-7958

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

TAKE NOTICE that the Water Resources Division (WRD) of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) will hold a public hearing at the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department, Training Room in basement (use jail entrance), 1000 Grant Street, Charlevoix, Michigan 49720, on Tuesday, November 29, 2011, at 7:00 p.m.

The purpose of this hearing is to secure the views of interested persons concerning the following application for permit:

Application for permit 11-15-0043-P under Part 301, Inland Lakes and Streams, of the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Act, 1994 PA 451, as amended, by Consumers Energy Company, Attn: Margaret O'Connor, 1945 West Parnall Road, Room P22-510, Jackson, Michigan 49201. The applicant proposes to replace electric cables in Lake Charlevoix. Four 2.79-inch diameter electric cables will be replaced with a single 5-inch diameter electric cable. A portable substation will be brought in during the cable replacement project. Approximately 3,830 feet of new cable will be jetted in place up to six feet deep in the channel. The jetting trench will be 18 inches wide, disturbing approximately 435 cubic yards of sediments. The project is located in T34N, R8W, Sections 26 and 35, City of Charlevoix, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

The application is available for review at the MDEQ Web site, http://www.deq.state.mi.us/CIWPIS, or may be reviewed at the MDEQ, WRD, Gaylord Field Office, 2100 West M-32, Gaylord, Michigan 49735-9282, by calling 989-731-4920. The public hearing record will remain open for ten days after the public hearing date. Any written comments to be submitted for the public hearing record must be received at this address on or before the close of the record.

The hearing will be held pursuant to Section 30105 of the cited statute. The hearing will not be a court type proceeding, witnesses will not be sworn, and there will be no cross examination. Public hearings are primarily informational and are held to encourage the expression of views and presentation of facts.

The MDEQ will, upon written request, provide a copy of the MDEQ's decision on this application.

Blood drives — The American Red Cross is asking all eligible donors to honor our country's heroes by becoming an everyday hero themselves. By donating blood this holiday season, people can give a special thanks that lasts a lifetime. "As you reflect on what you are grateful for this holiday season, set aside time to come donate blood," said Sharon Jaksa, CEO for the Great Lakes Blood Services Region of the American Red Cross. "Your donation can give someone another moment, another day, another holiday to spend with love ones and friends. And that's something to feel thankful for." Red Cross officials said blood donations can dip around the holidays, making it important for donors to make and keep appointments to ensure a strong and stable blood supply for sick and injured people. "If you want to express your gratitude this holiday season and do something meaningful for others, donate blood," said Jaksa, "Someone in your community may need blood this holiday season and will be thankful for the gift of life you gave." Everyone who comes out to donate this month has a chance to win a $250 Meijer gift card. To schedule a donation time or get more information about giving blood or platelets, people can visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). Individuals who are 17 years of age, meet weight and height requirements (110 pounds or more, depending on height) and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. Donors should bring their Red Cross blood donor card or other form of positive identification when they come to donate.

Thousands of reasons to be thankful

Fledgling fundraising campaign doles out first grants

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Students, staff, and administrators with the Charlevoix Public Schools have a few extra reasons to be thankful this Thanksgiving week — more than 22,000 of them to be more precise.

That's about how many dollars in grants the Charlevoix Schools Foundation announced this week it will soon be handing out in grants to help fill the void in classroom needs left by years of budget cuts.

The grants which range in size from about $200 to about $4,600 are the first in what school district and foundation officials hope will be many more grant cycles to come in the next two and a half years of a three-year fundraising campaign that hopes to maximize a total of $120,000 in matching grants offered up by four anonymous donors in the community to ultimately raise a total of $200,000 over a three-year period.

School and foundation official unveiled the program, dubbed "Investing in Our Future ... Our Students," and district superintendent Chet Janik and foundation chair Pam Barnes said Monday they are pleased that the money is already being turned around and put back into classrooms.

Barnes explained that money contributed to this campaign will be used differently than the money typically contributed to the foundation. Usually money contributed to the foundation is placed in an endowment fund through the Charlevoix County Community Foundation and grants are then made annually on the interest accrued on the endowment. She said that — depending on the market — typically amounts to about $6,000 per year. Money contributed to this program, however will be turned around quickly and used in classroom support.

The campaign is focusing its efforts in four key areas: health and wellness, science and mathematics, language arts and humanities, and fine arts.

Janik said he and building principals put out the call to the district staff members to submit funding requests and the staff listened. In all the staff submitted 52 requests for about $90,000.

Barnes said the grant requests were evaluated on how well they met the goals of the campaign. Janik added that emphasis was placed on using the money for things that would have a long-term benefit.

"Our board has a great cross-section of the community. They take a very objective look at all of the applications," Barnes said.

Janik noted that some of the requests were technology-related and he requested that many of those requests be put on hold temporarily because some significant technology upgrades will likely be coming soon, thanks to the district's voter-approved technology enhancement millage.

Both Janik and Barnes said they are pleased with the results of the fundraising efforts so far and they are grateful to the community that continues to show its support. Barnes noted that the foundation committee heading up the effort has reached out to all sectors of the community — individuals to businesses and other organizations.

Janik said if the campaign continues to gain steam, foundation officials are hopeful that they can make another round of grants of equal or greater value in the spring.

Holiday happenings

There's a lot to do in town before and after you dive into that turkey on Thursday.

— Turkey Trot: A turkey trot and 5K run/walk is Thursday, Nov. 24, in Charlevoix. Registration is 8 a.m. at the Charlevoix Area Hospital and the race will immediately follow at 8:30 a.m. Entry fee is $5 and a donation of a nonperishable food item. The fee includes a commemorative T-shirt. Entry forms are available at Harbor Health and Fitness Center or online at www.cah.org. Email hparrish@cah.org or mhines@cah.org.

— Elks polar plunge: The Charlevoix Elks Lodge will host its 10th annual Thanksgiving Day Swim fundraising event at 11 a.m. sharp on Thursday, Nov. 24, at Michigan Beach. Proceeds from funds raised during the event go to support a wide array of community projects. Checks should be made payable to the Charlevoix Elks. Organizers recommend participants going in the water wear shoes, stay in their vehicles until just before going into the water and dry off quickly after the swim. For more information, contact John McNabb at (231) 622-2660.

— Holiday parade and Christmas tree lighting: Holiday festivities kick off Friday with Charlevoix's first ever holiday parade on Bridge Street followed by the lighting of the community Christmas tree in East Park. See page 8 for more details.

Man with Charlevoix ties drowns in downstate pool

KALAMAZOO – At approximately 9 p.m. Friday, Nov. 18, Kalamazoo Department of Public Safety officers responded to a rescue at the Radisson Hotel pool area, 100 West Michigan, in Kalamazoo.

According to a press release issued by the police agency, upon arrival officers found Jacob Parish, 26, of Kalamazoo, down and unresponsive. Several civilians were providing CPR.

Kalamazoo Public Department of Public Safety officers and LIFE EMS attempted advanced life saving measures for 45 minutes until Parish was pronounced dead.

Parish is the son of Diane L. Parish and Preston L. (Bess) Parish of Charlevoix.

According to police, there were no signs of foul play. The incident is currently under investigation. However, the public safety press release states, "It appears at this time to be a tragic accident."

Parish's step-mother Bess said Jacob attended Charlevoix High School for a time but ultimately graduated from Portage Northern High School. After high school he attended film school in Burbank, Calif. He enjoyed spending time with family and friends and documenting that time, she said.

See page 8 for funeral information.

Grant application, master plan OK'd

The Charlevoix City Council on Monday unanimously approved an intergovernmental agreement and a grant application for a recreational trail from Lake Charlevoix to Lake Michigan south of the city.

The council approved the agreement with Charlevoix Township for the Lake-to-Lake trail that is proposed to be constructed from Ferry Beach to Fisherman's Island State Park. Last week the township board approved the agreement with the city contingent upon the addition of a provision that after 12 years the parties have the option to exit the pact. The city council agreed to the amendment.

The council also gave city manager Rob Straebel permission to apply to for a state grant for the trail project. Based on feedback he has received on a preliminary grant application, Straebel suggested that the council increase its contribution to the project. The new figures up the township's and city's estimated contribution to between $66,000 and $69,000 each.

The council also unanimously approved a new five year parks and recreation master plan following a public hearing that drew no public comment. City planner Mike Spencer said the plan, which was last updated in 2000, is an important tool in guiding city leaders in planning and is often a key in many grant applications.

Judge denies motion to dismiss FOIA case

SHERI MCWHIRTER
NEWS-REVIEW
STAFF WRITER

An Emmet County judge has denied Charlevoix County's motion to dismiss the Petoskey News-Review's Freedom of Information Act lawsuit.

Emmet County Circuit Court Judge Charles Johnson on Monday ruled against the defense motion to dismiss the case. Attorneys for both the county and the newspaper will discuss the case's next steps in coming days.

Johnson

"We're very happy that Charlevoix County's motion to dismiss was denied and the case is moving forward. We are one step closer to resolving the issue," said Jeremy McBain, the newspaper's editor.

Johnson ruled against the motion to dismiss without hearing oral arguments by plaintiff attorney Robin Luce Herrmann, who represents the News-Review. Both Luce Herrmann and civil defense attorney Gretchen Olsen joined Johnson for an in-chambers session following his decision.

In August, the newspaper filed the lawsuit against Charlevoix County prosecutor John Jarema, county commissioner Chris Christensen, Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners and the Charlevoix County Prosecutor's Office. The complaint alleged three violations of the state's Freedom of Information Act, following a freedom of information fight that carried on for several weeks.

Last month, Johnson dismissed Jarema and Christensen from the case as individual defendants.

The newspaper's suit seeks to compel county officials to release emails Jarema previously refused to reveal between himself and Christensen. The newspaper contends that some of the denials were "arbitrary and capricious."

Johnson said the case may need an in-camera hearing to discuss the emails in question.

"I don't know how I can accomplish my obligation just looking at it in-camera," Johnson said.

An in-camera hearing may be closed to the public, to protect the documents prior to a decision.

OPINIONS yours & ours

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

A Modest Proposal:

Few can create political gridlock just as well as many

EAR TO THE GROUND

Roger Knutson

It is hardly a secret that our Congress is functioning poorly. Much of the gridlock and failure to act seem to be the product of members of Congress voting along strictly party lines. All the Republicans vote one way and all the Democrats vote the opposite way in nearly any issue from taxes to the national debt. There are so many senators and representatives that responsibility is seriously diluted, and no one seems to be responsible for the continued inaction. Not surprisingly, I have a solution to the problem, and Congress itself seems to be pointing the way.

When no agreement about debt control, which budget cuts should be made and whether there should be any new sources of revenue for the government (that means taxes) could be reached, Congress passed legislation setting up the so-called Super Committee. The idea seems to be that if all of the members in Congress cannot agree on what should be done or not done, maybe as few as 12 people from both the Senate and the House of Representatives will be able to agree. At this point, it looks as though even just twelve members of Congress will not be able to do much. The Super Committee votes along party lines, and again, no one seems to be responsible for the failure to act.

I propose that we take the idea of the Super Committee and run with it. If the whole Congress cannot agree to act, and the 12-member Super Committee cannot agree to act, maybe we could get something done if each party had a single individual representing their point of view. The two Super Legislators could meet and work out what should be done. If they cannot agree, at least we would know exactly who to blame.

There are other advantages to the two Super Legislator idea. If Congress is just going to vote along strict party lines, there is no reason to have hundreds of representatives and a hundred senators. We could just elect one person from each-party to do-the "legislative work now done by the entire Congress. Think of the money that could be saved. We would no longer need extensive offices and staffs for hundreds of legislators. One office and one staff for each party would certainly be cheaper. Lobbyists would not nave to court the attentions of dozens of legislative committees and chairs. They would all have to meet with one or another, or possibly even both,of the Super Legislators.

If members of Congress vote, as they often do, along strict party lines, they are not representing their state or district as much as they are representing their party. If that is true, we only need-one representative from each party.

Gridlock that only involves two people should be much easier to solve, and again, we would know exactly who is responsible for inaction.

The money saved on political campaigns would be enormous. Each party has only to put forward one legislative candidate, and only one campaign for legislative positions would be necessary for each party. We could finance any number of effective programs with the money now spent on political campaigns. The people who presently contribute to political campaigns could just turn that money over to the government and the two Super Legislators could decide how it should be spent.

The political struggles involving the two Super Legislators would be monumental, but they would cost a tiny fraction of what we now spend on legislative inaction.

The idea is not unlike the way armies in the far past decided battles. Each side chose a champion, they fought it out until one of them won, and everyone involved agreed to abide by the outcome. We would be giving enormous power to the chosen champion legislators. But maybe under that system we would be encouraged to choose a statesman, rather than a stooge who could be counted on to vote the party line.

Think about it. Could such a simple system be any worse than what we have now? True, it would require significant tweaking of the Constitution, but if it can be shown to work at the federal level, maybe states could adopt the same super legislator approach. Think of the money saved by each state.

Maybe those ancient armies had a wisdom we seem to lack.

LETTER to the editor

Generosity keeps pantry shelves full

Editor:

Never before in the history of the Charlevoix Community Food Pantry has the need for the assistance been greater than in the past few months.

The pantry board wishes to than all those people who regularly donate food or money or volunteer labor that the pantry depends on to perform its mission and to keep its shelves stocked.

There have been several special generous gifts recently that we would like to especially recognize. A large gift from Bill Schuiling has enabled us to include chickens or hams in the grocery bags clients have received for special Thanksgiving holiday dinners. Also, gifts from the local Sports Medicine Center, the Street Legends Car Club, the Knights of Columbus Hunters Dinner, the St. Mary's Cement Company, and the St. Mary's Catholic Church members have been invaluable and most appreciated.

It would be a serious omission if we did not include a special thanks to the local Rotary Service Club and to Becky Berg for regularly and generously donating fresh farm produce during the summer and autumn seasons for our clients.

Community
Food Panty Board,
Roger Postmus, president
